

THE SOUTH IS PART OF THE UNION

And as Such Entitled to be Considered in the National Election, Says Judge Taft.

INVADES BLUE GRASS STATE

First Republican Presidential Candidate That Ever Did—Will Go to North Carolina and Virginia.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 15.—Acting on his declaration "that the south is a part of the Union, and as such entitled to be considered in the national election," Mr. Taft spent the day talking in towns and cities in Kentucky.

He is the first Republican presidential candidate who ever came to the Blue Grass state.

IN THE SUNNY SOUTH.

He will be the first Republican presidential candidate to carry his campaign into North Carolina and Virginia, which he intends visiting in the next two days. His reception has been typical of southern hospitality. The attention he received while expounding Republican doctrines was such as to indicate more than passing interest.

The candidate made many references to his reception during the day.

For the second time since his work on the stump began, Mr. Taft made reference to the government guaranty of bank deposits, which Mr. Bryan is engaged in urging in the west. On this subject at Lexington he paid his respects to his opponent as follows:

"Mr. Bryan has another proposition that is going to be the panacea for everything, and that is the guaranty of bank deposits. By that proposition he is going to make every respectable, honest banker become the security of anybody that desires to go into the banking business with the idea of getting a large line of depositors with very small capital, and the result of that I don't think it takes a very clear-headed business man to see.

"In Oklahoma, the state where they try out the experiments, they are now finding that banks are being organized with a capital of $10,000 by persons that have failed in the banking business before, by men that are under charges of embezzling, but who are able to get deposits by saying to depositors, 'I am a good fellow, and want you to help me out. Put your money in my bank, because this million-dollar bank up here of Mr. Smith's is my security that you will get your deposits back.'

Now, that is not a joke; that is a real, genuine statement of the condition that is to be produced by that guaranty of bank deposits proposition.

WORK OF THE DAY.

The work of the day for Mr. Taft was in the morning at Huntington, W. Va., where he was taken from the train to a rink and received by thousands. Then came his advent into Kentucky.

At Ashland the crowd was big, and the cheers of the zipping variety.

At East Kentucky Junction he told the crowd that he believed that Kentucky Republicans were almost better than the other Republicans, because they had to fight for their doctrine.

At Olive Hill he was again met by an enthusiastic crowd.

To his Morehead audience he said: "I wish I had a voice as strong as my hand and as strong as the muscles of my arm, because I would like to shake the hand of each one of you, because I know a thrill of Republicanism would run from your backbone to mine and back again. All I can say is how grateful I am to you for coming here and giving us the courage to believe that Republicanism is going to sweep south of the Ohio river, and give the south the position she ought to have in this government."

At Salt Lake the candidate told his audience that he had been looking through the crowd and felt both pleasure and pride at his reception from such men, and then added:

"The Republicanism of Kentucky is tried and true. It took something to be a Republican in the past.

"I believe that the indications that we have had today of the interest the Republicans are taking in this campaign is an earnest that in the November election Kentucky is going to be where she ought to be—in the Republican column."

Mount Sterling and Winchester brought forth their crowds and received in turn the prosperity argument of the candidate. The Lexington meeting had been arranged with great care, and the theater where the meeting was held was packed an hour before the special arrived.

When he arrived at the theater the big candidate made a decided hit by sitting on a chair which crumbled to the floor under him. Later, when speaking of the lesson of the incident by stating that "when it comes to affirmative policies the Democratic party falls between two chairs, just as I have done."

IN KENTUCKY'S CAPITAL.

Frankfort turned out en masse to see and hear the candidate. He spoke from the steps of the old capitol building. An enthusiast tore three buttons from the candidate's vest in endeavoring to shake hands. To his Frankfort audience Judge Taft said:

"It awakens recollections of greatness to stand in these capitol grounds of Kentucky and think of the great men whom in times past you have sent to Washington to take part in the government. I congratulate you as a state that you are now gradually siding with the Republican party in order that you may again have the influence that you ought to have in the councils of the nation. For so long as you continue to be a part of the solid south, to be counted units always as a tail to the northern Democracy, you will be certain not to exercise the influence that you have exercised in the past and that you deserve to exercise in the future."

That Judge Taft will not permit antagonistic partisan interruptions while addressing an audience was illustrated at Shelbyville, where the special arrived just at dark. He spoke in a hall which was crowded, and as he proceeded there were persistent cries of "Bryan."

The judge referred to the interruption pleasantly at first, but as it continued, he declared with some emphasis:

"It is just such instances as this which show why it is that the Democratic party never gets control of the government. It has elements which lack the slightest sense of responsibility, decency or courtesy."

Marching clubs with red fire escorted the candidate from his train to the coliseum in Louisville tonight. Notwithstanding the rival political attraction of Congressman Champ Clark of Missouri at the Masonic theater, there was no mistaking the interest shown in the candidate. His audience was treated to a discussion of the general issues by the candidate, by Senator William Alden Smith and by Leslie M. Shaw, former secretary of the treasury.

A feature of the Kentucky trip was the presence during the day on the Taft special of Senator Bryan, representing one faction of the Republican congressmen in the state, and tonight of Gov. Wilson, representing the other.

BRYAN CLOSES NEBRASKA TOUR

Feels State Can be Counted in Democratic Column by Larger Majority Than in 1895.

SPEECHES MORE AGGRESSIVE

Declares Speaker Cannon is Backed By Every Predatory Corporation in the Country.

Plattsmouth, Neb., Oct. 15.—William J. Bryan closed his three days' speaking tour of his home state with a large meeting in this city tonight, feeling that Nebraska can be safely counted in the Democratic column this year by a larger majority than he received in 1895. It has been a notable day, both in point of the number of speeches made, the size of the crowds addressed and the vigorous manner in which he spoke to his audiences. A large portion of the day was spent in his old congressional district, and the enthusiasm which prevailed in his tour of the state was intensified by the fact that these people gave him his first political distinction, and have followed him with increasing confidence as he fought his way up the ladder of success. They showed their affection for him by demonstrations at every station and by crowds such as the towns had never seen before.

REASON FOR TRIP.

"My trip throughout the state was not planned because there was doubt about Nebraska," he said. "It was because the Democrats have been so loyal to me that I was not willing to let the Republican party without them. The trip, however, has led us to raise our estimates on the size of the majority Nebraska will give. We have counted on a majority as large as that given me in 1895, but I am satisfied, from what I have seen and from the reports I have received, that our majority will be considerably more than it was at that time. In the campaign in this state have I encountered such large and enthusiastic audiences, and the reports received from every precinct and every county show defections in the Republican ranks and consequent additions to our vote. Our majority in 1895 was in the neighborhood of 13,000, and there is no comparison between the two years. The weeks before the election at that time and at the present."

Speaking began early today, and continued throughout the day. More than 20 were present at each place. Mr. Bryan talked longer than he had been scheduled for. "I know that I should leave here now," he said at Tecumseh, "but these people have been so good to me in the past I must extend the time and remain with them a little longer."

His addresses were more aggressive than they have been during the week. At Tecumseh he was vehement in his denunciation, among other things saying of Mr. Cannon:

"It used to be said of a noted criminal lawyer that a burglar never entered a house to commit burglary without first making inquiry as to the health of the lawyer, and no man in Congress who plans a raid against the American people does so without first getting a promise of recognition from Mr. Cannon, the speaker of the house. He is backed by every predatory corporation in this country."

At that place he also denied that Mr. Roosevelt was the father of the policy which the reformers advocated. "Name a policy of President Roosevelt that you want continued," he said, "and I will point to a policy that I advocated before President Roosevelt ever advocated it. Why don't you say that you want a Republican to continue Bryan's policies and not Roosevelt's policies?"

NEXT GREAT PANIC. In discussing the panic, he said Republicans are threatening a panic in case of his election. "There will be a panic in one family," he said, "and that will be in the Taft family, for Mr. Taft's federal salary will be withdrawn for the first time in more than 20 years."

At Nebraska City he compared his meeting with that of eight years ago and left the chairman of the meeting $5 to be presented to the campaign fund of the Republican committee if they would consent to carry the same banners in their parade that they carried at that time. Then he predicted that the starch trust, which was being prosecuted under the state statute, would be likely to close the factory at that place, and it was intimated that physical violence would be done him if he spoke in that city.

"I told them I would denounce the trust even in the shadow of the starch factory," he said. "Where are the Republicans who mockingly wrote to me after the election and declared that the shadow of the starch factory extended across the state? How far does this shadow reach? The factory is closed down, the machinery has been removed and the building is in the hands of a wrecking crew."

After his meeting at Plattsmouth tonight Mr. Bryan took a train for Des Moines, where he will speak tomorrow. While physically tired, he was jubilant over the outlook in his own state.

MUST PRODUCE THAW IN BANKRUPTCY COURT

Fishkill Landing, N. Y., Oct. 15.—A writ issued by the federal court in Pennsylvania, commanding, committal, E. Lamb, superintendent of the Matteawan hospital for the criminal insane, to produce Harry K. Thaw at Plattsmouth, Iowa, was served upon Dr. Lamb today by a deputy United States marshal. The writ is similar to the one issued by the same court to the sheriff when Thaw was held in the county jail at White Plains shortly before he was recommitted to Matteawan.

Dr. Lamb sent his assistant to New York to lay the matter before Asa Byrd Gardner, who has been retained by the attorney-general to advise the officials having Thaw in custody.

CHICAGO HIGH SCHOOLS.

North Central Ass'n of Colleges and Secondary Schools Warns Them.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—A warning to the Chicago high school system has been issued by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. In a communication presented to the school management yesterday, the association notified the school authorities that all Chicago high school rooms are greatly overcrowded and that unless conditions are remedied every high school in the city will be dropped from its accredited list at the end of the present school year.

This would mean that Chicago high school graduates will be refused admission, except by special examination at every college and university in Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Iowa and several other middle western states. Quick action was taken by the school committee. By a unanimous vote the official limit for the number of pupils in a class room was reduced from 35 to 30—the figure urged by the association—and Superintendent Cooley was authorized to make the necessary changes in the seating of the rooms. This, it was said, will mean increasing the number of high school teachers from 371 to 433, and an immediate expenditure of about $15,000.

HOWARD GOULD'S INCOME FALLS OFF $200,000

New York, Oct. 15.—That Howard Gould's income formerly was $200,000 a year but since the business depression of last year has been reduced to $400,000, and that he has lost $200,000 this year, was stated by his counsel in an argument before Justice Bishoff today. These figures were given in opposing an application by Mrs. Katherine Clemons Gould, who is suing Mr. Gould for divorce, for an increase in her alimony from $25,000 a year to $125,000. Her application Mrs. Gould asserted that her husband's income was $200,000 a year. She replied that while this was once true Mr. Gould says it is not so now. Mr. Nichol also asserted that Mrs. Gould's income for many years has been one of unbridled extravagance and that last year she received from her husband $224,000. Counsel for Mr. Gould declared that in 1906 Mr. Gould told his wife he would separate from her unless she abandoned her habits but that Mrs. Gould declined to do so.

Charles J. Chase, counsel for Mrs. Gould, said that Mr. Gould had tried to "starve his wife out of Castle Gould and had filled the house with spies who watched her every move, compelling her to move to a hotel."

Mr. Nichol retorted that in seven years, from 1899 to 1906, Mr. Gould gave his wife $700,000 and that Mrs. Gould had saved $200,000 of it.

Decision on the increase of alimony was reserved.
