CHILDREN VISIT WINE CELLAR

Their Drunken Stupor Causes Considerable Commotion in North Ogden.

M'KAY-MORRELL NUPTIALS.

Stowell Loses Damage Suit—Death of Mrs. Poulter of Kanesville—Sacred Heart Commencement.

Ogden, June 20.—Through having plenty of wine in the cellar Charles Pettigrew and wife of North Ogden had a severe yesterday afternoon that will last a natural life time, due to their children imbibing too freely of the intoxicant. Mr. Pettigrew and wife were in Ogden on business, leaving the children at home with easy access to the cellar. The three children with a neighbor's boy, had heard the talk of "papa's good wine," so decided to try some, but not realizing its strength, they drank too much, and were soon having a "glorious" time, but the wine caused them to get very sleepy and all four laid down on the floor and went to sleep. When Mr. and Mrs. Pettigrew returned home about 3 o'clock in the afternoon they found the children all laid out on the floor snoring loudly, and when they tried to arouse them it was almost impossible. They finally succeeded in waking up one of the boys, but he was so stupid he could not explain correctly the cause of their condition. He had been "seeing things," and told his parents that a dark man had come to the home and given them something to drink which would make them live long and be happy. The first thing the parents thought of was that some man had given the children poison. They immediately telephoned Dr. H. B. Forbes and the sheriff who responded quickly and drove to North Ogden. The doctor found the children and had them called to the home in the excitement soon discovered the smell of liquor and an inspection of the cellar soon revealed the true cause of the children's stupor.

TO AVERT FUEL FAMINE IN WEST AND NORTHWEST.

Washington, June 19.—Strenuous measures have been adopted by the government and by the railroads to avert a fuel famine in the west and northwest which is thought to be impending next winter. Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific railroad, recently wrote to Commissioner Lane of the interstate commerce commission suggesting the probability of a fuel famine in the west and northwest next winter that might exceed in its serious possibilities that the famine of last winter. He advised that every effort be made by the commission to induce consumers, including the government, to buy in supplies of coal during the summer months, pending the movement of crops in the early autumn. Commissioner Lane immediately took up the matter with the coal supply and the fact, urging that coal supplies at all depots of the government be put in at as early a date as possible. The subject was considered at the last cabinet meeting, before President Roosevelt left Washington, and it was decided that the suggestion be adopted.

Secy. Garfield wrote to Commissioner Lane, in response to a letter which the commissioner had written him on the subject, his letter containing this paragraph: "I beg to acknowledge your letter of June 7, with the inclosure from the president of the Northern Pacific. His suggestion regarding fuel is an admirable one, and will be acted upon by the department."

Commissioner Lane has received from B. T. Stanton, chairman of the railroad commission of Montana, a circular which the commission has issued respecting an investigation into the subject of the coal supply now on hand and to be available for use of citizens of Montana during the winter months of 1907 and 1908. The inquiry shows that a coal shortage exceeding that of the past winter is not only probable but probable, unless steps are taken to avert it, and the commission advises the people to put in their supplies of coal at the earliest possible date.

Commissioner Lane has been advised that the city of Los Angeles, Cal., has made arrangements to put in a full supply of coal during the early summer months and he has learned that the railroads west and northwest are placing at their various supply depots all the coal they can store conveniently.

PILGRIMAGE OF THE UTAH PIONEERS

SIXTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

SUNDAY, JUNE 20, 1847.

Under this date, Wm. Clayton, of the pioneer camp, journalizes as follows: The morning was fine, but mosquitoes very bad. Two more oxen were found almost buried in the mud. All hands appeared desirous of leaving this place and at 5:15 a. m. we moved out. The first mile was bad and dangerous traveling, there being several steep pitches in the road. A number of brethren went ahead with picks and spades and dug out the road. After traveling 3 1/2 miles we halted for breakfast at 7 o'clock beside a small clear stream of spring water. The feed on the banks is good and plentiful, but no wood yet.

Elder Kimball states that when he and Ezra T. Benson were riding ahead last evening to look out a camping ground they came within a quarter of a mile of the place where we are now, and discovered the water. While they were riding slowly along, they saw six men suddenly spring up from the grass on the left of the road, dressed in white and blue blankets. They had every appearance of being Indians, and the brethren at first thought they were such. Mounting their horses the six men started on in a direction parallel with the road. The brethren also kept on their course. In a little while one of the supposed Indians, who had the rest and rode toward the brethren, while he mentioned with his hands for them to go back. But as the brethren kept on their course, saying no attention to this warning, the man who had started on to join his companions, all six put spurs to their horses and were soon out of sight, behind an adjacent piece of rising ground. As soon as they had disappeared, Elders Kimball and Benson spurred up their horses and rode to the edge of the ridge, when they discovered a camp of the Missourians about a quarter of a mile to the left of the road, and the six Indians, just entering the camp. The brethren were now satisfied that the six men were Missourians, who had attempted to play Indians with a view to keep us back from this good camping ground. We consider it an old Missouri trick and an old Indian trick, and they understand to play Indians again. It is likely they will meet with Indian treatment. Their camp left here a little before we arrived this morning, and it is now President Young's instruction to press on a little faster and crowd them up a little. At 8:15 o'clock a. m. we continued our journey, and after traveling three miles we arrived at the Willow Springs and halted a little to get water. This spring is about two feet wide and the water is inches deep, perfectly clear, ice cold and good tasting. There is a willow grove extending for some miles above and below it; the grass is good and plentiful.

"After leaving this beautiful spring we ascended a steep and high hill, from the top of which we could see a vast extent of country to the southwest and north; the view was one of romantic beauty. After descending this hill on the south side and traveling some distance further we crossed a very slough. At 3 o'clock p. m. we halted to feed in a ravine where there was plenty of grass and a good stream of water about three hundred yards south of the road. We traveled this forenoon nine miles over barren sandy land.

"During the halt it was decided that President Young should take the lead with his wagon and try to proceed a little faster; we started at 5 o'clock p. m. I would here remark that the order of our traveling is, that each company of brethren should take the lead, the first 10 in the first division taking the lead one day; then, on the second day, it falls in the rear of the first division and the second 10 takes the lead; and thus it continues till each company of 10 has taken the lead one day apiece. Then the first division falls in the rear of the second division, which also begins by companies of tens to take the lead on the road as stated above, and when all the tens have had their day, the second division again falls in the rear of the first. Thus every man has his equal privilege of traveling.

"This afternoon we crossed over a rapid stream about 10 feet wide with sufficient water to carry a flour mill. Towards evening, not finding grass for our animals, we turned off from the road about half a mile to the east, about dark near the bottom of the stream last mentioned. We traveled 1/4 miles this afternoon and during the day 20 miles. Some anxiety was felt on account of the absence of dogs Wilford Woodruff and John Brown who went ahead on horseback this morning. They have not been seen or heard of since."

MONOPOLIES IN RESTRAINT OF TRADE

Hamburg-American Packet Co. is Charged With Maintaining Them.

Washington, June 19.—The interstate commerce commission today decided to institute a proceeding of inquiry and investigation into the affairs of the Hamburg-American Packet company, which is charged by Peter Wright & Sons, general agents of Philadelphia of the Cosmopolitan Shipping company and the Cosmopolitan lines with pooling and creating monopolies in restraint of trade. The inquiry is expected to be one of the most stupendous ever undertaken and of a character different from any that ever before engaged the attention of the commission.

SCOPE OF INQUIRY.

The inquiry will have to deal with an alleged combination between railroads in the United States and the German shipping concerns, and therefore interests every American producer, manufacturer or shipper aspiring to introduce his goods to foreign consumers.

According to the complaint on which action was taken by the commission, the Hamburg-American Packet company has built up a complete monopoly of the eastbound traffic, originating in Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Minneapolis, Duluth, Cleveland and other manufacturing centers of the United States intended for interior ports or places on the continent of Europe. The complaint charges that it claims to be unfair methods in stifling competition.

The Cosmopolitan Shipping company of Philadelphia, which lines to Rotterdam, Leith and Copenhagen. The charge alleges that an ironclad trust in transatlantic freight carrying exists between the Hamburg-American Packet company, the North German-Lloyd Scandinavian-American line and the Wilson (Hull) line and that this pool appropriates the volume of traffic and the members shall carry and from what port or ports each line shall make its sailings, thus involving the apportionment of traffic originating in west coast ports to charter and about—between the cities of the north Atlantic seaboard.

AN INTERNATIONAL QUESTION.

In charging that the Hamburg-American Packet company in its almost absolute control of eastbound and westbound traffic, operates in restraint of the United States and Hamburg is a monopoly in restraint of trade, the complaining company raises an international question. The allegation is that a foreign corporation backed by the German government dictates terms, routes and rates to shippers all over the United States, who forward goods to Baltic ports, divers to and from American ports at its own will, without regard to the natural flow of trade, and uses coercive and unlawful methods to crush competition.

The statement filed by Peter Wright & Sons says the Cosmopolitan freight services have no desire to suppress legitimate competition, and adds: "We therefore do not seek to have ameliorated any of the conditions which fair competition may impose. We do believe, however, that pooling combinations and intimidations of one kind or another, approaching blackmail, even under the semblance of competition, are not legitimate forms of competition. Pooling combinations and intimidations in their various forms have been encountered recently by the cosmopolitan services. These are the unlawful conditions, masquerading under the guise of competition, which it is our purpose to endeavor to place before your honorable commission in a concise and chronological form."

CHARGES SUMMED UP.

The charges are summed up as follows: 1. That the Hamburg-American Packet company is a monopoly in restraint of trade, exercising through its contracts the power to control traffic, both eastbound and westbound, between Hamburg and interior cities in the United States, and to determine rates and routes of such traffic. 2. That the "Baltic pool," of which the Hamburg-American Packet company is a member, is a monopoly in restraint of trade, dictating the per cent of traffic from interior cities of the United States to Baltic ports, which shall flow through each

RHEUMATISM

AN ACID BLOOD POISON

Rheumatism is an acid blood poison, and the causes that produce it are often silently accumulating in the system for years. Poor digestion, stomach troubles, weak kidneys, torpid liver, and a general inactive condition of the system leaves the refuse and waste matter, which should be carried off, to sour and form uric acid, which is absorbed into the blood. When the blood is in this acid-charged condition, it deposits the poisons and irritating particles with which it is loaded in the muscles, nerves, joints and bones. Then Rheumatism gets possession of the system, and life is made miserable by its pains, aches and discomforts. The changing of the weather, exposure to cold and dampness, etc., always increase the trouble, and so severe does the pain become that quick relief must be had. A good liniment or plaster is often helpful, but it should be remembered that relief from such treatment is only temporary, because the trouble is in the blood and cannot be removed by external applications. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by ridding the blood of the cause. It goes down into the circulation and by invigorating and purifying the blood of the acid-poison and sending a stream of fresh, rich blood to all parts, relieves the pain, reduces the inflammation, and permanently cures this painful disease. S. S. S. is the only safe treatment for Rheumatism, because it does not contain a particle of mineral in any form to damage the system. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice desired sent free.
