

GERMANY BREAKS UP THE CONCERT

Notifies Signatories of Algeiras Treaty Situation Demands Mulai Hafid's Rejoinder.

NOTIFICATION WAS VERBAL

Feeling Akin to Consternation Manifested in French Official Circles.

France Sees in Action an Intention on Part of Kaiser's Government to Seek Position in Morocco.

Paris, Sept. 2.—The action of Germany in breaking up the concert of powers with regard to Morocco by notifying the signatories of the Algeiras act that she considered the actual situation demanding the immediate recognition of Mulai Hafid, the usurper of the throne of Morocco, has fallen like a bombshell in Paris. A feeling of consternation is manifested in official circles. The notification, which was made verbally, is not accompanied by any explanation of Germany's "brutal change of front" as it is termed here and in government circles. The action of Germany and the dispatch to Fez of Dr. Vassel, the German consul at Tangier, can no longer be dissociated.

France can see in Germany's action only her intention to disregard the Algeiras act and seek a special position in Morocco for herself. The consequences both in the international and the French standpoint are expected to be deplorable.

In answer to Germany's call for recognition of Mulai Hafid before he has entered into any engagements with Europe, Anatolian Arabs who had been gathering on the Algerian frontier attacked yesterday the French post at Djendel.

FRENCH OFFICIAL VIEW.

The Associated Press is in a position to present the following official French view of the situation:

Germany's notification came as a complete surprise to France and Spain, who are engaged in elaborating a program of the demands to be presented to Mulai Hafid for the safeguarding of the common interests of Europe and America in Morocco. These demands are to be submitted to the signatories of the Algeiras act as soon as they are completed and the powers were notified several days ago. Germany took no exception to this course and we presumed that she was entirely satisfied until suddenly there came this crash out of a blue sky.

Both France and Spain recognized that had disappeared definitely from the horizon. What we proposed to do was to force Mulai Hafid to ratify the engagements of his brother Abd-el-Aziz, toward Europe before recognizing him. Now Germany comes forward with a proposition to recognize Mulai Hafid before he has given any guarantee. It amounts to undoing the work of the Algeiras conference and reverting to the status quo ante. The powers must decide between the position of Germany and that of France; the French position we consider to be most loyal to the spirit and letter of the Algeiras act.

The French press is unanimous in considering Germany's action provocative and possibly productive of an actual crisis.

AUCTION SALE OF SMUGGLED GOODS

New York, Sept. 2.—At auction sales which will take place today and on Friday, in United States Marshal Henke's office, a number of costly head and lace opera coats and princess gowns made by Worth, Lefebvre, Bonnet, Paquin, and other well known French dressmakers will be sold.

These articles were smuggled into the country by A. F. Montague, on the liners Lorraine and La Provence. Montague was recently convicted in the United States court for violating the criminal law and sentenced to a short term of imprisonment in the penitentiary on Blackwell's Island. The smuggled goods were forfeited to the government as a result of Montague's conviction.

The goods to be auctioned off today, catalogued as worth $3,325, including foreign value and duty, have been exhibited in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court.

WISCONSIN PRIMARIES.

Great Surprise is Defeat of Congressman Jenkins by Irvine L. Lennett.

Milwaukee, Sept. 2.—One of the great sensations of the primary election was the defeat of Congressman John J. Jenkins of the Eleventh district, by Irvine L. Lennett, former speaker of the state assembly and a strong La Follette follower.

The latest returns received today indicate that United States Senator Isaac Stephenson of Marquette, has carried the Republican primary. It is estimated he will have from 100 to 150,000 plurality over S. A. Cooke, who is second in the race. William H. Hutton of New London, and Francis E. McGovern of Milwaukee are in a close race for third place.

The Democratic endorsement for Wisconsin, Senator Neal Brown of Eau Claire, leads Melvin H. Hoy of Milwaukee by a safe plurality. Jacob Runko, a Republican, has been endorsed by the Social Democrats.

Governor Charles D. Davidson has announced to head the Democratic ticket. He will lead the Democrats, Winifred D. Cog the Prohibitionists, and Harvey De Brown the Social Democrats.

JUDGE TAFT AND SENATOR FORAKER

Met for First Time Since Chicago Convention at G. A. R. Encampment and Shook Hands.

REVIEWED VETERANS' PARADE

Generally Conceded That Utah Will Entertain Next Reunion of Old Soldiers.

Toledo, O., Sept. 2.—William H. Taft and Senator Foraker, meeting for the first time since the Republican convention, created a hurricane of cheers today when they shook hands with each other in the official reviewing stand as the G. A. R. parade was passing.

The scene of the meeting between the erstwhile political rivals was a fitting one, in a prominent place in the reviewing stand stood the Republican nominee, flanked on either side by prominent men of Toledo, while below him there marched the veterans of the Civil war, saluting and mingling their cheers with the music of many bands. Mr. Taft bowed again and again as the carriages passed. In one of those carriages sat Senator Foraker himself acknowledging cheers from those who recognized him.

At the stand Senator Foraker, with Senator Dick and Gov. Harris, alighted and joined the line of men passing before Mr. Taft on their way to seats.

As the senior Ohio senator approached and the crowd recognized him there was a second hush and then a mighty cheer, which was taken up in the street and echoed far away in the distance as the senator and the former secretary of war shook hands.

"HELLO THERE!"

"Hello There," said Mr. Taft extending his hand as he saw his fellow statesman approaching. Both men smiled and the crowd, fully cognizant that the anticipated reconciliation between the former political foes was now an official fact, increased the volume of their cheers to an extent that made it almost impossible for the two principals in the scene to tell what one was saying to the other.

"Been talking some air at the springs?" commented the senator.

"Yes, and I'm feeling fine."

"When did you get here?"

"Got here this morning by water, had a nice trip by water but it was a little rough, however, I'm a fine sailor."

The rest of what they said was lost in the din of many voices raised in one tremendous shout.

Long after the two had taken seats and the parade had gone on, the cheering continued, freshening continually by the demonstrators.

MEETING PREMATURE.

The meeting of the two leaders occurred prematurely. For two days the city had been excited by reports that the two would meet together at a reception to be held at the Lincoln club after the parade. The meeting was to have occurred at the club rooms within a few hours of the parade. The meeting was held at the Lincoln club after the parade. The meeting was held at the Lincoln club after the parade. The meeting was held at the Lincoln club after the parade.

G. A. R. VETERANS.

Veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, for the forty-second time, marched through the streets of an encampment city today. Over a route two miles long, guided by a younger generation of soldiers—the Seventh regiment, Ohio national guard, who restrained the throngs of sight-seers at the ropes—the old campaigners moved in a body, carrying the stars and stripes and drum. At the opposite reviewing stand, where stood William H. Taft, Republican candidate for a second term, Gov. Harris, Senator Foraker, Mayor Brand Whitlock, and many other notables, the colors were dipped and each commanding officer joined. Commander-in-Chief Burton in the stand.

HOLIDAY PROCLAIMED.

The day has been proclaimed a holiday by the mayor and the majority of business places as well as all public offices were closed. The weather was fine. It was well toward 11 o'clock when the van of the parade marched past the reviewing stand where they were saluted with a bombardment of flowers for which surprise the women of Toledo had been preparing for some days. The parade was a grand affair, with a shower to be greeted by an immense human flag, made up of nearly 3,000 children who in their dresses of red, blue and blue, waved their bodies so that the children seemed to sway as a breeze. The old soldiers saluted the picture with many wave of hat or hand, and hummed as they marched to patriotic songs the children sang to.

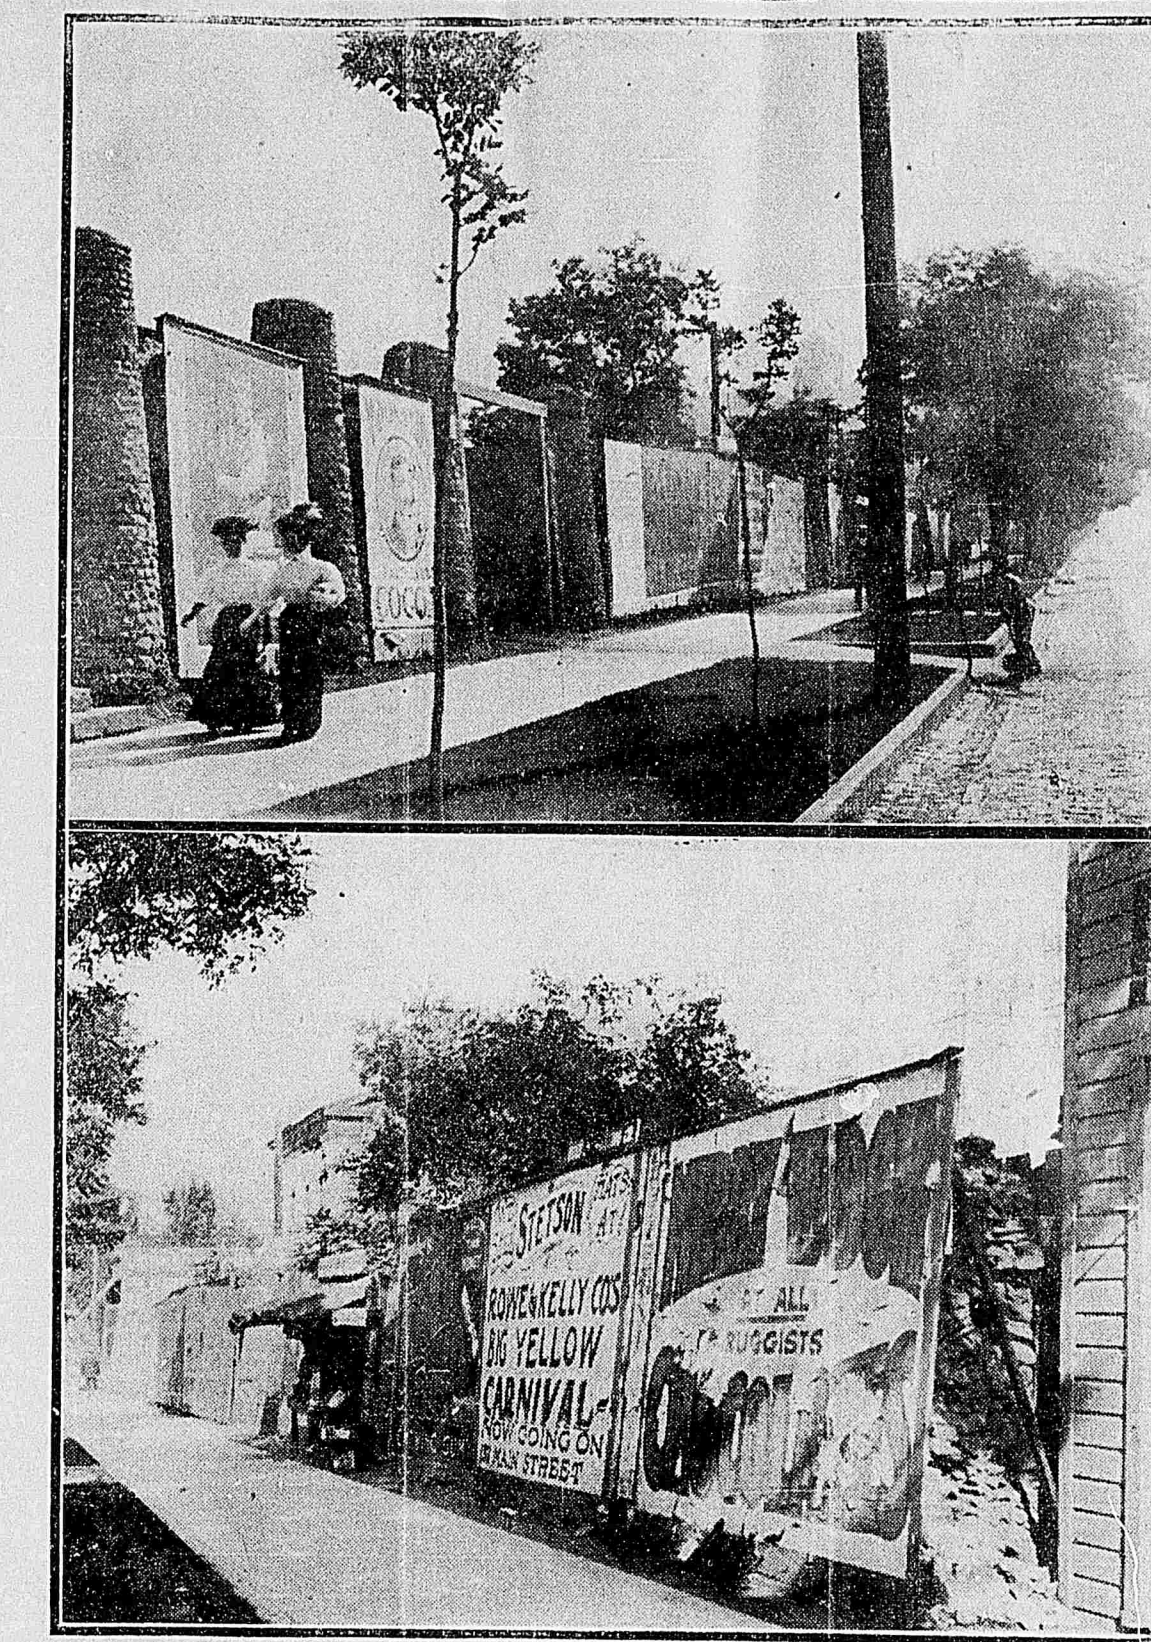

First came a squad of mounted police followed by the marshal of the parade, W. V. McMaken and his staff. Long before the parade started, the Commander-in-Chief Burton under escort of the Toledo post, and past commander-in-chief, and invited guests in carriages. Then came the posts of the various states, including California and Nevada, Washington and Alaska, Utah, Montana, Idaho and Arizona. They were followed by the Association of Ex-prisoners of War and the battle flag division. They were followed by the division, carefully furling, brought from the relic room at the capitol for the purpose.

At the rendezvous coffee and sandwiches were served to the waiting veterans and those who desired to do so were allowed to carry away their cups as souvenirs.

Long before the parade started, the streets were packed with humanity to a degree that made it almost impossible to move along the sidewalks. Local newspapers estimate that including the veterans and their women folk there were 150,000 visitors in the city.

SOUTH TEMPLE BILL BOARDS CONDEMNED BY OWNERS.

With a beauty of horizon for one consideration, and a handsome revenue from a bill board company as the other, the desire to help make Salt Lake a beautiful city has proved itself, in one instance, stronger than the desire for the income, and 12 Salt Lake bill boards have been condemned.

This is the first instance in Salt Lake that takes into consideration the growing public sentiment against the ugliness of bill boards. These particular ones lined the old Indian wall running east on South Temple street from Main. There were a full dozen of them there, and they were not only ugly, but they were a nuisance. By evening it is certain the last one will be taken away, and the rubbish accumulated behind them and the wall will have been removed.

Within a very short time another important change will occur in the bill which has long been hidden behind its covering of boards. It will be transformed in a brown tint, so that what for a long time has been an ugly and unsightly object will become a thing of beauty, and by recalling the days when it was feared that Indian Wah-kar, a famous free booter of the southwest trail, would swoop down upon Salt Lake, as he was doing upon the outlying settlements, will gather keen historic interest.

The decision against the bill boards in behalf of civic beauty was made a month ago by the presiding bishop of the Church, who control the wall and the premises enclosed by it. The bill board leases expired Sept. 1, and when a proposition was submitted for renewing them, it was decided that no better time would be offered to improve the sightliness of the street on which they faced. The renewal was accordingly rejected. A proposition to rebuild the boards "artistically" was then made and was likewise rejected, and the company was notified to remove the boards on Sept. 1. It was in accordance with this plan that the work of taking them away was commenced this morning.

STIRRING DEBATE ON LOCAL OPTION

Boise the Scene of Heated Political Speeches Bearing Upon This Theme.

VOTE STANDS FOR ADOPTION

Question Furnishes One Hour of Spirited Argument for State Republican Convention.

(Special to the "News.")

BULLETIN.

Boise, 1:40 p. m.—The long debate on the local option, which consumed this entire morning's session, was finally completed in the routing of the direct primary plank from the Republican platform at 1:30 o'clock and the passage of all the rest of the platform as it stood. A recess was declared at 1:10 for lunch, after which the nomination of the state ticket will be taken up. The fight on the direct primary plank was the only one successfully made, the local option plank winning by a fair margin after a lengthy debate.

COME TO SALT LAKE.

Utah, which will, in all probability, entertain the next encampment, displayed on their breast banners inscribed "Come to Salt Lake in 1909, where the sego lily grows."

Probably no detachment of the marching body attracted more attention than the 700 members of the National Association of ex-prisoners of war. Their thrilling stories of prison life and daring escapes had been well circulated about the city, and added interest in their appearance. They came in an especial bombardment of flowers.

THE PURITAN BECOMES A PASSENGER BOAT

Providence, R. I., Sept. 2.—The famous old American cup defender Puritan which, in 1855, defeated the English challenger Genesta, has passed from the fleet of pleasure craft to the squadron of Cape Verde packets. Henceforth the Puritan will be engaged in the transportation of passengers and freight between this city and the Cape Verde islands off the west coast of Africa.

DR. FRED T. RUSTIN OF OMAHA MURDERED

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 2.—Dr. Frederick T. Rustin, one of the most famous surgeons in the west, was shot and killed as he was on the point of entering his home this morning at 3 o'clock. There is not a single clue to the murderer.

Dr. Rustin had remained out late for election returns. His wife was awakened by a pistol shot, and rushed down stairs and out on the porch. Dr. Rustin was sitting in a chair. "I have been shot," he said, and then lapsed into unconsciousness. He died half an hour later without recovering consciousness. A single pistol ball had entered the abdomen.

The first theory of the police was that Rustin had committed suicide, but as no pistol has been found, and from the fact that a surgeon would have shot himself through the heart or the head, the murder theory is now accepted.

The police are working in the dark and have no clues.

HUDSPETH ACCEPTS.

New York, Sept. 2.—Robert F. Hudspeth, chairman of the New Jersey central committee, announced today that he has been appointed and accepted the position of vice chairman of the national committee, and that he will be eastern manager for W. J. Bryan.

SMITH TO LEAVE GANG

Yesterday afternoon a man giving the name of George Smith was sentenced by Judge Diehl to serve 20 days on the rock pile for battery upon M. L. Mahoney. This morning Mayor John S. Brannford signed a sort of pardon for Smith. In other words, Smith is pardoned 15 days. The balance $5, was paid by a friend early this afternoon, and when Smith returns with the chain gang this evening he will be given his liberty. It is claimed that Smith did not willingly batter Mahoney, but that the two engaged in a fight.

SEEKING FOR VICTIMS OF DROWNING ACCIDENT

Deer Isle, Maine, Sept. 2.—The inhabitants of this little island with the remaining residents of the summer colony mustering every craft in the vicinity today searched the waters of Penobscot bay and the shores of its many islands for the bodies of the seven victims of yesterday's drowning accident. The heavy sea which was responsible for yesterday's accident, continued today forcing many of the smaller craft to put back for their own safety.

REPUBLICANS CARRY VERMONT

Their Plurality Was Smallest in a Presidential Year Since 1892.

VOTE WAS NOT VERY HEAVY.

Independence League Polled Nearly 1,000 Votes, Prohibition and Socialist Vote About as Usual.

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 2.—Complete returns from yesterday's state election in Vermont received this afternoon show the following:

George H. Prouty, Republican, for governor, 45,281; James E. Burke, Democrat, 15,103; Quincy S. Backus, Independence League, 1,252; Eugene M. Campbell, Prohibitionist, 826; J. H. Dunbar, Socialist, 479.

The total vote of all parties was 66,747, and Prouty's plurality over Burke was 29,378.

Although a comparison of this year's vote with the vote of four years ago cannot be made until the complete vote is received, it is estimated the falling off of the Republican vote was somewhat in excess of the reduction of the Democratic vote.

The incoming legislature will have at least one Democratic senator, about 30 Democratic representatives, and the least six members of the Independence League in the lower house. Four years ago the house stood 205 Republicans and 34 Democrats, so that the Republican majority in the coming year will be practically unchanged and will insure the election of a Republican successor to the late Senator Redfield Proctor, probably in the person of his son, Gov. D. F. Proctor.

The election of a Democratic member of the state senate gives the party a representation in that branch of the legislature for the first time in several years.

The plurality was the smallest in a presidential year since 1892, when it was only 17,956, and was followed by a Democratic national victory, but it was larger than in 1888, and only slightly less than in 1904.

The Independence League appeared for the first time and polled about 1,000 votes, while the Prohibition and Socialist vote remained about the same.

An unusually large number of local contests for members of the legislature, although bringing out a heavy vote and resulting in Democratic gains in the lower branch of the legislature, apparently had no bearing on the gubernatorial fight.

As Vermont is the first state to vote during the presidential campaign, there was much interest throughout the country in the size of the Republican plurality.

The Republicans retain complete control of the legislature and the executive branches of the government of Vermont. They elected to Congress from the First district David Jones of Burlington, and from the Second district Frank Plumley of Northfield, for the first time.

TICKET ELECTED.

The state ticket elected was as follows:

Governor—George H. Prouty of Newbury.

Lieut.-Gov.—John A. Mead of Rutland.

Secy. of State—Guy Bradley of Essex.

Treasurer—Edward H. Deavitt of Montpelier.

Auditor—Horace F. Graham of Craftsbury.

Atty.-Gen.—John G. Sargent of Ludlow.

The voters were urged to support the ticket by speakers of national importance who visited the state during the past two weeks. On the other hand, the Democrats fought the battle alone. James E. Burke of Burlington, formerly known as the "blacksmith" mayor of that city, who headed the ticket, had only local talent in his support.

The Democrats were anxious regarding the strength of the Independence League movement, a new factor in state politics. The returns from a majority of the cities and towns showed that a comparatively small number of voters supported Quinby S. Backus, the Democrat, who headed the new party ticket.

The Prohibition party ran a close fight with the Independence League, and the latter was a poor fifth in the contest among the leaders.

Although Burlington went Republican on the state ticket, it was strongly Democratic when it came to the representation of the state in Congress. The Democratic candidate for representative, defeating Lawrence Bartley, Republican, by a majority of 355.

D. & R. G. ENGINE BOILER EXPLODES

Locomotive on Westbound No. 5 This Morning Blows Up At Thompson's.

ENGINEER AND MATE HURT

Fireman Redwell and Lund at Throttle Are Badly Scalded In Peculiar Accident.

Train Running When Crash Comes But Cars Remain on Track Where Boiler Goes in Ditch.

One of the most peculiar, yet fortunately accidents in the history of the Rio Grande occurred this morning when the boiler of the engine pulling the first section of No. 5, westbound passenger train, blew entirely off the trucks and into a ditch on the side of the track. The accident happened when the train was approaching Thompson's, a station near the Utah-Colorado state line. The engineer and fireman were badly scalded. Fireman Redwell and Engineer Lund, of Grand Junction, were the accident's only two victims. A special train was made up on Thompson's upon receipt of the news there and the injured men were sent back to Grand Junction for treatment. Just how serious their injuries may be is not known here yet. Another engine was attached to No. 1 and the train is expected to arrive here this afternoon. The regular hour of arrival for this train is 12:50 and it was expected the main line would be cleared by noon. The tracks, themselves were not torn up by the explosion. From the few details received here it seems the boiler simply slipped off the trucks. Luckily the high pressure which must have been inside did not cause the boiler to fly to pieces as is usually the case. Had this occurred the list of injured would have been long and most likely preceded by a list of dead.

UNION'S UGLY HINT.

It was insinuated by several persons that the accident to the engine might not have been caused by carelessness of the engine crew in letting a tremendous pressure creep up, but by defective repairs. The fact that the boiler was last overhauled. In this is hidden a jab at the forces employed at present in the Rio Grande shop. Never since the strike have the union and machinists walked out in March, non-union men, "scabs," as they are called by union men, have been employed. The local shops are full of non-union men, and the fact that the Rio Grande has experienced during all the months which have rolled around since the strike was called out the company does not believe the accident was the fault of the non-union workmen on the part of its non-union employees.

When asked for details the wire department of the Rio Grande said it knew nothing of the accident and maintained this attitude throughout the forenoon. The passenger offices and superintendent's offices were honest and "furnished the news" with what facts they had received.

MICHIGAN PRIMARIES.

Generally Conceded That Dr. Bradley Has Defeated Gov. Warner.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 2.—With returns in from a large majority of election districts of the state Dr. J. L. Bradley of Eaton Rapids, state auditor-general has it is conceded, defeated Gov. Fred M. Warner by about 2,500 votes. The Republican nomination for governor. Returns compiled today from all but 387 of the 2,015 election districts of the state, give the following totals for the candidates: Bradley, 72,912; Warner, 70,363; Earle, 29,011.

Gov. Warner carried the upper peninsula by a large majority and also retained the lower peninsula. The "Thump" section of the state, Dr. Bradley carried the two heaviest populated counties of the state, Wayne and Kent, in which Detroit and Grand Rapids are located.

NEBRASKA PRIMARIES.

Chief Interest in Democratic gubernatorial Contest.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 2.—Returns from yesterday's primary election throughout the state are still far from complete. The chief interest centered in the three-cornered race for the Democratic nomination for governor and the indication of the state ticket. The indication of the state ticket. The indication of the state ticket. The indication of the state ticket.

WASHOUTS DELAY TRAINS.

Winnipeg, Sept. 2.—All night trains were delayed by washouts from 100 to 200 miles east of here on the Canadian Pacific railway. Five passenger trains were wrecked by no one was seriously injured. The loss to the company was between $50,000 to $750,000.
