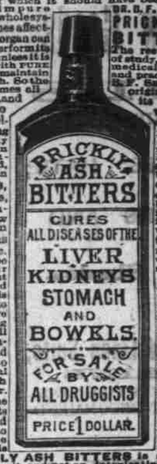
THE LIVER AND ITS FUNCTIONS.

IT has become a well established fact that the larger portion of diseases to which the human family is subject arise in the first place from some derangement of the Liver. This organ is not only the largest, but in fact one of the most important. The venous blood, on its return to the heart, passes through this organ, and in its passage the impurities, as also the secretions which are necessary for digestion as well as for a cathartic to assist in the removal of waste material &c. are eliminated. From this it is easy to see that the Liver is liable to get out of order to a greater or less extent, and when this occurs it is impossible for it to properly fulfil its office of removing all objectionable matter from the blood, but allows it to pass through, carrying with it the seeds of which it should have no part.

With Impure blood the whole system becomes affected, and no organ can properly perform its function unless it is supplied with PURE BLOOD to maintain its strength. So the Liver becomes an all important, and when one has the feeling of being continually tired, worn out, is nervous, dissipated, with Sudden Pains in the Back, Headache, Sick Stomach, Sallow Complexion, Eruptions of Skin, etc., they may be sure their Liver is out of order, and a remedy is required to assist nature in relieving itself of all accumulations, and restore it to its original Strength and Vigor. For all the complaints of this kind there is no medicine that equals

DR. R. F. SHERMAN'S PRICKLY ASH BITTERS.

The result of years of study, experiment and medical research of R. F. Sherman, the originator, and his success wherever it is introduced, is unparalleled. Prickly Ash Bitters acts directly on the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, & Bowels, in a mild yet effectual manner. And is as pleasant to the taste as Lemonade, and is as easily taken by children as adults.



PRICKLY ASH BITTERS is a medicine of rare merit, and not an intoxicating beverage, and being purely vegetable in its composition can be used at all times with beneficial results. It is not claimed as a cure-all, but for derangement of the organs mentioned. It is a specific and as a BLOOD PURIFIER ranks above all other preparations. Ask your druggist for it, and give it a fair trial. If he has none on hand, ask that it be ordered for you.

EVENING NEWS.

Friday, - June 13, 1884.

ALABAMA CONFERENCE.

Conference convened near Moscow, in La Mar County, on the 31st of May and the 1st of June.

There were present from Utah the following Elders: B. H. Roberts, one of the Presidents of the Mission; A. Cazier, President of the Alabama Conference; Jos. L. Jolley, President of the Mississippi Conference, and A. H. Richards, Chas. Shumway, A. M. Israelsen, and J. W. Buttler.

There are six other Elders in the State, but they were in the southern part of it, and to attend this conference they would have to travel two or three hundred miles, so to avoid this, President Roberts has appointed a two days' meeting in their field of labor to come off on the 14th and 15th of June, at which time he will meet with them.

Five public meetings were held, two on Saturday, and three on Sunday.

THE OBJECT OF THE CONFERENCE was explained as not merely for the purpose of preaching to the people, but mainly to hear the reports of the Elders who had come from their various fields of labor, that we may know what progress we are making in our labors, also to hear how the Saints are getting along, that we may know to what extent they are keeping the commandments of God, and to hear how the Elders are feeling, that such counsel and encouragement may be given them as their different circumstances may require.

There is great order in the Kingdom of God. The Elders come from their various fields of labor and they report to these conferences what they are doing. The President of the mission is in attendance at these conferences in all the States over which he is called to preside, and through the reports of the Elders he becomes acquainted with all that is being done in all the neighborhoods where the Elders are at work.

Then the Presidents of the different missions throughout the world, report their labors to the President of the Church, and thus he becomes acquainted with the progress of the work of God in all the world.

Then these Presidents of different missions, receiving instructions from the Presidency of the Church, or the Twelve Apostles, carry those instructions and impart them to the Elders at these conferences. An order similar to this doubtless exists in the heavens, as we find the following recorded in the 1st chapter of Revelations, 1-4 verses: "The revelation of Jesus Christ which God gave unto Him. * * * And He (Christ) sent and signified it unto his servant John;" then "John to the seven churches which are in Asia."

Thus, the Father gave a revelation to Jesus Christ, Jesus delivered it to the angels, the angels delivered the message to John and John sent it to the churches.

THE FIRST PRINCIPLES OF THE GOSPEL

were taught in great plainness by the Elders who were called upon to speak, insisting that all the principles of the gospel as taught by Christ and His Apostles must be obeyed now as well as in former times. "Man must live by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God."

THE APOSTACY.

By comparing the doctrines of men with the teachings of Holy Writ it was proven that men had departed from that order of things introduced by Jesus and His Apostles, or, in other words, had "transgressed the laws, changed the ordinances and broken the everlasting covenant," as predicted by the ancient prophets.

Instead of being led by inspired prophets and apostles, who might communicate to man the word of God, people had heaped to themselves false teachers, who had turned their ears from the truth. And instead of adhering to the faith once delivered to the Saints, men were accepting for "doctrine the commandments of men," "giving heed to seducing spirits and doctrines of devils."

The principle of

was treated upon at some length, and the inconsistency of modern Christians during the continuance of it in the church was pointed out; as without further revelation they will forever be ignorant in relation to many principles and doctrines spoken of in the Jewish Scriptures, but which are not sufficiently explained that men may know how to proceed in regard to them; such as the organization of the church, the powers and duties of the different officers, how to administer "baptism for the dead," etc. Moreover, men could not be authorised to administer in the gospel without being called of God to do so. Those, therefore, who deny the continuance of revelation put beyond their reach all claim to divine authority.

By request Elder Roberts read the 12th to the 15th verses of the 20th chapter of Revelation, and delivered a discourse on and spoke of what laws and ordinances must be obeyed in order to attain to a glorious resurrection and the privilege of dwelling in the presence of God and the Saints of God.

On Sunday afternoon the Sacrament was administered, and the general officers of the Church, as sustained at the last General Conference held in Salt Lake City, were presented to the Saints who unanimously voted to sustain these brethren by their faith and prayers. The authorities of the Mission and Conference, together with the traveling Elders, were sustained by the votes of the Conference.

COUNCIL MEETINGS.

The traveling Elders met together several times in the capacity of Priesthood or Council meetings, where they reported their fields of labor and received as to the mode of their procedure.

The dignity of their office and calling was pointed out to them. They are God's representatives sent forth by His Holy Priesthood to teach the world the important principles of salvation, and inasmuch as the Elders are faithful, their teachings are binding upon the nations of the earth; and those who insult or abuse them, God will require it at their hands, and they will yet have to give an account of the manner in which they treated the testimony you bore to them.

The authority the Elders had brought with it responsibilities, and if they failed to discharge their duty, the wicked would die in their sins, but their blood would be required at our hands"—see Ezekiel iii, 17 and 18.

We must preach the Gospel plainly, explaining each principle in detail and not present too many principles at once, as that would tend to confuse the minds of the hearers.

Do not be over anxious to baptize people; simply teach them the Gospel and show them the blessings resulting from obedience to it, but let their acceptance of it be an act of their own volition. Our success in the ministry will not be judged by the number we baptize, as the responsibility of the people receiving or rejecting the Gospel rests with the people and not with us. So also with gathering; teach the Saints that that is a command of God, but don't hold out any worldly advantages to induce them to gather to Zion. All the true Saints will require to know is, that God has commanded them to come out of Babylon, and they will be willing to go. And if any of them think more of the country they are living in, with its woods and springs, together with their farms and homes than they do of the Gospel and the association of the Saints and the privilege of being taught by pastors who are men after God's own heart, by all means let them stay here. Jesus said those that were not willing to leave father and mother, houses and lands, and even wives and children for His sake and the Gospel's—they were not worthy of him; and the principle is as true to-day as it was when Jesus first said it.

Be exemplary in your conduct, both in conversation and in the plainness and cleanliness of your person, that your bodies may be fit temples for the Holy Ghost.

The Saints kindly provided both food and shelter for the Elders, and withal the conference was a very agreeable affair.

Very Respectfully,
A. CAZIER.

MAKING A LEAD PENCIL.

ITS COST AND ITS PROFITS—A PENCIL OF FIVE HUNDRED MILES.

"What does it cost to make a 'lead pencil?'" said the manufacturer. "First, let me tell you how we make a pencil. See this fine black powder? That's graphite. It costs 25 cents a pound. This white substance is German clay. It comes across the ocean as ballast in sailing vessels, and all it costs us is freight. We mix this clay and this powder together and grind them in a mill, allowing moisture to be added during the process, until the two are thoroughly assimilated and are reduced to a paste about the consistency of putty.

"This paste we press into dies, each one of which is the size of a pencil lead, except in length. There are four leads in one of these. After they are pressed we cut them into the proper length and bake them in an oven kept at very high heat. There we have the lead made. Its hardness is made by the greater or less amount of clay we mix with the graphite—the more clay we put in the harder the lead.

"The cedar we use comes principally from the swamps of Florida, and is obtained entirely from the fallen trees that lie there. The wood is delivered to us in blocks sawed to pencil length, some thick, to receive the lead, and others thin, for the piece that is glued over the lead. The blocks are sawed for four pencils each. They are grooved by a saw, the groove being the place where the lead is to lie.

"The leads are kept in hot glue, and are placed in the grooves as the blocks are ready. When that is done the thin block is glued fast to the thick one. When dry, the blocks are run through a machine that cuts the pencils apart. Then they are run through a machine that shapes and burnishes them, and they are ready to be tied in bunches, boxed, and put out.

"The different grades in value are made by finer manipulations of the graphite. Here is a pencil that is about the average quality used in every-day business. It costs a little more than one quarter of a cent to get it ready for market. We sell it to dealers at one hundred per cent profit, and the dealer makes much more than that. Of this grade an operator and the machinery will easily make 2,200 a day.

"There is a pencil in that case. It's a cheap looking thing, isn't it. Don't look more than a cent does it? Well it would take a ten dollar bill to buy that. The cedar that surrounds the lead in that pencil was centuries old, I guess, before any cedar that is standing to-day began to grow. It was taken from a marl bed in Orange County, N. Y., at a depth of 60 feet, and near it was found a mastodon's remains. That bone knob on the end of the pencil was a piece of that mastodon's tooth. No. I don't think that it would buy that pencil.—New York Sun.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS and DISORDERED LIVER.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, a feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work, and are a perfect
