FOR YOU, Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are faded, scowled and disfigured in countenance, or have eruptions, redness, roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Magnolia Balm.

It is delicate, harmless and delicate, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

Suggestions by the Chief of Ordnance, U. S. Army, have been completed. The total amount of expenditure during the year is $1,443,698. Gen. Benet devotes a large portion of his report to the militia. He says: "For many years there has been a growing feeling throughout the country in favor of a re-organization of our militia system. To perfect our present organization, or to improve it by alteration requires action of Congress. That Congress has full power to provide for organizing militia in time of peace under the provisions of the Constitution, there can be no doubt; and Congress has exercised this power in absolute and meagre laws now on our statute books, but there has been no practical provision for enforcing obedience to these laws.

"It seems to me the time has come when the subject of raising an army, equipping, disciplining and keeping in readiness for service a part of our militia, should receive the thorough attention of Congress. That a portion of the militia should be in a state of readiness for service, and this active portion should be distributed equally throughout the country according to population, thus establishing the principle by legislation that Congress will help only those who help themselves; and providing that arms and equipment will not be issued to a State except in proportion to its population, and that a per diem for camp services shall be paid to those individuals only who are present in camp, and only for the days that they are present and actually employed. The State and people may be brought to a realization of the necessity for prompt and permanent action in regard to the militia, by the power of the nation: The general government, under the law of 1808 now supplies arms and equipments to the militia of States, and there is no reason why the same should not be made dependent upon States, such as the organization and discipline of a certain portion of the militia.

"I have, therefore, to recommend that provision be made by law for organizing, arming and disciplining a militia force of 200,000 men, distributed among the States in proportion of about 70 men to each congressional district and Territory and District of Columbia. To make this practicable it will require a large annual appropriation, that must be permanent, and that, in a few years, in giving a trial to the scheme. In the first place, there should be an annual appropriation of $1,000,000 for arms and equipments, which would give to each of $4,000 for troops in each congressional district. In the second place, there should be an annual appropriation of $1,000,000 for expenses of annual encampment, the payment of each militia man a per diem for each day's service while actually in camp, etc.

Gen. Benet also strongly recommends a liberal appropriation for continuing the boring of the artesian well at the Benecia Arsenal, to a depth of 200 feet, to determine whether a good supply of palatable water can be procured. The well has reached a depth of 1,400 feet, and it is thought advisable to carry it down 200 feet more.

"The recent official visit to the Benecia Arsenal, has impressed me most favorably with the wants of that national establishment, and the pressing necessity for organizing and perfecting its manufacturing and storing facilities. Under the careful, economical and intelligent command of Lieutenant Colonel Benecia, the Arsenal is well established on a satisfactory basis, reflecting great credit on his executive and administrative capacity and professional attainments. The constantly increasing wants of the nation demand more attention on the part of Congress, for this is the only manufacturing establishment owned by the United States in that region. I earnestly recommend a liberal appropriation for that Arsenal."

A Statement of the Case.

NEW ORLEANS, 23.—The steamer Louis H., from Algiers, Africa, has arrived. The captain reports on the 18th he picked up in the Bahama Channel 17 survivors of the steamer Des Moines, which was wrecked on the coast of Cuba. The Des Moines, including Captain Diaz and two mates. The steamer had a crew of 42; about 20 passengers were aboard when the calamity occurred. The vessel was in a terrible state of exhaustion. They had been clinging to the floating debris 18 hours.

From Captain Diaz of the Pajarito, the following particulars have been obtained: The steamer left Havana, October 18th, for New Orleans, with a general cargo, including a large lot of grain, provisions and ammunition for the Spanish army. Everything was all right until about 4 o'clock Saturday morning, Oct. 19th, when the vessel was in the Bahama Channel, between the Pajarito and Cuba lights. An alarm of fire was sounded, when the captain, passengers and crew, who were huddled at the time, were ordered to evacuate the vessel. The vessel had taken fire amidships, and was then in a shroud of flame. General confusion ensued, some of the passengers and crew running to the stern of the vessel and jumping overboard in their night clothes, with whatever small object they could by hands on to serve as life buoys, while others were trying to lower the boats. The vessel burnt for four hours and sank in less than four hours. There were on board 42 of the crew, 17 or 20 passengers, including about six officers and soldiers of the Spanish army.

and were almost naked. Five of the soldiers were picked up, and one boat was lowered and some twenty passengers, and crew, took to the life boats, but were almost naked. Those who were picked up were in a fearful state. They had been in the water for some time, and were almost naked. They had been in the water for some time, and were almost naked.

Information from Southwest Colorado satisfies me that the onset of O'Quay's warriors was in the early morning of the 23rd. The O'Quay must surrender his tribe, which he is powerless to do. They adhere to him for protection only and will not submit to punishment; neither will they surrender the White River. They are bound to them by the blood tie and are no more guilty than themselves. They whipped themselves, and now they are in a state of despair. They are in a state of despair. They are in a state of despair.
