"BIG BILL" AND "FRAT" PIN.

William Leary Endeavored to Secure Token From Miss Wynne Winslow.

The endeavors of "Big Bill" Leary to induce a beautiful singer to give up a fraternity pin are made the theme of an interesting story in the Minneapolis Daily News of March 16. As both the singer and Big Bill are not unknown here, the item will be read with some interest. Here it is:

Four young men of courtly manner and powerful eloquence, members of the Phi Delta Theta college fraternity, failed to get a Phi Delta "frat" pin away from Miss Wynne Winslow, the soprano singing at the Orpheum this week, although they called in force on Miss Winslow at the West last evening. Miss Winslow is a large and commanding figure, and is accustomed to command a situation facing her. When the quartet, consisting of William Leary, Aslyn Gilman and F. H. Simmons, were ushered into her presence by the observant bell boy, she paralyzed the thermometer with:

"And why am I honored by this call?" Spoken Allen began with: "Bill, unbutton your coat."

A MATTER OF HEALTH

ROCKY MOUNTAIN

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

HAS NO SUBSTITUTE

A Cream of Tartar Powder free from alum or phosphatic acid

"A truly wonderful waiccoat," admitted the singer.

"No, it's the pin," explained Mr. Allen. "Look close."

"Yes, it resembles mine," Miss Winslow admitted. "What of it?"

"Well, you see," said the eloquent Allen, "it's a rule in college fraternities that only those engaged to members can wear our college pin."

"Not guilty," responded the lady with alacrity.

"Then we must see you in all positions, where you got it?" said the spokesman.

"The answer is simple," Miss Winslow replied. "My little boy picked it up in front of our New York home on Fifty-ninth street. There was no name on it and it was all Greek to me, sure enough. I don't see any reason why I shouldn't wear it," she concluded, looking at the quartet.

"Big Bill" Leary had to admit he couldn't see any reason, either. Hugh Allen thought the same way, so did Mr. Gilman, so did Brother Simmons. There was a conference. Miss Winslow looked as large and commanding as ever.

Mr. Allen was seized with an inspiration. "The local chapter might adopt you at last night, Thursday night," he blithely suggested.

"That proposition sounds very good to me. I might consider that," answered Miss Winslow. "Good evening," she said, and she turned to leave.

MILLER ARRESTED AGAIN.

Juvenile Court Has no Jurisdiction Over Him But Others Have.

Al Miller, who was ordered released from the county jail yesterday afternoon by Judge Lewis under a writ of habeas corpus, is still confined in jail, having been rearrested upon a complaint issued by the county attorney charging him with criminal relations with a girl 17 years of age. Miller was committed to the county jail for a term of not more than six months for contributing to the delinquency of the girl with whom he is now charged with being intimate. Judge Lewis yesterday held that the juvenile court has no jurisdiction over Miller and ordered Miller released. ## THE DOCTOR HABIT

And How She Overcame It.

When well selected food has helped the honest physician place his patient in sturdy health and free from the "doctor habit" it is a source of satisfaction to all parties. A Chicago woman says:

"We have not had a doctor in the house during all the five years that we have been using Grape-Nuts food. Before we began, however, we had the 'doctor habit' and scarcely a week went by without a call on our physician."

"When our youngest boy arrived, five years ago, I was very much run down and nervous, suffering from indigestion and almost continuous headaches. I was not able to attend to my ordinary domestic duties and was so nervous that I could scarcely control myself. Under advice I took Grape-Nuts."

"I am now, and have been ever since we began to use Grape-Nuts food, able to do all my own work. The dyspepsia, headaches, nervousness and rheumatism which used to drive me fairly wild, have entirely disappeared."

"My husband finds that in the night work in which he is engaged, Grape-Nuts food supplies him the most wholesome, strengthening and satisfying lunch he ever took with him." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

GREAT DEBATE ON RAILROAD BILL.

The Rate Question is One of the Most Momentous in Years.

FORAKER-TILLMAN CLASH.

Really Three Sides to the Fight Which Brings Out Best Talent of Each in Discussion.

Special Correspondence.

Washington, March 19.—Railroad rate debate in the senate has proven very instructive and interesting. In the house everything was cut and dried, and the bill that was reported was destined to pass without amendment. Therefore the debate in the house was perfunctory and uninteresting. No one knows what is going to be done in the senate. There neither party whip nor expediency binds any one. The debate has served to bring out the strong features of the Hepburn bill; also its weak points. Whenever it is announced that a senator of reputation is to take on the measure he has not only a large audience of senators, but there is also a large attendance of members of the house. Here is a case where debate, deliberation and unlimited time for consideration are useful.

GREATEST IN YEARS.

The debate is the greatest that has occurred in Congress in years. It has brought out the best talent on both sides, as the fight seems to be of a kind kind now. There is the element known as conservatives, who think that the Hepburn bill is absolutely necessary; there is the element supporting the Hepburn bill as it passed the house, and then the element which thinks the bill is not radical enough, and that the commission should have more power than the bill gives it. On the three sides of this triangular proposition are ranged all of the senators, and it would be difficult to find a half dozen that would agree on all propositions. It is the thrashing out of these different points of view, and the magnitude of the interests involved which make the rate regulation bill the most important measure that we have had in Congress for years and the debate upon it of such far-reaching interest.

UNCLE JOE'S TELEGRAMS.

Since the passage of the statehood bill amended by the senate, Speaker Cannon has been receiving a flood of telegrams asking him to allow Oklahoma to be admitted as a state. ## BANQUET AT VARSITY.

One Tendered Last Evening to Prof. Mitchell Carroll.

A banquet was tendered Prof. Mitchell Carroll at the University club last night by those interested in the formation in Utah of a branch of the American Institute of Archaeology. President Mathoniah Thomas and Secretary Byron Cummings of the Utah branch, which was organized some years ago, had the affair in charge and handled it very successfully. Those present numbered nearly two hundred, and represented the educational centers and the women's club interests of the city. Following the banquet, Prof. Thomas, Secretary Cummings, Prof. Carroll and President Ritter of the regents of the University of Utah, spoke on the necessity for a Utah association, and of the work it could do in preserving for the state the great ruins of its southern past, which are now open to the raids of curio hunters from the east.

It was urged that a strong local branch of fifty or more members be organized, to become allied with the American Institute, which is now conducting explorations in Greece, Palestine, and other European countries, and which promises soon to turn its attention to American fields. This evening Prof. Carroll will go into his plans more fully at a meeting to be held in the Packard Free Library building.

WHO IS ELECTED?

Interesting and Close Contest Over Murray City Attorneyship.

Judge Ritchie held a session of court last evening and considered the challenges in the election contest brought in behalf of David Haigh against Stephen L. Richards, who was declared elected city attorney of Murray by a plurality of only two votes. Under the rulings made by the court last night Haigh lost six votes leaving him 52 votes, and Richards lost three votes, leaving him 57. The court still has under advisement 12 Haigh votes and only one Richards vote, so that the outcome of the contest depends upon the ruling on the challenge. The challenge is based on the fact that Haigh was not a resident of Murray at the time of the election.

1664—Cession of New Netherlands to the Duke of York by Charles II. of England.

180—Jocel at Bieleburg, Md., between Commodore Barron and Decatur, both wounded, the latter mortally. Barron was the challenger in this famous duel. His record was cloudy, and he claimed that Decatur, who was one of the naval heroes of the war, was averse to dueling, but consented to satisfy his antagonist, declaring that his aim would be at Barron's hip. His shot took effect there. Barron's ball passed through Decatur's body, and he died that night.

1832—Goethe, the poet, died at Weimar; born at Frankfurt-on-the-Main 1749.

1896—Thomas Hughes, author of "Tom Brown's School Days," died at Brighton, England; born 1824.

WESTERN MARKET LETTER.

Special Correspondence.

Stockyards, Kansas City, Mo., March 19. Receipts of range cattle have been moderate in the last week. Killing cattle rapidly. Last week, cows and heifers and bulls a little higher, but stockers and feeders barely held steady during the week, except the most desirable stuff, colts, which were in demand. Early this week, and some pulp fed steers from Texas, which were at 4.45 to 4.50, common old Herefords from the panhandle to killers, at 4.50 to 4.75. The supply today is 10,000 head, market steady at 5.00 to 5.25 on the various kinds, except cows and heifers, which are lower. Steady. More cattle have been coming in the last 10 days than former estimates, indicating that consisting of numbers are still on feed in the country. A widespread storm in this territory yesterday will have a bad effect on stockers and feeders for the next week, but after the weather clears, and it gets so the country people can handle the stock, demand for stockers and feeders will no doubt develop rapidly as to enable salesmen to secure a seasonal advance.

Sheep and lambs declined 10 to 20 cents last week, most loss on lambs as usual. The supply was 22,000, the week's production of
