Sequires Wise Heads, Honest Hearts And Strong Financial Backing To Keep It Right.

(By Tim Murnane.) The ancient history of our national game has gradually grown more previous until this winter more than ever you see printed in the monthlies, wacklies and even dailies articles on paseball referring to the incidents of 20, yes, 50 years ago, long before the men now playing the game were born. The old-time fan is the real thing in baseball. He was a close follower of the players at a time when every man in the game was known as he walked across the field. Ten men was the number of players each team carried through a season, and it was seldom that players were changed during a that physics word changes derived a season. Few of the big teams now carry less than 20 physics through a season, and each year witnesses many changes, until the public has little interest in the players off the field, and only knows the principal, performers. A good bit like the old one-ring circus, with but one clown. Every one knew the clown, such as Dan Rice and a few others. Now the big shows have three rings, a dozen clowns, with but few others. Now the big shows have three rings, a dozen clowns, with no head liner, and the sentiment gone. Bustness, business, no sentiment! And haseball is fast becoming a show busi-ness pure and simple, with the real grateer lost sight of. Too bad! The old amateur was a warm friend and loved the game. Not only that, but the big-hearted amateur and not the professional must we thank for the great game of today. Controlling professional baseball is thank for the great game of today. Controlling professional baseball is a serious problem for the future, and it will not only take wise heads and honest hearts, but a big amount of brains and strong financial backing to keep the old ship on an even keel. I have always contended that the best to handle those not in full sym pathy with organized ball is to allow them to go their own way, knowing they will soon realize their mistake and later ask to come into the fold, stronger members than if they had been jollied into coming along with been jollied into coming the reliable people. President B. B. Johnson and Presi-dent Harry Pullam have paid the coast a visit at the request of President Cal Ewing. Now, if Ewing was the leader he is supposed to be, why didn't he go after the outlaws single-handed? Aid from the executives of the major because was not necessary. For it's leagues was not necessary. For it's the minors and not the majors that the California people have tied to. Messrs. Johnson and Pulliam could advise, but I don't believe they helped Mr. Ewing.

There is only one way to bring the There is only one way to brine the Pacific coast people to their feed and that is by outbidding them for players. They should never be asked to come into the fold after encouraging con-trast jumpers, and time is wasted in offering the outlaws advice. They can do little har anyway, and if the ma-jor leagues charact meet them in sal-aries to the players, the Californians will ever be on the alert to break away when the conditions fail to please them.

TOO MANY COOKS.

One great trouble with baseball is that too many people are breaking into the financial end of the sport who have no real love for fair play or re-gard for the game, and would just as player who ever The world was not hoporable donned a uniform. The world was not very old until vandals appeared on the horizon, and they will continue to crop by now and then even in baseball, to thise for a short time like a shooting star and then disappear from the scene. A word of explanation. My letter from New York three weeks ago re-ferred to the National League passing a set of resolutions to the memory of the late Henry Chadwick. I said that after Chadwick had been voted a pen-tion for life by the National League they had later cut the old man off the lat. The same night, while dining with Mr. Herrmann, Clark Griffith and William Murray. I mentioned the fact and was informed by President Herr-mann that there munt have been a mistake. Early in the same evening I met Ed Hanlan at the Waldorf hotel, and he agreed that Chadwick was cut of the pension roll. acene. off the pension roll.

erection of a monument to the great writer, the man who had stood by the National league through thick and thin, a real champion of the old organ-leation, no matter who was in charge of the machine. Mr. John H. Farrell of the machine. Mr. John H. Farrell was made irresensed and made his re-port while at the New York meeting. He had received one check for $100 and a money order for $1. The check was from A. G. Spalding, a man who had looked after Chad for years as if he were a fond father, and the money order was sent by a friend from North Daketa. I'believe that it does a world of good to stir up the sluggish con-science of men who have reason to remember well a few pioneers of the game they owe much to.

STANDING OF TEAMS IN BASKETBALL LAEGUE

No games were played last week in the Ensign baseball league on account of the holiday season, but this week the teams will be rather busy. Best Athletes Are Hard Working Men.

years ago the term "athlete" applied only to the young man of telsure. Some time she was the highly educated collegian. Again he was the son of the well-to-do, with no business pursuits. but in all cases the athlete of ten or fifteen years ago was a lad with plenty of time on his hands. How different it is now. The majority of the best performers in their respective events in our country today are all working hard to earn their own living. A decade ago the champion athletic would have fainted dead away athletic would have fainted dead away at the thought of working ten hours a day becides his gallop on the track or swing at the weights. Nor does actual hard labor stop the present day young American from dabbling in sport. It is a well-known fact that several of our best athletes are poleemen. Martin Sheridan, the best all-round athlete on earth: Fiana-gan and McGrath, the great hammer twins: Pat McDonaid, who threw the 56-pound weight 16 feet into the air at the indoor championship, and Jack El-ler, the boss tow hurdler, are a few of amateurs who are on the police force. Jim Crowley, the new long-distance star who won the Yonkers marathon, was until recently a holyarrier. His was until recently a hodearrier. His abors were long and arduous, yet he made time to develop himself into a great runner and thus win promotion.
