

SECY. STRAUS ON COTTON INDUSTRY

Reviews its History Before National Convention of Cotton Manufacturers.

WHOLESALE LAWS OF TRADE

Follows Line of Least Resistance—High Tariff Walls at Home Begot Them Abroad.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The second and closing day's session of the national convention of cotton manufacturers, was marked by the presence and delivery of addresses by Secy. Straus, of the department of commerce and labor, and Postmaster-General Meyer.

Secy. Straus reviewed the history of the cotton industry in this country, saying that it was founded in failure. He referred to the difficulties in the early periods of promoting the manufacture of cotton, and other goods by the colonists as the result of the prohibitive laws under Dutch and British rule. Of the cotton industry, now, Mr. Straus said:

"Today there is invested in this industry $613,000,000; its annual production is $456,000,000; it pays out annually in wages $106,000,000 and exports $32,000,000—about one-twelfth of the value of this class of goods that enters the international trade. The so-called yellow races are steadily increasing customers of your goods, and as they advance and prosper, provided we keep their good will, they will buy more and more of your product and of other American manufacturers. China took $106,000,000 less from you last year than the year before. How much of this was due to a 'silent non-importation agreement' which was used so effectively by us preceding the revolutionary war, and which is known by the modern name of 'boycott' I leave you to figure out. Probably Minister Wu when he comes here will help you figure, and I think that if you get him to tell all that he knows, the information cannot fail to be valuable to you and other industries.

"Trade, like water, finds its own level and follows along the highways of least resistance. A good trade agent will get more business than a general at the head of a great army or an admiral in command of a great fleet. Those may be useful to keep the highways open, but not to make the trade.

"If you build your tariff walls too high in this country, you will encourage high walls on the other side which are known by the name of 'discriminating duties.' We are striking that wall now. No one foresees this more clearly than President McKinley, and no one has shown the way more clearly how to overcome the existing and increasing obstacles that lay in the path of our foreign commerce. He recommended reciprocity and a revised tariff to meet the changing and changing conditions, in order to gain our proper share of the foreign markets."

JOHNSON TO MEET FLYNN.
San Francisco, Oct. 4.—Jack Johnson, challenger of Tommy Burns, for the world's championship, has been matched to meet Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman, in a 2-round bout in this city on Oct. 25.

PERFECT STEEL RAILS.

Hitch in Negotiations Looking to Their Manufacture.

New York, Oct. 4.—There is said to be a hitch in the negotiations now in progress looking to the manufacture of a perfect steel rail by the American Steel and Wire Co. The company, which is a subsidiary of the Carnegie Steel Co., has been unable to make the rail demanded by the company of the New York, New Haven and Hartford R. Co. The steel makers cannot agree. The railway company wants rails low in phosphorus and higher in carbon, with a quarter of the molten mass at the top of the ingot out off an "discard."

Further meetings on the subject are to be held, but it is stated that when P. W. Cary calls the general meeting of railway and steel manufacturers together there will be two reports presented instead of a joint report.

STATUE OF MARK HANNA.

New York, Oct. 4.—The colossal seated statue of the late Mark Hanna, modeled by the late Augustus Saint Gaudens, will be cast in bronze at a Mount Vernon foundry this afternoon. It was one of the last works of the immortal sculptor. The statue represents Mr. Hanna in an armchair, the right arm of which he grasps in an energetic fashion. The head, shoulders, and feet are absolutely at rest, the only suggestion of movement being in the right hand. This impressive piece of statuary will be erected in Cleveland, O.

REV. G. B. TAYLOR DEAD.

He Was Chaplain to Gen. Stonewall Jackson in the Civil War.

New York, Oct. 4.—Admiral from Rome today brings news of death there of the Rev. George Boardman Taylor, for 35 years president of the Baptist Mission in Italy. Dr. Taylor, who was chaplain to Gen. Stonewall Jackson, in the Civil War, was the first pastor of the Franklin Street church of Baltimore. He founded several churches and schools in Italy.

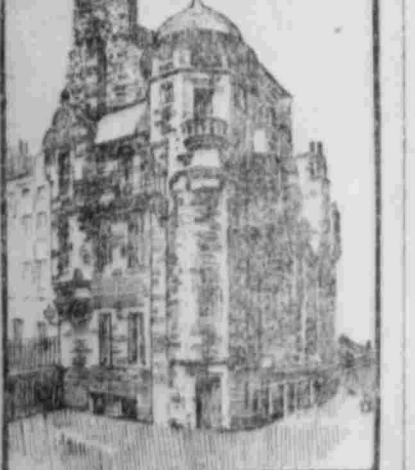

ONLY TWO CASES.

There were only two state cases before Judge Dield this morning. The first was that against Ella Rose, accused of grand larceny. It was alleged that she stole $20 from an inmate of a Commercial street dive. The case was conducted without date and will probably be dismissed.

George Brown, colored, charged with robbery, was dismissed on motion of the prosecution owing to the fact that the prosecuting witnesses are not in the state.

VIRGIN CITY OIL USED FOR FUEL

A Successful Demonstration Made in This City Yesterday Afternoon.

PLANING MILL OPERATED.

Oil Injected Into Fire Box by Means Of An Improved Pipe Line.

"Oil from the Virgin river field in southern Utah, and which promises to become one of the most important ones in the United States, is being used for fuel purposes in Salt Lake. Recently, Jesse Badger of the brokerage firm of Badger Brothers, visited the Virgin river section and became so thoroughly impressed with the possibilities of the country that he at once determined to show the people of Salt Lake City something realistic in the way of demonstrating that the product can be used successfully for the generation of steam, as well as for other purposes. Accordingly, he arranged for the shipment of 19 barrels of crude oil from the well sunk by the Virgin River Oil and Development company. It was the original intention to give the demonstration at the state fair grounds, but it was afterwards decided to have it take place at the big planing mill of the Taylor-Armstrong Lumber company on west South Temple street. The test was made yesterday and it proved to be a successful one. The oil was injected into the fire box under the boilers in the power plant by means of a pipe attached to one of the barrels suspended at an elevation of probably 10 feet above, thus giving sufficient pressure for forcing.

Fred Remnick, president of the oil company, and C. E. Wilcox, who had charge of the work of drilling the well, were present and from the latter it was ascertained that about 24 barrels of the oil at 15 gravity asphaltum base would go as far as one ton of the best anthracite coal. He says, however, that the oil from the Virgin field, while it is much cheaper than coal if used for fuel purposes, it is really too high grade for any such uses; that producers can make more money out of it by first refining it and then sending it to market.

OLD FIRM MAY GO TO THE WALL

Petition Filed in Federal Court To Declare Young Brothers Involuntary Bankrupts.

A petition was today filed in the Federal court, wherein it is asked that Young Brothers be declared involuntary bankrupts. The petitioners are the Standard Sewing Machine company of Chicago, and Samuel Buegeleisen of New York.

The document sets forth that the said petitioners are creditors of Young Brothers to an amount exceeding $1,000, and that they are not preferred creditors of the said company. It is further alleged that on October 3, 1907, the said Young Brothers made admissions that the firm was unable to pay its debts and was willing to be declared bankrupt.

Young Brothers, Hoyal B. and Joseph O., are among the oldest dealers in musical instruments and sewing machines in the city. The firm has always enjoyed the confidence of the public because of fair dealing, and its patronage has seemed to be satisfactory. The store was located for a long time in the Constitution block, but more recently business has been carried on at 23 west First South street.

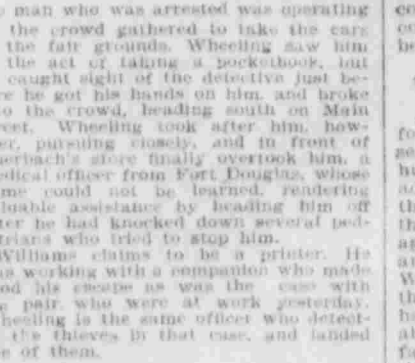

ANOTHER THIEF LANDED.
Detective Wheeling Captures Pick-pocket at Work on Main Street.

One more thief with a predilection for little pickpockets from the state fair crowds, is in trouble today.

His name is Frank Williams, and he was landed in jail by Detective Wheeling after a lively fight at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Wheeling was on duty at the corner of First South and Main street and the man who was arrested was operating on the crowd gathered to take the cars to the fair grounds. Wheeling saw him in the act of taking a pocketbook, but he caught sight of the detective just before he got his hands on him, and broke into the crowd, heading south on Main street. Wheeling took after him, however, pursuing closely, and in front of Auerbach's store finally overtook him, a medical officer from Fort Douglas, whose name could not be learned, pointing valuable assistance by heading him off after he had knocked down several pedestrians who tried to stop him.

Williams claims to be a printer. He was working with a companion who made good his escape as was the case with the pair who were at work yesterday. Wheeling is the same officer who defeated the thieves in that case, and landed one of them.

AN ANCIENT FORGER.
And how the scientists claim that Ramesses II, who was ruler of Egypt in old Testament times, was a forger of the most pronounced tendencies. He had the trick of putting his name on everything that he thought would stand the test of time.

NEIGHBORS GAVE AT CONFERENCE THIS AFTERNOON

Mary Crane Treated in Such Manner by Husband She Fled From Him.

THREATENED TO KILL HER.

When She Took Baby to Another Room He Tried to Kick the Door Down.

In the course of married life lasting seven years, Mary C. W. H. Crane has been knocked down so frequently by her husband that she has many times sought the protection of the court and on other occasions she has sought out the protection afforded by her neighbors' homes. This was not exactly in conformity with her idea of the ideal married life and she finally applied to the divorce court to remedy the situation by removing the cause. Accordingly a decree by default was entered by Judge Morse today dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore binding the ill-treated woman to Joseph A. Crans.

In her complaint, filed July 23, 1907, Mrs. Crane states that they were married in this city Dec. 5, 1900. One child, 14 months of age, is living with the mother at Bluff Dale, and this is the only issue of their marriage.

For over five years, she says, she has been cruelly treated by her husband, causing her much bodily injury and mental distress.

THREATENED TO KILL HER.

In April last, she declares, he threatened to kill her. She fled with her baby into another room in her house and locked herself in. Crane then tried to kick the door down, she says, and again threatened to kill her. A neighbor came in a fortunate time and restrained the irate husband. This action on his part, she says, was without provocation on her part. At the same time he used vile and abusive language toward her.

Last June he seized her, she declares, and knocked her down, brutally beating her about the head and calling her by vile and abusive names. Since the restoration in modern days, it has not changed hands, neither will it pass from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

His car was crowded with passengers en route to the fair, and notwithstanding his injuries, Erickson made two round trips before giving up. Dr. Pinkerton attended to him.

Grand Larceny Charged.—County Atty. Willard Hanson has issued a complaint sworn to by Simon T. Beck of Spring City charging J. C. Ward with grand larceny. Ward is the will who was arrested by Detective Frank Welling in the act of picking the farmer's pocket on the street and relieving him of $60 and several valuable papers. The accomplice of Ward was away from colored Officer Howell when he was aiding Wheeling in subduing Ward.

Mr. Snow says there is considerable activity in the Rio Virgin country but it will take some weeks yet before anything positive is known as to the real extent and quality of the oil discoveries.
