THE VICTIM OF INFLATIONISM.

Earned Out Twice Within Four Days, Losing Bank, Hay, Stock and Machinery.

J. M. Bantz, whose farm and home are now near the side of Park City in Summit county, was in Utah Lake today. To a newspaper he gave an account of the destruction by fire of a large amount of personal property.

On Friday night last, or rather early Saturday morning—his it was after midnight—he was awakened by the cracking of timber in his barn yard, in a building which was full of hay, wheat, stock, machinery, and other property.

Noting a fire, he rushed to the barn, and found the hay and wheat on fire. He tried to get out, but the fire was too hot. He was forced to return to the barn, and he was there for several hours, trying to get out, but the fire was too hot.

THE LEGAL FIGHT $10.

The legal battle between Joseph Lloyd and Edward Le Grande, in Commercial Valley's court yesterday afternoon, began at four o'clock.

TONIGHT'S MASS MEETING.

The splendid program that has been prepared for the occasion.

The program for tonight's mass meeting at the theater was fully made up by the executive members of the Chamber of Commerce last evening.

Music by the orchestra, held and December's military band, under the direction of Prof. Hall.

The meeting will be held in order by the president of the Utah Chamber of Commerce, and will include the opening address by Mr. Hall.

General Session for citizens in the audience on living conditions.

This afternoon (15th) and tomorrow (16th) the committee on the part of the Utah Chamber of Commerce, under the direction of Mr. Hall, will hold a public hearing on the proposed amendments to the constitution of the state.

THE CASE.

To the public—the matter is over, and it is now left to us to make a united effort to prevent general property.
