LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

A GOOD CHANCE.—We understand that at the solicitation of many of our citizens, the Superintendent of the U. C. R. R. has arranged to run the usual morning train from this city direct through to Brigham City on Sunday morning next, in order to accommodate those who wish to go north to attend the meetings of President Young and party to be held at that place.

MURDERER DISCOVERED AND ARRESTED.—We have received the following dispatch by Deseret Telegraph line:

Fairview, June 2nd. The murderer of the Indian girl, the particulars of which were reported to you on the 23d ult., is in custody. He proved to be a young man, resident of this place, named John Stewart, aged 15 years. He has confessed the deed, and says the girl had threatened his life if he did not marry her; but he persists in the statement that he had given her no cause whatever for demanding marriage of him.

Muddy.—By a letter received from a friend at St. Joseph, on the Muddy, we learn that considerable barley has already been harvested there, promising a fair yield; their wheat, which is now ripe, is also tolerably good.

ADAMS.—From the Ogden Junction we learn that the good folks of that "burg" are going to have some amusement in the theatrical line. Mr. Woodmansee will open his new and commodious theatre for performances twice a week, commencing on Saturday evening next.

MESSAGE.—There is a message at the Deseret Telegraph Office for Abraham Hardman.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT CHEYENNE.—The Cheyenne Leader contains an account of an accident which occurred at that place on Sunday last, resulting fatally. A Mr. M. B. Sypher, in the employ of the railroad company, and engaged in supplying ice to the Pullman train from the West, endeavored to pass between the cars when they were disconnected; the cars coming together at the time caught and crushed him between the drawheads.

TOO MUCH CHLOROFORM.—The Revere River Revue, of May 31st, gives the particulars of a case of death by chloroform, occurring in that place the day previous. Dr. J. M. Childs, dentist, of Austin, had been for some time subject to sleepiness and had been in the habit of using chloroform to gain sleep under its soporific influence. He was misled by some of his friends on Monday last, and one of them knowing the Dr. had, on several occasions, had recourse to chloroform, made his way into his bed-room, fearing lest something was wrong. There lay the Doctor, his face purple as if from suffocation, a towel in one hand clutched to his nose, while the other clasped the wrist as if feeling the pulse.

ROUGH FOR MAY.—The Territorial Enterprise says that on Sunday evening last "water pelters were frozen over in frame buildings, and the awnings were lavishly adorned with long glittering icicles." They are in doubt as to whether the present month is June or January.

PREPARING IN TIME.—The Nevada folks are already preparing to celebrate the Fourth of July. Meetings have been held for the purpose of making arrangements. There is nothing like commencing in time.

WHAT SALAD OILS ARE MADE OF.—Colonel Jackson, of St. George, forwards us the following clipping, which he is desirous of the correct growers of "Oil" should see. If correct, that such an oil as is described in this paragraph can be manufactured from cotton seed, it is worth knowing; it can be made a profitable business, and until olive oil can be produced, may answer as a good substitute.

HAND-SHAKING.

In the last number of All the Year Round we find the following: "How did the people first get into the habit of shaking hands? The answer is not far to seek. In early and barbarous times, when every savage or semi-savage was his own lawyer, judge, soldier, and policeman, had to watch over his own safety, in default of all other protection, two friends or acquaintances or two strangers desiring to be friends or acquaintances, when they chanced to meet, offered each to the other the right hand—the hand alike of offence and defence, the hand that wields the sword, the dagger, the club, the tomahawk, or other weapon of war.

"Ladies, as every one must have remarked, seldom or never shake hands with the cordiality of gentlemen; unless it be with each other. The reason is obvious. It is for them to receive homage, not to give it. They cannot be expected to show to persons of the other sex a warmth of greeting, which might be misinterpreted, unless such persons are very closely related to them by family, or affection, in which cases hand-shaking is not needed, and the lips do more agreeable duty.

"Some people are too 'robustious' to be altogether pleasant. They take the offered hand with the grasp of a vice, and as if they had, with malice prepense, resolved to squeeze all the delicate little bones of your knuckles into pulp or minced meat. And while the tears of agony come into your eyes and run down your cheeks, they smile at you benignantly, like gentle giants, unconscious of their strength, and of the tyranny with which they exercised it.

"To shake hands without removing the gloves is an act of discourtesy, which, if unintentional and thoughtless, requires an apology for the hurry or inadvertence which led to it. This idea would also seem to be an occult remnant of the old notion that the glove might conceal a weapon. Hence true courtesy and friendship required that the hand should be naked as a proof of bona fides.

"To refuse pointedly to shake hands with one who offers you the opportunity in a friendly manner amounts to a declaration of hostility and after a quarrel or act of open hostility the acceptance of the hand offered is alike the sign and the ratification of peace."

A SOLID FACT.—A provincial journal complains that the editorial fraternity "is fast becoming no better than a licensed body of poachers." There is some truth in the charge. The practice of not crediting original matter when transferred from the columns of one paper to those of another is more honored in the breach than the observance. If news items or editorials are worth copying, they are worth crediting. It is the outrage of his brain, and wherever it goes he is entitled to have his stamp recognized. He can not enforce this as his right, but the courtesy of the profession ought to cheerfully accord it.

RATHER AWKARD.—"Many a shaft at random sent" hits something or other which "the archer little meant" to touch. We have heard an anecdote illustrative of this truth, which has not probably appeared in print before, and which has been told us as a piece of genuine history. It happened in a large city—never mind that city. There were two pretty sisters who had married, one an eminent lawyer, the other a distinguished literary man. Literary man dies and leaves youngest sister a widow. Some years roll away, and the widow lays aside her weeds. Now, then, it happens that a certain author and critic has occasion, on a broiling day in summer, to call on the eminent lawyer, husband of the elder sister. He finds in the lawyer pleading and a scribbling in a crowded court, so that the lawyer is suffering dreadfully from the heat, pities him, rejoices that he himself is not a lawyer, and goes for a cool seat under the sheltering trees of a fashionable park or garden.
