IMPORTANT TO THE TRAVELING PUBLIC.

It is the duty of all persons before starting on a journey to ascertain by what route they can reach their destination with the least trouble, and if there are two or more roads leading to the same point, to decide which is the safest and pleasantest to travel.

We take pleasure in stating, that the CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY is the oldest, and several miles the shortest, route between Omaha and Chicago. Within the past two years the road bed has been put in admirable condition, and almost the entire line has been re-laid with steel rails.

The Depot in Chicago is centrally located, and as their trains arrive there thirty minutes in advance of all other lines, passengers can always be sure of making Eastern connections.

Close connections are made at Chicago with the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Michigan Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago, Kankakee Line and Pan Handle Routes, for all points EAST and SOUTH-EAST.

If you are going to Chicago, or East, you should, by all means, purchase your tickets on the Old Pioneer Route—

The Chicago and North-Western.

You will find on all through trains Pullman Sleepers, new and magnificent Day Coaches, and the best Smoking and Second Class Cars now on any road in the United States.

Particular information with maps, time tables, etc., may be had at any of the Through Ticket Offices in the West, or upon personal or written application to J. W. Irons, Ticket Agent, Salt Lake City, A. H. Earl, Ticket Agent at Ogden, or to J. H. Mountain, Western Traveling Agent, Omaha, Neb. or to W. H. Stennett, General Passenger Agent, Chicago. d54

DON'T BE IMPOSED UPON!!!—H. Reiser, opposite the Herald Office, has Watches and Clocks for all who want reliable timepieces. Repairing done on short notice. Everything warranted. d80

EVENING NEWS.

Thursday, - September 16, 1875.

Local and Other Matters.

THERMOMETER 80 degrees F in the shade at 1 p.m. to-day. Fine, some clouds.

Pleasant.—Very pleasant since the rain. The best time of the year is now and nowabout.

A Nuisance.—The water from a spout, erected north of the Temple Block, for filling sprinkling carts, is overflowing the street, and thereat the residents in that locality are complaining.

In Time for Conference.—We learn that President D. H. Wells and the brethren accompanying him on the southern trip will get back to the city on the 4th or 5th of October.

Flighty Talk.—Brooklyn invented the flighty phrase of the white-souled Elizabeth, and, not to be behind hand in fulsome highfalutin, the ringites talk about the high-souled McKean.

Accident.—Yesterday a carpenter, named Grant, in the employ of Mr. William Paul, Sen., accidentally fell, while at work, at the Naisbitt house, 20th Ward, and broke a couple of his ribs.

A Promising Entertainment.—Madame Le Vert's readings at the Presbyterian Church, this evening; don't forget, if you wish a rich intellectual and social treat, fraught with interesting reminiscences of society in the New and Old Worlds.

That's Right.—We understand that the Utah Southern, Utah Central and Utah Northern railroads are making arrangements to carry the country people attending the approaching Conference at reduced rates. The Conference will open on October 6th, at 10 a. m., in the New Tabernacle.

Fruit Raising.—Fruit raising is extending to nearly all the settlements of the Territory. This morning Bro. John S. Hacking, of Cedar Fort, Cedar Valley, Utah Co., brought to the office some good specimens of apples, plums and pears raised there this season, by himself, and other orchards in the settlement are doing well.

Kicked.—Yesterday a lad, named Ed. Edwards, resident of the 6th Ward, got too close to the heels of a sprightly young colt, which kicked him in the upper part of the thigh, knocking him down and injuring him so that he had to be taken home in a conveyance. No bones were broken.

Luscious.—To-day Mark Lindsey laid on our table a basket of Old Mission (California) grapes, raised without irrigation, at his gardens. They are of goodly flavor, and Mark's success in the grape line should encourage the people living above the irrigating ditch to cultivate that kind of fruit.

Bound Over.—Yesterday afternoon the preliminary examination of Phil. Kohlheyer, before Justice Raleigh, on a charge of cattle stealing, closed, resulting in his being bound in $1,000, to await the action of the grand jury. The required sureties were given and he was released.

Oliver Shafer, charged with complicity in the same affair, was discharged.

Belligerent.—Yesterday "Sailor Jack" was having a dispute with one of the "boys in blue," when the old "salt" told the man of war that a footbridge on which he was standing was his ground, and, planting his foot firmly, and doubling up his huge fist, he gave him a pressing invitation to knock him off that spot. The soldier bristled up to him several times, but, eyeing the determined attitude and immense fist of "Jack," concluded that worthy carried too many guns for him, so he retreated in good order, after receiving a broadside of expletives from the enraged mariner.

The Reason Why.

SALT LAKE CITY,
Sept. 16th, 1875.

Editor Deseret News:

I am in some what of a quandary. It seems a kind of anomaly to me how persons can become so utterly lost to every principle of manhood, truth, justice, honesty and decency as the members of the anti-"Mormon" clique, who invent and publish the most barefaced, spiteful and malignant lies, knowing them to be falsehoods, concerning the great majority of the people of Utah and their religious leaders. How can it be possible that men can sink so low as to engage in such disreputable business without abhorring themselves for their own unmitigated meanness, which, one would readily suppose, could not very easily be surpassed by the devils of the infernal region?

MARVEL.

Our correspondent asks a question, to which, we suppose, he desires an answer. The reason why such creatures as he alludes to can devote themselves to the contemptible business in which they appear to take pleasure without "abhorring" themselves, seems clear enough, it being self-evident that some people's chief delight is in "loving and making a lie," and if they can make and love a lie it does not appear at all unlikely that they can esteem the source from which this chief element of their pleasure emanates—themselves.

The existence of such persons, too, is not an anomaly, any more than is the existence of good and evil, of God and devil.

We hope "Marvel" will not allow his equanimity to be disturbed over the persons he alludes to; man, being a free agent, chooses the good or the bad, the magnanimous or the contemptible, the noble or the debased, the true or the false, and if such individuals choose the element that is opposed to good, that being congenial to them, that is their look out, and they are but working out a destiny for which they are probably well fitted. Their operations in this life can do no permanent injury to those who choose the good and the true, but otherwise. Evil existing and operating, in some of its phases, only tends to purify those who are determined to travel the other road.

Our Country Contemporaries.

Beaver Enterprise, Sept. 11—

On Thursday evening, some soldiers from Fort Cameron who had been "looking on the ruby" several times too often, got into a row on Main St., and had a first-class time. Knives were drawn and blood was spilt; one soldier's throat was cut and two others were stabbed—neither fatally, we learn.

In the case of Colton, indicted for "lascivious cohabitation" (with his wife), the panel was exhausted yesterday, with only six jurors obtained, and these were relieved till Monday next. Colton is out of luck; if he wants to commit adultery he should let it be be with some one besides his wife, and then no complaints would be made.

Yesterday, a little boy who had broken his arm was taken to Dr. Herbert's office for treatment, but that gentleman declined rendering any assistance, alleging that he was not now practising and had not the necessary implements. The boy was then taken to Dr. Jones, who also declined, and afterwards to Dr. Notson, who, in the absence of the required fee, refused to perform the work. Finally Dr. Christian was applied to, who promptly attended to the little sufferer and gave him all the relief possible. Dr. C. did not ask whether there was "any money in it;" but seeing that the boy was suffering and in need of aid, he gave it, and let the matter of dollars and cents remain as an after consideration. We have no disposition to criticise the action of the other three medical gentlemen—they know their business and pursue it in their own way; this article is principally for the purpose of praising Dr. Christian, who is all his name implies, and a skilful practitioner, a benefactor and a gentleman besides. Let those who may require the service of an M. D. now or hereafter not forget this.

CAN A DEAD MAN GROAN?—Dr. E. Holland writes as follows on this subject in the British Medical Journal: "The possibility and probability alike of such a circumstance as the utterance of a groan after somatic death are sufficiently heterodox to ordinary credence to induce me to record the fact of my having, in connection with others, heard a veritable dead man groan. J. B., aged 57, committed suicide by hanging. After he had been very effectually suspended for an hour, he was cut down by me and two others. As the double rope was slackened from the neck, air escaped from the thorax through the larynx, and a prolonged rather loud groan was the consequence. The two men who assisted me exclaimed: 'He ain't dead;' and I, for the moment, fell in with their views, ripped open his clothes, and practiced artificial respiration; but I soon noted that there was not the slightest attempt at respiration; that the heart was still to the eye, hand and ear, and that his well opened eyes were glazed as only a dead man's eyes glaze, and that the dilated pupils were insensible to strong light. He was certainly dead, and dead from the first, and the groan we all heard had, I imagine, the following causation: The suicide braces his body for the final throe by taking in a deep breath; and, when hanging is the method adopted, the constriction of the air passages is too immediate and effectual to allow the air to escape; but, when the rope is relaxed, the lungs and thorax contract with sufficient force to occasion a groan, even an hour after death."
