LAWMAKERS TO LOGAN TOMORROW

Will be Guests of the Agricultural College for the Whole of The Day.

WARM WELCOME AWAITS THEM

A Special Train Will Leave the Depot At 8 A. M. - Return Will be in Time To Catch Late Street Cars.

After short sessions this afternoon both branches of the Legislature will adjourn till tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, when they will meet at the Oregon Short Line depot, en route to Logan. A special train has been arranged and the trip will be made in good time, going and returning. During the day the law makers will be the special guests of the Agricultural college, and it goes without saying that they will be reated royally. The school will be in full swing, thus affording the visitors on opportunity to see it in a providing the visitors. an opportunity to see it in operation and to better acquaint themselves with conditions than otherwise would be the case. The return trip will be made in time to catch the last cars for home.

The committees on ways and means, laters and means,

The committees on ways and means, claims and public accounts, and education and art, will go to Logan this evening to pave the way for the coming of their colleagues and incidentally assist the local committees. A great day is promised, and most of the legislators will be on hand to enjoy it.

PROPERTY RETURNS. Senator Johnson is out with a big stick for the people who make false returns as to their property to the as-sessor. Should his bill, introduced today, become a law, no person in Utah can recover in a court on any property not assessed for general taxes, providnot assessed for general taxes, provided he has an opportunity to have it properly listed. As an example of how it would work if John Doe owned three cows and failed and denied them to the assessor, and a bounty hunter should come along and kill them for mountain lions, he could not sue to recover damages, as this law would forbid it.

Senator Johnson says that the bill will go into the house and senate sim-ultaneously, and is aimed at securing a larger percentage of truthfulness in the lists of property handed in to the as-

MINING BILLS DISCUSSED.

A Feature of This Afternoon's Session of the Senate.

The principal feature before this afternoon's session of the senate was the discussion on the adoption of the report of the committee on mines mining, killing Harry Joseph's bill No. 9, relating to the taxing of mines. Sen-ator Lawrence was strongly of the 9, relating to the taxing of mines. Senator Lawrence was strongly of the opinion that the measure was a meritorious one and should not be killed in committee. In this view he was backed by Senator Bamberger. No decision had been reached by press time.

If this bill should pass, the product of the salt plants will be taxed, as well as the output of coal mines upon which.

House J. M. No. 2, also by Joseph, was substituted for senate joint memorial on the same subject by Lewis, and passed unanimously. It requests the establishment of a mint to be located "somewhere" in Utah.

A motion of Senator Hollingsworth to strike out the word "somewhere" and insert Ogden city was lost.

NEW ART COLLECTION BILL.

S, B, 49 by Williams provides for a state art collection, and carries an annual appropriation of $1,000 to buy meritorious pieces. It is a substitute for a former bill by the same senator on this subject,

STEAM BOILER DEBATE.

Bill for Providing for Appoint. ment of a State Inspector.

ment of a State Inspector.

House bill No. 30, by Cromar, providing for the appointment of a state inspector of steam boilers, created considerable discussion in the house this afterneon. The bill was reported unfavorably by a majority of the committee on labor, of which committee Cromar, the author of the bill, was chairman. He and Mr. Pancake presented a minority report, and moved that it be substituted for that presented by the majority.

Speaking to the motion, Mr. Cromar said that he did not wish to impugn the motives of members of the committee, but he thought his colleagues had acted unwisely in the matter, being perhaps not conversant with conditions as they existed. He contended that it was necessary for the safety of life and property to have such an office established, and pleaded with his colleagues to support the minority report, in order that the bill might come before them for further consideration. Mr. Merrill, a member of the committee, opposed the motion, and said that he felt that the bill had had ample consideration. The sugar and mining companies, said he, have their boilers insured, and under such insurance they are regularly inspected by competent men, besides he was opposed to creating offices which would tend to further draw upon the state funds.

Austin and other members spoke in a similar velu, and the members spoke in a similar velu, and the members spoke in Austin and other members spoke in a similar vein, and the matter was being discussed quite vigorously when this report closed.

PATENT MEDICINE BILL. Dean introduced a bill entitled, "An act to provide that the label on all bottles of patent or proprietary medicines shall indicate the drugs or other ingredients in the composition, and providing for a state license for selling the same in case this law is violated. And providing for a state license for selling all patent or proprietary medicine, bitters, tonics or other remedies containing more than 25 per cent alcohol."

SERICULTURE BILL.

The committee on manufactures and commerce reported favorably H. B. No. 4, by Joseph, entitled, "An act to repeal the law providing for serioulture," and recommended that the bill be pass-

JOSEPH GIVES REASONS.

Representative Joseph, the author of H. B. 93, consolidating Salt Lake City and county, has just published a number of reasons why the bill should receive favorable consideration. Under the heading, "What It Does," Mr.

Joseph says:

It consclidates city and county government; the offices of city recorder and county clerk; of chief of police and county sheriff; of city engineer and county surveyor; the sheriff's office and police department; the city council and board of county commissioners, and many other departments, saving the taxpayers $150,000 per year. DEATH OF OLDEST RESIDENT OF UTAH

Edson Barney, Who is Believed To be Oldest Member of Church, Dies.

HE PASSED AWAY AT PROVO.

Deceased Was Born June 30, 1806 and Was a Member of First Quorum Of Seventy.

(Special to the "News.") Provo, Feb. 3 .- Edson Barney, who is believed to be the oldest man in the state at the time of his death, and who was the oldest member of the Church in point of membership, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alice M. Wilkins of the Sixth ward, last evening. Mr. Barney had enjoyed fairly good health until about a week ago, when he was compelled to take to his bed and gradually sank until the time of his death. The deceased was born June 30, 1806, in Ellisburg Township, Jefferson county, N. Y., and was the son of Royal and Rachel Barney. In ty. O., where Mr. Barney engaged in farming and cleaning land in the summer and teaching school in the winter. On Jan. 1, 1831, he married Mrs. Ellis Comstock, and became a member of the Church May 10, 1831. Since then his life and labors have been clossly identified with the Church. He was a member of Zion's camp, and was ordained a Seventy under the hands of Joseph Smith.Oliver Cowdery and David Whitmer in 1835, being a member of the First quorum of Seventy. He performed several missions in the early days of the Church and assisted in building the Kirtland temple. In 1837 he started for Missouri by way of Michigan, arriving in Nauvoo in 1840, and took a prominent part in the work of the Church at that time. He was one of the men who campaigned for Joseph Smith at the time he was a candidate for the presidency of the United States, being assigned to Ohio. After the death of leach and the presidency and Markete he settlement. 1825 the family moved to Loraine coundency of the United States, being assigned to Ohio. After the death of Joseph and Hyrum, he returned to Nauvoo and worked on the Nauvoo Temple, receiving his endowments there. On the exodus from Nauvoo he moved to Farmington, Iowa, and afterwards to Council Bluffs, and came to Salt Lake with his family in 1851. After remaining a few months in Salt Lake county, where he assisted in the erection of a building to be used as a worlen mill, he moved to Provo, which was his home till 1862, when he was called on a mission to St. George. He remained in southern Utah until about nine years ago, when he returned to Provo, and made his home with his daughters. Mrs. Alice M. and Mrs. Eliza Wilkins. Since coming to Utah he has led an active life, and was one or Provo's leading citizens in the early days, filling the position of justice of the peace and member of the city council. He also fulfilled several industrial missions to different parts of the territory and surrounding country, and was always willing and anxious to perform any labor to which he was called by the authorities of the Church. He had a strong testimony of the truth of the Gospel, and his diary is filled with interesting events in the early history of the Church. He had a strong testimony of the truth of the Gospel, and his diary is filled with interesting events in the early history of the Church, in which he took part. The following children survive him: Mrs. Alice M. and Eliza. Wilkins, of Provo: Duren Barney, of Arizona; Joseph and Hyrum Barney, and Mrs. Rosetta Davis, Miss Alice Keyes, Mrs. Martha M. Hunt and Mrs. Ellen Thurston, residing in Sever county, and a large number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and numerous other relatives.

The funeral will take place Sunday at 1 o'clock, from the Sixth ward meeting-house.

DARPMEN WANT

To prohibit any dairy in Utah from operating without a license is the suggestion made to the State Dairymen's association this morning by Dr. T. B. Beatty secretary of the state board of health. He would have no license given until after an examination should prove that healthy cows, a sanitary dairy and a partitary the treat of the work in the work in which the system had been developed and was being managed.

until after an examination should prove that healthy cows, a sanitary dairy and a sanitary treatment of the milk are employed. "Good milk" and not "cheap milk" should be the cry of the public, and he would have a public sentiment built up that would reject cheap milk and make its first quality purity instead of price.

A statement that provoked applause A statement that provoked applause was that all the responsibility from diseases was not on the heads of the dairymen, for the vessel handed out to the milkman by the untidy housekeeper was often a source of germ-spreading diseases. The obligation of the consumer is equal to that of the dairymen, claimed Dr. Beatty, as the securing of pure milk means a chain of precaution from the the securing of healthy cattle to the drinking of it in caution from the the securing of healthy cattle to the drinking of it in entirely clean glasses.

Dealing with the results of bad milk in Sait Lake City, Dr. Beatty said, he regretted that some consumers preferred to buy milk that often brought them drug bills, doctor bills, and in some cases loss of life, in preference to paying for good milk.

The chief cousumer of milk, said the ictor, was the infant, and of infants learly one half die in their first five years, from Jiseases due often from mpure milk, but unidentified as such a the death record under such names as chalera infantum.

Considering the matter of healthy cattle, Dr. Beatty advised a careful examination of all cattle in Utah dairies to determine if there he any cases of tuberculosis, for this disease, he maintained was transmittable through the milk. Another similar provision, he would have enacted—prohibiting a dairyman from using surface well wa-ter to wash his utensils, unless the water has been tested and approved by a sanitary inspector. He would have the same inspection extend to creameries and cheese factories.

At the conclusion of the discussion,
Dr. Beatty promised to prepare, in connection with a committee of the association, a pamphlet on the proper care of milk, both while in the hands of tee on legislation was provided to work in connection with the state board of health in securing better laws.

Another feature of the session was the reading of a paper by Dr. L. May of Ft. Douglas, on diseases of milch cows. At the conclusion of the speech a vote of thanks was extended to Dr. Le May, and an order made that his address be printed for the information of practical dafrymen.

tical dafrymen. The principal disease considered was "milk fever," a disease which heretofore has been fatal in 95 per cent of the cases. Practical suggestions were offered for the treatment of the disease, that Dr. Le May stated would save practically every case. The treatment practically every case. The treatment he outlined is a discovery of the past three years, and its record since being used is almost without an unsuccessfu instance.
The disease, Dr. Le May explained,

The disease, Dr. Le May explained, is peculiar to cattle, and especially to well bred milch cows. It occurs most commonly in the Holstein, the Guernsey and the Jersey, and least frequently in the Short Horn, Red Polled and Normandy. To scrub cattle it is unknown as a preventive measure, Dr. Le May advised the starving of cows, showing sypmtoms of the disease.

Extensive discussion followed the address, in which many stockmen told of their experience with the disease, and their efforts to combat it.

The closing session of the convention occurred this afternoon, when the election of officers for next year was the leading order of business. Other features were brief talks by President Lorenzo Hansen, Secretary R. W. Clark and Dr. D. A. Merrill of the Agricultural college.
