THE scheme to inject new blood into the feeble and corrupt little political body known as the State of Nevada is favored by the Park City Call. It fancles that "annexation is the only remedy for Utah's trouble." At the same time it is very doubtful as to the out-Utah are here to make money, and are forces is next to an impossibility." Still the Call, hopes there will be harmony, although it gives no ground for such a hope, and pleads for a cessation of the "dictation and bull-dozing" that has been resorted to by a certain faction of the "Liberals," so that men will not be "forced into office" who "wanted to be officers when they should not be allowed in the ranks."

We do not believe the plan said to will find much favor in Nevada except with a few schemers. The probability is that in spite of test oaths and other

We have nothing to say further in regard to the project favored by the Call. but refer to it chiefly for the purpose of quoting the following naive admission which it makes in the article on the annexation question. It says:

"Sait Lake men don't care much about the trime of polygamy—what worries them is, that under priestly rule the Mormon merchants have got the "bulge" and that's just what they want to wrest from them, further than that, they don't care who ner how many so into polygamy. At least that's and privileges commonly the "Mormons" women are deprived of the rights and privileges commonly the Lord had said should be scommonly the Lord had said should be scom worries them is, that under priestly rule the Mormon merchants have got the "bulge" and that sjust what they want to merchants have got the "Mormons" women to me the "Mormons" women to me the "Mormons" women to the mean many go into polygamy. At least that's the idea we have imbibed and propose to hold on to, until we are proven in

The Call has got this set down exactly right. That is well known among all classes in this neighborhood. The "Polygamy" cry is raised for outside effect. It works on a popular prejusuality, and desire to divert attention from their own actual sins by proclaiming the enormity of alleged immorality in others. Prominent anti-"Mormon" agitators in this city have made the confession in private which the Call now gives in public. Novertheless, they will be mad with that editor for admitting the truth in this open fashion. It gives them away, so to speak.

Everybody with open eyes here sees that all the fuss made about polygamy through the press, in the courts, and by has been the thinnest kind of dishonest pretence. The anti-"Mormon" minority want to "get the bulge," as fercibly if not alegantly expressed by the Call. They want that control of local affairs which honestly and fairly belongs to the majority. The courts and officials engaged in the cruel crusade against quiet citizens who do not interfere in any way with the peace, persons or property of their neighbors, pursue polygamy for profits. Fees are the dazzling objects in view, the ever-living incentives to excessive and exclusive zeal. And they can follow this business with an assumption of virtue which would be truly diverting if the consequences of these masked attacks were not so serious to the unfortunate victims of this base dissimulation.

the creatures whom it specially represents, they would be the sorriest whipped curs under the sun if the polygamy which they attack in words were to be abandoned or die out in Utah. Their pretended opposition is understood here thoroughly. But it has its uses abroad and therefore is kept up till even the most pronounced opponents of the majority here are constrained to cry: "Oh! do give us a rest!" And relief is sought from the perpetual din on that roint, which is known to be chronic hypocrisy, in the columns of less vigorous journals which are # little more consistent and have a triffe

The attempts which have been made by the enemies of Utah to "get the bulge," are beginning to be understood in quarters where the pressure to affect this has been most exerted. And it will not be long before the country will begin to see the motive that underlies all this affected horror of polygamy, by men who who have no repugnance against real immorality no matter how flagrant. The falsehoods by which the nation has been aroused against the majority of the people of Utah cannot always have the desired effect. The mask will be torn away from the actors in the deceptive drama, and they will stand revealed in all their villainous moral deformity and simulation, and their nefarious purposes will be made mani-

All the available funds were sw allowed up under the Dubois regime, of course, and the new Marshal has not had a financial feather to come because: "The Gentile people in fly with since he entered upon the duties of his office. He is not required to furnish the funds necessary to the endifferences, that a consolidation of forcement of the laws in Idaho, and other interests besides the anti-"Mormon" furore will have to wait for the "one thing needful." Baird will be blamed, nevertheless, for there is no reason to the rage of the Republican "Mormon"-eaters when a Democratic official can be attacked.

UTAH IN THE VAN.

THE St. Louis Globe-Democrat, while opposed to woman suffrage and disbe championed by Senator Stewart posed to ridicule any effort in its support, approves of some movements which secure to the fair sex "very valuable rights," and remarks:

> same ftime that only within recent years have legislators begun to recog-nize the fact that simple justice may be safely granted to persons who happen to have been born of one gen-der instead of another."

This admirable provision for the rights of married swomen, which Ohie The speaker had imbibed the spirit of that there is no part of the United States where women are accorded the liberties which they have enjoyed in this Territory under "Mormon" regulations. That they do not now enjoy of the ignorance of Congressman as to the legal status and property rights of married women in this Territory.

Under the laws of Utah married women hold property in their own right, whether accumulated or acquired before or after marriage. They can sue and be sued at law, and transact trusted that the Lord would continue sue and be sued at law, and transact their own business in their own name, as though they belonged to the sterner sex. They can claim the protection of law and the courts in civil and criminal matters as against their husbands. and, until the recent congressional legislation, had an equal voice with men in political affairs as they have in "Mormon" Church conferences and public assemblies. The dower is a relic of woman's vassalage under the old English common law, is unsuited to the conditions in which woman is placed in Utah under the liberal laws in force, and only power into the hands of a few women who might be tempted into injustice to husbands from doing right by all members of their households.

We are glad to see Ohio moving to the front, and hope to see the day when the rest of this enlightened nation will become as far advanced in which they ought to enjoy under a republican form of government, as the much - misrepresented Territory of

AN IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

SINCE Franklin brought lightning from the clouds and Morse harnessed it, as a winged steed, to the car of thought, many have been the uses to which it has been applied, and the area of its application in the arts and sciences is steadily increasing. Not a year passes without the ausouncement of some important stride in this direction, until it has been claimed by many that it is only a question of time when it will drive out entirely every other motive power, including that of steam. In this connection a recent number of a mechanical exchange states that "preliminary tests have shown that iron cooled, while a strong current of electricity was passing through it, was increased fully one half in tensile strength and ductility.1

Should this prove to be correct it is ble discoveries in this direction since 1762, when Otto von Guericke, Burgomaster of MagJeburg, levented the arst electric machine—a sulphur globe turned by a simple crank with a piece of cloth pressed against it by the

There are some important cases that would most probably have been disposed of. The charge against Sol. ants of the earth of coming events. The Church had warned the inhabit-charge against Sol. ants of the earth of coming events. The Church had warned the inhabit-charge against the Saints was posed of. The charge against Sol. Newcomer, formerly postmaster at Rocky Bar, slleged embezzlement, would have come before the grand jury. There are several cases in which the government is prosecuting defendants for unlawful enclosures of public lands. The case recently brought by the Government against the Philadelphia Smelting Company for $18,000, in which it is alleged that the defendant company cut and consumed a large weeds. Sometimes on shallow on the same of the same and consumed a large weeds. Sometimes on shallow on the same and the saints was based on a subterfuge, and men in power had been misled. A few years ago the Saints had been represented as being in rebellion; they were a thousand miles from the frontier of civilization, yet the administration became alarmed and hastily sent out an army, who found that the Saints had been misrepresented. That same administration is alleged that the defendant carried away; sometimes on shallow out. company cut and consumed a large weeds, sometimes on shallow soil, and sometimes on well prepared soil. In the latter case those who belonged to this class were grounded in the truth and would not be moved. This The speaker referred to the healing was said there that whomsoever

Whereas they were once blind they now see; and having the power of the Holy Spirit, live in the was another portion of the same preight. God was performing a marvelous work and a wonder, and the wisdom of the wise was perishing. A non-"Mormou" friend had written to the speaker expressing a desire that the experienced and fully realized by those officers of the government would soon cease breaking up innocent families in Utah and causing them to mourn. But the Lord was giving the Saints strength to rejoice even in the midst of tribulation. The dispensation of the Gospel was fast unfolding to those who placed themselves within reach of its influence. There were some who were not dilligent in keeping the com-mandments of the Lord, and these were becoming known and being re-moved from the Church. The Saints should cherish faith, and be careful not to violate any of the laws of the

Some people objected to the course pursued by the Saints. What was this course? They met in Sabbath schools, and taught their children purity of life, by example and precept; they also meet to partake of the Sacrament of the Lord's supper, and to praise Him. There was communication with is that in spite of test oaths and other attempts at improper discrimination, it would not be long after the annexation of the chief part of Utan to the effete commonwealth, that, as stated by a non-"Mormon" contemporary, the old Nevadans "would be completely snowed under by the avalanche of Mormon votes,"

"For instance, a law has just gone into operation in Ohio which gives to wive the heavens, and all the teachings of the Saints were to eunoble mankind. All did not heed these teachings, but that was not the fault of the teachers. In Idaho, where the speaker resided, shall be liable for the contracts or torts of the other. ELDER JUNIUS F. WELLS was the next speaker. 'He had reolced in listening to the testimony of Brother Andrus, who had been assoclated with the Church most of his life. He had spent many years pro-ciaiming what he believed to be the principles of salvation, and had traveled without purse or scrip to carry the Gospel message to the inhabitants of the earth. He had witnessed the the Church, notwithstanding the efforts serves to encumber and obstruct of its enemies, and his testimons transactions in real estate and put was still the same. The speaker remembered as a saying of President who might be tempted into injustice to others, to do wrong and hinder their on the day of its organization, and on the day of the such an opportubity would never in the future be given him. The Kingdom of God would never be thrown down or given to another people; its lestiny was to fill the whole earth. The Prophet Joseph Smith had been called specially to perform a work in connection with the establishment of that Kingdom. When a boy, he called upon God to know what he should do. The powers of darkness endeavored to destroy him, but falled. He was visited by two personages from heaven, one of whom said, heaven, one of whom said, pointing to the other, "This is my be-loved Son, hear Him." Joseph received the ministrations of Jesus Christ, and of others sent by Him, and all the keys, ordinances and powers for the establishment of the king-dom were revealed to him. He was told that his name would be known for good and evil in all the world—a prophecy that had been fulfilled. He was successful in convincing some of his kindred and friends of the divinity of his mission, and they and others received a testimony of its truth from God. As a result of the revelations to Joseph Smith, an organization was effected, wherein the power of the Lord could control, and the people be taught to worship Him according to His will. This message had been carried to the world. No manner of de-ception had been practiced to make converts to "Morganism." The lives of the Elders brought confidence to honest hearts, who, when they received the Gospel, obtained a testimony from heaven, and forsaking all had obeyed its laws. They had gathered in the valleys of the Rocky Mountains, sub dued the wilderness, and made the desert to blossom as the rose. To-day those assembled in the Tabernacle had heard the testimony of a New Pagland man who esthered with the England man, who gathered with the Saints to worship God, and was now n danger of imprisonment therefor. In his case, as with others, the influence of "Mormonism" had made him s nobler and a better man.

The children of the Saints were taught to be honest, virtuous and truthful in all things. They were also taught to understand that if they lived in righteousness they would be persecuted, and were prepared therefor. They were assured that the work of truth they were engaged in would triumph over all evil. Good triumph over all evil. Good would not result to any government who imprisoned, persecuted and siew honest, upright, virtuous and loyal citizens, innocent of any crime, on the representation of unprincipled men. The Saints had asked that the truth be ment as a cover for its own traitorous designs. The army found the Saints to be a peaceable people, and the policy of that administration had proved a costly blunder to the govern-

That was that on whomsoever that stone should fall would be ground to powder. The effects of this would be who fought against the truth. Whomwas vain to think that the Church of God could be overthrown. Imprison-ing its Elders only made it stronger. Those Elders had shown by their actions that they would bear any manner of persecution for the word of God rather than renounce the truths of heaven. As the word declared, they who live godly in Christ Jesus must suffer persecution. That the Saints would be strengthened to live in that manner even though it brought persecution, was the desire of the speaker, The choir sang an anthem.

The things which alarmed us more than anything else was that they stole large quantities of whisky and drank it in the cabeose. They needed vessels to hold the liquor, so they stole milk cans and kept it in them not daring to keep the whisky openly in the cars, they tore up the flooring and hid it underneath. The men were continually reported drunk on duty and the probability of disaster was something frightful to contemplate.

ALL KINDS OF GOODS were stolen, including sewing machines, guos, revolvers, cutlery, sile verware, cigars, clothing, liquors, groceries, furniture and in fact every maginary article that can be carried on cars was quietly removed.
