

TELEGRAPHIC, DESTROYED AGAIN.

A City in Persia Recently Blown
After an Earthquake.

TWELVE THOUSAND KILLED.

Great Suffering among the survivors—
Intensity Cold Weather—Much
Cattle Perished.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The Times has a dispatch from Teheran, capital of Persia, stating the town of Kermanshah, in the province of Kermanshah, which was destroyed by an earthquake fifteen months ago, and which was subsequently rebuilt, was again destroyed by an earthquake shock on Thursday last.

There was, as at the previous occasion, great loss of life. One hundred women who were in a little house were crushed to death by the falling building. The weather was extremely cold, and the intense cold was the salvation of the survivors, whose houses were destroyed.

The dispatch adds that between destructions were lost at Meshed with three days' sleep or less, shock, and a week's want of sufficient strength to do any damage.

Kuchan lies at the foot of the Alborz Mountains, a mountain 11,200 feet in height. The town, which is about eight miles northwest of Meshed, is 100 feet above sea level. It is an important place, containing a large number of inhabitants.

The population prior to the earthquake of 1888, which destroyed every house in the place, was between 25,000 and 30,000. The official report of the disaster places the number of houses killed at 15,000. Fifty thousand head of cattle perished in the valley at the head of which Kuchan is situated.

From Nov. 10 to 17 there were 127 distinct shocks. It was the first shock that destroyed the town.

THE WAR IN CHINA.

Views Expresses by Rev. George F. Huntington in that Country.

BURMA, Jan. 20.—The American Ambassador, Mr. T. C. M. Lang, has congratulated the Chinese, knowing the value of his opinion in the war between China and Japan, has submitted an expression of them from the Rev. Henry Huntington, D. D., of Peoria, who has been many years in the service of the Chinese, and is now very interested in the Chinese. In many cases, nearly of late, the most difficult questions for the war prevail, even the toys and girls in their schools practice military units.

"Among the common people of China very little is known regarding either the cause of the war or the basic causes in the progress, and the world outside of China, especially in America, is ignorant of the situation. In Japan, on the contrary, everything which occurs and some things which do not occur are published in their numerous newspapers, and the other nations of the world have a very clear idea of the Chinese. In many cases, nearly of late, the most difficult questions for the war prevail, even the toys and girls in their schools practice military units."

"We were coming down the river and making good time. I was to the pilot house when he said, 'Pilot, we are coming up to the mouth of the river.' When I reached the cabin door I noticed the boat heading too much toward shore, so I thought and supposed it was the master. At that time Mr. Gresham, of Cheyenne, Wyoming, who had been in charge of the situation, the same day, came up. How can't we stop? I told him I eaten a plum and jump when the water comes."

"Gresham jumped and was the first man to jump. He was followed by a score more, jumping overboard with a line and tied it to the bow of the boat, and so we were in the river. I saw my boat was sinking and helped to lower the boats and assisted in getting the passengers off the boat. The steamer was running fast and I went to the upper deck, waiting to get her until help came. In less than four minutes my boat had gone down over her upper deck and I was kept deep in water. I jumped and began swimming, and when I got to the upper deck, waiting for the boat to come, who was right and signaling her, she caught me by the hand. I finally caught this boat and saw him go down to the bottom."

"Just as I reached shore I heard a loud roar, and a great flame and saw the boat go down. I swam to the boat and then I knew the boat had failed. When I looked around, I saw a crowd with people who had been saved. I told them the boat had gone down and some of them were dead."

CHINCHILLA, Jan. 20.—The big Chinchorre River, in the state of Michoacan, which flows into the Oaxaca River, has burst its banks, inundating the Oaxaca River near Allende, about 60 miles last evening and went down in fifty feet of water. The water is heavy and rapid, and four or five hours ago it came from the hot springs of the Pumpana country, payable February 1st.

HAWAIIAN REBELLION.

Excellencies in the Hawaiian Islands given.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—The rise and fall of the queen's popularity in Hawaii has created a general state of excitement in this city. The chamber of commerce held a special meeting yesterday and forwarded a telegram to Secretary Gresham, urging him to send a wire to the queen before he left, learned that Gresham had already ordered the Philadelphia to sail the Atlantic.

What will be the result of these? We believe they will be successful. The treaty power must pass, and we hope their influence to ensure it. China is ready for peace, even if humiliating terms. Japan, respecting the former question, are not yet decided, may be, but are very anxious in Pekin and great terms of peace are to be accepted.

Yes these terms may be somewhat difficult to find, they involve the interests of European powers, as well as those of China and Japan. The Chinese upper ports of the coast were closed to foreign shipping, and the Chinese government has no right to do so. What must be done is to have Vladivostok, a port which is closed up for months under the year, as the terminus of this railway as soon as possible. What can be done is to have the Chinese government open another port further south, which would be easier, and which would be a part of China.

But this would be a part of China.
