EVENING NEWS.

Wednesday, - December 6, 1876.

By Telegraph.

PER WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH LINE.

Last Night's Dispatches.

Brooklyn Theatre, etc, Destroyed by Fire.

NEW YORK, 5.—The Brooklyn Theatre was burned to-night, originating during the performance of the "Two Orphans." The panic was terrible; a number injured, and probably some killed. Dieter's restaurant adjoining was totally destroyed, and the post office slightly damaged. The theatre was owned by Kingsley, Keeney and others, and was rented to Shook and Palmer, of the Union Square Theatre, New York. The loss is estimated at a quarter of a million dollars. At one o'clock the fire was still burning, but under control. The gas set the woodwork on fire. An actress attempted to reassure the audience, but failed. Numbers jumped from the windows and were seriously injured. No one is known to have perished, but one man is so badly burned that he will die.

The Press on the Message.

The Times says the message will disappoint everybody. It does not deal in any degree with the absorbing topic, the bull-dozing local government in the south and collateral questions. The document itself is disjointed and bad reading. He shifts the responsibility of his bad appointments on his party managers, Logan, Morton, Cameron and Chandler. The most satisfactory paragraph in the whole paper is that in which he tells the country that his official existence will terminate with next March. There is something of pathos in the opening sentences which cannot but disarm criticism, and which, as much in reading between the lines as the matter itself, is really an appeal to the sympathy of the country and a petition for a gentler judgment than that to which he has been used from his contemporaries and from history. A sad thing is that he should be obliged to admit so much in the way of mistakes and failure, and should go out of office with an apology. The closing paragraphs of the message are devoted singularly enough to a restatement of the argument in favor of the Santa Domingo scheme; not, as he says, as a recommendation of the renewal of the subject of annexation, but to vindicate his previous action in regard to it. There could be no better illustration of the President's amazing obstinacy of character. The Santa Domingo scheme was probably one of the worst blunders of his administration. It divided, in the end, almost destroyed the party, but it has passed out of the people's mind, and might have been forgotten. The message is that of a man who is tired of public life and weary of political strife. It is a confession that his civil career has not been a success, and a plea for charitable judgment; or, at least, for a division of the blame. It is only just to say of him that his military services entitled him to the country's gratitude, and that if his civic career was a failure, it was his misfortune while it was the people's fault. Let us take our share of the blame of it, and remember, with satisfaction, that at least, in one instance, his veto of the inflation, his administration was alike honorable to himself and serviceable to the country.

The Sun's editorial says the message is small, meagre and unsatisfactory; of course nobody expected he would show any comprehension of the perilous political state of the country, or anything in the way of suggestion or statesmanship. His closing words express the improbability that public affairs will ever again receive attention from him, otherwise than as a private citizen, and we must say there must be no inconsolable grief over this fact, when we see how utterly he has failed, and still fails, to comprehend the duties of his office, the responsibilities of the situation, and gravity of the questions that are before the country.

The Herald's editorial says the last annual message of President Grant is the emptiest document of the kind ever sent to Congress, but it has the merit of being short. The President is a man of sense. He scorns to make a parade of recommendations which have no chance of adoption, or to spin out words to no purpose. We commend the brevity, and have no particular fault to find with the inanity of his final message. In the earlier days of his administration, when his political party had large majorities in both houses, he made many recommendations, which were ignored or regretted, and very few that were adopted. Why should he continue to make idle recommendations now when one branch of Congress is democratic, when no bill can pass without the consent of his political opponents, [when he cannot remain in office to carry out a new policy, and when it is a foregone certainty that Congress will be engrossed through the greater part of this session with the exciting questions bearing on the election of his successor? Grant's unexpected reticence on the great question which so deeply agitates the public mind is wise. It was supposed that he would discuss matters connected with the presidential contest, and to any mind less practical and downright than that of Grant's this would have been a great temptation. The parade of his views on this exciting subject would have been idle, and Grant evinces the stolid qualities of his mind in keeping clear of it. No recommendation which he could have made in relation to the counting of the electoral votes would have been adopted by this Congress, and safeguards against the recurrence of similar difficulties had better be left to a calmer period. The only striking feature in this trivial message is the apologetic and defensive tone of the remarks in which he President indulges. Any man of half of his self-penetration and intercourse should have been able to compose a strong administration. Queen Victoria, who was a young woman in her teens when she came into possession of the crown, made no such mistakes in the selection of her advisers. In the whole message there is hardly a topic of sufficient dignity or importance to justify comment. So far as the message is not a mere history or recapitulation of official transactions of the last year, it is weak and pointless. The recommendations relate merely to matters of course or to insignificant details relating to the various branches of the administration. It is a document which concedes, in every tone, that its author has no longer any influence on public measures, and that he eagerly accepts his approaching release from public cares and responsibilities. No presidential message was ever before composed with so small an expense of political thought. We have never had a president to whom political discussion was so uncongenial, and he no longer makes a show of doing what he thoroughly dislikes or hides his lack of capacity. Had he possessed any talent for civil administration, he could not have repeated the stupendous blunder he made in Louisiana two years ago. It is surprising that so able a soldier should be so wanting in capacity to profit by his experience in civil life. The country will respect and honor his splendid services in civil war, although it may be unable to accept his apologies for the mistakes of his civil administration.

PROTECT YOUR BUILDINGS

Which may be done with one-fourth the usual expense, by using our

PATENT SLATE PAINT,

MIXED READY FOR USE.

Fire-proof, Water-proof, Durable, Economical and Ornamental.

A roof may be covered with a very cheap shingle, and by application of this slate be made to last from 20 to 25 years. Old roofs can be patched and coated, looking much better, and lasting longer than new shingles without the slate, for

One-Third the Cost of Reshingling.

The expense of slating new shingles is only about the cost of simply laying them. The paint is FIRE-PROOF against sparks of flying embers, as may be easily tested by any one.

IT STOPS EVERY LEAK, and for tin or iron has no equal, as it expands by heat, contracts by cold, and NEVER CRACKS nor scales. Roofs covered with Tar Sheathing Felt can be made water tight at a small expense, and preserved for many years.

This Slate Paint is EXTREMELY CHEAP.

Two gallons will cover a hundred square feet of shingle roof, while on tin, iron, felt, matched boards, or any smooth surfaces, from two quarts to one gallon are required to 100 square feet of surface, and although the Paint has a heavy body it is easily applied with a brush.

No Tar is used in this Composition, therefore it neither cracks in Winter, nor runs in summer.

On decayed shingles it fills up the holes and pores, and gives a new substantial roof that will last for years. CURLED or WARPED shingles it brings to their places, and keeps them there. It fills up all holes in Felt roofs, stops the leaks—and although a slow dryer, rain does not affect it a few hours after applying. As nearly all paints that are black contain TAR, be sure you obtain our GENUINE article, which (for shingle roofs) is when first applied, changing in about a month to a uniform slate color, and is to all intents and purposes SLATE. Or our red color is usually preferred, as one coat is equal to five of any ordinary paint. For our BRIGHT RED is the only reliable Slate Paint ever introduced that will effectually prevent dampness from penetrating and discoloring the plaster.

CHOCOLATE COLOR,

TIN ROOFS

BRICK WALLS

These paints are also largely used on outhouses and fences, or as a priming coat on fine buildings.

Our only colors are CHOCOLATE, RED, BRIGHT RED and ORANGE.

TO CALIFORNIA.

We don't give this for an fait accompli, but it is very strongly rumored that Cedar Rapids is to be the half-way station between Chicago and Council Bluffs.

If this is to be, and some experiments have been made to that end, we suppose it is on account of the superior condition of the road. A trip on the steel railed and well ballasted road, is not any more now, if as much, wear and, tear on the employes and machinery to a train, from Chicago to Cedar Rapids, 218 miles, as it was on the iron rails from Chicago to Clinton, 138 miles, in the olden time.

It is not necessary for us to say that the C. & N. W. R'y is a first-class road in every particular, that it rides as easy as sitting in a "rocking chair," that its coaches are parlors, that its employes are the most polite and affable gentlemen the traveling public can meet or will meet in a lifetime of travel—the esprit de corps of the employes, if we may so say, is at a high standard; we say we need not say this in a newspaper, it is self-evident to every traveler on the road. But in the future these are to be increased; we suppose the speed will be increased; if possible, the superb train will be more superb; there is to be no train more complete, either for comfort or safety, leave the world's commercial metropolis for the GOLDEN GATE, THAN THE GREAT TRAINS ON THE CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY—THE ONLY COMPANY RUNNING OUT OF CHICAGO THAT HAS A ROAD SO RELIABLE THAT THEY ARE NOT AFRAID TO RUN AT ANY SPEED CAPABLE OF BEING ATTAINED BY ENGINES OF THE MOST IMPROVED CONSTRUCTION, RUN WITH THE HAND OF IRON NERVE, AND A HEAD OF BRAINS, WITHOUT ANY FEAR OF ACCIDENT OR INCONVENIENCE.

Every employe on the road feels a personal interest in the North-Western Railway; it's the "crimper" road in the West, and so far as anything he can do it will continue so to be.

THIS IS THE TRANS-CONTINENTAL LINK FROM THE GREAT LAKES TO THE GREAT MISSOURI RIVER.

The old time traveler speaks in high glee of the "ease and comfort" of these days of steel in contrast with the pioneer days of this pioneer road in the days of iron. The comforts of travel on the North-Western Railway are in every traveler's mouth from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It must be a proud compliment to the efficient management, and that is the reason every officer or employe feels so happy and obliging.

It is with pride we mention these things, and join the general shout along the line, Hurrah for the "OLD RELIABLE."—Cedar Rapids Republican, Aug. 14, 1876.
