

FRAGMENTS.

LEAD quotations, New York, per 100 lbs., $9.00.

The City Council will meet in regular session this evening.

The thermometer marked 99 degrees in the shade at 3 p. m. to-day.

BARLOW & WILSON's Minstrels will exhibit in the Theatre this evening.

A CASE of scarlet fever, in the Fifteenth Ward, has been quarantined.

The meeting of those interested in the half holiday movement was set for this evening.

DAVID JAMES & Co. have been awarded the contract for re-plumbing the City House.

Prof. Boyle and wife, of this city, leave over the D. & R. G., for Albion, Iowa, to-morrow.

SILVER quotations, corrected daily by Wells, Fargo & Co., New York, $1.06 1/2; London, 49 1/2 p.

N. P. LARK, Albert Shires and John Fott, three drunks, were each fined $5 in the Police Court to-day.

NATHAN GROSS, colored, for committing an assault on a woman, has been given 90 days on the public streets.

JOHN THOMPSON's "Har and the World," is advertised at the Opera House for Thursday and Friday evenings.

B. F. DEWEY, who was arrested yesterday for shooting at G. C. Patten, failed to obtain $1,000 bail, and reposes in the City Jail.

CHRIS LARSEN and his son, who were before the Police Court charged with having committed an assault, were discharged to-day.

WELLS, FARGO & Co. to-day received two bars of Chicago bullion, value, $4,000; one bar Vienna bullion, value $1,740; total, $5,740.

At Ogden, yesterday, Gen. Kimball resigned his position as foreman of the grand jury, and C. C. Goodwin was appointed to the position.

POLICEMAN Wm. Hilton is brimful of happiness to-day. Yesterday Mrs. Hilton presented to him with a bouncing boy. Mother and child are well.

A MAN who gave his name as Honneck, and after sundry, for lascivious conduct, were sentenced to 30 days in jail, by the police justice yesterday.

It is expected that the regular Utah Central train this evening will wait and bring down the emigrants to this city. They will arrive about half-past eight o'clock.

A LADY left her horse and buggy standing in front of the Sixth Ward Co-op, to-day, when the animal became frightened and ran away, smashing the buggy.

JAS. NOLAN, D. Rice and E. Rogers were yesterday fined $10 each for drunkenness and profanity. For being drunk, Wm. Boden and F. McGinness were fined $10 each.

The firemen's excursion to the Lake will take place to-morrow. A good time is anticipated. Trains leave the Utah and Nevada depot at 8.40 a. m., and 1 and 5.10 p. m.

ON the fourth premises of Mrs. Robbins, at Ogden, were entered, by thieves, who carried away a pair of heavy white woolen blankets, a gold necklace, and a calico shirt.

The stock of cigars and liquors in dispute in the Friedlander case lately tried in the courts, will be sold under the hammer, in Captain Greenman, at the Ryan Block, at 10 a. m. to-morrow.

A SAMPLE of English red currants, raised by Brother James White, of the 11th Ward, was placed upon our desk yesterday, which for size and flavor will compare favorably with any we have seen.

WM. McFARLAND, arrested Nov. 4, 1883, on a charge of being drunk and resisting the officers, and who took advantage of being allowed to look for bail, and skipped, was not yesterday by an officer and taken into custody.

WE are unable to publish the minutes in full of the special session of the City Council owing to the late hour at which it closed, but we will insert the substance of the business done in the resolution adopted.

LOUISE, LOVENDALE, a young lady who is slightly demented, left her home at Lovendale station on the U. C. R., on Saturday, and was found to-day at the house of C. Foster, on Eighth West Street, near First North.

THE song and music books to be used at the grand annual school jubilee to be held in the Tabernacle on the 4th, can be had by the schools free of charge, on application, at the Juvenile Instruction office or the Co-operative Furniture Company's establishment, just west of the Temple Block.

THIS afternoon the police arrested, at Z. C. M. I., a little girl about ten years of age, who has been engaged for some time past in purloining articles from that institution. The girl stated that she had been doing it for a woman who lived next door to her parents. The list of articles is a long one, and includes such items as bolts of silk, hats, looking glasses, toys, etc.

YESTERDAY a News compositor made a blunder in correcting the proofs of the editorial matter, by mixing the types. The error was discovered after gone out. The numbers containing the error were recalled. In consequence of this incident a false report was spread to the effect that a second edition of the paper had been issued in order to suppress something that appeared in the first. If those who have expressed anxiety on the subject will call at the office we will take pleasure in enlightening them. The compositor substituted "not" for "and" and vice versa.

LOCAL NEWS.

Horse, Harness and Buggy.—Any person desiring to purchase a good horse, harness and buggy, all complete, can learn of a bargain in that line by calling at this office. It is an exceptionally good chance to get a complete "rig" at a moderate figure.

The Minstrels.—Barlow & Wilson's Minstrels, who appear in the Theatre this evening, go from places which they have recently visited. They lately appeared in Winnipeg and the Times of that place, after alluding in terms of praise to various other features of their performance, says:

"Mr. Barlow's specialty was admirable, and of no common of the old variety, or produces a more thoroughly finished and complete representation of such characters. George Wilson convulsed the audience with his wit, and his songs were well adapted to the occasion. More than 1000 people were present."

Reunion.—The residents of this region who were formerly members of the Legion Conference have agreed to meet and see each other again at "Pillar's Hall" on Wednesday. This comprises the country surrounding London, which, twenty years ago was divided up into the Essex, Kent, Bedfordshire and Hertfordshire Conferences, and the conference having the matter in hand is composed of Bro's. G. E. Savage, W. L. Bladner, W. J. M. Boyer, E. Bosley, Wm. Edmondson, Geo. H. Taylor, Mrs. J. Edmondson, Mrs. W. L. Bladner and Mrs. C. W. Penrose. Those who may have been overlooked on the list are invited to send their names to the secretary of the reunion.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A freight train had been run out to a switch, and the last car had been left partly on the main track. The freight train came along, and nothing wrong being observed, a collision took place. The passenger train was thrown some distance from the track, and one of the passengers, who had boarded the train a short distance before, had the back of his head cut off, killing him almost instantly. The engineer was severely injured, and the passenger car and several passengers injured. The freight train was derailed. The freight train was derailed.

Accident on the U. P.—A passenger on the U. P. passenger train, due in Ogden on Sunday evening, but which was several hours late, states that on Monday an accident occurred on the U. P. near North Platte. A