BREVITIES.

Courtesy begets courtesy.

Burning words, a dictionary in flames

Beauty, unaccompanied by virtue, is a flower without perfume.

"The Jonadabs" is the title of a secret society in Washington.

The best dress just now is that which has the least material in it.

Sleep is the best cure for waking troubles.

Gutta Percha wall paper is a new invention.

Drawing rooms—one of the regular apartments of a dentist.

He who loses anything and gets wisdom, is a gainer by the loss.

Where there is no heart there is no happiness, and hardly any principle.

A teacup of salt in a gallon of cream is said to keep it sweet for several days.

Misfortunes are moral bitters, which frequently restore the healthy tone of the mind.

Rest satisfied with doing well, and leave others to talk of you as they please.

The Prince of Wales is growing bald—so bald, it is said, there will soon be no hair apparent.

By reading, we enjoy the dead; by conversation, the living; and by contemplation, ourselves.

A fellow calling himself "Billy Buster," has appeared as a prize-fighter in Liverpool, though he weighs only eighty-nine pounds.

Truths are first clouds, then rain, then harvests and food. The philosophy of the one century is the common sense of the next.

Josh Billings says, "justice is not generosity; justice is jest sixteen ounces to the pound, and not a half an ounce over."

A garrulous barber, being required to shave a celebrated wit asked him, "How shall I shave you, sir?" "In silence," was the reply.

Hipockrasy is one of the vices that yu kant konvert; yu might az well undertake to git the wiggle out ov a snake, or the grease out of fat pork.

"We should be kerful how we encourage luxury; it iz but a step forward from hoe cake to plum puddin, but it iz a mile and a half, by the nearest road, when we hav tew go back agin.

A child with a proboscis like an elephant's has been born in Zanesville, Georgia.

Ground coffee burned on a stove or hot lid destroys offensive odors, even sulphuretted hydrogen.

It is often better to have a great deal of harm to happen to one than a little; a great deal may rouse you to remove what a little will only accustom you to endure.

Digby sat for a long time very attentively considering a cane-seat chair. At length he said, "I wonder what fellow took enough pains to find all of them holes, and put that straw around 'em?"

A saloon keeper in Virginia City has the following inscription conspicuously placed on the wall above his row of bottles.

"DO
WHAT
U. O.

An alderman came to Dr. Franklin, and said he had a tendency to the gout, asked what he could do to arrest it. "Take a bucket of water and a ton of coal three times a week," replied the doctor. "Why, how?" replied the alderman in astonishment. "Drink a cup of the former three times a day, and carry the latter up three flights of stairs."

"Be a whole man at everything," wrote J. J. Gurney to his son at school. "At Latin, be a whole man at Latin. At geometry or history, be a whole man at geometry or history. At play, be a whole man at play. At washing and dressing, be a whole man at washing and dressing. Above all, at meeting, be a whole man at worship."

A well known physician, in a certain city, was very much annoyed by an old lady who is always sure to accost him in the streets, for the purpose of telling over her ailments. Once she met him when he was in a very great hurry.

"Ah! I see you are quite feeble," said the doctor. "Shut your eyes and show me your tongue."

She obeyed, and the doctor, moving off, left her standing there for some time in this ridiculous position, to the infinite amusement of all who witnessed the funny scene.

There is scarcely any ache to which children are subject, so bad to bear, and so difficult to cure as ear ache. But here is a remedy never known to fail:—

Take a bit of cotton batting, put upon it a pinch of black pepper, gather it up and tie it; dip it in sweet oil and insert it in the ear. Put a flannel bandage over the head to keep it warm. It will give immediate relief.

Let a young man observe carefully a young lady's deportment at home before he asks her to become his wife. Is she kind and industrious; does she seek to lighten the cares of a weary mother; and do the younger brothers and sisters run to her with confidence and affection in all their little troubles and sorrows. Then, no doubt, she is a prize worth seeking. But if the opposite is true, then beware about trusting her with your house and happiness. "A man must ask his wife's leave whether he shall thrive or not," and a household with an indolent woman at the head, never can be a happy or prosperous one.
