It is a curious but satisfactory fact that chronic Bright's Disease, which, according to medical authorities, is an meurable and fatal disease, is now actually being cured. We have not attached importance to the statements of recoveries we have seen in the papets from the States, but that they are not all rumors is now evident from several recoveries here.

A. H. Otis of the Honolulu Drug Co. tells us of two interesting cases. One was swollen with dropsy due to advanced Bright's Disease, and both the patient and his physician had given up hope, Otis kept arging a trial of the new specific until the patient finally consented. Recovery was complete, the patient leaving a few months later for California, where he now resides. Another case was that of an officer on one of the Island streamers. THE CLIMATIC CONDITIONS.

We have an unusually healthful clithe inland sections, where the humid-ity is great, the atmosphere is rare and clear. A breath of the morning is like wine: it stimulates and exhilarates. The death rate is very small, about 8 to the thousand population. People live to ripe old age and die, not from disease, but like the tree on the eastern hill-side, because it is old. The weather is perfection over 300 days in the year. Zero is especially cold weather. But the cold is not felt as it is where the atcoid is not feit as it is where the at-mosphere is dense. In this altitude the air being light, does not chill, as it does in lower local-itles, and we never hear of men freeztiles, and we never hear of men freez-ing, or even getting frost-bitten, as they do in many of the older states. The climate is especially favorable to those with weak lungs. Unless too far gone, cases of consumption are cured after a brief stay here. The rarified and pure air is death to the germs, and the patient recovers his health and strength, and lives to bless the day he came. All over Utah may be found rugged people who were not expecting to live when they arrived, but who have since regained their health. It is true that some die, but in every instance the reason was that they delayed too long reason was that they delayed too long in an unfavorable country, and the atmospheric conditions here could not perform miracies. But the man whose lungs are affected only to an extent lungs are affected only to an extent that his strength has not been totally impaired, can come here and get well. Other diseases, which elsewhere are viewed with horror, yield readily to treatment, and the people, are free form the dread that takes possession of less fortunate communities, when typhoid fever, diphtheria and kindred aliments lurk in the air
