

before retiring last night she had carefully fastened all windows and doors of the hotel and Marsh had evidently broken his way in.

SIGNIFICANT INCIDENT

The arrest and detention of Marsh this morning brought out the police headquarters incident in which the prisoner figured yesterday afternoon. In company with a foreigner or rather brought to the station by him, Marsh appeared to claim ownership of a rifle which he alleged to have bought from the companion, but which the latter denied. The rifle is still held at the station pending the determination of the rightful owner, but it is the belief of the police that Marsh attempted to secure the rifle to carry out his threats against the life of Mrs. Newell.

PASSING OF MRS. SCHOEPP

Familiar Police Court Character Dies At State Mental Hospital.

Word came to the city yesterday that Ellen Schoepp, who although 62 years of age, has for years past been one of the most familiar of "police characters," had died at the state mental hospital at Provo, where she was kept about three weeks ago.

The information received is that the remains will be sent to Cheyenne, where they will be buried. Almost a year ago the even then old woman began appearing in the police court on the charge of drunkenness, and the past three years in spite of numerous efforts of the police to rid the city of her she made the city jail practically her continuous home. Several times she was provided with a ticket to Cheyenne, where her family and relatives live, but in each case she made the round trip in almost record time and on the same day of her return to Salt Lake would land in the city jail.

Her mental condition was such that three weeks ago she was taken before an insanity board and committed to the mental hospital, where she died Sunday.

ROW IN GREEKTOWN.

Three Shots Fired, But None of Them Takes Effect.

A row in Greektown occurring about 1 o'clock this morning ended in the firing of three shots by John Mastorakes at his antagonist, Sam Broussais, none of which took effect however. In the rapid gathering of the crowd attracted by the shooting, the two men made their escape. Some excited person telephoned into police headquarters that Patrolman Armstrong was being attacked with a gun, and the patrol wagon carrying three officers made a hurried run. When they arrived in Greektown they found the excitement all over, and no one hurt.

BEEKEEPERS TO MEET.

To Invite National Association to Convene Here.

The meeting of the Utah Beekeepers' association will be held in the city council chamber in the joint city and county building on October 5, at 10 o'clock a. m. One of the matters to be presented to the association will be that of extending an invitation to the National Beekeepers' association to meet in Salt Lake in 1910; also the matter of drawing up a fitting memorial to the memory of that eminent pioneer beekeeper and late president of the Deseret Beekeepers' association, A. Milton Musser. Mr. Musser was first chosen president of the association March 1, 1872. The association having been first organized by Wilford Woodruff as president in 1870. A full attendance of members of the association is very much desired at the meeting on Oct. 5.

MANAGES PRESIDENT'S TRIP.

Gerrit Fort Says President Signally Honored City by Long Stop.

Gerrit Fort, assistant to the first vice president of the New York Central line, is in charge of the general management of the presidential train from the start in the east to the return, 35,000 miles. The baggage car is 95 of the New York Central, with a Central baggage master in charge. Mr. Fort, echoes not merely his own sentiments but also those of the president and Capt. Butt, in saying the experiences here were the most pleasant of the entire trip up to date. The party were in Salt Lake three days, a lay-over record made at no other place. In fact Salt Lake was the only place where the party remained over night. Butte, Anaconda and Helena, for instance being made in one day. The general reception accorded here greatly pleased the president, so that he carries away with him only delightful recollections. Mr. Fort was formerly assistant general passenger agent of the Union Pacific road, and is a personal friend of General Passenger Agent D. E. Burley, and Assistant General Passenger Agent D. S. Spencer of the Oregon Short Line road. These local officials were assured on the departure of the distinguished visitors that it was apparent to them that everything that was possible had been done for their entertainment.

PROTESTING IN VAIN

Edward A. Manz Has Been Employed As an Inspector by City Health Commissioner.

Despite the protests of reputable physicians and the charges preferred against him by the state board of examiners, Edward A. Manz, who attempted to practice medicine without a license, has been employed as an inspector by Dr. M. R. Stewart, city health commissioner. Manz has charge of inspecting the east side of the city. He has been in the typhoid district and has shown his work in attempting to handle the typhoid situation in his district. On account of what he has recently done, it is probable that the charges will be revived against him. Manz came to this city about a year ago. He attempted to practice medicine, but when the state board of examiners investigated his case they found that he was not a graduate of any medical college and knew nothing about practicing as a physician. Charges were preferred against him by Dr. W. Fisher, secretary of the state board. Manz decided to give up his intentions of practicing medicine and agreed to leave the state if the charges were dropped. In some manner Manz became a protégé of A. J. Davis, president of the city council. Davis found him a job in the health department as an assistant to Dr. Samuel G. Paul, assistant health commissioner. When Dr. Paul was informed that Manz was to be his assistant, he refused to work with him. Dr. Stewart found a place for him as inspector of the east side. He has been working there now for about a month.

STERRETT SCORED
BY G. A. R. COMMITTEE

Resolution Adopted Thanking Citizens For Their Aid at Encampment and Censuring Director.

The executive committee of the G. A. R. encampment held an interesting session at the Commercial club Monday to complete matters of business associated with the recent encampment.

A resolution was adopted thanking the citizens of Utah for the generous and loyal aid and support given to the committee. Reference was made to Frank M. Sterrett, executive director, for the discourtesy and apathy manifested by him and the loose business methods he was guilty of in conducting affairs.

The resolution follows:

We, the undersigned, constituting the local executive committee of the forty-third national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, having in charge the duty of arranging for the reception and entertainment of the said encampment, having now reached the end of our labors, take this method of extending to the people of the State of Utah our most earnest thanks for their loyal aid and support during the many months that have elapsed since the inauguration of our work.

We congratulate our citizens upon the success of the encampment, as witnessed by the widespread and lavish commendations coming from all portions of the United States, and from all classes of people, and particularly by the following resolutions adopted unanimously by the encampment at the closing session of the official meeting:

Resolved, That the forty-third national encampment of the G. A. R., in session at Salt Lake City, assembled on Aug. 13, 1909, expresses its appreciation of the boundless and lavish hospitality, courtesy and kindness bestowed on the old soldiers of the nation by Salt Lake City and the State of Utah.

Never before in the history of our order have we experienced or felt in a greater degree the warm and loving spirit, respect and reverence which go out from the people of the American nation to its defenders.

We do not know how to express our gratitude in words. The citizens have poured out their wealth to greet and entertain us, and the substantial benefits with which they have entertained us during our stay are deeper than gold.

It is gratifying to us, as it doubtless is to all our people, to learn by actual and satisfactory demonstration that Salt Lake City is abundantly able to properly handle the largest public gatherings that are held in the United States, and that our citizens always prove equal to the demands, however great they may be, that are made upon their hospitality.

We regret that it is impracticable for us to give personal aid to each individual who gave personal aid of money or time to the success of the encampment. This aid was rendered cheerfully by men, women and children, old and young, rich and poor alike, its extent being limited only by the boundaries of the state.

We regard the labor and expense rendered necessary by the encampment as having been well and wisely incurred. The fact that the great encampment was held here and that it was happily conducted, placed the state and city in the forefront of the most desirable publicity wherever the English language is read, the lessons

In patriotism and devotion to the flag, taught by the presence among us of the aged and honored survivors of the Civil war, can but prove of incalculable and far-reaching benefit.

We are deeply gratified to record the fact that the progress of the encampment was marked by no untoward event, which result was due to the excellent work and wise precautions of our various subcommittees. The only discord discoverable in the history of the event is found in the disappointment experienced by us because of the disloyalty, disingenuousness, bad taste, discourtesy, nepotism and loose business methods of F. M. Sterrett, the executive director, whose selection for the important post was made necessary by reason of the inexperience of many of the most prominent members, nationally, of the Grand Army of the Republic. In view, however, of the splendid success of the encampment from all the standpoints of interest, we are of the opinion that the unpleasant incident of the resignation of Sterrett for more than eight months may very well and wisely be forgotten. Very respectfully,

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.
Forty-third National Encampment,
Grand Army of the Republic, By
JOHN S. BRANFORD, Chairman,
FISHER HANSEN, Secretary.

THINGS LOOK ROSY
FOR CITIZENS PARTY

C. B. Felt, Temporary Chairman, Is Very Well Satisfied With Conditions Today.

C. B. Felt, temporary chairman of the Citizens' party, this morning was decidedly happy over the political outlook. In summing up the situation he said:

"We are very well satisfied with conditions today and sentiment favoring 'getting together' is growing daily. The best elements of all parties recognize that political and religious strife can only retard the advancement of our republic and that both must be done away with—and the Citizens' movement has that very thing as its motive, and only that, and I am sure appeals in every one having the city's welfare at heart will have the following qualified voters:

"Our committee had an enthusiastic meeting this morning and separated with the assurance that everything is working out right and that our city's affairs will be in full swing for victory at the polls."

BOYS AT Y. M. C. A.

Membership Roll Being Boosted for Employed Boys' Night School.

Yesterday proved to be the day for boys enrollment in the membership campaign now on at the Y. M. C. A. Thirty-three coming citizens enrolled for the employed boys' school last night which involves also membership in the association. They were as interested and enthusiastic as a lot of new members as have been received in a long time. For two hours a night, three evenings per week they propose to study in the grade classes offered in the employed boys' school and to take advantage of the amusement and swimming which is offered at a nominal cost to those over 16 and without extra charge to those under 16 years of age. It is expected that the enrollment of boys alone will reach the 100 mark before the end of the week, and if the senior members who join come with as deep a desire for mutual benefit and self-improvement as the younger members do, it will mean a decided increase in the working power of the association. The membership campaign has been met again today at luncheon and the reports were very encouraging. The Y. M. C. A. has met and decided that the job can be done even though it is a novel and untried experiment in this city. Other cities have in similar short campaigns increased their membership from 100 to 1,000 members. There are at present in the field seven teams of five men each, all of whom are giving their own time and effort, taking it away from their business in order that they might devote to the cause of the boys. The splendidly equipped building.

BLOODLESS SURGERY
CASE IN PROVO CITY

Man With a Dislocated Hip for Seventeen Years Falls and Arises Cured.

(Special to the News.)

Provo, Sept. 28.—A most remarkable case of what might be termed "bloodless surgery" occurred here yesterday, and no doubt it would appeal strongly to the famous Dr. Lorenz. While the physicians have made no public statement regarding the case it is attracting considerable attention and interest. Seventeen years ago, Ralph Elliott, a gracer, 25 years of age, had a severe fall from a horse and as a result of the accident his left hip was dislocated. Since the day of the accident he was not only lame but his leg was from six to eight inches shorter than the other and he was forced to walk on his toes rather than the ball of the foot.

Yesterday Mr. Elliott, while working about his place of business stepped on a piece of fruit peeling. His slipped and fell heavily to the ground, receiving painful injuries. Assistance was quickly rendered and the injured man helped to his feet.

Then came the great surprise. The proposition which had been of the hip had disappeared. Elliott rested his weight on his heel instead of his toes, and the left leg was as long as the other.

For the past year the injured leg has given Elliott a great deal of trouble and the proposition is that the dislocation was gradually working back so that the knuckle would go back into the socket. This no doubt caused the intense pain and the fall from slipping on the fruit peeling and the leg occurred on a piece of fruit peeling in a second what nature had been trying to do for a year. It is most likely that casts will be placed on the injured hip and there will be no danger of further trouble from dislocation.

SEWER PROPOSITION IS AGAIN DEFERRED

Protestants Insist Upon and Get Further Consideration by Council.

(Special Correspondence.)

PROVO, Sept. 28.—The committee on sewer and drains reported to the city council, last evening, on sewer district No. 11 to the effect that the report of the committee, asked for at the previous meeting by Judge Milner, had been made and that no material difference had been found. There were not enough protestants to defeat the creation of the proposed district, and the committee recommended that the necessary steps be taken to construct the sewer. There was quite an extended discussion on the report, the question of the amount to be paid by the state mental hospital for the privilege of connecting with the sewer, the delay in arriving at an agreement with the state board of insanity, and the fact that Judge Milner again appeared for the protestants and suggested that the matter be again referred to the committee and that an effort be made to arrive at an understanding with the protestants. The question finally went over for a week and the committee will come with the state board of insanity and hear any further complaints that may be made by the protestants.

The superintendent of sewers was instructed to direct persons who are making sewer connections to comply with the ordinance in the matter of lining up the sewer.

The committee on judiciary reported on the petition of Jacob Evans and others, asking for the re-districting of the city. The committee finds, according to the census of 1900, that the population of the several wards is as follows: First ward, 1,779; Second ward, 1,232; Third ward, 1,236; Fourth ward, 1,238; Fifth ward, 1,238. A total of 8,567, and an average per ward of 1,713. In excess of this average the First ward has 66, the Second ward has 46 less than the average, and the Fourth ward 437. According to the census of 1900, the wards have the following qualified voters: First ward, 631; Second ward, 267; Third ward, 673; Fourth ward, 337; Fifth ward, 337; making a total of 2,460, and an average per ward of 492. In excess of this average the First ward has 39, the Third ward, 181, the Second ward has 128 less than the average and the Fourth ward 183. The committee recommends the following changes: That the first four blocks of Center street, between Academy avenue and First East street, be taken from the First ward and added to the Second; that the tier of blocks north of Center street and between Fifth West and Sixth West streets be taken from the Third ward and added to the Second; that the tier of blocks north of Center street and between Fifth West and Sixth West streets be taken from the Third ward and added to the Second; and that the first five blocks north of Center street and between Academy avenue and First East street be taken from the Fifth ward and added to the Fourth ward.

The population will then be as follows: First ward, 1,835; Second ward, 1,602; Third ward, 1,794; Fourth ward, 1,754; Fifth ward, 1,750, and the voting population as follows: First ward, 489; Second ward, 468; Third ward, 526; Fourth ward, 476; Fifth ward, 502. The committee recommends that franchise as primaries and conventions have been called and as there may be a legal obstacle to making the changes before the election they do not go into effect until such a time after the election as the council may determine.

The report was laid on the table in order to give the councilmen time to investigate the figures and the voting population connected with the report. Fifty dollars was appropriated to the Little Dry Creek irrigation company for 1910, to assist in protecting the land owners west of the city from overflow of water from the river. The claim of Robert Bunkin for $100 to pay for trees cut in his land during high water season of this year was not allowed.

It was decided to place a cement covering over the east drain at an estimated cost of $275.00.

THIRTEEN LITTLE VAGS.

Police Round Up Box Cars and Make Haul of Juveniles.

Thirteen little vagrants sat in a row in Judge Bowman's courtroom this morning, and like the old nursery rhyme, they dropped off one by one, as box cars were hauled out, until there was none left at all. The 13 fellows, when searched, displayed an aggregate community wealth of 20 cents and were rounded up in the vicinity of the D. & R. G. yards this morning by Patrolman Armstrong, the most of them being awakened from their slumber in the box cars by the sound of the siren of doing a little road work for the city. When the word work was mentioned, however, they are a sudden flash of intelligence, and followed the other 12 out of the courtroom in a hurry.

The vagrants today were bunched in lots, and a quartet composed of George Hansen, Albert Williams, Frank Carlson and John Taylor, placed on the court program with the "13." Their part was small, however, they only being required to say the one word "guilty," and promise to leave the city.

WOMAN WITH A GUN
ATTEMPTS HOLDUP

Negress Comes to Grief While Playing The Part of a Highwayman On a Greek.

May Jones, a negress, was arrested last night at Second West and Second South streets when she attempted to hold up Gus Verna, a Greek, at the point of a revolver. The dusky maiden compelled Verna, a Greek, at the his pistol, but when she turned to run Verna grabbed the weapon which she held against his body and tried to wrest it from her. Verna called for help and Deputy Sheriff Burt Seager hearing the shouts ran to his assistance. The Jones woman still had hold of the revolver, but Verna's purse was found on the sidewalk where the struggle for the weapon began. She denied attempting to hold him up, but Verna's story was corroborated by the deputy sheriff, and a complaint was issued against her this morning by County Attorney Job B. Lyon.

This is the second holdup that has been perpetrated by a negress. Sheriff Sharp says. About a week ago a man was robbed in front of the Newcomb building. It was reported to the police, but no information was even given out about it.
