CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

The post office appropriation was proceeded with, the question being on motion to lay on the table the amendment of the committee on appropriations, to increase the subsidy of the Pacific Mail steamship company to $1,000,000 per annum. The motion to lay on the table was carried by ayes 32, nays 19.

HOUSE.

The Senate amendments to the Legislative appropriation bill and to the Indian appropriation bill were not concurred in, and a committee of conference was asked.

The House then resumed the consideration of the omnibus appropriation bill.

WASHINGTON.

Reconstruction—Pleasanton on taxes—Generals Hancock and Grant at loggerheads—Railroad matters—Rendering of Attorney General Akerman—Gray order—Meeting of the commission—Governor of the District of Columbia

WASHINGTON, 27.—The sub-committee of reconstruction, on the removal of political disabilities, composed of Porter, Lawrence and Beck, decided that it would be useless to report a bill upon this subject at this stage of the session. Porter expressed himself in favor of a removal of the disabilities from all persons who have given evidence of accepting the situation in good faith, which, he estimated, would embrace several thousands of the leading citizens of the South. He said he was for a thorough and complete amnesty as soon as laws were passed by Congress securing the civil and political rights and personal safety of all the people in the Southern States.

The question of a general amnesty will be brought up at the beginning of the next session.

Commissioner Pleasanton will probably give his decision on the tax on the New York Central scrip dividend on Tuesday, as his decision involves $1,250,000. It is looked for with great interest.

Forty-nine distilleries were established during January; the number for February will probably be about fifty.

The conference committee on the Admiral bill will not be able to agree. The Senate conferees are not willing to consent to the amendment reducing the number of rear-admirals and commodores as fast as vacancies occur.

Senator Cragin says he thinks a reduction ought to be made, but prefers that no action should be taken until next winter. The Senate naval committee, of which he is chairman, will prepare a bill, reorganizing the navy, weeding out all incompetent officers and reducing the number of high grades. A new naval committee will probably be appointed.

A voluminous batch of correspondence between Generals Hancock and Sherman, in reference to the former's reclamations to an assignment he thought unsuited to his rank, is published. It appears that General Grant over-ruled certain orders of Hancock's at New Orleans, in consequence of which Hancock, used towards Grant a formal, if not unfriendly air, when they next met in Washington. At the death of General Thomas, Major Gen. Schofield, a junior officer of that grade in the army, was assigned to the command of the military division of the Pacific. To this Gen. Hancock took exception, and so informed the general of the army, inquiring the President's reason for jumping him. Gen. Sherman, in reply, said his personal and official relations with the commander-in-chief were such that his preferences would not be heeded, and an explanation was personally asked of some newspaper rumors. Again, when General Sheridan went to Europe, Hancock thought he should have succeeded him in the command of his division; but the President and Gen. Sherman did not see the necessity of this change, preferring to retain the position open for Sheridan on his return. The correspondence is published by permission of the Secretary of War, at the solicitation of Gen. Hancock.

A sentiment of apprehension as to the result of the Commission prevails in this city. It is believed that Sir John Macdonald is preparing his people for a great discount of their fishery demands. His announcement in the Dominion Parliament is regarded as an abandonment of the headland claim, and his silence, as to the presentation of the Canadian claims for the Fenian raids, is regarded as equally significant. It is well understood that the British Government can present no claims against the United States with regard to the Fenian raids, having repeatedly thanked our Government for its course in stopping these invasions. It would seem that the most likely difficulties would commence outside of Canadian matters and there is no reason to believe England is as yet prepared to recede from her position on the Alabama question, and, therefore, there is but little hope that an acceptable basis can be reached.

Attorney General Akerman, in his opinion recently rendered, in regard to the rights of the Oregon Central Railroad and Telegraph Co., to assign its lands, franchises and privileges to the Williamette Valley Railroad Co., says that, except the first section, no part of the act suggests even a suspicion that Congress, when it passed the law, supposed that, under any circumstances, it was to deal with any other company than the one to whom the charter was granted, and there is no provision in the bill for any transfer of the rights, privileges or lands granted. The Attorney General then enumerates some of the reasons why such a provision should not have been put into the bill. The law not only grants privileges, etc., but it also requires something to be performed by the company. If this company should disappear, the question arises, Could any other company be forced to perform these stipulations? Again, if a transfer may be made at all, their portions of the road may be transferred to a different company, and individuals, and so the Government would be forced to deal with several, perhaps irresponsible, companies, instead of one responsible one. As to the expression, in the first section: "their successors and assigns," the Attorney General holds that it is only a form of expression, and grants no rights, not expressly given in the bill. It is noticeable that the contract, by which the transfer was, in this case, made, does not contain any argument on the part of the Williamette Valley Company to issue bonds and execute mortgages, &c., as the Oregon Railroad Co. was required to do, but only to build a railroad and telegraph line. The opinion closes with the following remarks: "I have not entered into the general question of the rights of a corporation to transfer its franchises, without special authority from the Legislature."

The steamship lobbyists have given up all hope of getting any action on their schemes at this session.

The vote in the Senate on Saturday, tabling Williams' amendment to the postal appropriation bill, one which proposed to give $300,000 annually for a steamship line between San Francisco and Australia, is regarded by them as conclusive evidence that the present temper of the Senate is hostile to their purposes. There is still one more chance, however, as a motion is now pending before the Senate, on which a vote will be taken to-morrow, to lay on the table the proposition for an annual increase of the subsidy of one million to the Pacific Mail Steamship Co. All independent bills of this character, including Kellogg's New Orleans and Mexican scheme, which latter has passed the Senate, will have to wait for another Congress and commence afresh.

A general army order has been issued, that in consideration of the reduced number of paymasters and the plans to carry out the general orders No. 7, 1871, on the recommendation of the paymaster general, the department and divisions of the chief paymasters, as heretofore designated in orders, are abolished. The paymaster general will supply the chief paymasters of the departments with the funds necessary for the payment of their respective departments direct. The department of the chief paymasters will transmit their periodical estimates for funds to the paymaster general direct. The division of the Pacific is, for the present excepted from the operation of this order.

The President has nominated Henry D. Cooke, of the firm of Jay Cooke & Co., to be governor of the District of Columbia.

The joint high commission met this morning at the state department. All the United States commissioners were present except Hoar, and all the British commissioners except MacDonald and Northcote. The proceedings are conducted privately.

NEW YORK.

Japanese Princes arrived—Another appeal.

NEW YORK.—The Japanese Princes arrived yesterday from San Francisco. They will remain a few days when they will go to Washington.

To the press of the United States:

A telegram from Mr. Moran, chairman of the American commission in London, received at 4 o'clock p. m. yesterday, calls loudly for more aid from America for the relief of starving France. It is certain that the anxiety of those near to the scene of the famine is much more intense than ours, and we call with new earnestness upon the American public for immediate contributions, in money and provisions and seed. Other cities or centres of collection, desiring to co-operate in this relief, the committee will cheerfully credit them to their sources, both here and in the report sent to France. If preferred, the contributions can be forwarded direct to Mr. Moran, chairman of the funds received in the United States, when they will be transferred by telegraph.

Chas. H. Marshall, Chairman,
Chas. Lanier, Treasurer,
Anson Phelps Stokes, Secretary,
Chamber of Commerce Committee on French relief.

New York, Feb. 27, 1871.

ILLINOIS.

Death of a prominent Chicagoan—Resigned.

CHICAGO.—John B. Turner, one of the oldest citizens of Chicago, and prominently identified with the Chicago and North Western Railroad, since its inception, died suddenly of heart disease, at his residence in this city, yesterday, aged seventy-two. He had risen about eight o'clock, but not feeling very well, returned to bed, where he was shortly after found dead.

A Times' Washington dispatch says: "A statement not officially made, but which is very generally credited here, has been made that Minister Löwe has resigned his mission to Brazil, and that his successor will be nominated to the Senate this week.

WEST VIRGINIA.

Liquidated.

WHEELING, 27.—The Wheeling Savings Institution, which has enjoyed the confidence of the community for many years, went into liquidation this morning. Its liabilities are stated at $150,000. A. C. Querrier, the defaulting cashier, is now in jail. The city is terribly excited over the affair.

FOREIGN NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Proposed purchase of Luxembourg and exchange it for Metz—Triumphal entry into Berlin postponed—Thiers offers another milliard to keep Metz—Will not enter Paris.

LONDON, 27.—The Telegraph says: Thiers has proposed the purchase of Luxembourg by France and to transfer it to Germany if Metz be restored. The Emperor is much better.

A dispatch from Amiens says an order has arrived for the movement of the troops towards Rouen.

The armistice has been prolonged two days.

The Prince of Roumania is still resolved to abdicate.

The Post contradicts a reported fusion of the Legitimists and Orleanists.

A Telegraph's Versailles special says: The Emperor lunches at the Elysee Bourbon with the Court and returns to Berlin next Saturday, and will be present at the opening of the German Parliament on the sixteenth of March.

The triumphal entry of the Germans into Berlin has been delayed for two months, as the whole of Germany observes six weeks of mourning for the victims of the war.

Thiers has offered another milliard thalers to keep Metz, but the offer was refused.

LONDON, 27, 1:30 p. m.—It is now thought the Germans will not enter Paris. It is said the Emperor and Fritz certainly will not.

FRANCE.

Preliminaries Signed—Official—Preliminaries of Peace Signed—The Indemnity.

BORDEAUX, 26.—Official dispatches from Paris say the preliminaries of peace have been signed. Thiers arrives at Bordeaux to-morrow.

VERSAILLES, 27.—The Emperor William to Augusta: "With a deeply moved heart and gratitude to God, I inform you that the preliminaries of peace are signed. The Bordeaux Assembly must yet ratify."

PARIS, 27.—Republican manifestations continue. There is perfect order, but deep feelings of future revenge exist. The prefect of police refuses the responsibility of trouble if the Prussians enter. The mortality is greatly lessened, and provisions are abundant.

The preliminaries of peace were signed yesterday, at 5:30.

France cedes Alsace and Metz, but retains Belfort. The war indemnity is five milliard francs, and three years is granted for its payment. The Germans will hold fortresses until it is paid. The armistice is prolonged for a week. The Germans will enter Paris immediately.

Rothschild has been summoned to Versailles, also the railway presidents, to arrange to carry the troops to Germany.

TOADS VS. INSECTS.—The question of toads vs. insects is sure to come up, and perhaps an experiment of mine on the capacity of a toad, may be of interest. Dr. T. W. Harris remarked to me some twenty years ago that he supposed the odor of the squash-bug (Coreus tristis) would protect it from the toad, and to test the matter I offered one to a grave-looking bufo under a cabbage. He seized it eagerly, but spit it out instantly, reared up on his hind legs and put his fore feet on the top of his head for an instant, as if in pain, and then disappeared across the garden in a series of the greatest leaps I ever saw a toad make. Perhaps the bug bit the biter. Not satisfied with this I hunted up another old toad, who lived under the piazza, and always sunned himself in one place in the grass, and offered him a fine squash-bug, which he swallowed, winking in a very satisfied manner. Twenty other fine bugs followed the first, with no difficulty nor hesitation in the taking or swallowing, though, from his wriggling and contortions afterward, it seemed as if their corners did not set well within.

The stock of bugs being then exhausted, I found a colony of smooth black larvæ on a whith birch, each about three-quarters of an inch long, and fed him over a hundred of them. Touching one of them with the end of a straw, it would coil around it, and then, when shown before him, he would seize and swallow it at first eagerly, but with diminished zest as the number increased, until it became necessary to rub the worm against his lips some time before he could decide to take it. He would then take it and sit with his lips ajar for a short time, gathering strength and resolution, and then swallow by a desperate effort.

There is no telling what the number or result would have been, but the dinner bell rang as the one hundred and first worm disappeared, and by the close of the meal he had retired to his bed; nor did he appear for four days in his sanitary pride. It is to be hoped he slept well, but there might have been nightmares.—Entomologist and Botanist.

CURTIS SODELA—PRICES REDUCED TO MEET THE TIMES!—The merits of this system for Cutting all kinds of garments worn by Ladies, Gentlemen and Children are known by scores of ladies in this City and Territory; but the sure way is to prove it for one's self which may be done without charge. This system removes all anxiety regarding the fit of garments, as all the directions are absolutely positive. There will be no altering—no taking up or letting out, which not only injures the material but destroys the proportions and often ruins the garment. The system is very simple and can be learned in a few hours.
