OGDEN.

One of the most brilliant wedding receptions of the season was given by Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Smith, Wednesday evening, in honor of Mrs. Smith's daughter, Miss Alice Furr, who was married that day in the Salt Lake temple to Mr. Isaac Russell. There were present over one hundred and fifty guests from Ogden, Salt Lake and other parts of the state. A dainty repast was served. The home was elegantly decorated for the occasion with roses, carnations, ferns, palms and potted plants. They received many beautiful and costly presents. Mr. and Mrs. Russell are among Utah's most popular and highly esteemed young people. The bride is one of Ogden's charming young ladies, possessing a sweet soprano voice, and was popular in social circles. Mr. Russell is one of the popular staff of the Deseret News. They are spending their honeymoon in California, and will make their home in Salt Lake City.

In the Salt Lake temple, Wednesday, Miss Rosalita Tillotson and Mr. Lawrence Turpin, two of Ogden's best known young people, were united in bonds of wedlock. In the evening a pretty reception was given in their honor at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Annie P. Tillotson, on Barlow avenue, which was participated in by a large number of guests. Their presents were numerous and beautiful. A delicious wedding supper was served. The house was prettily decorated with cut flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Turpin will make Ogden their home.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Mack, No. 142 Washington avenue, Thursday evening, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Miss Wanda Mack, to Mr. Foster Wardleigh. The many guests assembled at the house and witnessed the bridal party enter the spacious parlors to the sweet tones of Mendelssohn's wedding march, rendered by Miss Hope Fishburn. They took their place in the parlor under an artistic floral creation, where Bishop James Taylor spoke the words that made them husband and wife. The bride looked charming, attired in an elegant gown of white silk, covered with chiffon, and was attended by her sister, Miss Ada Mack. Mr. C. S. Wardleigh acted as best man. After the ceremony all sat down to a bounteous repast. The parlors were decorated with red and white roses and carnations, entwined with ferns. The dining room was done in pink and white roses and carnations. They received many rare and costly presents. Mr. and Mrs. Wardleigh are very popular young people, possessing a host of friends. After a short wedding tour they will make their home on Twelfth street, this city.

Wednesday, in the Salt Lake temple, Miss Marie Unck and Prof. Leo Vander Akker, two of the best known young people of Ogden, were married. The bride was a popular employee of W. H. Wright & Son's company, and a young lady of charming personality. The groom is the well known leader of the Holland choir of Ogden. They will make this city their home.

There are three strong periods in the average young girl's life. These may be dominated, "having religion," "being stage-struck," and "first love."

Each in its way has its compensations. Some girls realize but one of these, most of them two, and some three, but I venture to say that none has escaped all of these, any more than the childish attacks of whooping-cough, measles or mumps.

By "having religion," don't imagine I mean the faith that becomes a part of our lives, that helps us live and bear with the trials that living brings, but rather that period when we want to show how we would gladly die martyrs for our belief, or just as gladly, mayhap, kill others for not believing as we do.

But it is to the girl in the stage-struck period this friendly advice is dedicated.

Most girls recite in schools, arrange for or have "home entertainments," in which they have been assigned a part, and out of this very frequently occurs her first illusion—as for her adaptability to the stage.

Her associates and friends, in the desire to be agreeable, are inclined to flatter without really intending any harm, and thus create misapprehensions that may have a serious outcome.

Do you walk well? So many women
