

"THAT'S ME."—We heard a good story of a "peart" youngster, whose existence on this portion of the moral vineyard would extend over the period of five long, long years. His mother, expecting to receive company, had fixed him up so sweetly, arranging his hair and attire as only a mother can. As a sort of finishing touch, she sprinkled on his clothing and handkerchief a few drops of Jockey Club, greatly to the youngster's delight. He went round puffing and snuffing like a wild deer when the hunter approaches him. The visitors arriving, he was consigned to the care of a servant, but managed to escape, and bounced into the parlor, proud of his appearance and proud of his perfume. He went through the regular amount of kissing and petting like a hero, but to his astonishment no one seemed to notice the Jockey Club, though he waved his handkerchief that their noses might catch the fragrance. Human nature, five years old, couldn't stand that you know, so he broke out: "Folkses, if any of you smells a smell, that's me."

TWO BALLS MEETING.—A young ex-Confederate officer relates the following incident which occurred during the siege of Vicksburg. It is the only accident of the kind we have ever heard of. He says that "during the siege of the place he was on the lines in front of the town. The sharpshooters on both sides were busily engaged. Suddenly a quick 'thud' sound was heard above, and there fell almost at his feet a ball. A private in Waddell's Alabama Battery secured it. An examination showed it was composed of two balls—one from a Minie musket, the other from a Belgian rifle. The point of the former had penetrated the side of the latter to the rim. Judging from appearances, the Minie ball had come the shortest distance. The imbedding was strong, and impossible almost to be disengaged. The man who picked it up refused fifty dollars for it. He said he had no use for money—he wanted the 'anomaly' to carry home to his 'sweetheart.' He was killed in one of the subsequent battles."

We have often wondered why the balls that flew so thick should not meet in the mid-air; but this is the first time we have ever been told or read of such an occurrence.—Ex.

A DEAD NEWSPAPER.—The Berlin papers have an account of a curious ceremony of the burial of a paper in that city. Letters announcing the decease of the journal were sent to a number of persons connected with the press and their friends. The funeral procession started from the printing-office, preceded by a band of music, to the place of interment. Composers dressed in black paper carried the body. A humorous funeral oration was then pronounced, after which the journal was plunged into a tub of printers' ink and so buried.

A LIVELY COON HUNT.—The Dayton, Ohio, Journal mentions some of the incidents which enlivened a coon hunt at Phillipsburg, in that vicinity, on Sunday morning. A coon was treed, the tree felled, and a coach-dog belonging to a young man named Skyles seized the coon. The latter was getting the best of the fight, when Miner Walker, in attempting to make a diversion in favor of the dog with a stick, struck the latter accidentally and killed him. Skyles was enraged at the death of his dog, and felled Walker with a club, knocking him senseless. Jacob Milton, a friend of Walker, seized the axe with which the tree was felled, and chopped into Skyles' shoulder. Whereupon Daniel Crow drew a revolver and shot Milton in the shoulder, wounding him severely. The parties were subsequently arrested.

When Lincoln was assassinated, the Queen wrote a letter of sympathy to his widow, and the Reverend Newman Hall had a conversation with Bob Lincoln on the topic, and "asked him about the Queen's letter." "Yes," said Bob, "we have been often asked about that letter; we have been asked to publish it. But it is a long letter of three pages, the outpourings of a generous woman's heart, and my mother and myself thought it would not be right to publish a letter written in the effusion of a woman's heart."

Easton, Pennsylvania, has developed a German about five feet high, with whiskers so long that he can stand perfectly erect and step on them.

Girls, do you want to get married, and do you want good husbands? If so, cease to act like fools. Don't take pride in saying you never did housework, never cooked a chicken, never made a bed and so on. Don't turn up your pretty noses at honest industry—never tell your friend that you are not obliged to work. When you go shopping don't take your mother with you to carry the bundle.

Two hundred and forty-two thousand four hundred and thirty-seven emigrants arrived at New York during 1867. It is said that the prospects for a large immigration for 1868 are by no means flattering, owing to the depression in trade and business in this country, though if there should be a prospect of war in Europe, many will come, notwithstanding the uncertainty of getting employment.

DON'T FRET.—You will thus sleep more sweetly, digest your food better, love your neighbors more, and live longer, and the world will doubtless be better for your having been in it.

Nine Germans were recently witnesses in a case in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., involving the intoxicating properties of lager beer, all of whom testified to the constant use of it in quantities varying from twenty to sixty glasses in a day, and one testified that he had drunk eighty glasses without experiencing any intoxicating effect.

The New York World says over 26,000 persons in that city applied for aid to the Association for Improving the condition of the Poor, during the month of January.

The late Charles Kean left nearly $250,000, but he died from over-exertion earning it.

TO THE MUSICALLY INCLINED

And to those desirous of Learning Music!

Mrs. WHITE, of Rochester,

TEACHES Robbins' American Method for the Pianoforte, which is so far superior to the old method of teaching the Pianoforte, Melodeon or Organ that its full importance can scarcely be estimated. It is a century ahead of all other methods for the Piano—Pupils acquiring a knowledge of Music in an almost incredible short time.

References to and letters of recommendations from the most eminent Professors of Music in the East.

Mrs. WHITE is stopping at the TOWNSEND HOUSE for a limited time, where she can be found, and full particulars learned. Private tuition given. d25-tf

PUBLIC NOTICE.

YEAR 1868.

C

G

WE return our sincere thanks to this People for the liberal Patronage we have received, and in view of the great scarcity of money and the decline in the value of some kinds of Goods east, we have determined to offer our Stock at a heavy Discount for CASH!

1. We will allow a Discount of TEN PER CENT. on all Groceries, except Tea, Sugar, Coffee, Candles and Soap.

2. A Discount of TEN PER CENT. on all Dry Goods, Clothing and Hardware, except Nails, Horse and Mule Shoes.

3. A Discount of TWENTY PER CENT. on Hoods, Nubias, and all Goods of this description, including Hats and Caps.

4. A Discount of from TEN to TWENTY PER CENT. on all kinds of Dishes, Plates, Cups and Saucers, Glassware, Castors, &c., &c.

ARGUMENT:

THIS we think better for the Customer than Enterprises on the Lottery Plan, these having been tried elsewhere and not found profitable to the investors.

The People know quite well already who sells the Cheapest and Best Goods, and when they get them, knowing them to be cheap, and then get a Discount of from Ten to Twenty per Cent., we think they will come to the conclusion that it is better to have the full benefit of what they spend at once and on the spot, than take ONE Chance in FIFTY of drawing something, some time in the future.

You are not required to purchase "Ten Dollars" worth to enable you to the Discount, but we will allow it in all cases, whether the purchase be large or small.

This is to give the poor man or poor woman, who cannot get hold of "Ten Dollars," a chance to buy Goods Cheap.

COME AND TRY IT.

15. WHY DO WE OFFER THESE TERMS? Because we are like most of our neighbors wanting money badly.

Ross & Barratt.
