

Utah's Famous Tabernacle Choir Having a Jolly Time on Its Trip

DETRAINING AT HUNTINGTON AND VOTING NOT TO STOP AT BOISE EN ROUTE HOME.

J. T. Dunbar, writing from Portland to the "News," tells of the success of the trip of the choir in the following letter:

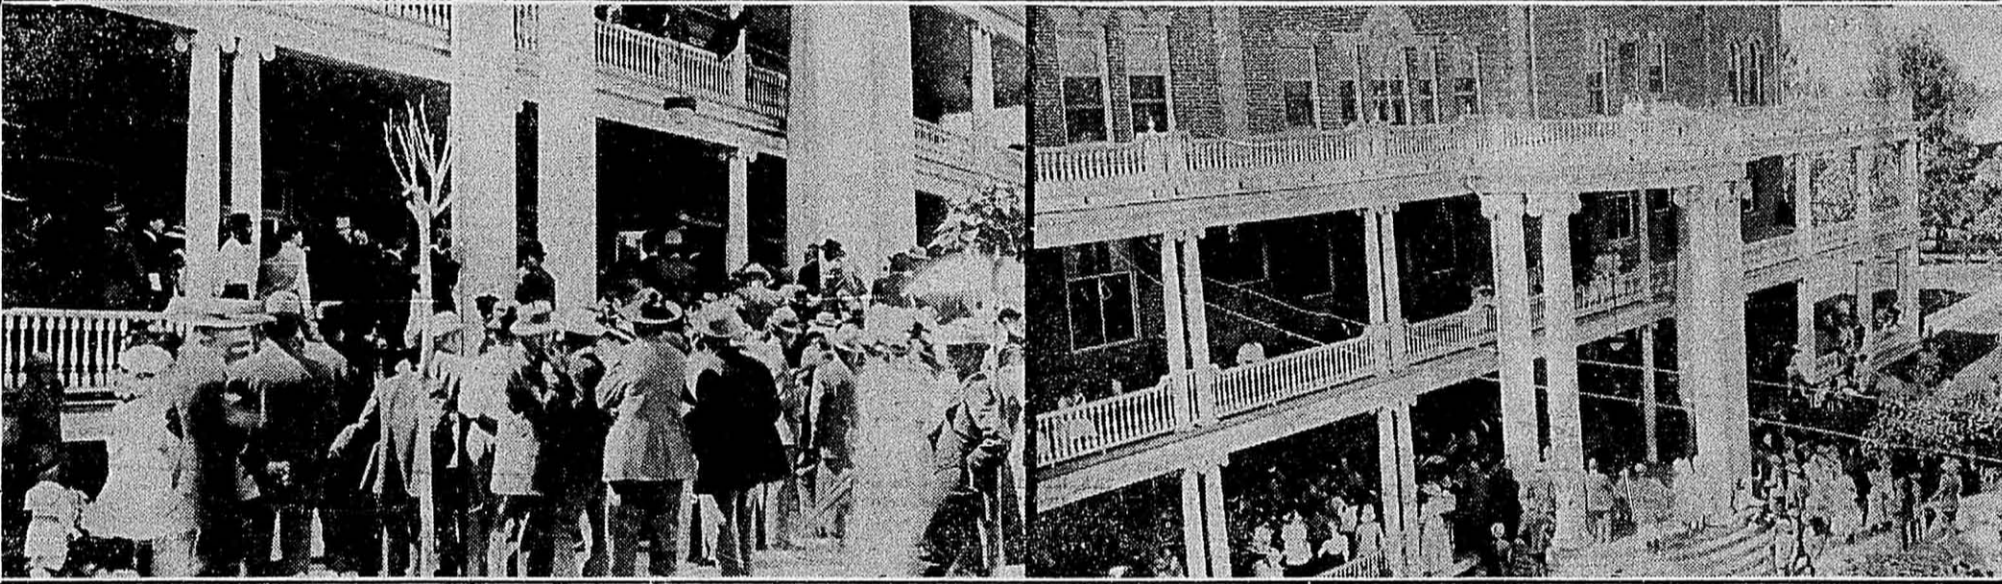

From the time the choir's special pulled out of Salt Lake, nothing but joy and sociability has been manifest. Having left one of the members running for the train in Salt Lake was a forgotten incident upon the receipt of information stating that the unfortunate one would join us at Baker City. At Nampa, Mayor Dewey, President Chapman of the Chamber of Commerce and other prominent citizens did everything possible to entertain the choir during their short stay at Nampa. The freedom of the city and the Dewey Palace hotel were tendered the choir. Nampa claims a population of 5,000, a $250,000 hotel, a $500,000 sugar factory and other large enterprises. Mayor Dewey is a man of resource and energy. After a very pleasant sojourn, he invited the entire choir to be his guests at his hotel on their return trip. Leaving Nampa amid cheers, the special commenced its journey towards Baker City, Or. Following an oppressive and uninteresting ride of six hours, Baker City was reached. Here the choir hustled for supper and rummaged bookstores, drug stores and other such places for postcards to send to the "folks at home." At 9 o'clock an impromptu musical program was given at the depot. The streets adjoining were thronged with people as were the porches and cars. The train left for La Grande Sunday night at 10 o'clock, arriving about midnight. The singers were able to have a good night's rest and were prepared to give a good account of themselves at Monday night's concert. The day's program commenced at 10 a. m., when the saints under the direction and able management of the presidency of the stake, F. S. Brainwell, George Stoddard and Joseph R. Price, entertained the entire choir at breakfast at the old amusement hall near the new stake tabernacle. Here an army of young women under the direction of A. S. Geddes, with smiles and good will, fed the large crowd with everything one could wish for. At 1 o'clock automobiles were provided by the citizens of La Grande, irrespective of creed, and until 5 o'clock in the afternoon the choir enjoyed a tour over the valley and were shown the points of interest of beautiful La Grande. Prominent among the places visited were the plant of the Palmer Lumber company, which turns out about 125,000 feet of lumber per day and the Nibley mills at Perry. Many of the visitors were entertained at private homes. Prof. Stephens, Lizzie Thomas Edward, Joseph E. Taylor and David Smith were entertained by A. S. Geddes. Prof. McClellan, Alfred Best and J. D. Giles were entertained by Dr. F. E. Moore. Presidents Brainwell, Stoddard and Price and Dr. Hubbard also entertained members of the choir. Following a day of pleasure long to be remembered, the concert in the stake tabernacle was a fitting finale of a most eventful day. Long before the concert started the hall and entrances were crowded and when the "Hosanna" was sung every seat was taken and hundreds were turned away. After the concert the singers went to the train and chatted with companions until the train pulled out for Portland, where the singers arrived at 12:15 the next day. After dinner in Portland the officials of the choir were banqueted at the Commercial club as guests of Tom Richardson, while the members were entertained at the "Oaks" and "Council Crest" by the Portland Light & Railway company. The banquet at the Commercial club was enjoyed by all present. The contest music quartet furnished the music and speeches were made by A. H. Denvers and President Chapman of the club. The trip of the choir to "Council Crest" was the crowning event of the journey up to that time. Climbing hills through forests of pines and beholding beautiful gardens laden with flowers of every description and variety, inhaling their delightful perfume and finally arriving at "Council Crest," it was indeed a day long to be remembered. At this point there is an observatory from which the eye takes in at a glance a panoramic view of one of the most beautifully situated cities of America with Mt. Hood in the far distance covered with a cap of snow. At night the concert was given in the Baker theater before an audience of 1,400 people. Fully 1,000 were turned away, but those who heard the choir heard the best work the choir has done on the trip. Every number of the program was given and every soloist and the entire choir acquitted themselves with honor and glory. Perhaps the song most heartily applauded was "The Gypsy Sweetheart," by Horace S. Engsign and choir. The audience was responsive and made up of the musical people of Portland. They were loth to go after the last number, and Prof. Stephens led the choir in "Farewell Home, Love and America," in addition to the regular program. Everybody was happy over the success of the choir.

HENRY TRIBE DEAD.

Through Error of Information Name Of G. H. Tribe Was Published.

Through an error in information, the death of Mr. Tribe, which occurred yesterday, was said to be that of G. H. Tribe, a sketch of whose life was given. It transpires that the death was that of Henry Tribe, who for many years was a well known commission merchant of Salt Lake and Ogden. His death occurred at his home, 56 south First West street, and the cause of death was general debility. Prayer service will be held in the Fourteenth ward on Sunday between the hours of 10:30 and 11:30, after which the body will be taken to Ogden, where funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. in the Third ward meetinghouse. The remains may be viewed at the residence, 56 south First West street, from 9 to 10:30 o'clock, Sunday morning.

Henry Tribe was born at Ham, near Arundel, Sussex, England, Sept. 24, 1837. When he left school he acted as page to the Hon. James Josiah Millard, under-sheriff of London. He held this position until 1854, when he emigrated to America with his father and mother. The party landed at New Orleans and went to St. Louis, where he worked as waiter at the Bartling House. Through the early death of his father, the duty of keeping the family developed on the young man, who went to Atchison, Kan., where he cut and hauled logs to build the first houses in that city.

From Atchison he came to Salt Lake with the Livingston and Drake outfit team in 1855. Investing in a yoke of oxen and a wagon he hauled wood from the canyons, until he was employed by Mr. Ransohoff, a Salt Lake merchant. He was also employed by Z. C. M. J. from 1869 to 1877, and on leaving that firm he went into the commission business. He was always a consistent and active member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. He is survived by a wife, son and daughter in Salt Lake, and a wife, son and two daughters in Ogden.

DEATH OF ANGUS ALSTON.

Promising Young Business Man Succumbs to Hemorrhage of Lungs.

Angus Alston, a promising young business man, died at his home, 1278 East Bryan avenue, at 2:30 yesterday afternoon of hemorrhage of the lungs. He had been ailing for some time past, but was confined to his bed for about two weeks. He leaves a wife and a year-old baby, besides his parents and five brothers. His youngest brother Clinton is now absent on a mission to England. Mr. Alston was born in Dover, Sanpete county, Dec. 5, 1884, and was the son of Christopher Alston and Annie C. Smith. When he was 6 years old his parents moved to Salt Lake, locating in Sugarhouse ward, where they have since resided. Two years ago he married Miss Hattie Robinson, and was at one time employed in the office of the county recorder. He was also accountant in the Utah National bank and held a similar position with other firms of the city. His choir leader in Emerson and Sugarhouse wards. The funeral will be held at the Emerson ward chapel Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, services being conducted by Prof. Charles Kent. The body may be viewed at the family home Sunday between the hours of 11 a. m. and 1 p. m. Interment will be in the city cemetery.

FUNERAL OF WM. WAYMAN.

Funeral services were held yesterday at the South Cottonwood meetinghouse over the body of William Wayman, who died Wednesday as the result of an accident on the farm of Fred Clark. The services were conducted by Bishop Milo Andrus, and brief addresses were made by a number of friends of the deceased. There was a large attendance and the body was interred in the South Cottonwood cemetery.

OBSEQUIES OF IDA LYON.

Impressive Services Conducted by Bishop of Eighth Ward.

The funeral of Miss Ida Lyon, who died suddenly last Tuesday evening after being taken to the hospital, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Mae Angus, 15 East Fifth South street, and were impressive in character. The services were conducted by Bishop Hunter of the Eighth ward, who also spoke, with T. A. Williams and Charles W. Hardy, of the sweetness and simplicity of the life of the young woman, and the lessons to be derived therefrom. The floral offerings were beautiful. Mrs. J. K. Hardy sang "O Love Divine," the other songs being "Light After Darkness" and "The Day is Ended" by the ward quartet. Interment was in the city cemetery.

EOGNIZES KENWORTHY.

Postal Inspector Lowe Visits Man Who Threw Rock at Him.

Inspector C. D. Lowe of the postoffice yesterday visited James Kenworthy, who threw the huge rock at him through the glass door of his office, and recognized him as the man who called on him about three weeks ago and asked about $15,000 he had coming. At that time he was given the address of the inspector at Denver, who has charge of the Wyoming offices, where the man alleged his money was coming from. He also said that Dr. Sawyer of Evanston owed him money, and this developed the fact that he had become acquainted with the doctor when he was an inmate of the Wyoming hospital for the insane. A complaint was made out yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Axel Taylor charging Kenworthy with insanity.

LEO L. LEVIN.

Leo L. Levin, the popular young advertising man who has for the past three years been connected with the Salt Lake Herald, has accepted the position of manager of Goodwin's Weekly, in which all wish him well. Mr. Levin is quite a favorite among business men, and in fact is the only man in the old Herald advertising department who was retained on the Herald-Republican. He leaves the Herald as a greater opportunity, and his ability will undoubtedly soon make itself manifest.

Vital Strength

comes from proper food. If you want to be ready for opportunities, food that is quickly absorbed by the blood and stored up in the brain, nerves and muscles as vital energy, must be made a part of your regular routine.

Suppose you try GRAPE-NUTS with cream for breakfast. Eat slowly and note the comfortable feeling of vitality that "stays with you" till noon.
