

NOTORIOUS TRAIN ROBBER CAPTURED

Ed Franks, alias Bob McManus, last surviving member of "Black Jack" Ketchum's band.

HUNTED FOR SIX YEARS.

Arrested at Small Station on the Colorado & Southern Ry., Thirty Miles South of Trinidad.

Trinidad, Colo., April 7.—After a hunt covering a period of six years, Ed Franks, alias Bob McManus, said to be the last surviving member of "Black Jack" Ketchum's notorious band of train robbers that terrorized New Mexico and southern Colorado for many years, was safely placed in the county jail at Trinidad early this morning. He was arrested 40 miles northeast of Trinidad, a small station on the Colorado & Southern railroad, 30 miles south of Trinidad, Wednesday night, by Deputy Sheriff George Titworth and William Thatcher.

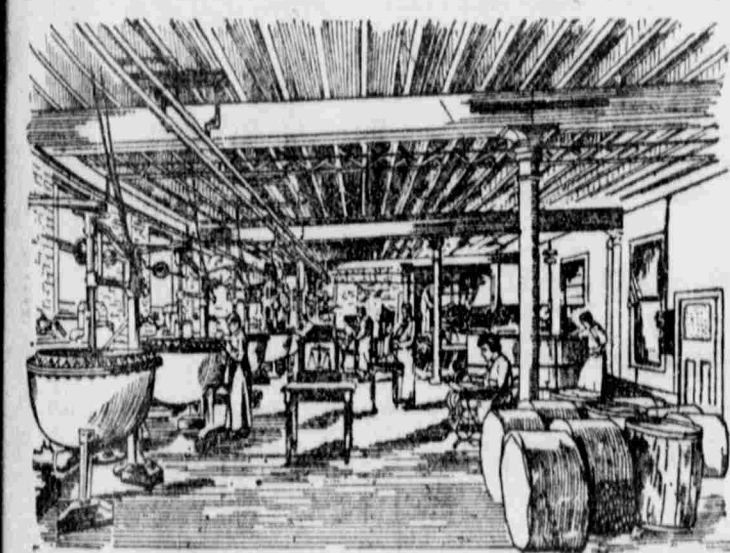

Franks lived alone in a wild, desolate rocky canyon, difficult of approach, where his safety seemed assured. The officers located Franks' house Wednesday morning, but were compelled to make a detour and crawl through the canyon for nearly three miles, as the house was so situated it commanded a view of the open country for miles. Franks was building a corral when the officers surprised him. He had a six-shooter and a rifle close at hand, but made no fight.

The "Black Jack" gang held up the Colorado & Southern passenger train in July, 1893, near Folsom, N. M., securing a large sum of money, the robbers separated. Ed. Farr, then sheriff of Huerfano county, with a posse, surrounded Franks, Sam Ketchum, brother of "Black Jack," and a man named McGinnis, on the Cimarron, near Folsom, and a fierce battle ensued. Sheriff Farr was killed and two other members of the posse wounded. Sam Ketchum was also killed and McGinnis wounded. The latter was captured a few days later, and is now serving a life sentence in the penitentiary at Santa Fe. One month after the Cimarron battle, "Black Jack" alone attempted to hold up the Colorado & Southern passenger train again near the scene of the former robbery. He was wounded by Conductor Frank Harrington and was captured. After conviction of this robbery he was hanged at Clayton, N. M., in September, 1901.

Members of the posse have always desired that Sheriff Farr be killed by Franks, who was known to be a shot. Jeff Farr succeeded his father as sheriff and kept up a constant search for the fugitive. It is said that Franks and a companion came to Trinidad ten days ago and purchased a quantity of dynamite, and considerable ammunition. Franks, it is said, was a full black beard, which completely disguised him. He will be tried at Clayton, N. M., on a charge of train robbery, which is a capital offense in that territory.

OPENS HIS LABORATORIES.

DOCTOR PIERCE ASKS VISITORS TO GO THROUGH HIS ESTABLISHMENT TO SEE PROCESS OF MANUFACTURE.

PROVES MEDICINES PURE.

For the purpose of showing the purity and honesty of his medicines, the "Patent Prescription" and the "Golden Medical Discovery," Dr. E. V. Pierce has thrown open to public inspection his laboratories and works in Buffalo.

At any time during the day visitors are made welcome and shown through the establishment by competent guides. These guides explain the detailed and scientific work of the skilled chemists and just how and of what the modern "patent medicine" is made.

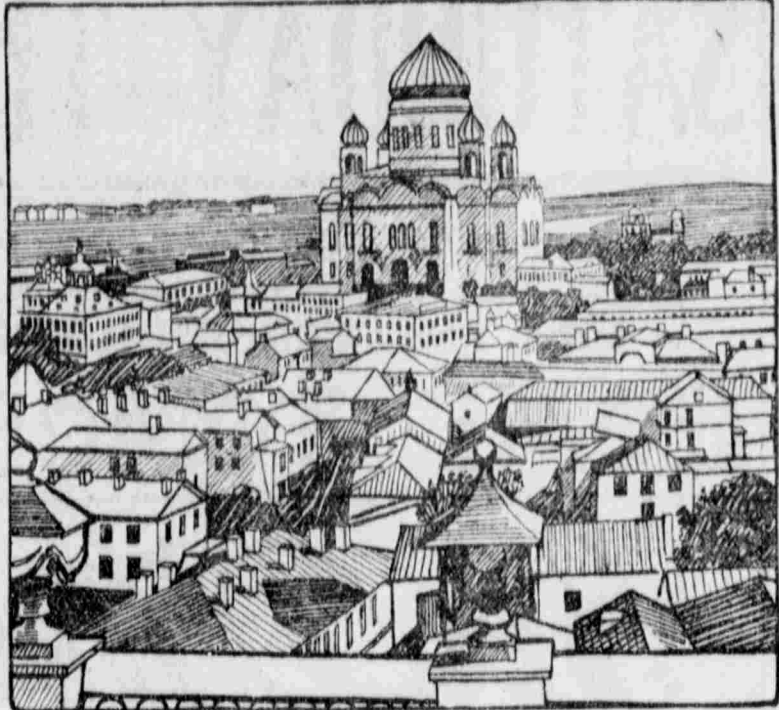

To every visitor is also explained the reason why every user of Doctor Pierce's medicines receives individual care from one or more specialists.

Dr. Pierce was a member of Congress where he served with honor. He is a splendid specimen of manhood with a frank countenance, inspiring confidence, and great personal magnetism. For forty years Dr. Pierce has been actively engaged in the manufacture of his prescriptions. His fully-equipped laboratory has grown and expanded until now it is the largest and most complete one known.

Dr. Pierce's success is real. There is a steadily increasing demand for his medicines, proving conclusively that they are not nostrums, but reliable remedies for diseases.

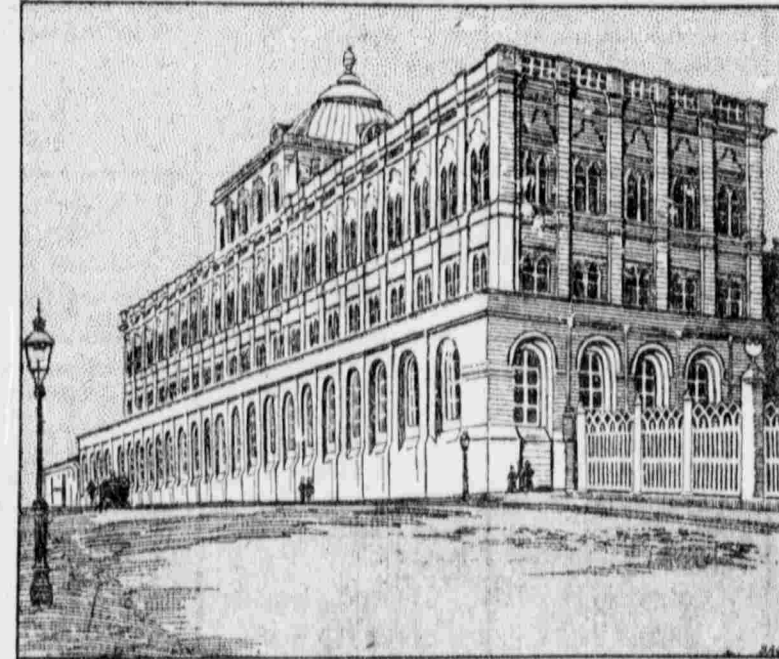

These attacks have been all met with dignity by Dr. Pierce. It was only when definite charges of fraud were

BIRDSEYE VIEW OF RUSSIA'S HOLY CITY.

The cut is an excellent view of Moscow from the museum. The city is built along the river Moskva. Almost in the center of the town there rises a triangular hill, upon which stands the noted kremlin. The foot of this hill is surrounded by a lofty battlemented wall which is white and glistening. Above it rise the domes and gilded minarets of the churches within the kremlin. The streets of Moscow are tortuous and insignificant, the merest lane often leading up to some magnificent church or public building.

THE PALACE SECTION INSIDE THE KREMLIN WALLS.

Most of the illustrations of the famous kremlin at Moscow show the walls and citadel, but do not give much of an idea of what lies within. The cut here-with given shows only the palace section of this unique combination of fortress, church and royal dwelling. This imposing structure was built by Alexander I. and used to be the Moscow residence of the court. It contains many treasures of painting and sculpture, and some of its apartments are beautifully decorated. There are two other royal palaces within the kremlin precincts, one of them a curious building of four stories which diminish as the structure ascends and end in a single room surrounded with balconies.

during the months of October, November and December, 1904, has been compiled by the Interstate commerce commission. It shows that in that quarter 53 passengers and 189 employees were killed and 1,420 passengers and 1,388 employees injured, a total of 242 persons killed and 3,258 injured in train accidents. Other accidents to passengers and employees, not the result of collisions or derailments, bring the total number of casualties up to 14,978—651 killed and 14,027 injured. The report indicates a decrease of 178 killed and 624 injured, as compared with the last preceding quarter. Of the total number of 53 passengers killed in train accidents, 29 were killed in one collision between a passenger train and a freight train. The total number of collisions and derailments in the quarter was 2,950, the financial damage aggregating $2,406,981. The number of employees killed in coupling and uncoupling cars in the quarter was 71, 12 more than in the preceding three months.

Josephite Conference.

Des Moines, Ia., April 6.—The general conference of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints convened at Lamoni today. Representatives from nearly every country in the world and every state in the Union are present. President Joseph Smith is presiding.

One of the important matters to be discussed is the maintenance of Grace-land college, the only institution of higher learning controlled by the church. An effort is to be made to raise a $150,000 debt and the school on a sound financial basis. Nauvoo, Ill., where the Mormons were persecuted and driven out during the early days, has sent a petition of 300 signers asking for the next annual conference.

Lamoni, Ia., April 6.—The report of Henry A. Stebbins, recorder of the reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, shows that the church has made a net gain in membership during the past year of nearly 1,600.
