WILL REOPEN MONDAY.

L. D. S. College Authorities Think the Smallpox Danger Past.

It has been decided by the Church authorities that the Latter-day Saints' College may reopen for students on next Monday morning, Nov. 26th. The college has been closed since last Friday evening, because four of the students had been quarantined at their homes with "smallpox." As sufficient time having elapsed to allow the development of any cases due to possible exposure from those students, and no other cases having developed, it is now thought that the college will be able to reopen on Monday next. The decision to reopen on Monday was reached by the Presidency and the Apostles, yesterday afternoon. This will be good news for over 400 students, who are anxious to go on with their school work. There has been very little alarm among the students themselves, in regard to "smallpox" this season, and were it not for the prudent caution taken by older and wiser heads in their behalf they would have been perfectly willing to take the risk.
The college rooms still smell strongly of formaldehyde and carbolic acid, from the recent disinfecting, but it is thought that the odor will all be away by Monday.
All students must present an affidavit certifying to their freedom from exposure to the contagion before they can be admitted into the college.

DRIVER SHOWS HIS PLUCK.

Takes Desperate Chances in Stopping His Runaway Team.

Considerable excitement was occasioned about 4:30 yesterday afternoon on East Temple street, by a runaway. Dr. Bower's carriage was standing in front of the Progress building, and Walter Henzie, the driver, was in the act of lowering one of the carriage windows, when the horses became frightened and started to run down the street. Young Henzie attempted to seize the lines, but falling in this, he rushed for the horses' heads. He caught one by the bit, and with the other hand shut off the animals' wind by holding his nostrils. In spite of his efforts the horses ran a block and a half before they finally mastered the driver. The driver then mounted the seat and drove the team back to where they started from.

TOO MUCH ACROBATICS.

A youth named Peterson, who is employed in the capacity of runner for the Imperial hotel, furnished pedestrians upon East Temple street with some fancy and unrehearsed acrobatics yesterday afternoon that filled their hearts with joy. Peterson was riding upon the regular "bus," which was going to the depot, when he suddenly remembered that he had forgotten something. Accordingly he proceeded to alight from the moving vehicle with grace and abandon. The lad has been practicing novel and startling poses in alighting on terra firma. His effort yesterday was crowned with dazzling success. Swinging off gracefully from the step, he endeavored to startle the rustics with a compound, back-act descent. The next instant total runner, an umbrella, makintosh and several unclassified articles were scattered in the wake of the "bus over an amazing amount of territory. Before the young man fairly realized that he had landed, he had annexed several square feet of Salt Lake real estate. He sustained a badly contused hand during the performance, ruined a suit of clothes, and irretrievably lost his temper.

SIX NEW "SMALLPOX" CASES.

The following new cases of "smallpox" were reported at the local health office today: Irene Condie, aged 9, daughter of P. S. Condie, residing in the rear of 337 west Fifth South street; Jeanette Cobb, aged 11, daughter of David H. Cobb, residing at No. 577 west Fourth South; Samuel A. Perkins, aged 9, son of Nephth Perkins, residing at No. 43 Kane street; Lydia A. Mead, aged 6, of No. 43 Kane street; Clarence Baker, aged 10, of Kane street; and three children of Edward Baker, residing at No. 1069 west First South street.

A GOOD DISINFECTANT.

One That is Always Ready, is Cheap and Absolutely Safe.

To the Editor:
With all the fuss about fumigating and disinfecting the school houses, the free use of the original and most effective disinfectant and germ killer known seems to be utterly ignored. I refer to God's gift of free air. What the matter with opening all the windows and doors every afternoon as soon as the school rooms are vacated so as to allow a free current through in all directions and leaving all that can be left open till say 8 or 9 p. m. except in too severe weather.
Probably it will save $8 or $9 a labor of the janitors and if so pay them for it.
It must be remembered that there are other germs besides "smallpox" such as consumption, catarrh, etc., and some of which are just as fatal as smallpox, and much more dangerous than the Utah variety.

A Great Medicine.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and find it to be a great medicine," says Mr. E. S. Phipps, of Poteau, Ark. "It cured me of bloody flux. I cannot speak too highly of this remedy. It is always with me, and I feel sure that it will save my life. I feel sure that it will save my life. I feel sure that it will save my life."

PERSONAL DAMAGE SUIT.

Bertrand Matthews Sues W. W. Wilson for $5,000.
Bertrand Matthews is suing William W. Wilson in the Salt Lake City court, to recover $5,000 damages for alleged assault. The complaint sets forth that on May 20th, 1900, near Sandy, plaintiff met defendant, who was driving a team of horses, and jumped on to him and beat him over the left wrist and arm with a monkey wrench, inflicting such injuries that he has since been unable to use his left arm, which, it is alleged, is permanently disabled.

LOWER COURT REVERSED.

Supreme Court Decision in Case of Skeen vs. O. S. L.

The supreme court has delivered an opinion in the case of Louis Skeen, appellant, vs. the Oregon Short Line Railroad company, reversing the judgment of the Second district, Henry H. Rolapp, Judge, and ordering a new trial.

Plaintiff to this action brought suit against defendant to recover $2,500 damages for the loss of eighteen head of horses run over and killed by the defendant company's cars. After the plaintiff's testimony was in, counsel for defendant moved for a non-suit on the ground that plaintiff's evidence showed that he was guilty of negligence, which proximately contributed to the loss of the horses. The non-suit was granted and plaintiff appealed.

The supreme court holds that the party asking for a non-suit must specifically state the grounds upon which the motion is based, and as that was not done in the case at bar the court overruled the motion. The opinion is by Justice Miner and concurred in by Chief Justice Barth and Justice Baskin.

In Favor of Plaintiff.

In the case of P. A. Sorenson vs. John Hawley, the jury has returned a verdict finding the issue in favor of plaintiff in the sum of $18.79. Plaintiff sued to recover $25.35, which he alleged defendant owed as his share of defending a suit for collection on an appeal bond.

Additional Jurors Sworn.

The sheriff of Salt Lake county has made return on the venire issued Nov. 20, 1900, and the following named persons were examined on their voir dire and accepted: Sidney B. Clawson, William P. S. Wilson, S. H. Burton, Alina C. Lambert, Mort G. Taylor and E. M. Ulmer. The two last named were excused, upon their own motion, for the term. Petit Juror Lewis B. Moore was also excused for the term.

Buckeye Case Concluded.

The trial of the case of Edward Home against the Buckeye Mining company, involving 13,500 shares in the defendant corporation, alleged to have been illegally issued, was concluded before Judge Richards last night and taken under advisement.

In the field of medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It possesses actual and unequalled merit by which it cures all diseases caused or promoted by impure or impoverished blood. You may not know it but there is such a tax; and you may be paying it, too. It is generally paid with those head-aches that you cannot account for. Defective vision causes the tax. CHRISTMAS "NEWS."

The Christmas edition of the "News" will this year be printed on December 15th, 1900. It will be the most elaborate compilation of the resources and attractions of Utah yet issued.

It will commemorate the proposed union of Salt Lake and Los Angeles by rail, and will contain many special illustrations and articles relating to the great capital of southern California as well as the route proposed to be traversed by the new railroad.

It will have the largest circulation of any paper ever printed in Utah, a great part of it being distributed in and around the city of Los Angeles.

Special attractive articles will be prepared by a corps of selected writers, and leading men of the community will contribute articles on topics of the day.

The date on which the holiday number will appear (December 15th) renders it of especial value to the local advertiser who wishes to reach the Christmas trade. Its wide circulation outside of the State and in lower California especially, will make it an invaluable medium for the general advertiser and for the State at large.

Dealers and agents of the "News" are requested to send in their advertising orders at once. Advertisers who apply earliest will receive the best positions.

PRIZES FOR THE CHRISTMAS "NEWS."

The Deseret News offers the following cash prizes for contributions to its Christmas edition to be issued Saturday, Dec. 15, 1900.

First, $50 for the best Christmas story, not to exceed 8,500 words (about seven columns of the "News" type).

Second, $25 for the best Christmas poem, not to exceed 1,200 words.

Third, $25 for the best Christmas carol, (unaccompanied), music to be set to the verses printed below.

All contributions to be in the "News" office not later than Nov. 28, 1900. Nothing received later than that date will be considered. Contestants are requested to sign their contributions with an initial letter or a nom de plume, to conceal identity, and to forward in a separate envelope securely sealed, their real names and the initial or the nom de plume appended to their articles.

On the outside of the envelope should be written "Prize name of _____" (here indicate the initial or nom de plume used). All members of the "News" staff will be excluded from the contest. The awards for the story and the poem will be made by competent judges, to be announced later. Professors Stephens, Daynes and McCellan will act as judges of the carol contest. The decision of the judges will be final.

The successful Christmas carol will be rendered by the Tabernacle choir on Sunday, December 23, 1900.

CHRISTMAS CAROL.

When Christ was born in Bethlehem, 'T was night, but seemed the noon of day;

The stars, whose light was bright and true, Shone with unwavering ray;

But one, one glorious star Guided the Eastern Magi from afar.

Then peace was spread throughout the land;

The lion fed beside the tender lamb; And with the kid.

To pasture led. The spotted leopard fed;

In peace, the calf and bear, The wolf and lamb reposed together there.

As shepherds watch their flocks by night, An angel, brighter than the sun's own light,

Appeared in air. And gently said, Fear not,—be not afraid,

For I have brought you good tidings, Earth has become a smiling paradise.

Contestants for the carol may use their own taste and discretion in the employment of the above words, omitting or repeating at their pleasure.
