"It is a signderous falschood," said Mr. Myers today, "and I know just where it came from. There are always a certain number of knockers in every camp, and even some news-papers of the Nevada camps never say a word about anyone who adgrees with them unless it be to circulato false stories about him. I never lost that amount of money in my life. The situation is this: There are two towns Elders Rodney C. Badger and Chas. Hyde offered the invocation and benediction, respectively. Elder Thomas was the first speaker. After making a few observations in regard to the object the saints have In meeting together, he introduced the following as his text (Acts 2: 15-21): "But this is that which was spoken by the Prophet Joel: And it shall come to pass in the last days, said God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daugh-ters shall prophesy, and your young that amount of money in my life. The situation is this: There are two towns of Ely the old town and the alleged 'new' town; all the railroad interests, all the mining interests and most of the solid men of the camp remain in the old town; some of the real es-tate promoters have started a move-ment for a new town, but without the backing of the roads, or the mines. Now, I happen to be interested in the old town, and those who are not friendly in the new venture, will do anything to blacken my name or the name of anyone who is not in their ring. I bought six lots in the old town a few weeks ago, for $20,000. Last week I sold three of the inside lots for $13,000 and can sell the other three for $21,000 any minute. I am ters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams: And on my men shall dream dreams. And on his servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out in these days of my Spirit; and they shall prophesy; And I will shew wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath; blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke: The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great and moon into blood, before that great and

I am all ready to begin the erection of a big three-story building and am inter-ested in the business of the town, as this will show," and Mr. Myers took from a well-laden wallet a brand new $20 bill issued by the First National Bank of Ely, with his signature on it as vice president. "I signed over I,400 of those yesterday, but that isn't the only way I have made money. Yes, I know who sent that dispatch out, and if they do not retract I shall force them to in court," and the discoverer of Goldfield flashed his black eyes like he meant business. "Ely is a good town. So is Goldfield, and so are half a dozen other Nevada towns now in a dozen other Nevada towns now in process of discovery. There are 600 men at work on the smelling and con-centrating plants of EIs. The railcentrating plants of Ely. The rall-roads are running through sleepers to the place; extensive building opera-tions are planned for the coming sca-zon, and I look to see a period of un-exampled prosperity for this camp, as well as for the others. Just to show you how things are going out there, on April 11, last Thursday, the deposits in our new bank were 135,-000 in the one day. I will be here for a few days, and will then return to Ely and Wonder, where I have a large deal on. I shall then go to Los An-geles to look after the completion of my home in that city, where I expect to meet my wife."

but the authorities of Japan were not misled by the misrepresentation. They decided that if they allowed the so-called Christian ministers to preach their style of Christianity, they should allow the Latter-day Saints the same privilege. The speaker referred briefly to the warnings that have been given by ministers in England, in which they have cautioned the people against talk-ing to Mormon elders or reading any of their books. Elder Grant also related experiences he had in attempting to get a hearing through the press of Great Britain in order to correct misstate-ments which had been made, but the attitude of the editors was such, that At the services held in the taberments which had been made, but the attitude of the editors was such, that generally they did not have room to print a reply to the false charges that had been made.

Thesh, saith God." Eider Thomas referred briefly to the advantages enjoyed by the people of this day and remarked that "practic-ally all the blessings of all the ages seem to have been centered in this dis-pensation." and as a result the people of today have not only the means of anticipating the events of the future, but we can enjoy more of the experi-ences of the world, and can link these experiences of the past with those of the present and profit thereby. of bill. SPIRITUAL INVENTORY.

"THE SPIRIT" DEFINED.

"THE SPIRIT" DEFINED. "For I will pour out of my Spirit up-on all flesh." "What is this "Spirit" which it is promised will be poured out upon all flesh in the last days?" in-quired the speaker, then explained that to his mind it meant intelligence, and this is what the Lord promised to pour out upon all flesh, and upon every hand we see ample evidence of the fulfillment of this promise, in the great progress that has been made in every line of human thought and action. Reference was made to the great work accomp-lished by the men who haid the founda-tions of this republic, and it was ex-plained as a part of the belief of the Latter-day Saints that these men were inspired of God to do what they did: that the formation of this government and the establishment of the great pringists. inspired of God to do what they did: that the formation of this government and the establishment of the great prin-ciples of peace and liberty were neces-sary in the providences of God, before the advent of the gospel' dispensation. Elder Thomas referred to the progress made in science and education, in com-merce and the industries; then referred to the progress of religious thought. The speaker referred to the old idea that God was a something which could not be conceived or understood by man, and when the doctrine was advanced that God was a personage of body, parts and passions, it was argued by some that if it were possible to con-ceive of such a God, it would make Him material, gross and vile, and it would destroy faith in God; but these vague conceptions are giving way to the more enlightened conception of a God of body, parts and passions. Elder Thomas spoke of the mission of mormonism and the power it exerts for good, the spirit of sacrifice manifested by its adherents and the work it is to accomplish for the slavation of men. ELDER HEBER J. GEANT.

ELDER HEBER J. GRANT.

Elder Heber J. Grant then spoke a short time upon his missionary experi-ences. During the three years that El-der Grant presided over the European mission about 1,300 young men came un-der his jurisdiction, and these young men, in their experience as mission-aries in Europe, were brought in contact with the advocates of many religious beliefs, yet none of these young men ever found anything which caused them to doubt the divinity of the great lat-ter-day work. This, said Elder Grant, was to him a great evidence of the truth of this work. He estimated that not more than one-third of these young men were at all familiar with the gospel of Jesus Christ; they had a testimony in their hearts but thay lacked ability and lacked information; they could hot stand up and expound the principles of the gospel. But these young men were humble and prayerful, and had burning in their hearts a desire to do their duty, and as they began their work they grew in ability in a marvelous way. Elder Grant referred to the fact that these 1,300 young men were constantly praying, in humility, IF YO list with Elder Heber J. Grant then spoke a on Geo Main St hand. SED Main St Street WE Sall. And for 76 years the elders of this Church have been laboring in the various mission fields and there is no case of a faithful elder ever being converted to another religion. Along this line Elder Grant said: "It seems to me that an object lesson of this kind ought to impress thinking people. These young men who
