

Indian Names.

BY MRS. LYDIA HUNTLEY SIGOURNEY.

How can the red men be forgotten, while so many of our States and territories, bays, lakes, and rivers, are indelibly stamped by names of their giving?

Ye say they all have pass'd away,
That noble race and brave,
That their light canoes have vanish'd
From off the crested wave;
That, 'mid the forests where they roam'd,
There rings no hunter's shout;
But their name is on your waters,
Ye may not wash it out.

'Tis where Ontario's billow
Like ocean's surge is curl'd,
Where strong Niagara's thunders wake
The echo of the world;
Where red Missouri bringeth
Rich tribute from the west,
And Rappahannock sweetly sleeps
On green Virginia's breast.

Ye say their cone-like cabins,
That cluster'd o'er the vale,
Have disappear'd as wither'd leaves
Before the autumn's gale;
But their memory liveth on your hills,
Their baptism on your shore,
Your everlasting rivers speak
Their dialect of yore.

Old Massachusetts wears it
Within her lordly crown,
And broad Ohio bears it
Amid his young renown.
Connecticut bath wreathed it
Where her quiet foliage waves,
And bold Kentucky breathes it hoarse
Through all her ancient caves.

Wachusett hides its lingering voice
Within his rocky heart,
And Alleghany graves its tone
Throughout his lofty chart.
Monadnock, on his forehead hoar,
Doth seal the sacred trust,
Your mountains build their monument,
Though ye destroy their dust.

Riddle.

I'm old as eternity or the Ancient of days;
I'm simple and plain, and speak this to my praise;
I'm ancient and modern and in every place,
But still I'm a stranger and daren't show my face.
My name is simplicity or plain natural sense;
My home men invaded and drove me far hence,
So now I'm an exile from every land,
With none to protect me and no place to stand;
But the time is approaching and very near, when
I'll take my position 'mongst other great men,
Then I'll be in fashion, admired and used
To represent ideas as people may choose.

JOHN VANCE.

April Conference.

By order of the Presidency.

A SMART GIRL.—A 'foine' young gentleman, in turning swiftly on his heel, ran his head against a young lady. He instantly put himself in a position to apologize. 'Not a word,' said the quick-witted maiden, 'it isn't hard enough to hurt anybody.' The coxcomb frowned and vanished.

IF Counsel—Now, sir, on your oath, were you not born in Pennsylvania? Witness, in a solemn tone—'Although present at the event, I swear on my oath, I have no recollection of the fact.'

IF If we all had windows in our hearts, many of us would take good care to keep the blinds closed.

Married:

In Spanish Fork City, Feb. 12, 1858, by Bishop John L. Butler, Mr. JAMES J. ADAMS and Miss MARGARET MOFFET.
