

DESERET EVENING NEWS

Tuesday, November 17, 1896.

NOTICE TO SALT LAKE STAKE.

In view of the first Sunday of every month having been set apart as a day of fasting and prayer among the Saints throughout the various Stake conferences, we do not concur until the second Sunday of December (December 15, 1896) at 10 A.M. at 40 E. 3rd St., on Sunday, Meetings will be held in the several Ward meeting houses.

The Bishopric of Wards and Presidents of quorums and leading authorities of associations throughout the Stake will take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

ASHER M. CANNON,
JOHN E. TAYLOR,
CHARLES W. PARSONS,
President of the Salt Lake Stake at Zion.

SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION MEETING

At Interlaving Session Held on Sunday Evening.

There was a large attendance of Sabbath school workers of the Sunday School Union meeting held at Interlaving (Nov. 16, 1896) in the Tabernacle assembly hall. All the twenty-five city schools were well represented.

Representatives were also present from the following country schools: Brightin, Bear Brighton, Big Cottonwood, Highland, Bear Brighton, Big Cottonwood, South Jordan, Canons, Bluffdale, Pleasant Grove, Draper, East Side City, Layton, Magna, Midway, Herriman, Woods, Murray, Union, South Jordan, and West Jordan.

Address by Bishop Burton called attention to the great Sunday assemblies, and the time for making early as possible.

Then George stressed attention to the need of the monthly meetings, and the new Ward meeting houses should be taught its importance and take part in its development, especially with their parents.

Then the Tabernacle choir sang a separate choice, in many voices representing the four groups departments of the Tabernacle services, and the members of each group were invited to sing.

After Departmental offerings the tabs addressed several topics, especially those of religious lessons, and the Tabernacle organist played in the music of the year.

To illustrate the difference between primaries and the local tabernacles, President Williams said, as the local primary assemblies were more numerous than the primaries, they had more opportunity by question and illustration, in the theological or higher department, the people could come to a better understanding of any given subject, whereas at the local primaries the classes were called upon to supplement the information already given and the whole afterwards comes off by discussion.

Very popular was a prepared, to make a classroom score, the lesson assigned, the teacher may draw him out on a number of practical questions, and the teacher may ask the student to repeat what he has learned, and the teacher may be retained from the degree course.

In the Intermediate department, conducted by D. M. Smith, the pupils were interested, interested, and discussed with interest and profit.

The High Intermediate department was presided over by William Bradbury. The topic of the day was "Courage," and was drawn from according to the instructions given in the Sunday School Treatise, followed by a general discussion.

At the conclusion of the High Intermediate department, Mr. Aspinwall introduced the primary department, urging particularly that the institutions given to this department be adapted to the capacity of the young ones, who could write and give the proper pronunciations of names occurring in the lesson. The topic of the lesson was "Safety," and the teacher in his discussion gave several instances of safety clearly in their minds, the teacher should begin to tell the story, illustrating it with pictures or blackboards, and the teacher should be narrative enough to both interesting and instructive, and the lesson or moral illustrations should be readily grasped by the children. An appropriate hymn from part of each lesson with much profit.

At the conclusion of the class work the meeting was adjourned for the study.

It was announced that at the December meeting Professor James E. Tammie would deliver an address on topics in line with the present work of the Sunday School, and that the same would interest the entire school section.

Benediction was pronounced by Elder Albert H. Chase.
