Oregon Short Line Officials Return From a Trip Over Idaho Feeders.

OLD RUMORS ARE REVIVED.

Once More it it is Asserted That the Short Line is to Get Control of Branch.

Vice President W. H. Bancroft, General Superintendent E. Buckingham, Chief Engineer W. Ashton and Traffic Manager T. M. Schumacher of the Oregon Short Line, returned last evening from a trip over the Idaho division, during which they put in some time at Minidoka looking into the work there and then went on to Weiser, where they went over the Pacific & Idaho

Northern on a special train.

The fact that the heads of the operating, engineering and traffic departments of the Harriman road inspected the "Pin" road has once more set going the rumor that the Short Line is to acquirathis feeder. Railroad officials, however, assert that the trout fishing on this line is exceptionally fine.

assert that the trout fishing on this line is exceptionally fine.

At the present time the Pacific & Idaho Northern is operated by a former employe of the freight department of the Oregon Short Line, Mr. E. M. Heigho, who is vice president and general manager. Since he took charge of affairs the road has been a paying proposition. The line, which is standaru gage, follows the Weiser river up to Council, a distance of 63 miles, where connections are made with stage lines to the Seven Devils mining district, Thunder Mountain, Payette Lakes and other points north. It taps a most fertile district.

At stated intervals it has been announced during the past six years that the road is to be extended, and also the rumor bobs up serenely every year that the Oregen Short Line is about to purchase the property. This move would not surprise anyone, as the policy of the Harriman lines for some time has been to get control of all the feeders in Idaho. It is asserted that the recent incorporation of a couple of mysterious transcontinental lines in Boise and which are to apparently parallel the Short Line, in a measure is responsible for the railroad campaign on Idaho. At stated intervals it has been an

A workman employed at the plant of the Carnegie Steel company. Homestead, recently made the discovery that a bushel of potatoes placed in a locomotive boiler of water would remove all impurities from the water and render it fit for steaming purposes. This discovery attracted the attention of the railroads of the entire county, and particularly the Union Pacific, which has bad difficulty with it's Wyoming division water ever since the road was built.

Several costly water purifying plants have been erected on the Wyoming di-vision, largest of which is at Chey-

In answer to numerous telephone queries that come in to the "News" almost every day it is again stated that the fare over the Salt Lake Route to Los Angeles, one way, will be $30. Some people are apparently holding off their contemplated trip to Southern California under the impression that they can get there for $7.50—a little less than operating expenses.

Scrofula

It is commonly inherited.

Few are entirely free from it.

Pale, weak, puny children are afflicted with it in nine cases out of ten, and many adults suffer from it.

Common indications are bunches in the neck, abscesses, cutaneous eruptions, inflamed eyellds, sore ears, rickets, catarrh, wasting, and general debility.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Eradicate it, positively and absolutely. This statement is based on the thousands of permanent cures these medicines have wrought.

Society and Music Lovers Will be Out In Goodly Force.

Everything around the Theater is full of cheeriness and bustle preparatory for tonight's big concert. A misapprehension accurred in the minds of some people who read the no-tice in Saturday's "News" that dur-ing the remainder of his Grand engagement, Mr. Clarke rented the house, and was "monarch of all he surveyed." It was not intended to be said that Messrs, Jones & Hamer, the managers of the house, were in any way supplanted by the new arrangement made with Mr. Clarke. They are, of course, still managers and proprietors of the Grand and simply rent the house to Mr. Clarke instead of playing on percentage as heretofore.

This morning the Theater box office opened for the sale of scats for "Christopher, Jr." the play to be presented by the University Dramatic club next Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Dr. Talmage Deals With the Beginning of Christ's Public Ministry.

THE DARK AGES OF AMERICA.

Topic Ably Considereded by Prof. Mills In University Sunday School,

The University Sunday School convened as usual yesterday at 12:30 p. m. Dr. Tal-mage's lecture on "Jesus, the Christ," vas mainly devoted to the 'Beginning of hrist's Public Ministry," Consideration f this topic, however, was prefaced by brief treatment of the testimony of miracless, a feature of last week's lecture eft incomplete through lack of time Miracles were considered by their comon scriptural designations, wonders signs and powers, and the significance of each term was explained. The pleasing surroundings of Capernaum. 'His own city.' were described, and the contrast between such and the hermit-retreat of the Baptist in the wilderness was made typical of the contrast between the work of the forerunner and that of the Mes-siah.

At the ensuing Passover feast in Jerusalem the public ministry of Jesus was inaugurated. His righteous indignation over the foul desecration of His Father's house, and his vigorous expulsion of the traders and ejection of their merchandise show forth the sterner side of Hismature, and the wrath of a God. Those whom He thus disciplined submitted through the weakness that springs from the consciousness of guilt. His reference to the body as the temple of God was explained as of sublime significance.

AMEDICA'S DARK AGES. AMERICA'S DARK AGES.

AMERICA'S DARK AGES.

Prof. J. M. Mills continued the discussion on "The Dark Ages of America." He spoke principally of the social standing of the Aziecs just prior to the conquest of Mexico by Cortez. Their methods of government and their laws were reviewed. The Aziecs had many classes of magistrates, and courts, for the administration of justlee. In Mexico there was a supreme judge called Clhuacoatl, so powerful that there was no appeal from his judgment even to the king. He appointed inferior judges. Below this sort of viceroy there was a tribunal composed of three judges the firer of whom was distinguished as the tlacaltecatl. This tribunal was a court of first and second resort in civil and criminal cases. It directed a certain number of police officers and held a daily session in the hall of the public house. There the judges heard the litigants with wonderful patience, examined the cases rapidly, and rendered judgments in accordance with the laws. If it was a civil case there was no appeal; if a criminal proceeding, it was submitted to the cibuacoatl. Magistrates were treated with great consideration. In each quarter of the city a lieutenant eiected by his fellow citizens, first judged the case in his district, and explained his decrees to the cibuacoatl. Helow him were commissioners also elected by the people. These pronounced no judgment. They simply maintained order. Judges were required to sit in court from sunrise to sunset, and to take their means in the audience hail, in order to be free from daily cares, and thus to be beyond the reach of seduction. When the king was called upon, he pronounced judgment by drawing a line across the painted face of the accused with an arrow, where-upon the verdict was immediately executed. After telling about these officers the speaker gave a great many of their laws and spoke of the punishments for the breaking of them. Capital punishment was common. The Aztecs were very severe, but upright.
