AN EXPERIENCE IN THE YOSEMITE.

Mrs. Johns Falls into the Crevasse Back of Sentinel Rock.

SUSPENDED ON A LEDGE.

Too Weak to Speak, She Made Signs That She Lived-Finally Resened.

Yosemite Valley, Cal., July 14.-Mrs. Johns of New York city, who has beer staying in the valley for a few days, was found this morning in a steep crevasse back of Sentinel dome. Yesterday Mrs. Johns started from Glacier Point hotel to walk to the Fissures, located some two miles from the hotel. Mr. Lewis, the manager of the hotel, cautioned her against going too far without a guide, and admonished not to remain after daylight began to fall as there was grave danger of losing the trail. Last night Mrs. Johns did not return and Mrs. Lewis realized that something had happened. Only a short time before Mr. Garren, of San Francisco had missed his way over the trails and nothing we heard of him until the next afternoon. No trace of the missing woman was found last night. Early this morning the searching parties started out again, one of them making a discovery that filled the spectators with harror. Far down one of the sides of the Sentinel fissures. whose crevases dropped down in some places for thousands of feet, suspended on a ledge that jutted out from the steep side of the narrow canon, the al-most lifeless form of Mrs. Johns was found by Mr. Potter, a hotel clerk. She was too weak to speak but was able by feeble signs to make Mr. Potter know that she still lived. After trying in vain to work his way down the mountain side to her Mr. Potter was forced to return to the hotel for more help.

companied the relief party and will ren-der any assistance possible when Mrs. Johns has been rescued. The relief party found Mrs. Johns' position to be critical in the extreme. A closer examination showed that her escape from a frightful death had been nothing less than miraculous. She had fallen a distance of 300 feet from the rim of the crevasse walls and had par-tially stayed her fall by catching at juniper bushes and sarub cedar trees, through whose branches she had

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine Cured Me.

A man named Terry, now in the government service, had made an affidavit before the inspectors alleging that Masten, while chief clerk to the first assitant postmaster general, proposed that Terry pay him $50 down and $8 or $10 a month to secure reinstatement in a former position in Masten's bureau. Terry urges that he was originally a $600 employe in the dead letter office; that he was removed under an order of Masten and put into the city postoffice; that he protested, and finaly that Masten suggested his getting an outside party, a close friend of Masten and a former employe of the postal service, to help him.

The ailidavit alleges that Masten gave Terry assurance that if he paid the amount mentioned he could get back; that he went to Masten's house about the matter but did not pay the money. Terry charges that subsequently he made an affidavit, making these charges, and handed in to Mas-ten to present to First Assistant Postmaster General Johnson and that the affidavit did not reach Johnson. Acording to the charges, Masten subse-uently was asked by Terry for the affiavit and he refused to return it and 'erry thereupon placed the information efore the civil service commission which took up the matter with the

A GREAT RAILWAY SCHEME. A Frenchman Wants to Build Trans-Alaskan-Siberian Road.

San Francisco, July 15.—M. Loiciq Lobet, member of the Geographical society of Paris is here. He has con-ceived the idea of building a trans-Alaskan-Siberian railroad and thereby affording an all-rail route from New York to Paris, shifting the commercia axis from the Suez canal to Bering straits. In 1898 Lobet visited Alaska on a scientific mission and it was there he first thought of the great scheme that has since interested many wealthy men of Europe and resulted in the for-mation of a big company, which he says, has pledged him ample funds to carry it out. It is now making a tour of the world in the interest of this railroad scheme and it is this motive that has brought him to San Francisco.
