

IS GLAD UTAHNS BELIEVE BIBLE

Remark by Dr. Green in His Wonderful Lecture on "Civic Bacteriology."

DANGERS OF OUR NATION.

He Declares They Are All From Within And Not From Without—Its Origin and Destiny.

For two hours and five minutes at Barratt hall last night Dr. Thomas E. Green of Chicago, under the auspices of the M. I. A. lecture bureau, held his audience spell bound in his wonderful address on "Civic Bacteriology." Not for an instant did interest relax or his hearers wish that the end had come.

After laying a foundation for his remarks by describing the similarity of the body politic with that of physical personality and showing when the latter is sick certain well known remedies must be applied before recovery may be looked for, he declared that the same was true with regard to the former. First and last he said, it should be understood that all our dangers were from within and not from without. The nation that did not have God in it could not expect to endure through the ages. One fact he was glad to refer to and that was that the people of Utah adhered steadfastly to their faith in the All-Wise Providence, a source of strength unto them. He was glad to know that they believed in the Bible which 25 years ago had been translated from the schools with the result that the young men and women of this generation are growing up in ignorance of its sublime truths.

THE AMERICAN HABIT.

The American habit of self-complacency letting the government run on whether in good or bad hands, was severely criticised, although the criticism was kindly for the most part.

"We Americans," said Mr. Green, "are altogether prone to regard ourselves as altogether above criticism, too self-satisfied to admit the possibility of failure and inclined to take a far too optimistic view of conditions generally. I know of no other nation in the world whose people are so certain of their own position. There are, of course, many reasons for this, and such a condition has not always existed. To begin with, the United States became a country under circumstances different to those attending the upbuilding of any other country in the world. In all the world's powers of today we have the gradual evolution and steady growth extending over a period of centuries; in this country we see a nation born in a day, and in a few years it has become the richest and most productive in the world.

"As proof of the moral strength and sterling worth of the men who founded this nation, the nation in those troublous times immediately following its birth, two documents, the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States, may be pointed to today as two of the greatest pieces of statecraft ever brought into being. They were based upon the highest ideal in the nation, and they stand today as true to the principles of free government as they did when they were drafted.

COUNTRY'S BUGBEARS.

"This country has had its bugbears. For a long time Germany occupied perhaps the foremost place, although this feeling has been steadily declining for some years past. Lately it has been Japan, with a total area of less than the state of California and a bare 48,000,000 population; with a debt of over a billion dollars, and the United States the only country which would lend her another 5-cent piece today. It doesn't look altogether reasonable when you come to consider it, does it? At various times, and by various people, plans have been formulated in this country aimed at showing how the country could be starved or otherwise beaten into submission by other powers, principally Japan. Yet if people only stopped to think there is no country in the world which could subsist for five years without the foodstuffs which this country sends them.

WHERE ITS STRENGTH IS.

"The strength of a country, of course, lies largely, if not altogether, in the strength of its people, and this country is not lacking in its examples of great men. At the same time the people as a whole are too much wrapped up in their own affairs to yield to the affairs of the nation that attention which should rightfully be given to so important a matter. The strength of the average man is something like this. Why should I bother about the country at large we hire legislators to do that for us. I haven't time; I am too busy. This is not as it should be, and no opportunities should be lost to correct such an attitude."

YOUNG WOMAN IS FOUND DEAD

Alma McKernan Passes Peacefully From One Sleep to Another During Night.

MRS. MILLER'S DISCOVERY.

In Arising She Finds Girl Missing From Kitchen and Proceeds To Investigate.

Oiga McKernan, a domestic at one time with Senator Sutherland's family, was discovered dead in bed this morning. Miss McKernan has been with Glen Miller's family for some time. Mrs. Miller awakened this morning and was surprised not to find Miss McKernan up and around. Investigation led to the sad discovery. Miss McKernan was 25 years old, refined and a beautiful girl in all respects. She was frail and for some time has been studying industriously at night. Her evening hours have been spent in studying a mail course in a correspondence school. Every indication showed that death came quietly; heart failure being thought the cause of death. The girl is with David Keith's family. John McKernan, a brother, is employed by the Salt Lake Electric Supply company. He resides at No. 7 City avenue, on Sixth street between State and Second. Funeral arrangements are now being made.

YOUNG LIFE GOES OUT.

Byron, 13-Year-Old Son of Jos. S. Wells Succumbs to Heart Disease.

The many friends of Joseph S. Wells will be pained to learn of the death of his little son Byron, whose demise occurred at the family residence, 180 G street, shortly after 11 o'clock today. The boy had been ill for a period of four years with a form of heart disease that had almost destroyed that organ, according to statements of the attending physicians. Through all his sufferings he manifested a cheerfulness and patience that won for him the admiration of those who knew of his distressed condition. He had attended the Lowell school until this year, when his health no longer permitted him to be regularly enrolled, but he went whenever he was able to.

The lad's full name was Byron Sears Wells, and his mother was Anna Sears Wells, who died four years ago last June. He was born in this city, Sept. 3, 1894. The grief-stricken father and family have the heartiest sympathy of a host of friends in the hour of their deep affliction. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

He became a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in June, 1863, and the following year came to Utah, crossing the plains by ox team. Since his arrival here he has resided almost continuously in the Twentieth ward. The funeral will be held from the meetinghouse, Thursday, commencing at 2 p. m., and the remains may be viewed at the residence from 12:30 to 1:30 on the day of the services.

FRANCIS G. LUKE AGAIN SCORES ONE

He, the Merchants' Protective Association, McOmie and Dr. W. L. Gardner Victorious.

Francis G. Luke, the Merchants' Protective association, former justice of the Peace McOmie of Murray and Dr. W. L. Gardner today came out victorious in an action which was filed against him by Henry W. Gayler and wife to set aside a judgment rendered against them by McOmie for $132 and costs. Judge Morse, who had the case under advisement for several days, today handed down a decision finding the issues in favor of defendants. Gayler alleged in his complaint that the bill sued upon by Dr. Gardner was contrary to law, and that the judgment rendered by McOmie was void. Further than that it was alleged that the Murray court had no jurisdiction in the matter as the debt was contracted in this city and not in Murray, and the parties to the action resided in this city. It was asked that the judgment be set aside, and that the defendants be restrained from taking any further action in the case or from further harassing plaintiffs by issuing citations to show cause why they should not pay the judgment. Judge Morse in his decision upheld the action of Justice McOmie in rendering judgment against the Gaylers and refused to enjoin defendants in this action from taking any further action in regard to collecting the judgment.

FALLON BRANCH IS NOW COMPLETED

Southern Pacific Line From Hazen to Be Put Into Service January 10.

UNDER LOCAL OPERATION.

Fallon Is Distribution Point for Fairview District and Center of Farming Territory.

From Hazen, Nevada, comes the news that the Southern Pacific's branch to Fallon from that point will be open to service Jan. 10. On that date the branch will be turned over to the operating department of the Oregon Short Line in Salt Lake, and service commenced. A train is to be run each direction daily from the inauguration of service. This train will leave Hazen at 12:30 p. m., arriving at Fallon at 1:45 p. m. Returning, it will leave Fallon at 1 p. m., arriving at Hazen at 8:15 o'clock in the evening. Passengers can make the round trip in an afternoon. Fallon will be a regular agency, with E. M. Stewart in charge of the office. The distance between Hazen and Fallon is 15 1/2 miles. Fallon is in a good district, and it is not at all unlikely that the branch will be continued to the territory on the south. Work has been carried on in good shape for several months. Fallon is now the heart of a great agricultural district and a natural distributing point for the Fairview mining district. With connection with the main line of the Southern Pacific the town will grow and gain in prosperity steadily.

HAS TERMINAL GROUND.

Western Pacific Acquires 150 Acres for Freight Yards in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Jan. 8.—Local representatives of the Western Pacific announced yesterday that the company had now received all the land necessary for freight yards and a freight distributing terminal in San Francisco. The company has acquired between 140 and 150 acres of land in the district between the mouth of Islals creek and Eighth and Bryant streets. The Islals creek will be the ferry slips and the point for the Western Pacific's transbay freight ferries, and for the landing of transpacific and coastwise steamers doing business in the city. The new transcontinental railway system.

ALL KINDS OF BALLAST.

Santa Fe Uses Different Materials—Old Roadbeds Are Dustless.

Figures compiled by the Santa Fe's statistician show that 1,326 miles of tracks are laid on bare ground in Texas, Arizona and California. The ground is excavated from the desert, packed with it and eliminating all dust. Gravel is used in ballasting 1,324 miles of road and rock in 1,254 miles. Engine cinders are used in ballasting 385 miles of track. An extinct volcano in southern California furnishes ballast for 381 miles of road-bed. Slag "gumbo," burned clay, is used also. The statistician has estimated that, were all the material used as ballast along the line of the Santa Fe in the three states mentioned, tamped and worked into blocks, it would furnish enough material for a pyramid of Cheops.

A. L. OLSEN ARRAIGNED.

Takes the Statutory Time to Plead to Charge of Burglary.

A. L. Olsen was arraigned before Judge Armstrong in the criminal division of the district court today upon the charge of burglary in the first degree and taking the statutory time in which to plead. Olsen is charged with burglarizing Axel Lundquist's room at 27 south West Temple street on the night of Nov. 25, 1906. Atty. W. L. Duke was retained by the court to defend the man.

SUIT AGAINST MORAN.

John S. Scott, Fell Over Scantling in The Dark, Wants $5,025.

John S. Scott filed suit in the district court today against Salt Lake City and Contractor P. J. Moran to recover damages in the sum of $5,025 for personal injuries received by plaintiff on the night of Sept. 1, 1906, by coming in contact with an obstruction in the street at Second South and East Temple streets. It is alleged that plaintiff ran into a pile of scantling which was on the pavement injuring his right shoulder. There were no lights on the obstruction to warn plaintiff of danger and it was also left unguarded.

HITCH IN REALTY DEAL.

Suit was filed in the district court today by the Warnock Insurance agency against the Peterson Real Estate investment company to recover $300, which was paid by plaintiff on Dec. 19, 1906, as part purchase price of a lot of block 41, plat A, Salt Lake City survey. The purchase price agreed upon was $7,250 and the deed was to be delivered to plaintiff on Dec. 25, but it is alleged that defendant could not furnish a deed for delivery as agreed and had to make the return of the $300 which defendant refused to do.

STUDENT FIREMAN PAID.

Emergency Men Are Being Released By Short Line.

With the firemen's strike on the Harriman lines now nothing more than an ugly memory, the men hired to keep themselves in readiness for a sudden call are being paid off by the Oregon Short Line office in Salt Lake and other points today. They are being paid for the time they have spent in waiting for a possible call. A long line of men of all sizes filed the way in front of the treasurer's office in the Oregon Short Line headquarters this morning. It is generally understood that the men are being paid $1.25 per day and 100 and more dollars will be paid by the company in Salt Lake today in quite a pay-day. A walkout been called by the Harriman lines would have hundreds of student firemen ready to climb into the cabs.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

All local trains left Salt Lake crowded to the doors and packed with persons who came to Salt Lake to spend the holidays. The home-bound movement was larger this year than for many seasons; every train carried a big cargo of some particular section of the state yesterday. Many Salt Lake residents spent their holidays with friends and relatives in various districts throughout the state and they for the greater part returned to this city yesterday.

PARTY LEADERS GETTING BUSY

Republicans Meet Saturday to Outline Organization of Legislature.

SOME BIG BILLS GOING IN.

State Fair Association is to Ask for Half Million Dollars for 1908 Interstate Exposition.

Politics in Salt Lake is taking on a more definite hue than the gentle art has worn for many weeks. The party advantage to be gained through the quiet work of organization that finally shows its color and power on the floor of the houses or senate, is today being secured. Party leaders of the Republican persuasion have been in informal conferences for several days past, and Saturday their work will culminate in a caucus of the Republican members of the house, and another caucus of the senate. The senate caucus will be more in the nature of a meeting to outline the program for the session, as there will be none of the "ever vigilant enemy" to deal with.

FOR BOTH HOUSES.

At the meetings Saturday the organization of the two houses will be perfected, and among the elect it will be known who shall be speaker of the house, president of the senate, chairman of the various important committees, and those who will be members of the two houses. The senate caucus will be held Saturday evening, and the house caucus probably in the afternoon. Letters calling for the two caucuses have been sent by State Chairman O. J. Salisbury to all members of both organizations.

Outside of the distribution of plums which will be made Saturday, the principal legislative interest just now is in the collection of bills that are sure to be presented by members young and old.

Of such bills there are rumors of a host. Senator Hollingsworth of Ogden, who broke all senate records at the last session for the number of bills successfully put through, is said to be working on an anti-trust measure, and another to regulate insurance companies operating in Utah.

RAILROAD COMMISSION.

The railroad commission bill was the subject of discussion at the M. & M. headquarters from 8 till 12 o'clock last night, and will again be the subject at similar meetings until it is perfected. Representative J. Q. Critchfield, who introduced the bill in the house, and it is expected that it will be in perfect form by Monday next. Secy. C. O. Harris of the association, said he today opened over 100 letters that came to him from the M. & M. contentions in favor of a railroad commission, and assuring the measure their support. Utah county led in the number of letters sent in.

CHICKEN BILL.

The Utah State Poultry association bill is another which is being hatched and cooked. The poultry people have been at work for two years preparing for this session of the legislature, and they hope to secure such consideration for the fluffy hen, as will give the woolly sheep, and the hairy horse. They want a state appropriation to be spent in premiums for those who do most towards improving poultry breeds, and in introducing the large poultry farm into Utah. The bill embodying their measures is under the charge of Dr. Charles G. Plummer, president of the association, and he will endeavor to some friendly legislator by the end of the week.

FOR STATE FAIR.

One of the most important bills that will come up for consideration will be the demand of the State Fair association. This association wants the modest sum of $50,000 to go into the big intermountain fair of 1908, and has a bill all ready to slip into the hands of some house or senate member, asking for the necessary funds. The money will be held in trust for every two years, regularly, leaving an alternating year to county efforts.

JOSEPH IS ACTIVE.

Harry Joseph has a bill, which is reasonably certain to be heard from. The proposition advanced by the prospective speaker-elect, is to have the right of eminent domain extend to the smelters, as it now operates in behalf of common carriers. This would give the smelters the right to acquire by condemnation and purchase property on which their plants are situated to the damage of the owners. It is designed to prevent the smelters from leaving the valley.

BARBERS IN TROUBLE.

The paternal spirit of the state which has gone into the barber business far enough to attempt to guarantee a clean shave to each tenorial artist's patron, is coming under a sharp attack on the edges of the profession. The present regulation extends to cities of the first and second class only, and an effort is on foot to carry it down into the smaller towns. Wherever an objection comes from the barbers of the state, many of whom would rather not be regulated. The bill will be fought by a barber lobby.

PREPARING QUARTERS.

The work of preparing the council chamber for the senate and the legislative chamber for the house has been commenced and will be completed in plenty of time for the opening session of the legislature on next Monday.

COMMISSIONERS MEET.

Appointments Will be Passed Upon by Them This Afternoon.

County Commissioner J. B. Cosgriff, who was ill yesterday, was able to be at his office in the city and county building today, and hence the appointments made by the county officials will be passed upon this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The commissioners were closeted all morning today, talking over the policy of city administration of the county's affairs, but took no action on the appointments.

Yesterday afternoon, Chairman Mackay named the chairman of the various standing committees, all of which are composed of the three commissioners. Commissioner Cosgriff was named as chairman of the committee on buildings and grounds, Commissioner Clinton as chairman of the committee on health and paupers, and Commissioner Mackay as chairman of the committee on roads and bridges.

WAYWARD GIRLS.

Visit of Sergt. Hempel to Park City Discloses Bad Sequel.

When Sergt. Hempel went to Park City yesterday morning to bring back to this city the names of May Kluge, charged with stealing an orchard plume from Miss M. Park of 22 west First south street, he discovered a most serious state of affairs among associates of the woman. The officer learned that a male companion of the woman, Robert Reece, had burned the plume, but he pressed them under arrest and brought them here. He also discovered that a Salt Lake restaurant waiter named Bob Burns, had with him in the roominghouse with the Clark woman, a 15-year-old girl, the daughter of a business man of Salt Lake. It was the intention of Burns, assisted by the others, to place the girl in a house of ill repute in Park City.

While Hempel had no warrant for their arrest, he was pleased when the girl and Burns boarded the train to return to Salt Lake. Just as soon as they reached the limits of Salt Lake, Hempel placed Burns under arrest. When the party reached the depot, the girl's father, with Sergt. Roberts, was in waiting and as soon as he caught sight of Burns he struck the latter over the head several times with an umbrella before the officers could interfere. It is expected that serious charges will be filed against Burns. He, with Reece, are now charged with being an accessory after the fact, to the charge of burglary. The woman, Clark, is charged with committing burglary in stealing the plume. Burns will also be charged with criminally assaulting the girl.

ANOTHER NEW DODGE.

Ex-Convict Works One on a Bartender And His Watch.

Michael Aaron, an ex-convict, is in trouble again and he is also in jail. Neither trouble or jail is new to Aaron as he has had a generous portion of both.

He was arrested early this morning by Officer Heckstead and locked up and will have to answer for absconding with the watch from the city prison without permission. Aaron was sent up for some minor offense several weeks ago, but he saw a chance to cut off about 100 "service" by slipping out and he embraced the opportunity.

Since his recapture it has developed that Aaron worked a smooth dodge on a bartender at the Railroad Exchange saloon. The officers who are working on the case claim that, a few nights ago, Aaron entered the saloon and asked the bartender the time. The bartender told him and Aaron is alleged to have taken the watch to see for himself. While looking at the time piece he quickly slipped the watch from the chain and substituted a worthless piece of junk which sometime had been represented as a watch.

FESTIVAL CHORUS.

First Rehearsal at Y. M. C. A. Auditorium a Great Success.

The first rehearsal of the great Festival Chorus was held last night in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, and the success was such as to enthrall everybody connected with the work of the evening, and make it apparent that the coming festival would prove to be one of the most precious musical events in the history of the city. There were 150 singers present, divided into 60 sopranos, 47 altos, 40 tenors and 43 basses, with Prof. Evan Stephens as conductor and Prof. J. J. McCall as accompanist.

The chorus took up the first 55 pages of J. Coolidge Taylor's work, "Hiawatha," and the case of accuracy with which the singers did their work at night, was in the highest degree encouraging. They adjourned at the close of the evening, resolved to let nothing interfere with their attendance on the coming rehearsals.
