HYRUM WHITE KILLED. A SHOT IN THE ARM RESULTS IN DEATH.

A lamentable accident occurred on February 27, at Taylor, Apache County, Arizona, by which Hyrum White, formerly of Harrisville, Weber County, was brought to an untimely end. He was returning from his farm in a wagon, and was carrying his gun under his arm. In moving the wagon box, when it was discharged, the load entering his right arm, and shattering it badly. A surgeon was sent for to Holbrook, and the arm was amputated, but the unfortunate man gradually sank under the shock, and died four days after the accident.
 Another White was a son-in-law of Brother George B. Wallace, of Salt Lake County, and half-brother to Levi H. Hancock. He bore an excellent reputation. Several of his relatives reside in this city. He leaves a wife and four small children. The information of the accident came by letter to Bro. G. B. Wallace.
 The Inquest.—A short time since the News had an account of a man named Bartlett, having accidentally shot himself at Fairfield, Utah County. The verdict rendered at the coroner's inquest has just reached us and is as follows:
 TERRITORY OF UTAH,
 Fairfield Precinct,
 Utah County.
 An inquisition holden about five miles south of Fairfield, Utah County, on the eight day of March, A. D. 1887, before Andrew Park, judge of the peace in said precinct, in and for the county of Utah, to wit: That the said Bartlett, there lying dead, by the jurors whose names are hereto subscribed. The said jurors upon their oaths do say that the above-named David Bartlett, came to his death by an accidental shot from a gun in his own hands on or about the third day of March, A. D. 1887.
 In testimony whereof the said jurors have hereunto set their hands the day and year aforesaid.
 Sworn to and subscribed before me this eighth day of March, A. D. 1887.
 ANDREW PARK,
 Judge of the Peace.
 JUDGE SNYDER DEAD.—The numerous friends of George G. Snyder, throughout this inter-mountain country, will be shocked to learn of his death, which occurred at Park City, Summit County, this morning. Mr. Snyder has been a serious sufferer from illness during a considerable time past; but his wonderful nerve and his fine physical powers were expected to bring him back to health. The deceased was a veteran in the ranks of western pioneers. He came into this region about 40 years ago, and his business enterprises carried him in early days to various parts of the Pacific Coast. He was one of the earliest settlers in that region, and he was a man of high character, having established a ranch there many years before the discovery of mineral wealth; and at the time of his death he was one of the chief land-owners of that region. He had been a law-maker and judicial officer. During some years he was probate judge of Summit County and he was at one time a member of the state presidency there. He was hospitable, generous and a shrewd business man. He leaves many relatives. Mrs. Jane S. Richards, of Ogden, is his youngest sister. His funeral will occur on Sunday, at Park City.—Ogden Herald, March 11.

FIRE at Mill Creek.—Yesterday afternoon Orson Calder, of Mill Creek Salt Lake County, was working on his farm, and set fire to some dry grass that he wished destroyed. The place where he started the fire was about fifteen rods to the south of his sheds, but a south wind was blowing, and the flames rapidly shot out and enveloped the sheds. In a few minutes the strawstack, a set of harness, twine binder, etc., were destroyed, making a total loss of about $500.
 The barn, stackyards and corral of Col. J. R. Winder, a little further to the north, narrowly escaped destruction, and would have been a serious loss.

BARNEY HUGHES at Large.—A short time ago Barney Hughes was sentenced to three months in the county jail for obtaining money under false pretences. This light sentence being due to representations to Judge Zane of Hughes' previous good character. He has been allowed considerable freedom at the jail, being considered as a trustworthy man. Yesterday afternoon he took advantage of this leniency, and made his escape. The jailor had locked his cell and gone out, leaving the keys in charge of a watchman. The latter, contrary to orders, unlocked the door and permitted Hughes to come outside, when he succeeded in getting away. Up to this afternoon he had not been recaptured, and he is probably hidden up in the city by some of his friends. Sheriff Bart is, however, likely to get him into custody before long.

ARRESTED for Embezzlement.—A few days ago an item appeared in the News to the effect that some of the friends of J. M. Edwards, formerly a resident at Ogden and later at Denver, were anxious regarding his whereabouts, it being understood that he had mysteriously disappeared from Denver. Last night, however, he suddenly came again into public view, and on his arrival in Ogden on the Union Pacific train he was arrested by Sheriff Belnap on the charge of embezzlement. The offense is alleged to have been committed at Ogden, where the agent found a defalcation in Edwards' account of about $1,000, and was the cause of the arrest. The accused was released on giving bail in the sum of $5,000 for his appearance.

Mr. Edwards claims that when a full investigation is made of his account, he will be found to be correct. It is said that one of the company's books has been misplaced, and that when it is recovered the whole crookedness will be straightened out, and the accused exonerated. Further developments may be expected soon.

PETER OLSEN Promises.—Yesterday afternoon Peter Olsen appeared in the Third District Court, and pleaded guilty to the charge of unlawful cohabitation. When asked, through an interpreter, what he proposed to do in the future, he said he intended to obey the law as construed by the courts, and Judge Zane ordered that sentence be suspended while the defendant kept his word.

COURT NOTES.—Proceedings in the Third District Court to-day:
 Eliza Darnell vs. Joseph Sowden; suit on promissory note given by B. Cases on trial before a jury.
 B. S. Fiershelm et al. vs. A. Fisher Brewing Company; court gives judgment for defendant.
 United States vs. H. H. Evans, Jas. C. Wilson and Edwin Rushton; plea of not guilty.
 Mary A. Morton vs. Thomas F. H. Morten; order for decree and findings.
 The United States vs. George W. Davis, James Blowers, Ernest Williamson and John Watrin; stealing government property; arraigned and given time to plead; H. R. Watrous appointed as attorney for defendants.

ANOTHER ONE. FATAL GUN ACCIDENT AT RANDOLPH, UTAH.

A correspondent from Randolph, in Rich County, informs us that on March 9th, six boys between 12 and 15 years of age, went up Big Creek to fish. They went as far as O. Jacobson's ranch, three miles distant, with a team and sled. Three of the boys—Henry Jacobson, Geo. A. Peart and Alex. Livingston—went to the house, which is empty. This was about 11 a.m. A fourth boy, Richard Franklin Pearce, went to put his horse in the stable, he having gone on horse-back. It seems by the evidence given at the inquest that there was an old double-barreled shot gun kept in the house, which had been loaded some time last year; one load had been shot out, the other O. Jacobson, Jr., had snapped his caps on in trying to shoot it, but without avail. The Livingston boy picked up the gun and asked Henry Jacobson if it was loaded; he replied he thought not; the boys then concluded to snap caps in turn, so young Livingston put on the first cap and went to the door to snap them off, but before he was ready or had the gun to his shoulder it went off, he could not tell how. He did not think his finger was on the trigger. Just at the same time, Frank Pearce returned from the stable and came around the corner of the house, and received the contents of the gun, which was loaded with coarse shot, entering the right arm and partly passing through the arm before entering the body. The little fellow raised his hand to his side and cried "Oh! oh!" then fell and expired immediately, being shot through the heart. The boys now fully realized what had happened and were almost wild with grief. They hitched their team to the sled and started for Randolph with the corpse, arriving at the residence of Lafayette D. Pearce, father of the dead boy, at 1 p.m. An inquest was held and the following verdict returned:
 TERRITORY OF UTAH,
 Randolph Precinct,
 Rich County.
 An inquisition holden at the residence of Lafayette D. Pearce, in Randolph Precinct, Rich County, on the 9th day of March, A. D. 1887, before the Justice of the Peace in and for the Precinct, to wit: That the said Richard Franklin Pearce, there lying dead, by the jurors whose names are hereto subscribed. The said jurors upon their oaths do say that the said Richard Franklin Pearce came to his death by an accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of Alexander Livingston, a boy about 14 years old, and that the shooting was purely accidental.

AUGUSTUS E. PEARCE,
 WALTER MORRIS,
 HYRUM J. NORRIS,
 Jurors.

JAMES BROWN, J. P.
 The boy was born April 24th, 1873, in Randolph, and would have been twelve years old the 24th of next month. He was a bright and intelligent lad, and was awful to witness the grief of the father when he arrived at home to see his boy dead. Brother Pearce is a widower, left with two sons, the oldest living away from home, he and Frank keeping house.

The funeral was held in the meeting house on March 10th, Bishop McKinnon presiding. The house was filled and a large cortege followed the remains to their last resting place.

LOCAL GAS DETAILS.
 SOME INTERESTING DETAILS CONCERNING THEM.

We had a call this morning from Mr. E. Gann, of Lake Shore, Davis County, the original filer of the natural gas in this territory. As already mentioned in the News he has been using gas obtained from a drive well for cooking and lighting purposes in his house for some months now. In addition to this he has three wells at his place on the line of the D. & R. G. W., all of which furnish a strong flow of gas as well as water and which he is about to utilize in boiling stoves.

The outbreak of gas on the D. & R. G. W. roadbed, of which mention has been made, was due to one of his wells having been shut off by screwing a cap down on the top of the pipe. When unable to find an outlet by the regular channel it permeated the soil and came to the surface some distance away. His reason for stopping the outflow at the well was that it was such a great depth that an unusual quantity of water came up with the gas, and he hoped by shutting it off he would have the lower part of the well filled up with sand. He has succeeded in checking the outflow of gas on the roadbed by slaking another well near by, and taps the gas veins that before supplied the well stopped-off, without extending to the objectionable undercurrent of water.

The manner in which wells are sunk by Mr. Gann differs somewhat from the method adopted in other parts of the Territory, but is no less effective. He drives down one length of one-and-a-quarter-inch pipe and inserts a wash-out pipe into it, which is connected at the upper end by a hose to a force pump, and down which he forces a stream of water by operating the pump. The wash-out pipe can thus be sunk to any depth desired and the well furnished without any more than the one length of larger pipe being used, instead of having it extend all the way down to the bottom of the well. The gas seems to come from various depths and apparently from layers of decomposed vegetation. The outflow is very strong and the supply appears to be inexhaustible. It is with a steady blast, which differs slightly in color from that of the artificial gas.

PLEADED.—To-day Hyrum H. Evans, James C. Watson and Edwin Rushton, who were arraigned on Thursday in the Third District Court, charged with living with their wives, pleaded not guilty to the indictments against them.

Wishes To Hear.—Mrs. Elizabeth Howlands, of 14 Rankin Street, Torxeth Park, Liverpool, England, wishes to hear from her brother, Edward Maghe, who emigrated to Utah about fourteen years ago.

CYRUS RAWSON Discharged.—At the examination of Cyrus Rawson, of Kayville, Weber County, on Thursday, on the charge of unlawful cohabitation, after hearing all the evidence the prosecution could produce, the defendant was discharged, there being no testimony to indicate that the accusation was founded in fact.

CONVICTS Arraigned.—This afternoon George W. Davis, James Blowers, Ernest Williamson and John Watrin, who are now serving terms for various offenses in the penitentiary, were arraigned in the Third District Court on a charge of stealing government property. The offense was committed on August 24d, 1886, when the four defendants overpowered a guard at the penitentiary in an attempt to escape from custody, and took from him a breach-loading shotgun valued at $20 and a six-shooter worth $15. The defendants stated that they were unable to procure an attorney, and the court appointed H. R. Watrous counsel for the defense.

Choice Fruits.—Brother E. Laker, the proprietor of the Eastern Nurseries, advertises in another column that he has a choice variety of fruit trees for sale. Judging from samples of his fruit that we have seen and tasted in the past, there is no need for those who have or intend to have orchards to send away from home for the very choicest fruits. Give him a trial.

RAILROAD BOUNTIFUL.—The strong inclination of the attaches of the U. S. Marshal's office to visit the thriving settlement of Bountiful, Davis County, was again exhibited last night. Between 9 and 10 o'clock Marshal Dyer and half a dozen deputies disturbed the quiet of the inhabitants in that neighborhood by making a raid on several houses, among the number being Anson Galt's and Mr. Thompson's, all of which places they searched for persons whom they alleged were wanted for interviews before Commissioner McKay, on complaints made against them, charging violations of the Edmunds law. The ransacking was a fruitless one, however, as no arrests were made.

The Teachers Association.—After the opening exercises to-day the time was devoted to general discussion. Several of the members explained how pupils can best be taught to read intelligently and effectively. To excite a lively interest in the lesson to be read, is the first step toward correct expression. Mr. T. D. Davis is opposed to having text books on reading adopted for five years, for the reason that after the pupil has read a lesson once so that he comprehends the ideas in it he will take no interest in reading it again. A variety of good literature adapted to the pupil's capacity should be furnished the reading class.

Mr. B. W. Ashton, in a natural and pleasing style, read a selection entitled "Graham Jones." Superintendent Stewart asked the primary teachers questions in regard to teaching script to beginners. All were of the opinion that it should be taught before print.

The following is the programme for March 12th, 1887: 1st, intermediate reading; Mr. J. Cardall; 2nd, general discussions and questions; 3rd, select reading; Mr. J. J. Walton; 4th, lecture on reading; Professor J. H. Pratt. All the teachers are requested to be present at the next meeting.
