Commerce.

NEW YORK, 22.—The Sub-Treasury disbursed to-day $530,000.

The Customs' receipts for the week were $17,000,000, the total imports for the same time $6,226,000, of which $5,000,000 were general merchandize, the remainder dry goods. The specie shipments for the week were $530,000, principally in silver bars. The produce exports were over $750,000.

Arrested—Details of the "Virginius" Examination—Will be Sentenced—More Indictments.

Another keeper of the Tombs has been arrested, charged with complicity in the escape of Sharkey, the convicted murderer.

El Cronista, the Spanish organ in this city, contains a variety of fresh correspondence from Cuba, from which it appears that sixteen men were captured on the Virginius, who claimed to be British subjects, and who sought the protection of the British vice-consul, which Burriel refused to acknowledge. They were not neglected by the British consul, but his efforts in their behalf were vain. The British Commodore at Jamaica took the matter in hand, and telegraphed the governor of Santiago de Cuba in the following words: "In the interests of the friendly relations existing between our respective governments I beg you to delay the execution of the alleged English subjects captured on the Virginius until the captain of the British frigate Niobe can communicate with you. The Niobe leaves to-day for Santiago." To this request Burriel replied by telegraph, "I do not possess the authority to accede to the position you send me, the law must be fulfilled." The men who claimed to be British subjects were executed without allowing any time for investigation as to the truth or falsity of their claims. Captain Fry's appeal to the Spanish authorities is published. In it he asks nothing for himself but all for his crew, many of whom he said were entirely ignorant of the destination of the Virginius when she left Kingston, and there were several equally innocent passengers, for whom he pleaded strongly. Captain Fry closes his letter as follows—"The Consul knows well that I am not pleading for my life. I have not prayed to God for it, nor even to the blessed Mother. I have neither house nor country. A victim of war and persecution, the way of prosperity has been closed to me to such a point that I have not been able to provide bread for myself and wife and seven children, who know what it is to suffer for the necessaries of life. My life is one of suffering, and I look upon what has happened to me as the benefit of God. It is not for me, therefore, to ask favors of any one." The letter of Senor Alfaro, to General Burriel, offering to desert the Cuban cause and to divulge the secrets confided to him if his life were spared, is also published. In this offer Alfaro is joined by seven other Cubans.

Strangers visiting the navy yard are not allowed on board the Spanish ship Arapiles. Nearly three thousand men are working in the yard, and the number is being increased daily.

Frank L. Taintor, the alleged defaulting cashier of the defunct Atlantic bank, has been remanded for sentence, the motion for a new trial having been denied.

Andrew L. Roberts and Robert Gleason, the alleged bond forgers, have had fifteen additional indictments for forgery found against them.

Tweed Sentenced.

In the Tweed trial, all the points raised by Graham were overruled by the court. When he concluded his address, which was after recess, Tremaine moved that the prisoner be sentenced on each separate count in the indictment, subject only to such modifications as the judge in his clemency might make. Graham's struggle to avert the penalty asked for falling, he gave way to his emotions. Tweed himself seemed much affected. The counsel having concluded their arguments, Judge Davis said it would be unmanly in him to seek to evade an apparent conflict between the views expressed on the first trial of the prisoner and those now entertained by the court. He said he entered upon the present trial holding the views entertained at the first trial. After stating that by the verdict of the jury the number of convictions were fifty-one, the judge said—"If any one thinks it is agreeable to me to pass on each judgment he is mistaken, for I would gladly have had the acceptance of this position fallen on other shoulders. I shall not shrink from any feeling of its harshness or severity, neither will that prevent the performance of my simple duty. Nevertheless, if have power, and in pronouncing judgment I shall endeavor to exercise it so as to temper justice in some degree with mercy. It is deeply to be regretted that the legislature have not provided a long sentence and punishment for offences of this kind, in different forms, and fixed the penalties for each offense where committed in different forms, from those which may be imposed by our statutes. Public officers who rob the people by appropriating public moneys, and who allow others to do so through their instrumentality or connivance, are unfortunately, in the State of our law, not to be adjudged felons, or punished by imprisonment in the State prison, but they escape under the forms of indictment for misdemeanors, and are subject for each offense to pay a penalty of $250 or a single year in the penitentiary. If this was a general verdict this would be all that the court could impose, notwithstanding that the prisoner took for his own use more than a million dollars in the manner described. If there had been a general verdict rendered the court could only pass through the farcical performance of rendering judgment in $250 fine and one year's imprisonment for the audacious robbery of the city and county of more than one million dollars; but under the verdict the court has larger powers, which it will exercise, and I hope with prudence and a due regard to the interests of the public and the example to be made." Tweed was then ordered to stand up, which he did slowly, and on being asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced he replied almost inaudibly, "Nothing," his counsel adding—"He has spoken through counsel." Judge Davis then resumed—"W. M. Tweed, you stand convicted by a verdict of a jury of twelve honest men, of a large number of crimes, charged against you, united in one indictment, and that verdict in the opinion of the court, could not have been otherwise without a violation of the oaths which the jury had taken, and an utter disregard of the obligations under which they rested, to speak the truth and the whole truth. With all the opportunity you had, had you faithfully performed your duties to the public, to win the honor and respect of the whole community, you saw fit to pervert the opportunity you possessed, and the power with which outrageous than any instance of a like character which the whole history of the civilized world contains. Instead of protecting the public, you plundered it; instead of standing guard where the law placed you—over the treasury of your county, you threw that treasury open, not merely to your own rapacity, but also to the avarice of your associates under circumstances which makes it apparent that you were engaged in a concerted conspiracy to plunder the treasury of this county, by which yourself and your associates in crime were principally to be benefitted. The evidence on this subject can leave no manner of doubt in the minds of any. The commencement of it all was the entering, by you, on those duties as president of the board of audit on the fifth of May. The very next day after that your career of plunder began, and from that day forward, consecutively, till the whole 193 accounts before that board had been audited and certified, and warrants issued and money paid, the evidence is conclusive that the whole proceeding was instituted to carry out a concerted plan to enrich yourself and those associated with you. If there was no other testimony, that, in my judgment, would be conclusively established by the fact that on each of these several claims, as they were passed and ultimately paid, your share of the plunder was clearly fixed and prescribed at 24 per cent., while the share of your associates had been fixed at a somewhat similar standard. It is impossible to believe that in the distribution of 193 cases, in which moneys were received on these warrants, just 24 per cent. of each sum should always be allotted to you without an understanding in advance by a concerted arrangement. It is in vain to suggest that your trial and conviction have been the result of any partisan feeling, or that this was, after all, as one of the jurors summoned on the panel expressed it, a struggle between the 'ins and the outs;' no, the whole struggle has been a struggle between honesty and fraud, between virtue and crime." The judge here, in vindication of the non-partisan nature of the prosecution, alluded to the Times in first bringing the figures to light, and to the great assistance rendered Chas. O'Conor and Samuel Tilden in the preparation of the legal proceedings, and said, "It would be wrong and unjust to entertain, for a moment, the idea that your conviction has been the result of persecution at the hands of any person or party. It has been the result of evidence so clear and plain that never have I seen a case where the evidence was so utterly overwhelming, and where it was so utterly impossible for a jury to fail to come to a just and conclusive verdict. Through the whole of this trial you have remained, up to the very moment of your conviction, as calm and serene as though you relied upon your innocence, when it was overwhelmingly apparent to all that your serenity was only that audacity, that confidence in the omnipotence of corruption, rather than in reliance upon your innocence." The Judge emphasized this sentence by bringing his clenched hand down upon his desk. He then said—"The duty of the court now is to pronounce upon you sentence, a sentence that may be adequate to your crime." The several counts on which Tweed was found guilty were grouped and fifty-one distinct sentences imposed, making his term twelve years imprisonment in the county jail, and a fine of $12,750. The counsel then gave notice that he would move for a bill of exceptions, and Judge Davis said the session of the court would be prolonged to give counsel time for their due preparation. The judge then ordered such counsel for the defense as subscribed to the paper presented him at the opening of the trial to be in court on Monday morning next for the purpose of enquiring into their action. Tweed, who received the sentence calmly, was then removed by Sheriff Brennan attended by a strong force of deputy sheriffs. Tweed is now sixty-six years of age. Curious enough the name Wm. M. Tweed is already inscribed on the marble slab of the main gateway of the jail, where it was placed years ago, when the board of supervisors, of which he was then a member, erected the building.

When Tweed reached the sheriff's office he looked terribly crestfallen, and sank down in a chair. Every effort was made throughout the evening, and until midnight, by his counsel to obtain a stay of proceedings, but without avail. Justices Pratt and Ingraham refused to interfere. The sheriff then made arrangements to relieve himself of the responsibility for the safe custody of his prisoner, and at ten minutes past one on Sunday morning Tweed was taken to the Tombs, and the gates closed behind him.

A Juvenile Murderer.

Geo. Boyce, aged 13, has been arrested on a charge of fatally shooting his uncle, Jno. Hulton. The boy entered his uncle's store, and remarking, apparently in jest, "Now I'll fix you," drew a revolver and fired.

Ordered to Norfolk.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., 22.—The U. S. steamer May Flower has been ordered to Norfolk.

Pillory and Whipping.

NEWCASTLE, Del.—Four white and three colored men were whipped here, publicly, to-day; one of the white men was pilloried an hour in addition to his stripes.

Murder.

WASHINGTON, 22.—The report of a second attempt to assassinate Sickles is doubtless untrue; no dispatches of any character had been received from either Madrid or Cuba up to a late hour this afternoon.

Mrs. Moriarity and a colored wood sawyer quarrelled to-day over a job of sawing, when the man drew a pistol and shot her dead, and made his escape.

Torpedoes to be Laid—Singular Affair.

The chief of the engineers corps has ordered the officers in charge of the coast harbors to put them in proper defense, and torpedoes, with the necessary electric cable instruments, tackle, &c., are to be planted along the coast.

The navy department has been informed by the commandant of the New London station that on the night of the twentieth, two men, representing themselves to be naval engineers, tried to force their way on board the Dictator, and when resisted by the watch, one of the men fired at him, and they then escaped.

Naval—Very Ill.

The steam tug Rescue left Washington to-day at noon with 150 barrels of powder. The steamer Fortuna has had her torpedo spar taken out, and will be launched on Monday. An extra force is engaged and extra time is being made on the Shawmut. The work of recruiting is rather slow, but it is possible that all the men needed will be speedily obtained.

Rear Admiral Jos. Smith, founder of the monitor fleet in the late rebellion, is lying very ill at his residence.
