

TRADE REVIEW FOR SALT LAKE.

Big Storm Interferes With Realty Sales and Temporarily Stops Building.

IN THE LINES OF COMMERCE.

Arrival and Display of Fall Goods With Talk of Prices, Fabrics and Ever-Changing Styles.

The local commercial situation has been fairly active the past week. In banking, the deposits are increasing, with rates steady, and the demand for money rather lighter than usual. There is plenty of money in the banks to loan for legitimate purposes on acceptable security. The clearing house transactions will about even up with the business for the same period of last year.

REALTY MARKET.

The real estate transactions have been very few the past week, due in a large measure to the rainy and unsettled weather which has made riding around to "show goods" undesirable. There have been a number of moderately sized transfers, and although the week has been quiet, dealers are anticipating a good business during September when people return from out of town to locate for the winter. The apartment houses are all filling up, and the completion of the Covey apartments on North Main street will take care of 40 or 50 families. This style of living is the thing in eastern cities, and Denver is being largely given over to them. The Real Estate association will move into the Swan building next Wednesday, and give up its quarters in the Morlan block on West Second South street.

HALTED BUILDING.

The rainy week brought building operations to a standstill for the time being, as no brick could be laid in the rain, excavations could not be made, and concrete had to be covered up. But the last two days of the week have been such that operations could be resumed, and by next week building will be in full blast again. The local brick situation continues to grow easier and easier, as the smelters cease to call for more, and the makers are sending all possible to local builders. Manufacturers say that had the $20 finish brick been called for more than the $10 and $12 article there would have been much less call for complaint the past season.

HARDWARE AND LUMBER.

The hardware trade reports a quiet week, with orders being received only within the last day or so on account of the heavy rains of the previous part of the week, which shut off out of door work, and restricted much in-door work. However, with the return of fair weather trade will pick up again.

The lumber men report no change from last week of any consequence, except that for the time being there is an easing up in the car famine as the wheat shipments are lessening. However, it is believed that the shortage will return presently as the cars will be wanted again for the grain service which is likely to start up before long.

The agricultural implement men report a dull week owing to the heavy rains.

WHOLESALE DRY GOODS.

The wholesale dry goods men are up to their ears in business, shipping out to the minor jobbers and retailers for the fall trade. In fact so fast are the goods going out that, with the demands on the manufacturers back east, the latter will be loaded up with repeat orders so early that late deliveries are sure to be delayed. Jobbers say there is a regular hand slide on flannels, blankets, and such goods, and the sudden increase in the demand from the factories for cottons from the oriental countries is making things livelier than ever in this country. Then the consumption in the United States is steadily increasing. The south has got a big price for its raw cotton, and the west has big prices for its grain crops, and so people all over the land are replenishing their wardrobes and household equipment.

THE RETAIL TRADE.

In the retail trade, the last of the summer goods are being got rid of, and every old price, and fall goods are being freely received, goods of all classes, suits, linens, dress goods, millinery, carpets, etc. There will be notable changes in popular colors during the coming year. For street use, "china blue," smoke gray, light shades of golden brown, navy and crow wing's blue, black, and black and white effects will be the thing. For afternoon and evening, the choices will include corn, honey, lime green, light London smoke, flax blue, Indian red and old rose. As to the materials for the new season, volles, lightweight worsteds, mohairs, panamas and some of the medium grade fancy wools find the readiest sales. Dealers report a fair trade on ballistics, French serge, prinzeles, volles, wool taffetas, and plaids. Fancies and novelties are in fair request.

CLOTHING BUSINESS.

The clothing trade reports a steady, good fall business, with the call for uniform shades, and medium priced goods. The changes in styles have already been noted in the "News," including the continuance of the low cut double breasted sack coat. The trade in fall hats is very good. The everlasting derby is still on deck, but with fuller crown than usual and curved rims. This hat now sells from $2 to $5. The prevailing color promises to be gray. The cool weather has given a little impetus to fall buying, which the return of warm weather is likely to retard.

The shoe men report steady good trade, better even than could be expected, but the week has been without special feature.

FRISCO GIVES $25,000.

Stricken City Leads Out With Handsome Donation for Valparaiso.

Special Correspondence.

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—Stricken San Francisco gave a telling proof of its generosity when it led out the other day with a subscription of $25,000 for the sufferers by the Valparaiso earthquake. We know how it feels to be shaken to pieces and we also know how it feels to have a generous and sympathizing public come quickly to our aid. Our hearts go out again and again in sympathy to our suffering friends down south.

Readers of the Deseret News, many of whom made such noble contributions to the San Francisco relief fund, will be interested to know that the G. A. R. relief fund is still actively at work. Indeed, there is much to do. Winter is coming on and there are thousands yet to be sheltered. The race track at Ingleside has been offered, and 10,000 people are to find temporary homes in barracks there, but one almost loses heart at the spectacle of graft, graft, seen on every hand. The question is who can be trusted to build these barracks? The scandal has reached such heights that a receiver has been asked for to administer the affairs of the relief committee, and now the great fund is to be tied up in courts! San Francisco will surely be rebuilt and made fire proof and earthquake proof, but the progress is slow, for the insurance companies will allow none of the debris removed until the losses are adjusted, so in many cases big structures are being built right over the debris, which will be cleaned out later. Strikes continue on every hand, and the price of lumber goes on soaring skyward. Think of it, $70 per thousand for lumber, and the government now threaten to take a hand and investigate the lumber trust. It is said that the foundries in Oregon and Washington have enough orders from San Francisco to keep them going for three years. People are pouring into San Francisco again, and those who fled in haste now seem eager to get back.

I must tell you that on Monday I received two letters, one from Fairview, Wyoming, from the Relief society, stating they had read my letters in the Deseret News, and sending me a box of fresh supplies which they had hauled 40 miles to a railroad station, then they sent the money as well to pay the transportation charges. The other letter was from a Relief society in Idaho, which also read my communications to the "News," and which announced that they had also sent supplies. It is such letters as these that reminds one of the good there is in the world. We all feel grateful to the "News" for what it has done in bringing our needs before the western public. Those who have sent any of these supplies, may rest assured that the task of distribution will be carefully looked after. Please extend to them our warmest thanks for their kind donations. NELLIE C. TRADE REPORTS SHOW ACTIVITY

It is Entirely Wholesome and Gives No Evidence of Any Reaction.

CROPS ABOUT BEYOND DANGER

Their Movement Becoming Difficult Traffic Problem—Great Gain in Railroad Earnings.

New York, Aug. 24.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

"Wall street provided the only important development in the business situation during the past week, prices of securities rising within an average of $2 per share of the high record established last January, while the general public became interested to an extent that lifted money rates for all periods to the legal maximum. Trade reports indicate wholesome activity, with no evidence of reaction, even those industries that are of necessity quiet at this season contributing to the general confidence by reports of large orders in sight. Owing to a few exceptionally large undertakings last year in this city, the total value of all building permits issued in July was slightly smaller than a year ago, but outside of New York there was a heavy increase. Crops are now almost beyond danger, and their movement is becoming a difficult traffic problem. Railway earnings in August show an average of 12.1 per cent over last year's figures, while foreign commerce at this port for the last week provided gains of $2,275,692 in imports and $1,446,521 in exports, as compared with 1905.

STANDARD OIL AND N. Y. CENTRAL INDICTED.

Jamestown, N. Y., Aug. 24.—The federal grand jury for the Western district of New York returned indictments today against the Standard Oil company and the New York Central railroad company, charging violations of the interstate law in giving and accepting special rates in the shipment of oil.

"LORD" WILLIAM SCULLY.

Transfers 30,000 Acres of Land in Illinois to His Wife.

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 23.—"Lord" William Scully, who is one of the largest individual land owners in the United States this week transferred to his wife all his lands in Logan county, Ill., amounting to about 20,000 acres. He is 90 years of age and owing to his infirm condition, is putting his affairs into shape so that he will be relieved of all business cares.

Early in the '60's he came to this country and purchased large tracts in Illinois, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska, getting most of it at $1.25 an acre. His total possessions it is said now amount to 200,000 to 250,000 acres. Until 20 years ago Scully made his home in Ireland, but most of the time since he has lived here as the alien laws applying to land made it desirable for him to live here and he became a naturalized citizen. The management of his land is entirely in the hands of agents, although he has visited his tracts at intervals during the last five years. The farms are never improved. This is left to the tenants. They pay

There is No Good Reason Against Good Insurance

Nor any substitute for it. Wherever failure to live means financial loss, there is call for insurance. Is your life of financial value to another—your family, partners or business? If so, Life Insurance deserves your attention, and deserves it now. Your forethought will be better than their afterthought. When it comes to the best kind of Life Insurance, men do not all think alike. There is no desirable kind that cannot be obtained from THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY. This is the oldest active Life Insurance Company in America, and the largest and staunchest in the world. It is a Mutual Company. It has no stockholders. Its assets belong to its policy-holders. It has paid them dividends continuously for fifty-six years. Taking its history through,

The Mutual Life Insurance Company

has done as well for its policy-holders as any company. It should have done better, as has recently been shown. Under the present management all policy-holders may expect unusually favorable results. This is made reasonable by the facts that it is a strictly Mutual Company, operated under New York laws, which are now the best in the world; that its great volume of business means smaller share of expense on each policy, and that the new methods and economies, which are now a part of its constitution, will save immense sums which must go to the policy-holders, as the only proper place. Mr. Charles E. Hughes, who became famous by conducting the investigation of the Legislative Committee, and who speaks with authority, has recently said: "We have had great companies exposed to close and unsparring analysis, only to find that their solidity was as the rock of Gibraltar. I would rather take insurance in a New York company compelled to transact business under these restrictions, than in any company not so restricted, and I believe that will be the sentiment of the people of these United States."

so much an acre for the land, and put up their own buildings and fences. Scully achieved the title of "lord" from American people in the west, because of his continued acquisition of land, and for his introducing of the old feudal spirit in dealings with his tenants.

FT. BARRY BUILDINGS FINISHED.

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—The buildings of the new army post at Fort Barry are now finished. In this new acquisition to the war department the government has expended $25,000.

It will soon be occupied by the troops of the coast artillery that are to have charge of the great guns which will command the entrance to the harbor. The post consists of two big barracks for the enlisted men, a hospital, seven quarters for the officers, two large storehouses, two sets of quarters for non-commissioned officers, wagon sheds, stables and corrals.
