

MEN ON STRIKE PROMISE FIGHT

It Will be Marked by No Violence
And Will Depend on Sentiment.

JAPS GO TO WORK TODAY

With Them Were Aliens of Nearly Every Nation—Union
Men Only Watch.

Appeal is Made to Commercial Club
To Act as Intermediary in Bringing About Settlement.

The only case of disorder reported to the police in consequence of the strike was that of a non-union American who had been at work today with the aliens, and who refused to give his name to the police. He had left the works at noon and was on his way to a Second South eating house when he was set upon by three men the police declare to have been strikers. He was more scared than injured, however, but was not to be seen after work was resumed at 1 o'clock. No arrests were made.

At the blowing of the whistle at 1 o'clock this afternoon, nine men reappeared, the others, Japs, Greeks, Austrians and others, having decided not to go on with the job as strike-breakers. The nine men who did respond were put to work cleaning up the rubbish in the basement, but were not putting up any structural iron.

Superintendent J. E. Holstrom for the steel company says that the strike is not authorized by the international officers, and he intends to begin negotiations with them to bring matters to a settlement.

President Halloran, the members of the board of governors, and others influential in business circles, waited upon the general contractors, James Stewart & Co., after a meeting held at noon. They went for the purpose of stopping work on the building until satisfactory arrangements were made to put only American union labor at work. The work being at a standstill their visit was without result in this direction. The club, however, takes the position that the construction must not be pushed until such labor is employed.

The coming of workers from the east is expected this afternoon, and the result is not known, for their coming is certain to place added complications in the situation.

Work on the new Commercial club building, was resumed this morning with a crew composed of Japanese, Greeks and Italians in place of union structural iron workers.

Superintendent J. E. Holstrom, of the Construction company, announces that a force of skilled workmen is being brought from the East to be employed on the building.

The local union of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, began active work today to enlist the sympathy and assistance of the Salt Lake business men and Commercial club in its fight.

The differences existing between the union and the Minneapolis Steel & Machinery company, subcontractors on the building, arise from the refusal of the company to meet the demand for a 56 1/2 cents per hour wage schedule, instead of 50 cents.

With a motley crew of Japanese, Greeks, Italians, and a sprinkling of English-speaking men, they have been taunts and jeers of several hundred union men, their sympathizers, and a crowd of the curious, the tie-up in the construction of the Commercial club building was broken this morning and the erection of the structural iron and steel framework begun.

UNUSUAL SIGHT A MAGNET

After two weeks of haggling over the wage scale, in which stubbornness and defiance were shown on the two sides, the contractors and the structural iron workers, the builders put into effect the plan which they have been quietly working out for several days. When the whistle blew at 8 o'clock this morning a gang of about 65 men, a mix of Greek, Italian, and other nationalities, began to assemble on the site of the Commercial club building, and in a few minutes the board fence surrounding the excavation was lined with the union men and those attracted by the unusual spectacle of Japanese and Greek "strike-breakers."

Although not anticipating any trouble, yet in order to take all precautionary measures and prevent any outbreak or attack upon the laborers, the contractors had summoned the aid of the sheriff's office and the police, as well as hiring a number of special men. Sheriff Sharp with seven deputies, and two policemen were on hand, while special officers circulated among the crowd.

There was absolutely no disturbance, however, nor any show of attempt to prevent the beginning of work, and the union men contented themselves with a running fire of sarcastic comment about the employment of Japs and Greeks to work on a public building.

BITTER FIGHT PROMISED

The employment of foreigners on the construction of the Commercial club building promises to result in one of the most bitter fights that has stirred Salt Lake labor circles for many a day, and its finish, whether within a day or a year will in all probability be accomplished through the business men and the Commercial club of Salt Lake acting as the intermediary.

The situation in which the Minneapolis Steel & Machinery company, as the sub-contractor for the iron and steel work of the building, and the

M. JUSSERAND ON TARIFF ISSUE

Thinks it Poor Policy for United States to Place Duties on Such Articles as Gloves.

LEMON INDUSTRY NEEDS IT.

Farther West He Travels Greater His
Astonishment at Greatness
Of the Country.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 2.—In an interview here last night, Ambassador Jusserand talked briefly about the issues involved in the tariff discussion now going on in the United States senate.

"In general," he said, "it is poor policy for this government to put heavy duties on such articles as gloves and others not manufactured in large quantities in this country. Such industries as the lemon industry of California, however, demand a heavy duty so that they may be fostered and encouraged."

Mr. Jusserand warmly praised Senator Frank P. Flint to whom he said he owed the pleasure of this trip to California. He said that the people of California should be proud of Senator Flint and his work.

The farther west he travels, the more astonished he is over the greatness of the United States. He said, "If the people of France had such rivers as are in the west, they would claim them all and allow none of the water to go to waste. Irrigation is a great thing, especially for the western part of America."

Mme. Jusserand, the ambassador's wife, who accompanied him by the act of a tiny child at Flamingo, who came from a ranch in the nearby mountains to meet the train on which they rode, bearing for Mme. Jusserand an armful of wild flowers, she had gathered. When she returns to the capital Mme. Jusserand will write a letter of thanks to the little miss.

The ambassador and Mme. Jusserand were entertained in Los Angeles today both with private and public functions, culminating tonight in a reception at the chamber of commerce. The three defendants, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Edwards, Mrs. Edwards is the sister of President Taft. The ambassador and his wife enjoyed a trip to the beach resorts and other places of interest this afternoon with a party of friends in automobiles. At the reception tonight, Mayor Alexander will extend an official welcome and several prominent citizens will deliver brief addresses.

Mr. Jusserand, on his side, declares that the contracting firm had two months' previous notice of the increase in the wage scale and insists that the wage asked for is the recognized scale now. A meeting of the executive committee of the union was held this afternoon at which the matter of the employment of the Japanese was discussed and a line of action laid out. Following the meeting, Mr. Munsey said:

"It is an outrage that Japs and Greeks should be employed on a public building, and I believe that the union is to be, and we hope to win in our demands by arousing the public sentiment. We are asking nothing but what is right, and we will be able to present our case to the men of the city. We are sure to get their help, and in that way win our fight."

"We are in a fight now, but it is going to be a peaceable one, and there is no danger of any violence being used. I have cautioned our men against this, and the Japs will not be prevented by force from working."

INTERMEDIARY SOUGHT.

Following the meeting of the union men a committee called on Fisher Harris and other members of the Commercial club to urge the club to bring about a settlement with the contractors. The committee was met by a friendly reception, but the club would result in the discharge of the foreign labor and the employment of the union men.

Although a large crowd congregated about the vicinity of the new building early this morning after work was begun, it soon divided away, and during the forenoon, there were not more than 50 workers about the place. At noon a few more gathered, but there was no demonstration, although a few union men approached some of the workers in an attempt to induce them to join the strike. During the noon hour the union men gathered in little knots, expressing their indignation. When one would get too excited or condemnatory in his denunciation of the contractors who were hiring Japs, he was cautioned by the more cool-headed, and the conversations generally were carried on in low tones.

"With the news of doing anything, or starting anything, you'd only get plugged by some of these deputies."

"Well, I wish one of those beams would fall on a Jap and kill him."

"If it takes 20 of those fellows to do what two or three of us could."

The above were some of the running comments among the onlookers. At noon the deputies and specials were still on the ground, but found no occasion for interference.

DEMENTED TRAMP CUTS HIS THROAT

Passengers on the Salt Lake and Ogden
Train This Morning Witness
Distressing Sight.

Passengers on the train from Layton on the Salt Lake & Ogden railroad this morning were horrified to see a semi-nude man sitting near the track, at a point between Layton and Ogden, where he was in the act of cutting his throat.

E. M. Whitesides of Layton who was coming to Salt Lake promptly notified Dr. Ingram at Kayville and together they went in search of the man. When found the man was bleeding profusely from his wounds and had cut his clothing into shreds. He was with difficulty taken to a suburban hospital where he now is and the chances of recovery are said to be good.

It is believed that the man was a tramp addicted to the morphine habit. He was in such a condition when found that it was impossible to secure any coherent statement from him.

CHANGE OF VENUE IN STOCKADE CASE

Counsel for Belle London Takes Matter to Justice Hanks'
Court.

ALLEGED BIAS OF BISHOP

P. T. Farnsworth Appears as Special
Counsel and Will Handle All
Redlight Cases.

The case of the Citizens' Investment company, charged with being the owner of houses used for immoral purposes in what is known as the "stockade," was called in Justice F. M. Bishop's court at 10 o'clock this morning. Representing the state were Job Lyon, county attorney; P. T. Farnsworth, special counsel assisting Mr. Lyon, and District Attorney F. C. Looftbour, who was present in an advisory capacity. For the defense, Attorney S. A. King was the only legal representative present when the hearing was called.

At the outset, Attorney King presented an affidavit signed by Emilio Pechar, secretary of the Citizens' Investment company, alleging a belief in the bias and prejudice of Justice F. M. Bishop, and asking for a change of venue. The case was not resisted by the county attorney, and was granted by the justice. The parties agreeing upon Justice Hanks' court, the case was transferred to the court of the justice, and will in all probability be called up at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, though the exact time Friday remains yet to be decided.

Atty. P. T. Farnsworth, who has been called into the case to assist County Atty. Lyon, will have charge of the prosecution of all the cases against the Citizens' Investment company, and Belle London, and the cases generally known as the "stockade" cases.

County Atty. Lyon has so many other matters demanding his attention that he feels that he cannot give personal attention to all the matters before him, and has called Mr. Farnsworth in to take charge of the prosecutions looking to clearing up of the pestilential blight now operating on the west side.

Mr. Farnsworth stated this morning that the case against the Citizens' Investment company will be the only one to be proceeded with the present week. He has not looked into the other cases sufficiently to proceed with them at once, but will ask that the case against the London woman be set early next week, and the other cases as rapidly as they can be disposed of.

As the offense charged against the Citizens' Investment company is the violation of the justly will be merely preliminary, and the defendant will be either bound over to await the action of the court in the case, or will be dismissed.

EXERCISES ARE HELD TODAY

Commencement Procession Marks the Opening of the Day's Program
—The Graduates.

The graduation exercises of the fortieth annual commencement of the University of Utah were held this morning. The program was very impressive. Held's band was in attendance and the exercises of the day were begun by the commencement procession following the band as follows: "The candidates for kindergarten certificate, the candidates for normal certificate, the candidates for kindergarten-normal diploma, the candidates for the five-year normal certificate, the candidates for the two years' course in law, the candidates for the two years' certificate in electrical engineering, the candidates for the degree of bachelor of arts, and the candidates for bachelor of science in mining engineering, electrical engineering, civil engineering, mechanical engineering, chemical engineering, and general engineering."

Next came the alumni of the university, the faculty of the university, official guests of the college and members of the board of trustees. The procession marched around the campus and across to the gymnasium, where the exercises proper were held.

The opening number was a selection by the orchestra under the direction of Professor Cooper.

The program: Prayer by the Rev. D. M. Helmick. Essay for the normal class, "Loyalty and the Classroom," by George C. Ensign.

Solo and chorus, "Charity" (Gounod). Miss Edith Grant and ladies of the choir.

Oration, The Local University and the Commonwealth, Richard W. Young Jr.

In the course of his talk Mr. Young said: "Democracy must be brought about by high education. There can be no democracy of education without the state university. Only the sons of the wealthy can secure a high education, and such was the deplorable condition in times past. But such is not the case at present. We have a faculty competent to compete with the best in the country. Credits from our school are acceptable anywhere; our mining school is second to no institution in the United States; in the field of agriculture we have a faculty of the highest caliber and there is no presumption in asking the best support of all citizens of the state."

"We are in an atmosphere of the West. Utah is building up a commonwealth with its own atmosphere and that atmosphere can be acquired by the student at this university. The student who gets his professional training from an alien institution absorbs the atmosphere of the locality of the school, and therefore he is in a way effeminized in his coping with western men in a western community. The state offers such as can be obtained from its own schools, and men of nowhere elsewhere, men who will be the professional and social leaders in the future. The students are all given an equal opportunity to make the best of themselves."

At the close of Mr. Young's speech the orchestra rendered a selection from Carmen. Address, by His Excellency, Governor William Spry, chorus, "Hail Utah" from Mount of Olives, Beethoven, University choir and orchestra. The president's annual address, the conditions of the university.

President Kingsbury gave a brief history of the university, noting the growth and increase in the enrollment, courses and raising the requirements. The president read a eulogy of the late Mrs. Rebecca Little, who was a student, alumnus, and regent of the university. At the conclusion of the address he played an excerpt from Cavendish Rusticana as the entire gathering stood with heads bowed in respect for Mrs. Little. Awards of certificates and diplomas were given by the president, and the university song, "O Sun of the Youth of Utah." Words by Kate Thomas, music by Squire Coop. Benediction, the Reverend Charles Curtis McIntire.

DIG DEFLATION NO ARRESTS MADE

Lewiston, Idaho, National Bank
Found by Examiner to be Short $137,000.

ADDING MACHINE WAS FIXED

Stealing Extended Over Period of Five Years—Stockholders Put Up
Amount Stolen.

Lewiston, Idaho, June 2.—National Bank Examiner Claude Gatch is authority for the statement that a shortage has been discovered in the funds of the Lewiston National bank. Beyond the fact that the stockholders have made the alleged shortage good, Mr. Gatch declines to discuss the situation. It is said that the alleged defalcation amounts to $137,000. The alleged embezzlement has, it is stated, extended over a period of the last five years, and it was made possible, it is understood, by manipulation of the adding machine used in computing the daily balances.

Immediately after the condition became known to the bank officials, a meeting of the board of directors was called and the entire defalcation made good by them.

The Lewiston National bank and the Idaho Trust company were consolidated about five years ago. At that time the capital and surplus of the Lewiston National was $200,000 and the capital of the trust company $400,000. The combined assets at the present time are about $900,000, of which $450,000 is subject to checks. The cash on hand is $200,000.

When the defalcation was discovered, the president of the National bank and Idaho Trust company, said:

"I corroborate the statement of Mr. Gatch as to the defalcation having been made good. Some time since, when it was discovered that defalcations by employees had been committed, the directors and large shareholders, after having checked up and ascertained the exact amount paid it in at once. A material salvage has since been realized and a further salvage is covered by surety company bonds."

"No suspicion attaches to any employee now in the bank. The defalcations were made by a man of gradual abstraction covering a period of five years and no large sum was taken at any one time."

COLUMBIA CONFERS DEGREE ON HARVARD'S PRESIDENT

New York, June 2.—Dr. Abbott Lawrence Lowell, the new president of Harvard, was honored today by Columbia university at its annual commencement, the honorary degree of doctor of laws being bestowed upon him. President Butler in presenting the degree, said: "Succeeding amid universal applause to a post of great dignity and responsibility, the president of Columbia university, the highest interest; president of Harvard university, I gladly admit you to the degree of doctor of laws in this university."

The degree of doctor of laws was conferred also upon Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States, senator from Wisconsin, John C. Spooner, former secretary of state, and Alfred Mosely, C. M. G. of London, England.

OLYMPIC GAMES.

International Council Recommends

International Jury to Decide Them.

Berlin, June 2.—The most important act of the international council of the Olympic games which has been in session here was the recommendation of the principle of an international jury to decide events in future Olympics. The council took under consideration the unfortunate controversies that arose in London in 1908 and finally decided that it was wiser to introduce an international system of judging rather than leave this to the sole control of the country where the games take place. The Swedish representative expressed this view. The council, it is explained, is in a spirit of criticism of anything that happened in England; its opinion was that the contests would be conducted with greater good will if they were under international control.

The Swedish government has invited the participants in the games of 1912 which are to be held in Stockholm to reside in Sweden during the period of training should they desire to do so.
