The feature of the musical part of the program was the violin playing of Master Pedersen; but the whole entertainment was so good that it is difficult to make distinctions. The work of the orchestra was very satisfactory. Prof. Pedersen is doing good work with the young musicians of All Hallows college.

CHILD AND MATCHES.

Usual Unfortunate Combination Results in Burning of Pierson Home.

The not infrequent combination of child and parlor matches again caused trouble yesterday at the Ninth North and Twelfth West street residence of William Pierson. His 13-year-old daughter struck a match to look into a closet, and then threw the lighted match down among some paper and went out, closing the door. In a few moments later the child returned to the closet, and on opening the door, a great sheet of flame burst in her face. The child was alone in the house, but had presence of mind enough to run to a neighbor's for assistance, and an alarm was given.

It was one of the longest runs ever made by the department, but the response was prompt, and the three and a half miles made in very fair time, but the house was a wreck by the time the apparatus reached there. The building and contents were valued at $1,000, partly insured in the Home Fire of this city. Mr. Pierson is a peddler, and was away from home on a business trip.

ELDER CROSBY'S REMAINS.

(Special to the "News.")
Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 22.—The remains of Lorenzo Crosby, the "Mormon" missionary who shot himself on a train approaching this city, were last night, sent to his home at Greer, Arizona, accompanied by C. A. Workman, a local Elder.
Ben. E. Rich, president of the Southern States mission, arrived here last night. Elder Rich says that Crosby shot himself while suffering from dementia. His work in the field was good, Elder Rich says, and there was absolutely no cause for the deed unless mental strain.

A telegram to President Joseph F. Smith from Elder J. G. Duffin, under date of today, says: "Elder Crosby's body shipped yesterday, care of an Elder, to La Junta, where body will be met by brother." It is presumed that from La Junta, which is in Colorado, the remains will be taken right on to Arizona.

LOOKS CLOUDY IN CARBON.

Agitator Demoli Pursuing a Course That Means Trouble in the End.

Carlo Demoli, representative of the United Mine Workers of America, is far from satisfied with the attitude of the Utah Fuel company towards the striking miners. He talks as though a resumption of hostilities is not at all out of the question. One particular thorn in his flesh is the dead-line habit in Carbon county. It will not admit of the strikers going to the postoffice for their mail. Neither are the men allowed to traverse public highways and they cannot even ride on trains into the restricted district.
"We really need the soldiers in Carbon county to control the guards," declares Demoli. "They say we cannot meet but we will show them. Wait until the trial. We are going to win this yet. Not by violence, but by patience has about been exhausted."
The strikers declare they will test the dead-line by sending men over it some day this week. The men will be prepared to fight for what they believe is right, while the guards, declaring they have orders to shoot all trespassers, say they will carry out those orders. This may lead to very serious consequences.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

The most brilliant event of Washington's birthday was the reception given at the home of Judge and Mrs. Q. W. Powers at their new home, which they have named "Lingerlonger." The beautifully finished rooms were decorated in the national colors, and palms, flowers and vines aided in the artistic effect. The hosts were assisted in receiving by a number of friends including Mrs. C. C. Goodwin, Mrs. Ellsworth, Daggett, Mrs. John Marshall, Mrs. W. Montague Ferry, Mrs. E. O. Howard, Miss Edna Kimball, Miss Mary Louise Anderson, Miss Bookkeeping and Miss Woodward. The affair was a most delightful one from all standpoints and about 500 guests were present to enjoy the notable entertainment.

ELECTRIC POWER PLANS.

Telluride Company Takes Up Beaver Canyon Project.

The prospects are that the Telluride Power & Transmission company, the greatest concern of the kind in the west, will now take hold of the Beaver canyon power project, install a plant at a cost of $600,000, and bring the current over to Milford and the west side, for use in the mines and for lighting purposes. Two engineers of the company, accompanied by W. M. White and Mayor Harris of Beaver, made a trip up the canyon last week and were most favorably impressed. The water was at its very lowest stage, as the weather was extremely cold, but a careful measurement by well at the mill showed that the flow at that point was 12,000 feet. The engineers made a thorough inspection of the canyon and will make another trip in the spring, when conditions are more favorable for an examination of the canyon. The plan is to go up to the lower end of Merchant valley and install a plant that will develop 1,000 horsepower, the estimated cost of the enterprise being $600,000. The Telluride company is operating electric plants all over the state and supplies light and power to Mercer, Bingham, Buerke, Cache valley and Utah valley. It is now conveying electric current a distance of 145 miles and the engineers state that they can take the Beaver electricity north to a connection with the Utah valley system and handle it at a profit, in case it cannot be marketed in this part of the state.

DRY ABOUT VERNAL.

Little Snow This Winter in Eastern Utah—Crop and Range Outlook Poor.

S. M. Barlow has returned from an extended business trip through the Vernal country. He says there has been only about an inch of snow over there this season, and that fell last Tuesday. The result is that the country is extremely dry, and the dust is blowing in large and unhealthy volumes. The inhabitants are viewing the outlook with eyes askance, and shake their heads ominously. There is snow up in the mountains, but not nearly as much as usual. Mr. Barlow says O and H companies of the Twelfth infantry left Fort Huachuca last Friday, to March to Price in five days, and then take the cars for San Francisco, via Salt Lake. E and P companies leave Whipple barracks and Apache via the Santa Fe, and the third battalion companies I, K, L and M leave Fort Bliss, Tex., via the Southern Pacific for the west, the entire regiment uniting at the Presidio. Mr. Barlow found several good sized corpses of horses and oxen in Utah country, laying out preliminary surveys for the Moffat road. As the result of their appearance, the people all through that region are in high feather, and are beginning to count the months to elapse before the whistle of the first locomotive shall be heard in the hills.

FROM SOCIAL, PROFESSIONAL, BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL LIFE—MORE PRAISE FOR THE FAMOUS TONIC

Paine's Celery Compound.

When Nerves Burned Out By Strain of Toil and Care

It Gave New Nerve Force.

There is more of Hope than Horror in this article on modern life.

The strain of existence today HAS its horrifying side. But no need to print it here. In offices and factories, mills and homes, in the stores, in the schools, in the drawing room, in the pulpit even, and plainest of all in the cemeteries, it is writ too large and plain to be ignored. One death in every four is from disease of nerve origin. And long before death there is dragging misery and pain. Every day, in every city, there are YOUNG men and YOUNG women who literally die of OLD AGE before they are forty years old. They burned out their Nerve force and FORGOT TO FEEL their NERVES.

Every letter printed here tells of Joy to-day where once Hope seemed faint. There is no fault in the strenuous pace itself. Nothing can make it slower. The fault is in trying to keep the pace on too small a supply of energy. Modern life burns up nerve force, just as a fast locomotive burns up coal. With a difference. The engine stops when the coal is all burned. But when the pace of modern life has burned up all the nerve force, it keeps UP THE NERVES THEMSELVES unless new nerve is supplied. This is a scientific fact. Let it throw its light upon these letters, written by men and women in all walks of life, as you read how Paine's Celery Compound saved and helped them when nervous life, burdened life and utter nervous prostration threatened.

AN AMBITIOUS WOMAN.

New York, Nov. 13, 1903. 34 W. 4th St.

"Paine's Celery Compound has been worth a thousand dollars to me. I would certainly not make that sum and give back the benefit I have received from your remedy."

"Last Spring the strain of my professional duties left me a nervous wreck. I went home, and for weeks was nursed by my mother as an absolute invalid. My digestion was very weak, and I suffered agonies from neuralgia. Our doctor said it was all due to my weakened nerves, but he was not able to make me any better."

"A girl friend who heard of my illness sent me a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, with such a cheerful, hopeful letter, telling what it had done for her, that I was encouraged to give it a serious trial."

"I took four bottles, and by the end of Summer I was well—absolutely well. My neuralgia was gone, and it has never returned. And I can eat any kind of food without fear. Not since I was a child have I felt such buoyant health and spirits. Our doctor saw me before I returned to the city, and he was astonished. 'I am happy to send you this new photograph, as a proof of the benefit I have received from Paine's Celery Compound.' (Miss) FLORENCE WORDEN."

MISS FLORENCE WORDEN.

Once a nervous wreck—Paine's Celery Compound gave her health and strength to pursue her ambitions.

When Courage Flagged and Life Lost Interest

IT GAVE THEM HEART AND HEALTH.

MR. U. B. HAYS.

His rapid advancement in the past year would have been impossible without Paine's Celery Compound.

Columbus, O., Dec. 20, 1903.

"It is now a year since I experienced the dawning of the better health that was given by Paine's Celery Compound. My nervous system was almost collapsed, and this resulted in acute stomach troubles, so severe that it would incapacitate me for work. I am a draughtsman in the Pennsylvania offices here, and do not get out very much for exercise."

"I was so reduced that I actually had to drive myself at my work. It was not only a constant draggy feeling, but I was losing energy and ambition, when I was surprised to find that your medicine from which I did not expect very much was lifting me on to my feet again."

"Very quickly I was feeling as well or better than I had ever felt, and I have enjoyed the same good health ever since. I am never without a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound in my house. It keeps up my energies, and my nerves are so strong that I can stand any amount of work."

"I have advanced rapidly this year, and am willing to admit that I could never have done it without the friendly help of Paine's Celery Compound."

C. B. HAYS, 121 Highland Ave.

You Can't Be Well If Your Nerves Are Bad.

Nervous debility causes timidity, depression, and lack of confidence for the struggle of life. Plenty of nerve insurance—self-reliance, enterprise and prosperity. Lack of success can be traced direct to a simple lack of nerve force.

There is no better foundation for permanent good health or a better preparation for coping with the hard work and taxing strain of life, than rich, red, pure blood, and plenty of it—and strong, thoroughly refreshed nerves—rest by the use of Paine's Celery Compound.

"Energy, Confidence and Health—simply matters of good vital force—'NERVE FORCE.'—Prof. E. E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D., of Dartmouth University—Famous Discoverer of Paine's Celery Compound."

NEW TEMPLE OF LABOR.

Rev. P. A. Simpkin and Others Address Audience at Opening Ceremony.

The new Temple of Labor at State and Fourth South streets was dedicated last night, by a crowd that filled the structure to overflowing. The large auditorium was decorated with the national emblem in various styles, and Rev. P. A. Simpkin of the Phillips Congregational church was given a warm welcome as the orator of the evening. He gave the address of welcome in which he said: "The workingman of today is fighting a battle just as great as that fought by Gen. Washington in the Revolution. The industrial battle is not the same, but it is for the same purpose—the rights of mankind. Thank God, we are coming to the time when we know what brotherhood means. What manhood amounts to. America will not endure because it has ten hundred millionaires, but because it has ten million industrial men and ten million intelligent women. When we demand a day's pay for a day's work, we must have the integrity to give a day's work for a day's pay. Men and women are yet working from 12 to 18 hours a day for merely enough to live upon, but conditions—thanks to trades unionism—are not what they were fifty years ago."

Mr. Simpkin was followed in response by James H. Brittain who sketched the progress of trades unionism during the last 12 years, especially in Utah, and said that "Organized labor will continue to seek the best welfare of all who have to toil for their daily bread, irrespective of creed or color. It has always placed at its head good, conservative men, whose only desire has been to keep the men at work and the children at school."

At the conclusion of the hall exercises, the crowd divided up among the different halls where various forms of entertainment were awaiting them. There was also dancing in the large hall, and the entire evening was very pleasantly spent.

The new building is a three story, pressed brick and cut stone structure, with the entrance to the upper floors on Fourth South street. The auditorium occupies half of the second floor, and the remainder of the floor as well as the entire third floor are given up to council and lodge rooms. The heating is by steam and there are all of the modern improvements. Numbers of prominent labor union men from out in the state attended last night's festivities. It was a success all round.

DISCUSSED IRRIGATION.

Utah Lake Project Debated at Meeting Held With State Engineer.

The Utah lake reservoir project was discussed yesterday at a meeting held in the office of State Engineer Doremus. Those present at the meeting were Col. E. F. Holmes, State Engineer Doremus and Thomas P. Page, representing the committee appointed at the East Jordan meeting several weeks ago; Judge H. P. Henderson, representing the North Jordan Irrigation company; Attorney A. B. Irvine, for the South Jordan Canal company; Attorney J. T. Richards for the Utah & Salt Lake Canal company; Assistant City Attorney Brainerd for the Salt Lake & Jordan Canal company. Former Senator Rawlins, who represents the East Jordan Canal company, was not present at the meeting. It was the unanimous sentiment among those present that the work should be proceeded with as soon as possible, and it is thought the owners of water rights in the lake will be able to come to an agreeable understanding as to what they will expect from the government in exchange for their rights. Another meeting will be held next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at which time the general committee will meet with the attorneys of the canal companies and also with the president of each company. It is expected that the meeting will give power to act and that some definite plan of action can be settled upon.

AN UNPLEASANT EXPERIENCE.

Has it ever been your unhappy lot to be told by your physician that you must go to a hospital and submit to an operation? If so, you remember with what dread and shrinking you awaited the day when you must endure the knife.

The present day surgeon appears to be possessed by a mania for operating, especially in cases of hemorrhoids or piles, and while the greater number of the profession do not recommend "last resort" unless they honestly believe it necessary, the fact remains that much needless operating is done, and the patient put to much expense and suffering for what?

To obtain a possible temporary relief, these words are used advisedly, because in nine cases out of ten the affliction returns and the patient is just where he started from. Oftentimes he could be cured much more simply and easily by the use of such a remedy as the Pyramid Pile Cure; this has come to be recognized as the best remedy on the market for the painful disease named, and the druggists now sell more of it than all other pile remedies combined.

The writer personally knows people who were afflicted with the worst form of bleeding and protruding piles and who were permanently cured by the use of Pyramid Pile Cure. In every one of these cases the attending physician had assured the sufferer that only by an operation could he rid himself of the disease; so much for the infallibility of the doctors.

This remedy, which is sold by all druggists at the low price of fifty cents, is in suppository form, is applied directly to the parts affected, and performs its work quietly and painlessly. The Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., will mail free to any address a book telling all about piles or hemorrhoids, their cause and cure.

A suggestion is offered that if the reader is afflicted, or knows anyone who is, this book be sent for, as it will be found invaluable.
