

COL. STEWART'S CASE IN SENATE

Senator Warren Declares Senator Rayner's Resolution is a Reproof to the President.

DIDN'T THREATEN EXECUTIVE

Matter Referred to Military Affairs Committee, Before Which Maryland Senator Will Appear.

Washington, May 13.—Senator Rayner today called up his joint resolution directing the president to appoint a committee of inquiry into the case of Col. William E. Stewart and said that if he could be assured of a report during the present week he would not object to sending it to the committee on military affairs. He said he was willing to change the resolution making it merely an expression of the opinion of the senate and having it a request instead of directing the president to appoint a committee of inquiry. Senator Warren, chairman of the committee, said: "The resolution is not only a reproof to the president, but is an attack on the discipline of the army and in a way of the navy also."

He objected to establishing a precedent by which army officers to officers may be held up by appealing to a senate.

This statement was accompanied by a motion by Mr. Warren to refer the resolution to the military committee, a motion which followed a suggestion by Senator Aldrich that unanimous consent be given to consider the resolution at this time. The discussion was upon the motion to refer it.

The right of a man to a trial before punishment and the attitude of the president that he holds a constitutional office as commander-in-chief of the army in which he is not responsible to law, Mr. Bacon, "are the questions of importance in this case. So far as the officer is concerned," he added, "I am not favorably impressed with him. He has not been a desirable officer."

Referring to a question by Senator Warren, Senator Rayner admitted that if the court of inquiry was not ordered there would be no record for him except in presenting the matter to the senate.

In a letter to Senator Tallifero, which was read, the president took the position that the appointment of a court of inquiry was a matter entirely within his discretion and he said that he neither court nor would surrender the right of appointing that matter as commander-in-chief of the army. Dismissing the charge that Col. Stewart had been sent to Fort Grant for punishment the president said that the punishment was merely incidental and that the removal of Col. Stewart from direct command was the principal purpose in view. He remarked that it might be necessary to have him tried by a court martial and expressed the opinion that if it should be, the trial would result in severe punishment.

Again remarking upon Col. Stewart's character, the president said that he was unfit to command because he mistreated the men under his command and quarreled with civilians.

Mr. Rayner asked Mr. Warren whether, if the resolution should be referred to the committee on military affairs, he would be permitted to appear before the committee and submit some further authorities on the subject. Mr. Rayner said he had modified his resolution to express the opinion of the senate that Col. Stewart was entitled to a court of inquiry and "requested" the president to grant the court of inquiry.

"Something of a sensation was created by Senator Warren asking Mr. Rayner whether he had approached the president with a threat that if this man was not removed from Fort Grant this resolution would be presented to the senate."

"I utterly deny that proposition," replied Mr. Rayner, "and I hope the executive has not made such a statement."

He added that he had not seen the president for two years, until two weeks ago, when he was requested to go to the White House, and that when he returned he had been requested to show him voluminous type-a woman must try it. That's all written matter about Col. Stewart. He had not "threatened" the president, only stating that unless the court of inquiry was ordered he would offer a resolution in the senate.

"As if anybody could threaten the president," exclaimed Mr. Rayner, amid laughter.

Mr. Warren said this question was suggested by newspaper reports only. Mr. Rayner stating that Col. Stewart had been sent to a fort up in the clouds 2,000 or 3,000 feet above the sea, Mr. Warren interrupted with the remark that many senators lived in altitudes higher than Fort Grant.

Five times, said Mr. Rayner, the president repeated in his letters that his treatment of Col. Stewart was a punishment, which, he added, "under the laws of this country he has no right to inflict, yet he is proceeding by punishment to drive him into retirement."

Mr. Tallifero (Fla.), had a letter read showing that Col. Stewart had been ordered away from Fort St. Francis, St. Augustine, merely because of a protest of the state of Florida, which has control of Fort St. Francis.

The resolution was then referred to the committee on military affairs, Mr. Warren saying that Mr. Rayner would be welcome to appear before the committee.

PRESIDENT'S ATTITUDE

Washington, May 13.—Light on the precise attitude taken by President Roosevelt in the case of Col. William E. Stewart of the coast artillery, has been given to certain of the president's friends in Congress, and the prediction is made that the recent speech of Senator Rayner of Maryland may be replied to with vigor. It is explained that in detailing Col. Stewart to Fort Grant (Ariz.) without a court of inquiry, the president has taken the one course open to him in desirably avoiding any procedure which might result in the punishment of Col. Stewart by depriving him of his pay and retirement.

In giving effect to his determination to eliminate Col. Stewart from command of troops, for the good of the army, it is pointed out that the method adopted by the president is regarded as the most direct and, at the same time, legally justifiable. Should he, as demanded by Mr. Rayner, order a board of inquiry, the finding of such a board would go to the president for review. He might approve or disapprove the findings and might make any order in reference thereto which seemed in his judgment to be warranted.

In his present action, the president has before him, according to information obtainable, reports from what he considers equally as competent and reliable military sources as would result from a board of inquiry. On these he has acted, and the justification for his action is declared to be for the good of the army.

It is also pointed out that the president has made not the slightest distinction between the subject of his action, when that subject was the negro soldiers of the Twenty-fifth Infantry involved in the Brownsville affair, and when it was Col. Stewart, an officer and member of an honored Maryland family.

TWENTY-EIGHT PRISONERS SHOT TO DEATH BY GUARDS

Yekaterinobsk, May 12.—The attempt made yesterday by prisoners to break out of the government jail here, after making a breach in the wall of the guardroom with a bomb, was a complete failure, but it brought about a horrible scene of slaughter in and around the jail building. Twenty-eight of the prisoners were shot to death by the guards, and another of them has since died of his wounds. Thirty others were wounded, and it is expected that several of these will succumb.

As soon as the bomb was thrown, one of the detachments of prisoners charged the guards in the courtyard and attempted to climb the wall. Twelve of these men were killed instantly, while others were wounded. At the same time a second body of prisoners rushed to the kitchen, and seizing knives and other weapons, attempted to cut their way to liberty. They were surrounded and killed to a man by the soldiers, who had been hastily summoned by the prison authorities.

The explosion threw the whole prison into a state of panic. The inmates who took no part in the plot gathered in the window overlooking the courtyard. They were ordered to draw back, but refused, whereupon the guards fired volleys into the open windows. Two prisoners were shot down while attempting to escape over the roof of the building. So far as known not one succeeded in getting away. The chief warden of the prison is among the wounded.

The jury deliberated 19 hours before agreeing upon the verdict. Holbrook, who was in his husband's apartments when her husband was unexpectedly returned, claimed that he shot Lowther in self-defense and Mrs. Lowther's testimony favored the defendant. Glen Holbrook is a son of District Judge C. C. Holbrook.

NOTE BROKING SWINDLE.

S. W. Allerton Sheds Some Light on Charles Berry's Operations.

Chicago, May 14.—Light was shed on the operation of the Charles Berry, arrested Tuesday in New York on a charge of operating a note broking swindle yesterday by Samuel W. Allerton, a land and livestock broker, Harry called to mind. Allerton about 10 years ago, with a proposition to build the Mexican & Southeastern railroad, extending from the northern boundary of Guatemala north along the Pacific coast about 350 miles. Mr. Allerton became interested in the extent of subscribing for a block of stock, the par value of which was $765,000.

Concessions were received from the Mexican government, but with the advent of the Spanish American war the promoters were unable to complete the road, and the bottom dropped out of the proposition. Creditors brought suit against the stockholders, including Mr. Allerton and after court process, lasting extending over nine years, a decision was rendered in favor of the defendants.

"The fact of the matter is," said Mr. Allerton yesterday, "I am out nothing except the cost of fighting the case brought against me by the creditors of the road. Had the court returned the decision against me I would, of course, have been out $765,000."

A BRUTAL MURDER.

A Negro Unmercifully Beats White Woman Then Shoots Her.

Pueblo, Colo., May 14.—Without apparent cause, James Lynn, a negro, at midnight last night burst into the home of Mrs. Julia James, white, and after beating the woman unmercifully, drove her and her daughter, Sarah, aged 16, into the street, where he shot and killed the girl and mortally wounded the mother.

After the shooting Lynn made his escape, going toward the river bottoms. A large number of officers have been put on the trail.

Five other children of Mrs. James were in the house at the time of the assault, and they say they do not know the cause of the trouble. Lynn lives near them. Lynn's wife is also unable to account for the tragedy, though she says he has been talking of killing people for some time.
