

LANSLOWNE ON NORTH SEA INCIDENT

For a Few Days Country Was Face to Face With a Grave Situation.

AN UNACCOUNTABLE BLUNDER.

Had Affront Been Intentional "Would Rather Not Contemplate the Consequences."

London, Nov. 9.—Lord Lansdowne, in the absence of Premier Balfour, at the historic lord mayor's banquet, held to-night, made a strong plea for peace and arbitration on behalf of the British government. Lord Lansdowne pointed out to a large audience that arbitration was the only way in which the North Sea dispute with Russia could have been equitably settled, and almost in the same breath drew a vivid picture of the horrors of the struggle now proceeding in the far east. Between the lines of his speech the foreign minister made an urgent plea, amounting almost to a demand, that the Russo-Japanese quarrel might be settled by arbitration. It was a carefully prepared statement, made before what is conceded the most representative gathering of leading men of Great Britain, and what is generally interpreted a bolder bid for intervention than has yet emanated from any neutral power. America was very large in this speech, for which great Britain has been waiting for many days.

The foreign minister prefaced all his remarks by saying: "That great statesman, John Hay, recently remarked that war was the most futile and fallacious of human follies."

NORTH SEA AFFAIR.

Then came an impassioned review of the North Sea affair. Although Lord Lansdowne was unable to announce the signing of the convention, he emphatically confirmed statements made in these dispatches, namely, that Great Britain had founded in principle of the dispute, and only supplemented what is already known by the statement, that Russia has guaranteed the punishment of any other officers in addition to those already detached from Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron, who might be proved to have been implicated.

By most of his hearers who tonight had their first opportunity of hearing the foreign officer's views, and who, moreover, had based their ideas on Mr. Balfour's much criticised Southampton speech, and on the belittling editorial articles in the newspapers, Lord Lansdowne's utterances were regarded almost as a plea for Russia.

A dead silence greeted him as, after pointing out that the two governments had failed to agree on the contradictory statements of facts, he asked: "Could we have done better than get full apology and compensation and have the question of facts to an international tribunal with a guarantee of punishment of any who may be found guilty?"

QUESTION OF CONTRABAND.

Lord Lansdowne, in connection with the question of contraband, seriously rebuked the audience, that Great Britain, as the greatest naval power, must, some day, be the greatest sufferer from the restriction of belligerent rights on the high seas.

DESIRE FOR ARBITRATION.

After referring to the widely prevalent desire, that arbitration might be resorted to, in the case of the present war, he said, Lord Lansdowne added: "Mr. Cote walked into my room yesterday and asked if we would sign an arbitration treaty with the United States. Simultaneously I received from President Roosevelt, whom we all most cordially greet, a message inviting us to participate in a second Hague conference at The Hague. It was needless to say that the invitation had not been refused, only we have reserved to ourselves the right to consider the subjects that should be discussed. We hesitated not a moment, in informing America that we were ready to participate and in wishing President Roosevelt good speed in this undertaking. "Arbitration is a deceptive."

SO DECEPTIVE

Many Salt Lake City People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

Backache is so deceptive. It comes and goes—keeps you guessing.

Learn the cause—then cure it. Nine times out of ten it comes from the kidneys.

That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.

Cure every kidney ail from backache to diabetes.

Here's a Salt Lake City case to prove it.

Mrs. John M. Child, John M. Child, retired, of 25 North 15th West street, says: "My back ached so that I could not sit still without placing my arm across my loins and leaning against it for the slightest relief. This was the case for several months. I was unable to sleep at night. I dreaded to change position, for I knew the moment I attempted to turn myself over, I had little confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills when they first came to my notice, for I had tried plaster and kidney remedies unsatisfactorily without receiving any satisfaction, so when a box of the preparation, procured at the F. J. Hill drug company's store, brought relief and a continuation of the treatment was followed by the greatest improvement in my condition. It is little wonder that I very emphatically endorse the remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

MUNYON'S REMEDIES

Are Safe Remedies and Should Be in Every Home.

In the compounding of my remedies and preparation is concentrated the knowledge and successful researches of the brightest medical minds that the century has produced.

There is nothing experimental about them. Years ago they passed that stage and countless thousands have testified that they have found health through their use.

There are no "cure alls" among them, but my list of remedies contains a separate cure for each disease. That is why they are called home remedies, or the "family doctor," as they are frequently termed by those who depend upon them absolutely to keep the household in good health—MUNYON.

Munyon's Paw-Paw Tonic is the grandest stomach and nerve tonic known. It builds up the run-down, gives strength to the debilitated, restores amiable and energy, makes old folks feel young and weak feel strong.

My Rheumatism Cure has rid more people of this distressing disease than all other remedies combined. I will return the money to any rheumatic whom it will not help.

Kidney disease in nine cases out of ten yields promptly to my Kidney Cure and Bright's Disease is frequently prevented by its use.

You are constipated or bilious or are troubled with headaches arising from a disordered stomach take a few doses of my Paw-Paw Laxative Pills and see how quickly you will feel better.

Colds, whooping cough with the rainy season and which frequently end in bronchitis, grip and the more deadly pneumonia, can be cured quickly and surely with my Cold Cure.

And these are but a few of my remedies. There are not a few of my remedies. There are not a few of my remedies. There are not a few of my remedies.

Remember that all my remedies are absolutely harmless. In taking them you run no chances as you do in taking drastic and debilitating drugs. They are safe. They are safe—MUNYON.

Munyon's Hair Hazel Tonic Preparation—Soleil, Face Cream and Talcum Powder—All delicate and delicate, should be used by every woman of refinement and taste. Make the skin soft as velvet. For sale everywhere.

tion," concluded Lord Lansdowne, at- tending to the reference to France's assistance in the North Sea dispute, "has become the fashion."

At the lord mayor's banquet, Lord Lansdowne was the principal speaker. The 260 guests, in addition to former Mayor Ritchie, who is succeeded by John Pound, and the Marquis and Marchioness of Londonderry, included the archbishop of Canterbury, Most Rev. Randall T. Davidson, members of the cabinet, the foreign representatives and members of parliament and other prominent persons.

LOYAL TOASTS.

After the usual loyal toasts, which were received with great enthusiasm, Mr. W. A. Arnold-Foster, replying for the imperial forces, said the navy lately had attracted the attention of the country by showing its efficiency and mobility for the service of the nation.

The army, especially the administration thereof, had always been criticised, but it was the determination of the army council not to rest until the British army was ready to enter the field at any time with absolute confidence of success.

HIS MAJESTY'S MINISTERS.

Lord Lansdowne, responding to "His Majesty's Ministers," referred to the absence of Minister Balfour, who, in spite of his illness, had not ceased to actively participate in the affairs of the country.

Continuing, the foreign secretary said that while London was principally interested, that peace should prevail everywhere, he did not think they should think of peace at any price.

"At this moment," said Lord Lansdowne, "contemplating the progress of the terrible struggle between two brave and gallant nations in the far east, can one of us contemplate without regret the legion after legion of brave men being sent to meet their fate and the ruined homes and broken hearts? We can conceive no more terrible punishment than the remorse of any minister or body of ministers, who from loss of temper or desire of popularity brought upon the country the scourge and calamity of needless war."

LANDSDOWNE'S SPEECH.

In the course of his speech at the Lord Mayor's banquet, last evening, Lansdowne, in the absence of Premier Balfour, who is ill, said:

"At this auspicious moment I am able to announce to you that not only the peace of the country is unbroken, but so far as I am concerned, there is no reason why it should not remain unbroken. Not only have we had the good fortune to avoid war, but in addition to strict neutrality we have done something to restrict the area of hostilities. The country, however, has not altogether escaped anxieties. For the last few days we have been face to face with incident which moved the people of this country as few other incidents have done. The incident of October 21 in the North Sea was an attack on British honor and affront to the British flag which, if intentional, it would rather not contemplate the consequences. It was a deplorable and unaccountable blunder but I am bound to add that recent evidence has satisfied the British government that the Russian government behaved in good faith and different from what we supposed and that each party was convinced of the justice of its own cause. Great Britain has adopted the only course in referring the matter to an independent and impartial tribunal, and we found no difficulty in arriving at the principal questions, nor in deciding that the terms for the reference under The Hague convention were such as we could accept."

After detailing what would be the procedure of the court, Lord Lansdowne referred to the anxiety of the number of Russian officers left at Vigo and said:

"It was not for us to assume the responsibility for the selection of the officers. That rested with Russia and it would be a great mistake to relieve her of the responsibility."

The foreign secretary added that the government had received distinct assurance during the last day or two that the Russian officers detained were those who were directly implicated, and if the inquiry showed that others were culpable they would also be punished. Great Britain had received a full expression of regret, a promise of ample compensation and a guarantee against a recurrence, with security for all neutral commerce and promise of punishment of the guilty persons. Was it possible to secure more?

Continuing, Lord Lansdowne referred to other questions which have arisen during the war, especially that of contraband, which had been largely cleared up and since July there has been no case of seizing a British ship by Russia.

"I am sanguine enough to say," Lord Lansdowne remarked, "that good is likely to come from the struggle in the far east. It is my hope and belief that this terrible war will give a stimulus to the existing desire for some less clumsy and brutal method of adjusting international differences."

GERMAN COMMENT.

Government Circles Regard Roosevelt's Election With Satisfaction.

Berlin, Nov. 9.—Government circles regard Roosevelt's election with satisfaction, as it means a continuance of the United States' present policy toward Germany. The relations between the president and Emperor William are believed to be of a more pleasant quality than ever before, as indicated by the rather frequent personal messages sent through their respective ambassadors. Some of the newspapers consider that the election will increase the friendliness between the two governments and mention the fact that President Roosevelt's suggestion of an arbitration treaty with Germany is ready for acceptance as an example of the present good feeling.

THIRD TERM ANNOUNCEMENT.

President Made It So There Could be no Misapprehension.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The president said today he felt that his announcement that he would not accept another nomination would prevent, during the next four years, any misapprehension of his actions, personal or official. He expressed himself as being in entire sympathy with the evident belief of the American people in the undesirability of a third term for a president and he, therefore, made his statement as unequivocal as possible.

NAVY PROGRAM.

Three Battleships, Five Scout Cruisers etc. at Cost of $1,400,000.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Three battleships, five scout cruisers, six torpedo boat destroyers, six torpedo boats and two squadron colliers, at an aggregate maximum cost of $1,400,000, is the building plan recommended by the general board of the navy.

AUTOMOBILE LAW.

Suit to Contest Federal One Instituted in New York.

New York, Nov. 10.—A test suit has been opened here in the United States district court to establish the constitutionality of the federal law which requires that all fire or lighters on automobiles must be extinguished before they pass upon a ferryboat. Since the law was enforced a few months ago automobilists have complained that they were put to great hardships because it necessitated pushing their heavy machines on and off the boats. In bringing the case to a test, the United States district attorney filed a libel on one of the Brooklyn ferryboats.

Herbert Spencer's Cousin Dead.

San Francisco, Nov. 10.—Morris M. Spencer, a first cousin, it is said, of Herbert Spencer, the English philosopher, was found dead at his residence here today. Death was due to heart disease. He was born in England 72 years ago.

DEATH IN A SWAMP.

Peter Johnson Just Escaped Being Caught in Quicksand.

New York, Nov. 10.—Peter Johnson, a resident of Hoboken, has narrowly escaped a living death in a swamp near his home. He had sunk to his chin in the quicksand when rescued. Johnson had started out in the darkness to investigate a fire not far from home. He walked unwittingly into a place known as the bottomless swamp, where several persons have met death. Before realizing his peril, he was caught and continued to sink rapidly. By screaming wildly for help, he caused several persons living near by and they procured a rope. A noose was formed and repeated attempts were made to cast it over the victim. Johnson continued to disappear at a great rate, and soon only one arm remained visible. A lucky throw by the rescuers finally noosed the upraised arm and after Johnson got the rope around his shoulders he was drawn out. It required the united efforts of six men to do this, however, and they worked nearly an hour. Johnson escaped nearly from fright when he reached dry ground and was taken to a hospital.

Italians and Germans Clash.

Vienna, Nov. 9.—An unconfirmed report from Innsbruck, mentions an encounter between Italian and German soldiers at the Kloster barracks there. Several men are said to have been injured. Everything was quiet in the town of Innsbruck today.

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF THE NATION.

Judge Parker Issues an Open Letter Thanking National and Campaign Committees.

PARTY HAS A GREAT MISSION.

People Will Realize that Tariffed Trusts and Illegal Combinations Are Absorbing Nation's Wealth.

Keopus, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Judge Parker tonight gave to the press the following open letter:

"Keopus, N. Y., Nov. 9, 1904.—To the Democrats of the Nation—Our thanks are due to the members of the national committee, and to the executive committee in charge of the campaign, for most unselfish, capable and brilliant party service. All that it was possible for men to do they did, but our difficulty was beyond the reach of party managers.

"I am most grateful to them and wish in this general way to extend my thanks to the workers as well as to the rank and file all over the country. I know how hard they struggled against overwhelming odds, and I only wish I could take each one by the hand and thank him.

"Deeply as I regretted leaving the bench at this time, in the presence of overwhelming odds, I do not lament it. I thought it was my duty. In the light of my present information I am now even more confident that I did right. I shall never seek a nomination for public office, but I shall, to the best of my ability, stand by the party that has honored me, and through the party, serve my country.

"The party has in the near future a great mission. Before long the people will realize that the tariffed trusts and illegal combinations are absorbing the wealth of the nation. Then they will wish to do away with these trusts, but the Republican party will not aid them to do it, for its leaders appreciate too well the uses to which the money of the trusts can be put in political campaigns.

"When that time comes, and come it will, the people will turn to the Democratic party for relief, and the party should be ready—with an organization of patriotic citizens covering every election district, who are willing to work for the good of the cause—an organization supported by as many honest, city country and state officers as we are able to elect in the meantime.

"We entered this canvass with every northern, eastern and western state save one in Republican control. This gave to that party a large majority of officeholders, reaching into every hamlet, many of whom gladly followed the examples set for them by the members of the president's cabinet in devoting their time and services to the party.

"To accomplish much in this direction, however, we must forget the difficulties of the past. If any one suspects his neighbor of treachery, let him not hint of his suspicion. If he knows he has deserted, let him not tell it. Our forces have been weakened by divisions. We have quarreled at times over non-essentials. If we would help the people, if we would furnish an organization through which they may be relieved of a party that has grown so corrupt that it will gladly enter into the partnership with trusts to secure money for election purposes, we must forget the differences of the past and begin this day to build up, wherever it may be needed, a broad and effective organization. We must by constant teachings, through the press and from the platform, apprise the people of the way the vicious tariff circle works.

"We must bring home to them at this election time the fact that money contributed to the Republican party by trusts is not only dishonest money, but it is given that the trusts may, without hindrance, take a much larger sum from the people.

"In the presence of a defeat that would take away all personal ambition were it true that otherwise it possessed me—I do not hesitate to say that in my opinion the greatest moral question which now confronts us is: Shall the trusts and corporations be prevented from contributing money to control, or to aid in controlling elections? Such service as I endeavor in that or any other direction will be gladly rendered. And beg the co-operation as a fellow worker of every Democrat in the country.

"ALTON B. PARKER."

Crew of the Mincola Arrives.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—Capt. Kirkwood and 23 members of the crew of the ill-fated steamer Mincola arrived from the orient today on the steamer Manchuria.

The Mincola was wrecked about three weeks ago in Togli Bay, off the coast of Siberia and the crew and officers had considerable difficulty in landing. They finally reached the coast and after many hardships arrived in Yokohama. The Mincola was engaged in delivering stores along the Manchurian coast when she was wrecked and the crew had nothing but what they carried with them.

The crew had nothing but what they carried with them. They were packed up by the British man of war Algerine, which took them to Hakodate.

Other passengers on the Manchuria were Mrs. S. J. McConnell of Chicago, with her family, and officers of her brother, American Minister General at Peking; Capt. A. Scandella of the Spanish army, who was attached to the Japanese army, and F. A. McKenzie, war correspondent of the London Mail.

Monitor Wyoming Runs Ashore.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 9.—Leaving Bremerton today for target practice, the U. S. monitor Wyoming, Capt. Cotman, in an exceptionally thick fog, ran ashore on Point White, Port Orchard narrows, and two miles out from the Puget Sound navy yard. Two plates are reported sprung, causing a leak which flooded two compartments. The vessel pulled off after being hung up for about three hours, and returned to the navy-yard. She will, it is said, have to go into the dry dock.

Japanese Attacks Repulsed.

Chefoo, Nov. 9.—A junk which left Port Arthur on Nov. 7 has arrived here, bringing the news that the garrison up to that time had repulsed all Japanese attacks. The junk was intercepted by a Japanese torpedo boat, which confiscated all the correspondence on board. Two Chinese who were on the junk were executed by the Japanese.
