

SOCIAL CHAT

The week has been a rather quiet one as might be expected through the continuance of Lent, and the next promises little more in the way of social entertainment. After Easter it is expected there will be an overflow of social affairs as a relaxation from the Lenten abstinence.

The most elaborate event of the week was the social affair at the McDonald home, celebrating the seventy-fifth birthday of Mr. John McDonald. The luxurious home was bright with a profusion of vases and flowers, and the house was decorated with the most elaborate of decorations for which the entertainers have long been noted as served, the table being a picture with its rich vases and elaborate garniture. Afterward an evening of pleasure was enjoyed, addresses, music and recitations enlivening the time. Among the guests present were President Joseph F. Smith and a number of the Apostles of the Latter-day Saints Church.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Sloan entertained a number of their friends on Tuesday night, the occasion being their wedding anniversary. A pleasant time was spent with music and recitations and refreshments were served. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hess, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Meakin, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Schluter, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brady, Mr. and Mrs. E. Waples, Mr. and Mrs. George Reynolds, Mr. H. J. Rivers, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Busby, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Morris, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Tensdale, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rothman, Miss Chesley Cornish, Miss May Dyer, Mr. Henry Coulern, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse White, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Brown.

The Strollers' club issued invitations during the week for a dance to be given immediately after Easter for the benefit of the university gymnasium. All the societies of the University of Utah will help in the arrangements for the affair, and the students from both High schools will give an exhibition drill.

One of the prettiest affairs of the week was the card party given on Wednesday by Mrs. H. G. Brockman in honor of Mrs. De Wolf of Beaver. The Easter idea was carried out in the decorations, lilies and white carnations being effectively used with ferns. The amusement was cards and the scores and tallies were in the prevailing idea. Prizes were won by Mrs. W. S. Henderson and Mrs. H. A. Schweikhart, and present besides these and the guest of honor were Mrs. C. E. Doble, Mrs. Frank Roberts, Mrs. C. E. Richards, Mrs. Howard S. Stowe, Mrs. Thomas Marionaux, Mrs. George W. Snow, Mrs. William Clark, Miss Geneva Clark, Mrs. A. A. Moulton, Mrs. J. Gleason, Mrs. Hudson and Mrs. J. A. Nelson.

On Tuesday Mrs. H. G. McMillan entertained at an exceedingly pretty luncheon, her guests numbering 15. The decorations were in green and white, the centerpiece being a large green basket filled with Easter lilies, and lilies of the valley and ferns being strewn over the cloth.

Miss Edith Grant entertained this afternoon at her home in honor of Miss Anna and Mary Grant, who leave on Monday for Europe. About 40 of their girl friends were present to enjoy the event.

The usual informal hop was given at the post last night and the next will take place after Easter.

Mrs. George Sutherland entertained the club at her home yesterday.

Misses George and Pearl Savage gave a delightful party last night in honor of Miss Darlene Buckingham. The rooms were prettily decorated, and a large number of their friends were present.

The Billie club gave their dancing party at Saltair last night and the affair was much enjoyed by those who participated.

At Unity hall last night the Royal Arcanum gave its annual dance, the event being an enjoyable one in every way.

Mrs. W. W. Hall entertained the 500 club on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Eason entertained at cards on Monday night, the amusement being bridge whist. The rooms were prettily decorated, the hall in deep red carnations, the parlor in ferns, and the dining room in violets, while the tallies and refreshments carried out the Easter idea, the scores being in the shape of eggs, with gold stars for counters. About 30 guests were present.

Mrs. J. E. Caine was hostess at an informal tea on Monday, given in honor of her sister, Mrs. Guy Palmer. The room was brightly decorated with flowers and the event was a delightful one.

The entertainment given by the Unity quartet on Tuesday night at the Unity hall was successful in all details.

Miss Temple Broyer celebrated her birthday anniversary in an informal evening party at the home of her sister, Mrs. G. G. Calvert, the time being enjoyably spent with music and other social pastimes. About 15 were present.

On Wednesday Mrs. Guy Palmer was guest of honor at a Kensington given at the Post by Mrs. Brant Wells.

Tonight the old-fashioned ball and social to be given by the Author's club for the benefit of the U. of U. gymnasium takes place in the museum building, and everything promises a successful event.

The closing Wednesday night solertook place this week at Christensen's and a large number were present to enjoy this final affair of the season.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. Edward Moore and Miss Pinkerton were hostesses at an enjoyable party given in honor of Miss Darlene Buckingham, the affair being in the nature of a "gossip party." The guests were each given a conversation card with a subject assigned for gossip, and prizes were awarded the best talkers. The rooms were prettily decorated in green and white and about 10 guests were present.

WEDDING BELLS

A quiet but pretty wedding was that of Miss Claudia Schofield and Robert L. McRoberts on Monday night, the ceremony being performed at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, with Rev. C. E. Perkins officiating. The rooms were simply decorated in spring flowers, and the relatives and near friends were present. The bride wore a dainty gown of white Paris muslin.

Mrs. POTTER PALMER.

MAY MARRY TITLED BRITON.

It is believed that Mrs. Potter Palmer is on the verge of engagement to the Hon. Sir Schomberg McDonnell, K. C. B., whose attentions to the handsome widow are generally remarked. Sir Schomberg is the fifth son of the late Earl of Antrim and brother of the present earl. He is forty-five years old and was for many years principal private secretary to the late Marquis of Salisbury, who, on his retirement, appointed him secretary to the public works commission, a post worth $7,500 a year.

and was unattended. Mr. and Mrs. McRoberts will make their home in Chicago.

Another interesting bridal event of the week was the wedding of Miss Sadie Merrill and Mr. Frank G. White, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride at 8 o'clock by Rev. W. M. Paden. The rooms were bright with a profusion of flowers and greens, the predominant tints being yellow and white. The bride wore a charming gown of white net over silk, and carried roses. She was attended by Miss Florence Street and Miss Grace Merrill, and the best man was Mr. Gwinn Officer. Mr. and Mrs. White will be absent about a month on their wedding trip, after which they will be at home at 921 First street.

The date set for the marriage of Miss Darlene Buckingham and B. L. Kemper of Omaha is Wednesday, April 26.

A pretty wedding was that of Miss Libbie Boothie and Albert H. Dahl, the ceremony being performed by Patriarch Angus M. Cannon, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Saxman, 35 West Fifth South. The bride was dressed in all white of champagne color over silk tulle. She carried brides' roses. Miss Pickering was bridesmaid, and wore white organdie and carried pink carnations. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Norman Dahl of Logan, Utah. The bride was given away by her grandfather, Mr. Mort G. Taylor. The parlor was decorated in pink and green, there being a canopy of smilax and ferns from which hung a wedding bell, under which the bride and groom stood. The background was formed of palms. Punch was served in the back parlor, which was decorated in red and green. Miss Rosie Brooks played the wedding march from Lohengrin, and during the ceremony the Mandelstam "Singing Society" was played very softly. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. C. S. Cammann of St. Anthony, Ida. The groom is a popular young man of Logan. They will make their home in Salt Lake.
