the stake or the High Council. They met regularly in the Temple. The High Council was composed of faithful and intelligent brethren. He stated also that it had not been necessary to wait a minute to organize the High Council.

The High Priests and the Elders have improved in their diligence and faith-the way in which the young men laid aside their occupations and went on missions. He felt that it was a great evil for so many of the poor to come to the city. The Church had to be called upon to sustain the poor. He thought that many of these might, to good advantage, go into the country. As a rule, the Saints are prospering. The auxili-

ELDER T. A. WADDOUPS,

The Saints in these various stakes had been gathered from the nations of the earth. They are growing and pros-are becoming anxious over the spread of the Gospel and the people into other states. He asked what harm could come to anyone by the spreading of the conditions spoken of by these pres-idents of stakes. The Gospel teaches men to become better; it makes them tegrity, whom it is not easy to move in communities that have been established in this western country. And all these things testify that the source is good from which this people has drawn their inspiration. He hoped that the Saints would prove true to the Gospel which had done so much for them.

The Utah Light & Power company is Twenty Years ready to subscribe not less than 20 per cent of the stock and pay for the same, and asks for only a minority represen-tation, say three out of 15 directors-the farmers thus acquiring control of the management. UTAH WOOL RATES DISCUSSED

J. A. Munroe, freight traffic manager for the Union Pacific, and T. M. Schu. macher, acting traffic manager for the Oregon Short Line, this moraing reyears." viewed the local wool situation with the result that Mr. Munroe will take all the steps in his power to have the rate on wool kept down within the old $2 limit. When seen this morning the gentlemen stated that the matter would be taken up with the eastern roads who made the advance of 18½ cents, and they hoped when the business was placed in the proper light regarding the western situation that some satisfactory agreement would be arrived at. This is in line with the action taken at the meeting with the Idaho Wool-growers' association, which took place in Bolse on Thursday when the wool-men met with Messrs. Munroe and Schumacher, General Agent C. Clifford of the Harriman lines at San Francisco and A. F. Hilton, traveling freight agent for the same roads. At this meeting Mr. Munroe stated that the matter was entirely out of their control, but promised to use all the influ-ence they had in getting the old rate re-

Regarding the raise in the wool rate as first printed in the "News" a month ago, the woolmen are very outspoken. "If the western roads insist on keeping the rate up and not absorbing the 18% cents recently raised by those lines east of St. Louis, we cannot undertake to fight them; we will simply take the ad-ditional freight expense out of the pockets of the growers," declared Mark Harris this morning. Degree for the Killing of Daniel Ryan in Her Den in Victoria Alley Last December - Charge Reduced by Mutual Agreement-Strong Plea for Leniency. "It is the judgment of the court that tion, yet they know that the city im-you, Mary Jane Smith, be confined in poses a light fine on them each month the state prison at hard labor for 20 Such is the sentence passed upon the negro woman, who, on Dec. 12, 1902, adant. ministered a deadly dose of poison to a miner named Daniel Ryan, in her Victoria alley resort, and, after robbing him of al his money, had him removed to an outhouse where he was found cold in death on the following day. The woman was charged with murder in the first degree and her trial was set for today. When she appeared in court this morning and the case was called by Judge Morse, District-Attorney Eichnor, addressing the court, announced that the defendant had agreed to enter a plea of guilty to murder in the second degree. He said that such a plea would be satisfactory to the state provided it was satisfactory to the court. The woman was then instructed to stand up, and was asked by the court if she desired to withdraw her former plea of not guilty to the charge of murder in the first degree.

WOMAN PLEADS GUILTY.

She answered in the affirmative, and upon being asked what plea she de-sired to enter, she replied in distinct tones: "I plead guilty to murder in the second degree."

APPEAL FOR LENIENCY.

Capt, E. A. Wedgewood, who, with C. E. Marks, represented the defendant, made a strong appeal for leniency and asked that the minimum sentence of 10 mitted in that alley in the past num ber of years, only two of such case had been prosecuted, and, therefore, the state, county and city are, to a great extent, morally responsible for such conduct as this, because these people have not been taught by the po-lice department that such things are illegal.

and allows them to continue thei practises; in other words, the city li censes prostitution. The moral respon-sibility, he argued, rests as much upon he state and city as upon the defend-MADGE ROY THE INSTIGATOR.

Mr. Wedgewood contended that the stimony went to show that Madge oy was the instigator of this crime hat nothing was thought of securin norphine until the Roy woman entered efendant's roun; that Madge Roy was addicted to the use of morphine and knew all about it, and defendant did not. If defendant had intended to comthe crime she could have done so before Madge Ray arrived. The messenger boy had been sent by deferdant for coal and tobacco, but nothing was thought of the morphine until he returned, when, the evidence shows, Madge Ray was present. At o who is responsible for the crime, he aid, lies between the defendant and Madge Ray. It is simply a case of Madge Ray vs Mary Jane Smith. In the light of all the evidence, the attorney declared that the minimum sen nce is too high for the responsibility of this defendant for this crime.

EICHNOR'S CONVINCING ARGU-MENT.

District Attorney Eichnor made convincing argument against the min-mum sentence being imposed. He showed by the evidence that the cir imstances were very much against the defendant. That the crime was comnitted in her house; that she gave the messenger boy the money to get the morphine; that she had Mat Wilson years be imposed. He referred to Vic-toria alley, where the crime was compared to the room and leave mitted, as a "hell hole" in the very heart of the city, under the shederer in the said, he would suggest the found dead. If the defendant were a man, he said, he would suggest that a life sentence be imposed, but he cer-tainly was of the opinion that the minimum penalty was not sufficient.

COURT PASSES SENTENCE.

Judge Morse then instructed the defendant to stand up. He asked if she walved time for sentence, to which she replied in the affirmative. After a few remarks as to the sufficiency of the penalty about to be imposed as a punishment for the offense committed and as an example to others, he passed sentence as given above.

CARRIE ROASTS OGDEN.

Ogden, April 6 .- The redoubtable and only Carry Nation of hatchet fame, came to Ogden yesterday afternoon from Callfornia enroute to the east. While here she delivered a characteristic temperance lecture to about 30 people, during which she emphasized the necessity of more stringent and far reaching laws in the interest of mocality and temperance. She intended taking her departure in the evening, but owing to some mistake she board-ed the Union Pacific westbound and was taken as far as Echo before the mistake was discovered. The trainmen returned her to this city, where she was obliged to pass the night. She put up at the Pacific hotel and made things ively at the hostelry. She was asti-arly this morning, and began putting things to right about the depot. She gave Depot Polleeman Huncheliffe a rare roasting for not prohibiting the use of tebacco in his jurisdiction, and the newsstands for selling the "filth; weed," Every person who hove it sight with a cigar or pipe or a quid in his mouth was called down, and Carry did not hesitate to tell him what she thought of him. A sigh of relief was vented by many men of the city when the train bearing the saloon smasher faded away in the east.

The first edition of the Saturday "News" was on the streets at 3 p. m. The second and largest at 4. Between 5 and 6 o'clock the demand, especially from news boys, was so great. that a third edition had to be run off the press.

The space devoted to advertisers was the heaviest of any issue since the Christmas edition, and the largest of any Conference edition ever printed by the Deseret News.

LOGAN BOND CASE.

Supreme Court Upholds Judgment of The Lower Court.

The supreme court has affirmed the judgment of the lower court in the case of the State of Utah ex rel. S. W. Riter, appellant, vs John Quayle et al. members of the city council of Logan city. The action was brought to re. strain the council of Logan from issuing bonds in the sum of $65,000 for building an electric light plant, on the athers. ground that the same would make the onded indebtedness of the city more han 4 per cent of the value of its taxable property, and thereby such issue would be unconstitutional. In the court below the defendants demurred to the complaint and the same was sustained and the complaint was dismissed. This action is upheld by the supreme court. The opinion was writ-ten by Chief Justice Baskin and con-curren in by Justice Barich.
