LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THE CHARGE TO THE GRAND JURY.

In charging the Grand Jury, Judge Hunter, like his Chief in addressing Congress, was expected to say something special in relation to polygamy. We have no disposition to find fault with him for so doing, and do not intend to criticize to any great extent the manner of his address. Still his remarks are open to discussion, and much might be said in opposition to some of his views and statements.

There are no people in the United States more willing than the "Mormons" to render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's. It is only when Caesar seizes what does not rightfully belong to him that we complain.

Judge Hunter's argument about resistance to the anti-polygamy law leading to the violation of other laws and thus increasing general crime, is not borne out by the facts. The criminals who are arraigned and punished in his court are chiefly from the ranks of anti-polygamists, who are greatly in the minority of our population. And "Mormons" do not practice polygamy in the spirit of hostility to law, but as they believe in obedience to law, the supreme law of the Great Ruler of the universe.

And it is not true that our leading men are devoid of patriotism. There are no better or more patriotic men on the earth than they. And when the "books are opened" on high, we shall be glad to court comparison of their earthly acts with those of their defenders.

But apart from these strictures, we agree with His Honor that jurymen should perform their duties according to the letter and spirit of their oath; and in spite of all the accusations against "Mormon" juries, we know that there are no men in the country who are under greater obligations to act according to the principles of justice, righteousness and equity, than those who are in the covenant of the gospel which we have embraced. We believe they will perform their duty as citizens of the United States and sworn officers of the law.

Home on Thursday.—Bishop John Sharp is expected home on Thursday night, from his trip to New York.

Fireman's Ball.—A ball will be given at Fireman's Hall, to-morrow evening. Olsen's band in attendance.

Seventies Organization.—The Seventies of the Fifth Municipal Ward, will meet to-morrow (Wednesday) evening at 7 o'clock, in the 12th Ward meeting house.

New Pavement.—The Deseret Bank Building, on the corner of the west and south sides, a pavement of asphaltum. The old planks are now being taken up.

Prostitutes Fined.—Twenty-two prostitutes were fined in the police court this afternoon. Six of them, as keepers of houses of ill-fame, were fined $99 each, and the rest, as inmates, $50 apiece.

A Slip.—To-day, a horse belonging to Henry Arnold, proprietor of the Globe Bakery, hitched to a wagon in front of that establishment, slipped into the water culvert near by, and the harness had to be cut before the animal could be extricated.

Expected Home To-day.—Supt. S. W. Sears, of the Ogden Co-op., was expected to return this morning from San Francisco, whither he went in company with General Supt. H. S. Eldredge, on the 26th ult. The latter will be away for several days yet.

Holiday Theatricals.—The Home Dramatic Club will give performances during the coming holidays, as follows: Christmas Eve, Christmas afternoon and night, December the 26th, and New Year's night, (Jan. 1st.). The two new plays to be produced, are in active rehearsal.

Witness to Heed.—Mary Heddington, of Salt Lake City, is desirous to hear from her brother, John Barnes, formerly of Leeds, England, and supposed now to be residing in Manchester. If he will make the desired communication he will learn something that will be to his advantage. Milennial Star, please copy.

To-morrow's Concert.—To-morrow evening the grand concert by the Philharmonic Society will be given at the Theatre. The programme, which will be found in another place, is well arranged and attractive, and no doubt will be rendered in true artistic style. Professor Radcliffe, a Boston expert, has had the training of the society for several months, and the result of his teaching has been noticeable in the marked improvement made by the singers under his charge. This will be publicly manifested at the concert, tickets to which have been selling at a rapid rate since morning. Those who intend going should secure seats early. See the programme for further particulars.

A Big Place.—We had no idea how the town of Milford on the Utah Southern was growing, until reading in the Salt Lake the following items under the heading of "Milford in Miniature."

That wealthy and powerful corporation, the Standard Oil Company, is buying wheat lands in the north-west on a most gigantic scale.

It is estimated that the fruit crop of this year is the largest, and finer ever produced in this country, and that two hundred million barrels of apples will be gathered this fall.

A Chinese bishop has accepted a new alphabet of thirty-three letters.

France has appointed 200,000,000 francs for the establishment of high schools for girls.

Judging from these "local tidings" it won't take Milford long to swallow up this world, and bridge over to the next planet.

Fine Cider.—Brother Thomas Fenton of the 6th Ward, the veteran fruit raiser, horticulturist and nurseryman, has our hearty thanks for a gallon of the finest home-made, genuine apple cider that we have ever tasted. The treat was highly enjoyed by all hands in the office.

From the North.—President William Rudge, of Bear Lake Stake, came down this morning to Salt Lake. He found all well at home, on arriving there from his mission a few weeks ago. He will leave in the morning for Boise, in company with Hones, James H. Hart, and Joseph C. Rich, all bound for the Idaho Legislature, of which they are members.

Fish Matters.—The following communication from the United States Fish Commissioner Baird, with appended items, has been handed in by Professor Joseph L. Barfoot, Curator of the Deseret Museum. It should be read by County Fish Commissioners and by all interested in the subject of pisciculture:

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER FISH AND FISHERIES,
Washington, D. C.,
November 27th, 1880.

Dear Sir:—The eggs of the species of salmonidae mentioned below are being matured by the United States Fish Commission, and I write to ask what number you are desirous of receiving on behalf of your State, to be hatched out and planted in public waters. They will be ready for distribution during the months of January, February and March, 1881. No charge will be made for the eggs themselves, but the expense of transportation from the hatching houses must be paid by the recipients. Due notice will be given by telegraph or otherwise of the time of shipment of the eggs, and you are requested to let it will of course be understood that the supply of eggs is limited, so that no larger number should be asked for than can properly be hatched and distributed. The eggs will be supplied to localities, the temperature and the waters of which are known to be favorable to the growth of the fish asked for. Should (as it is possible) the aggregate of eggs be less than the number for which applications are made, a pro rata reduction will be made.

Respectfully, etc.,
SPENCER F. BAIRD,
Commissioner.

Joseph L. Barfoot,
Salt Lake City, Utah.

Species: Salmo Salar, (sea or Atlantic salmon), Bucksport, Maine. Salmo Salar, (varietal setago), landlocked salmon, Grand Lake Stream, Maine. Salmo Iridea, (California trout), McCleod River, California. Coregonus Albus, (white fish), Northville, Michigan.

County Fish Commissioners, by applying within ten days of this date, will be supplied by the local fish commissioner, in accordance with the terms of the above communication.

JOSEPH L. BARFOOT,
P. O. Box 332, Salt Lake City.

Judge Hunter's Charge.—We give below the substance of Judge Hunter's charge to the grand jury yesterday morning. Our reporter applied for it yesterday, but was told that it was not ready for publication:

"Living as we all do in a community composed of persons from all quarters of the globe, there is much crime among us, and it particularly becomes our duty to see that crime in all its grades is punished. Unfortunately for us, there has arisen here a disposition to disregard a certain congressional enactment which prohibits bigamy. Almost every grand jury which has been summoned to sit since the enactment of the law of July 1st, 1862, has had its attention called to that law, and the subject has in a manner become so to speak, a household word, and yet the crime continues. But the law is the law of the land, and the violation infringes, if upon nothing else, upon old and well established rules of society. Nothing, perhaps, serves so well to protect the people at large as the social relations, and no one of these relations is so important as the one of marriage. It should be guarded with the greatest care, and in your rests a grave responsibility in relation thereto.

The court very well understands the religious influence surrounding you and experience teaches there is no influence which is so potent and so absolute, the will and acts of men. In its proper sphere such influences should be heeded and no intelligent mind should seek to overthrow it. While this be so and while one of the rights of our common liberty is the right to worship according to the dictates of our own consciences, we are also taught by the Great Ruler that it is our duty to render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's. The social matrix belong to Caesar, to the government, and our Government, which provides so bountifully for all our wants, and protects us so benevolently in the prosecution of every avocation of life, recognizing that monogamy is better for man, that polygamy has seen fit to prohibit the latter, and you being citizens of that Government, sworn now as Grand Jurors to inquire into offenses, cannot without a willful disregard of the dictates of that law and of your own consciences, and such cases are presented to you or are known to you, fail to indict. I speak to you as men forming a part of the body politic called the government, and not to you as individuals, being members of a particular religious sect or believers in a particular doctrine. All men in this country unquestionably have the right to believe on religious subjects as they may see fit, but no man in the exercise of that belief has the right to violate any law. The violation of one law with impunity renders the violation of other laws easy. It is but a step from the one to the other, and no doubt the principle which is given in this community to the abuse of the law referred to has much to do with the violation of other laws. Taking this willful disregard of this law prohibiting bigamy into consideration, there is perhaps no spot on the face of the earth where so many unrepentant criminals are in Utah. They lead the lawless life with their progeny, and control the destinies of a people who, if not all they have come into the United States to become of her citizens, are to be free men. Utah to-day is controlled by such a corrupt and lawless principle of patriotism, for no true patriot or lover of his country will persistently and willfully disregard one of its peaceful laws, and that one which centuries have taught is the greatest benefit to mankind. Gentlemen, as citizens of Utah listen to the teachings of conscience. Corrupt the law, and you corrupt the people from you and your children the germs of your existence.

The proof of the above was read and corrected by His Honor, Judge Hunter. It is therefore strictly reliable in all its particulars. He stated today in his private report, that he did not have it prepared for publication until after the time of our going to press last evening.

Meeting of the Sunday School Union.

The regular monthly meeting of Union was held last night, December 6, 1880, in the Salt Lake Assembly Hall, Supt. George Goddard presiding.

All the city Sunday Schools were represented, also Farmer's Ward, Brighton, Herriman and Lehi.

After the opening exercises of singing by the 16th and 19th Ward choirs combined, and prayer by Elder John Squires, each superintendent or assistant was called upon according to request made at previous meeting to report if his school had complied with the counsel of the first Presidency in ministering the sacrament, also if they had collected the five cent donation to aid the Union in publishing the catechism for the Sandwich Island mission, etc., and if they were prepared to pay it to the Treasurer. Also the number of children in each school over eight years of age not baptized.

It was found by the reports given that at four of the city Sunday Schools they do not administer the sacrament, and that at most of them they had collected the five cent donation and paid it into the treasury. Also that a number of the superintendents were not prepared to report how many children they had in their schools over eight years of age not baptized.

Superintendent Goddard said he was pleased with the reports, and hoped at the next meeting all who had not would be prepared to give a complete report.

Superintendent Sheldermine raised the question if administering the sacrament once a month would not help the make the more in the form, and at the same time meet the approval of the First Presidency.

Councilor Joseph E. Taylor, after briefly alluding to the last speaker, in which he said that while Superintendents may kindly remind the Bishops about administering the sacrament in Sunday School, the responsibility does not rest on the Superintendent if it is not attended to; he spoke of the necessity of good examples being set by parents and teachers, if they would have children inspired with confidence in their teachings, and said the immoral and unwholesome among us as a people, require the united efforts of parents and teachers to prevent our youth from being overcome by the temptations besetting them.

Superintendent Jas. Use of the 15th Ward Sunday School, felt as deep an interest in the Sunday school work as anything he had engaged in; he noticed that many of the children of the city were allowed to stay out late at nights and wander around the streets, where they learn bad habits, and thought that parents were very much to blame in not keeping their children home at nights, or if they sent them on errands, and the children were away longer than they should be, in not questioning them and finding out where they have been and what they have been doing. His experience was that it was easier to prevent them from contracting bad habits than to reform them.

Supt. W. D. Owen urged the necessity of teachers setting a good example, and thought that teachers could not conscientiously attend Sunday School if they frequented saloons.

Supt. Goddard said at our next meeting he wished to hear how many officers and teachers in each school observed the word of wisdom. Also how many Sunday Schools had a complete or partial organization of carterio bands. Also how many missionaries there are on missions from each Sunday School. He felt pleased with the quietness that had prevailed during the meeting, enabling all to hear the speakers. The superintendents were requested to secure blanks for a statistical report of their schools, and they were called for at our next meeting.

Meeting was then adjourned for one month.

Benediction by Elder William Willes.
J. C. CUTLER,
Asst. Secretary.
