LOCAL BRIEFS.

The depth of snow which fell in Salt Lake up to 6 o'clock this morning was 7½ inches.

The excursion of the Iliff church members to Ogden, scheduled for morrow, has been postponed until the 22nd inst. on account of the inclement weather.

Work on the new University building is being pushed, all the foundations be-ing in, and the brick work well under The foundations of the boiler-Way. house are being pushed.

Grand Master Schramm and Grand Secretary Diehl of the Masonic lodge will go to Mercur tomorrow to organize Rocky Mountain lodge No. 11. They will also install the officers.

In addition to the Ashworth quartet, will render selections at the Co-op. Wagon and Machine company's reception tomorrow night, the known Orlanos, a local colored quartet, will give vocal pieces. At 9.30 they will sing "My Old Kentucky Home," and at 10 o'clock will give "Honey Does I ove Ye.'

A letter has been received by C. A. Ograin of this city, from his brother. O. Ograin, who is on the battleship Brooklyn, stationed at Manila, having enlisted in the navy three years ago. Ograin was on his favorite cruiser Charleston, when she was wrecked. Everything he says is quite about Ma-

Mr. James A. Baird and Miss Emma J. Tranter were matried Monday after-noon at the residence of Bishop N. A. Empey, the Bishop himself performing ceremony. A quiet reception was afterwards given them by the Bishop and wife. The bride is a cousin of Mrs. Empey and also a niece of Mr. John A. Adams of Eureka. Mr. and Mrs. Adams will return to their home in Eureka in a few days. They have numerous friends there as well as elsewhere who wish them well,

A telegram was received last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Sherman Des Moines, Iowa, conveying the Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Sherman from news of the death at that place of Mrs. Frank Sherman, their cousin's wife. Deceased will be remembered by many as she was here during the summer and by her charming personality at once won the affections of all whom she Though her condition has been critical for some time, the announce-ment of her demise was a shock to her relatives here and all who had had the pleasure of knowing her.

Marriage licenses have been issued to Budd Mathews, 25, and Marlon Oronin, 20, both of Salt Lake City: Aaron Garside, Jr., 22, of South Jordan, and An-nie Myers, 18, of Riverton: Samuei Samuel Crawford, 45, and Jeanettie M. Sales, 38, both of Bingham; Charles Bult, 22, and Piorence Crowton, 19, both of Salt Lake City; Charles S, Conrad, 22, of Provo, and Jeanettie B. Eccles, 20, of Schofield; Tracy C. Rooklidge, 26, and Bessie Crane, 25, both of Salt Lake City; Nathaniel Johnston, 30, and Margaret Kelley, 23, both of Salt Lake City; William Eynon, 21, of Clear Creek, and Ellen G. Weir, 19, of Diamondville, Wyoming. The last named couple were united in marriage yesterday by Deputy Clerk Albert J. Seare.

The State Kindergarten association will hold its annual meeting tomorrow afternoon, February 15th, at 2:30, in the Ladies' Literary cirb house. Short ad-dresses will be given by the president, Miss Mary C. May, on the needs and aims of the association; by Prof. Wm. M. Stewart on the influence of the Kindergarten; on the child by Miss M. Adelide Holton; on the Kindergarten Adelide Holton; on the Kindergarten ns a part of the public school system. by Dr. J. T. Kingsbury; on kindergar-ten training. Mrs. Alice E. Hanford and Miss Elizabetht Lamson will give cause others have had it to do; but which now ought to be only historic. Neither do we in any way consider it illegitimate to drive the wedge of proper competition, when done mani-festly for the good of the people. Whenever this company will have anything for publication, we will do so over our own signatures. -----

AMUSEMENTS.

6...... The visit of Blanche Walsh and Melbourne Mac Dowell to this city next week is looked forward to with much interest by theatergoers. Both are well known artists and Mr. MacDowell is an old Sait Lake favorite. Mrs. Waish has been here but once, about a year ago. Their repertoire this time is "Cleo-patra" and "La Tosca," and runs from alonday to Wednesday night, inclusive, with Wednesday matines. The stars are said to be supported by an excellent company, and some superb scenic environments are promised. The sale of seats for the High School performance at the Theater on Friday sight, opened at the boxoffice this morning. "Who is Who" played to a full house at the Grand this afternoon. Tonight closes the company's engagement here, after which the Grand will be dark until Thursday, February 22nd, when it will present "London Life," a good old English drama.

It is unfortunate that the heavy storm last night kept many from at-tending the recital at the Congregational church who might otherwise have -unfortunate from the fact that the Ladies' Literary club, under whose auspices the recital was given, suffered financially from their absence, and also that more were deprived of the treat of listening to the gifted elocutionist Mrs. Bertha Kunz Baker, who last night gave a recital from Rostund's famous play, Cyrano De Bergerac, was introduced in a few appropriate words by Mrs. Igleheart, the president of the Ladies' Literary Club and during the following two hours held her audience speilbound with her remarkable reading of the characters in the great drama. Despite the limitations of the

W. C. Shoup, J. Walcott Thomps platform and the book reading there was not a moment in which the separate elements did not stand out clearly before one-Mrs. Baker's notable tal-Mrs. James A. Mrs. Baker was introduced as the foremost of her sex in the especial line which she is master in the United States, and her effort of last evening demonstrated without doubt the apt-ness of the tribute. Possessed of an imposing presence, a beautiful and magnetic personality and voice of wonand derful quality and range of expression. Mrs. Baker must easily stand at the head of the list of artists in her line of art, and one can but wonder that with her manifest gifts and regulates that the stage has not won her from the platform. From the intensity, force and passion which entered into her de-lineation of Cyrano, to say nothing of the suggestions of personality and costume it was easy to imagine a wonder-ful Cleopatra or La Tosca as the possi-ful Cleopatra or La Posca as the possi-ble result of an application of Mrs. Baker's gifts to dramatic expression. Certain it is that the audience present last night had the opportunity of listening to an artist to whom nothing in the way of notable dramatic imperson. ation might seem impossible.
