THIS COUNTRY AND EUROPE.

The difference between this country and the countries of the Old World is never more strikingly illustrated than in the matter of homes. There, few people ever expect to own their own roof, still fewer to ever have title to the land on which their house stands. On the contrary, in this country, any man possessed of health, energy and intelligence is sure that before many years he may not only build himself a home; but may also own the land surrounding it. Are you content to listen upon yourself and your innocent children the system of tenantry that ages of feudalism fastened upon the countries of Europe? Do you pay rent? If so, why not pay that amount upon the purchase price of a home for yourself in Forest Dale? In this delightful suburb you can buy land, build your house, and pay for it with little more exertion than is required to pay your landlord. If you rent, every dollar you drive, every weed you pull goes to improve your temporary quarters, but eventually results only in benefiting him whose tenant you are. If you buy a home, every shrub, flower or tree you plant grows for you and your children. If you have money enough, pay all cash, and get discount therefor. If you have only your wages, buy on the installment plan, paying so much each month; and your wife and children will gladly help you save rather than live in a rented house.

We have at Forest Dale the best of soil, first-class water, both from springs and artesian wells, district schools, Sunday schools and good neighbors. You may buy land by the rod, by the lot or by the acre. Depth of lots varies from 120 feet to 48 rods. No trouble to show property. Call at room 331 Constitution block, and make arrangements with my agents. Correspondence solicited.

COUNTERFEITING.

How a Most Little Scheme Was Laid in Salt Lake and Failed.

A COVETOUS CASINO CONFESSIONS.

Verdict in the Anderson-Dimondy Damage Suit The Jury Found in Favor of the Defendants.

Chief Justice Kane has been working upon the criminal calendar again today, and is making good progress with the cases for trial on the present sitting.

THE MAY ORT OFF.

Yesterday morning George Wall was sentenced to three months in the penitentiary on an indictment for adultery. The trial of his companion, Emma Hatfield, having been deferred, she was returned to the penitentiary. This morning, upon Attorney Bailey asking the court that she be released on her own recognizance, District Attorney Varian expressed his willingness that this be done, remarking that the chances were that the woman would not be required to stand trial at all.

Judge Zane directed that Mrs. Hatfield be taken before a United States commissioner with a view to her liberation on the terms named. This was at once done, and she is free again at this time.

CONFIDENTIAL.

In the case of the People vs. Frank Johnson, charged with grand larceny, larceny of a horse, Attorney J. N. Sharp presented an affidavit showing that the accused is an impotent person, and as he desired to call certain material witnesses to testify in his behalf, he asked that they be subpoenaed at the expense of the Territory. The court made the order applied for.

THE DENIAL OF COUNTERFEITING.

Attorney J. L. Taylor presented an affidavit on behalf of W. C. Alberts, one of the men indicted for counterfeiting and also for having certain apparatus for the work in his possession. It was based on the admission of one W. H. Haddock of California, by whom the prisoner stated, he expected to prove his good character, his income and his good name in Mr. Haddock's affidavit. In September, 1932, till February in the present year—a new year prior to the arrest. The affidavit also stated he expected to prove by the longer of the California house at Ogden that certain tools left there, and alleged to be for unlawful use, were some of his tools as a jeweler and watchmaker, and that Alberts came by them honestly.

District Attorney Varian opposed the application, which was refused. A jury having been sworn the accused was placed on his trial. Upon the table within the bar were laid a number of articles used in the manufacture of counterfeit coins—in fact, a complete outfit.

A few days ago a man named J. H. Patterson, plead guilty to conspiracy with Alberts and another in the work and was sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. Patterson was the principal witness at the trial this morning, for he had undergone such a transformation at the hands of the penitentiary that since his conviction he is almost unrecognizable. He told a very straight and unreserved story on the stand as to how he made Alberts' acquaintance and gave a detailed description of the method of coin manufacture, as adopted at his premises. It appeared that the man Alberts went to Patterson's store on South Temple street, between West Temple and First West, some time in March last, told him the little scheme he had in his mind, and offered, if Patterson was willing, "to let him up" that he would make money fast." Patterson replied that he was poor man and was not very thankful to receive any information that direction. The two then talked on "the higher of the day," after which Alberts left. When he next called he told Patterson of various places in California where the counterfeiting game had been successfully carried out, and suggested that Patterson store be used as a mint. The suggestion was eventually adopted and the operation specially commenced. Alberts started in with the making of plates of Paris moulds for the coating of spurious dollars, and the witness said he partly assisted in the scheme. When the coin was ready for circulation Patterson became the "outside supply." Alberts, he said, took one dollar only at a time in his pocket, and then returned to him for another, the entire supply being stored in Patterson's trunk. This precaution was taken, he stated, so that in the event of Alberts being arrested while in the act of passing the money only one dollar should be found upon him.

In answer to Attorney Taylor, Patterson said he was a railroad man for twenty years, but since he had been a convict he had been in and out of the penitentiary for five years, but he had not followed that employment to any extent. He had since done a variety of things in order to obtain a livelihood. He came to Salt Lake a year or so ago and opened a telephone booth in the city for the instruction of babies and children, but after a month he found there was no money in it and gave it up. He desired that he had been an entire failure for several years past, but said that owing to his being afflicted with rheumatism he had found it uphill work to get along. It was not true that he had been directed the counterfeiting plan in order to get into the penitentiary and to there "make some cash."

Mr. Taylor—Don't you consider yourself an intelligent man?

Patterson—I cannot say I am, positively. If I was I would not be in the position now. (Laughter.)

Witness admitted that he had to sit down at some place with spurious dollars in his pocket while Alberts went away with the coin a time passed the coin and then returned for another. He (Patterson) tried to pass one of them and was arrested.

Mr. Taylor—How do you feel humbly relative to the West, and, if you were not here, would you wish to go?

Patterson—I refuse to answer that question. I have some nice relatives and I don't wish to expose them.

Judge Zane said that the witness need not answer if he did not wish to do so.
