OGDEN, UTAH, - FEB. 22, 1904. ARRIVAL OF FUNERAL TRAIN

From Scene of Terrible Explosion At Jackson-Heartrending Incidents.

Inquest Begun-Complete List of the Dead-Burial Will Probably Take Place Tuesday.

The seriousness of the great explosion at Jackson on the Ogden-Lucin cut-off was most apparent at 12:35 yesterday morning, when the funeral train arrived in Ogden bearing the bodies of to dead men, women and children. The train was met at the Union Depot by Undertakers Lindquest, Larkin and Richey, who took charge of the bodies and removed them to the temporary morgue on Washington avenue, where they were prepared for burial.

The complete list of the dead are: Thomas Burke, general foreman. W. J. Burke, wife and three children-two daughters and one son. William Haller, mail messenger. Owen Dermody, conductor.

GREEK LABOR AGENT TALKS.

L. G. Skliris, the Greek labor agent of Salt Lake, arrived in this city yesterisy to look after the interests of the relatives of the dead men. He was per-sonally acquainted with nearly every ne of those who were killed among his telow countrymen. Every last man among the Greeks belonged to the Rio Grande Western gang which had been aid off for a couple of months during the winter, and one and all expected to return to the Rio Grande next month Mr. Skliris has identified all but three of the Greeks, the mutilated odies, however, he believes to be those Evanglos Goumas, Elias Georgeon and Efthimios Karalis. In course of conversation with Seretis in the hospi-ial the injured Greek told the story of He said that none knew the accident. that there was any powder on the cars, but when the cars caught fire after the sollision and the black powder exploded these who were not badly injured comnenced to run. Then the dynamite went off, and he remembers nothing He also stated that Sottros Fo is, whose head was completely blown om his shoulders, might have escaped ike he did but he went back to get the Burke children out of the car. Just as he reached the car door with the ter ified children, the second explosion oc Those Greeks who are at the hospital and conscious are still in a dazed condition and do not realize that they are in a hospital, in fact, some of hem do not even know they were hurt or anything that transpired after the explosion until they found themselves in bed. ily for 36 hours, rescuing injured and picking up bodies. Mr. Smyth gave a graphic account of the gruesome scene. "It was after dark when I arrived there," he said. "Men were already working with torches and lanterns, picking up the bodies. The country there is just as flat as a floor. It is evidently part of what once was the lake bed. It is covered with white sand and is absolutely devoid of vegetation, not even sagebrush growing on this level barren desert. The bodies lay scattered on all sides for as far as half or three-quarters of a mile. There ware betrans to more at work with were perhaps 50 men at work with torchlights and lanterns. The night was dark, as it is the period of the new moon, and the only light was arti-

"The coyotes smelled the dead bodies and began to come in, howling, from all sides, seeking the carrion. It was necessary, if possible, to get the bodies in that night to keep them from the coyotes. Consequently everybody was working hard. The absence of vegetation and the whiteness of the sand helped the searchers. Men with torches scattered out in every direction. Every now and then some man would come upon a burned and disfigured body lying on the sand. Se-curing assistance, he would carry it to the central point, where the bodies were laid out on the ground, while men in the employ of the railroad company worked making boards to put the corpses on. Sometimes the searchers would come upon a hand or some oth-er fragment of a body. One man's head was blown completely off and was found apart from the rest of the body. The bodies of Mrs. Burke and three children were found close ther. Their clothes were torn off together. them, but the bodies were scarcely scorched.

"I shall never forget the scene when daylight came. At the place there was a round hole tore in the ground 150 feet in diameter and about 25 feet deep. The section house had been torn to fragments. One engine was reduced to small pieces, while the other was a total wreck. Box cars were reduced to splinters and burned as far as the wood wood portions were concerned. Car wheels were blown as far as threequaters of a mile in every direction plainly visible on the level white sand, were drive wheels, tires, rods, bolts, pieces of trucks, portions of engines, splinters of wood and other debris. But that was not the worst; the coy-otes had been kept off during the night pretty well by the lanterns, torches and bonfires, and all the bodies not to-tally dismembered had been brought in. But as daylight came we could see here and there on the white sand pieces of clothing and in some places the frag-ments of human bodies. These fragments were carefully picked up and brought to where the bodies were.

By dark they had a temporary track completed, so that traffic could be resumed over the main line. Another force of men was kent busy making bores for the bodies kept busy making boxes for the bodies and others kept up the search for corpses all day. lation and receiving a large number of signatures. The petition, which is meeting general approval by the people of the two places mentioned, including sheepmen, sets forth the following ar-raignment against the few flockmasters munity to foster their sheep interests:

jeopardize a whole com-

visor that this will necessitate a pro rata increase of the number of sheep to be run on said district No. 6, and insheep stead of there being allowed 21,850 head of sheep to be grazed thereon, for the year 1904, the number will be increased to about 37,500 head.

Wherefore, we, your petitioners, the Gunnison Irrigation company, a cor-poration, and the Mayfield Irrigation company, a corporation, who handle the water of said Twelve-Mile creck, for the use and benefit of their stock holders, and other signers of this pe tition, humbly represent that if this proposed allotment of sheep to be grazed on district No. 6 be increased, as proposed, then one of the primary objects of establishing said forest reserve, the conservation of the water supply of the people, will be utterly disregarded and eliminated, for the following reasons:

District No. 6 in said forest reserve, as a grazing ground alone, is not ca-pable of maintaining more than 24,000 head of sheep. That with 24,000 head of sheep grazing upon said district No. 6, said part of the forest reserve containing the watershed of the towns of Gunnison and Mayfield would absolutely receive no protection as a watershed from the establishing of said forest reserve by the parent government. That if the allotment of sheep to be grazed on said district be increased to 37,500 head, or any number above the present allotment, then said district will not only be destroyed as a water-shed for the people, but in a short space of time it will be virtually tramped out and annihilated as a grazng ground for sheep or anything else. That without any reserve being es-tablished in the past, we, your peti-tioners, confidently affirm that in no past year has said district No. 6 been burdened with 24,000 head of sheep. For reasons given above, and many more that might consistently be given, we ask that immediate steps be taken to prevent this threatened wrong and to see that the forest reserve as estab-lished may not be a greater burden upon the people whom it was sought to relieve than conditions were before its creation, and the interests of 3,000 of the inhabitants of the towns of Gunni. son and Mayfield ruined for the sub-serving of the interests of about 12 flockmasters.

AMERICAN FORK.

PANIC IN OPERA HOUSE.

Cry of Fire Creates Temporary Excitement-Narrow Escape of Children,

American Fork, Utah Co., Feb. 21.-A cry of fire at an entertainment here last night caused a temporary panic and came near ending in disaster. The Sunday schools of this place were giving a concert in the opera house last night for the benefit of the meeting-houses of the four wards. During the performance intense excitement was caused by the explosion of gas that had accumulated in a large heat-ing stove, which blew the front door of stove open and the flame shot out and frightened one or two who were standing near it. They cried fire, and it took several minutes for the mana-ger and some of the cooler heads to get the people quieted. The gallery was filled with children, who, upon hearing the explosion and cries, made a rush for the stairs, some of them dropped over the edge of the gallery to the pit below. The orchestra started playing music and in a few minutes the crowd was seated and the concert

REXBURG, IDAHO.

HOMESEEKERS' OPPORTUNITY

Fremont County Offers Exceptional Chances for Growth and Development. Special Correspondence.

Chances for Growth and Development. Special Correspondence. Rexburg, Fremont Co., Ida., Feb. 19.— Since publishing the little interview with me a short time ago I have received a humber of communications inquiring about Fremont stake, which I would like to answer through the "News," as I find it to be very farreaching. Fremont stake is in Fremont county. Idaho, about 200 miles north of Salt Lake City, on the line of the Oregon Short Line railroad, and is reached in about 10 hours ride from that city. Its altitude is about 4,000 feet. It contains 19 wards and two branches. Our population is about two-thirds "Mormon." An excellent church school, known as the Ricks academy, is in full operidon, in a $50,000 building, and doing an ex-cellent work with an attendance of 300 students. Good district schools are also held in each of the wards. The soil is principally a sandy loam and very productive, yielding with ordi-nary cultivation and irrigation about as follows: Wheat, from 21 to 90 bushels per acre, and other ccreals in proportion, ex-cept corn, which, while occasionally ma-turing and doing well, is not a sife crop or three moderate crops of alfalfa each season can be produced. Sugar boets and other kinds of vegetables as also all kinds of shrubbery, such as strawberries, rapberries, currants, etc., can not be beat by any locality in the Rockles, It has also been demongtrated that apples do remarkably well nere, yielding very large crops of fruit of excellent flavor, being also comparatively free from in-set pests. Dur sources of irrigation are the headpests.

Our sources of irrigation are the head-waters of the mighty Snake river, with its tributaries running in all directions, ev-ery one of which is as clear as crystal and when properly stored is without ques-tion sufficient to irrigate the entire Snake river valley.

tion sufficient to irrigate the entire Snake river valley. Traces of coal, gold, copper and silver are to be found and are awaiting the investment of capital to develop them. Fortunes have been made here in the sheep industry and the ranges are still yielding good returns to those who are utilizing them. Practically all the land for which can-als have been taken out to irrigate have been taken up, there are thousands of acres of excellent land, that nave only thus far been ugd for grazing purposes upon which it has been demonstrated 25 bushels of wheat per acre can be raised without irrigation, still remains open for homestead entry and will contine to im-prove as the waters of the river are spread out over the lowlands and thus in-crease the rainfall. With the interest now taken by the general government in irri-gation matters it is very probable that thousands of acres of this land will be brought under irrigating canals in tho near future. ought und ar future.

brought under irrigating canals in the near future. We have good markets for all kinds of farm products which bring good prices. Wheat and oats will generally average 90 cents to $1 per 100 pounds, hay $2.75 to $40 other cattle in proportin. The Fremont sugar factory will be erected in the center of the community in the early spring. A great deal of the work is already done and active opera-tions will be resumed as soon as the weather will permit. Our winters generally are from about the middle of December to the middle of March, although spring plowing some-times commences as early as March 1. Our most successful seasons, however, are those when snow covers the ground until here in March tose when snow covers the ground until

The olimate is very healthful. We have no heavy winds that do any damage, but during the early summer months we are usually troubled by a long steady breeze that is a little unpleasant to new com-ers, but not noticed as a person becomes used to it.

Boy Under Chloroform. Special Correspondence. Cowley, Big Horn Co., Wyo., Feb. 17.-This afternoon funeral services were held over the remains of William S. Eyre, aged 11 years, son of Wm. N. and Julia Eyre, who passed away at noon yester-day from the effects of a carbuncle un-der the right arm. Although William has been bothered with kernels under his arm for some time past, only during the past month has it been severe. Yesterday Dra. Chiver of Lovell and Mixwell of Cowley were called in and decided it was best to use chloroform while they injected certain medicine with hopes of avoiding the use of the lance. The chloroform proved too much for his weakened con-dition. He did not rally but died 15 minutes after receiving it. — Edfers Chas. A. Welch and Chas. R. Lyman, also Patriarch George Crosby spoke words of comfort to the bereaved family and words of praise for the de-ceased, who was exceptionally free from all bad habits, an obedient and trusty by this parents. — Mostle Woodruff and Mr. George Aus-in were with us last Sunday. Brother Woodruff is looking after the interests of the colony, and will be here next Sat-urday at the stake Priesthood meeting and also March 5 and 6 at stake confer-ence. Mr. Austin is agriculturalist for the Utah Sugar company and is investigat-ing sugar beet growling conditions. He will report on the advisability of building a sugar factory here. — The last few days we have had the first thawing weather for two months.
