It Took Ten Hard Fought Innings

to Settle It.

NEW TEAM WINS

It required ten hard fought innings to settle the dispute yesterday afternooh between the Denver Neefs, to be known hereafter as the Lagoon teath, and the Salt Lakes, down at the league park. It was only an exhibition game, and the Salt Lake players are glad of It for it does not count in the schedule, The thing started out with Griffin's men at the hat, and for a time it looked exceedingly good for them. Risley came to the bat first and smashed out a twobagger followed by another by Barr, and a single from Webster, the three hits bringing in two runs. Morrow fanned, Pace got soaked in the slats and Hale got to first on an er-for of pitcher, but McCausland and Webster went out on a double-play. Webster pitched a splendid game for the home lads and the new-comers only not one small bite of a hit in the first got one small bite of a hit in the first inning and nothing at all in the sec-ond. The only time when the hits showed anything like a bunch was in the fourth when Stoney. Hoffer and Cotton each found one. Webster gave but one pass. Loge scored in the first and third and three yellow boys came galloping home in the fifth. In the eighth the score was tied, 5 to

KATZ-WELLS WEDDING. Ceremony Performed as Foreshadowed

in Last Evening's "News."

The wedding of Gav, Heber M. Wells nd Miss Emily Kats which took place ast night, besides being the most notale will rank among the prettiest of he year. The home of the bride, at which the event took place, was dec-prated with a profusion and taste that converted it into a floral bower, and from 7 o'clock the hour at which the ceremony was performed until eleven, the scene was one of beauty, brilliance and galety. The lawn and porch were bright with ropes of electric lights and rugs, couches and cushions distributed on the grass, furnished cosy tooks and resting places for the guests the orchestra, stationed on the porch, ending its sweet strains to heighten the pretty effect. Inside was a scene of floral beauty, Palms stood about in corners, sprays of ferns decorated the curtains, feathery asparagus and bows of ribbon covered the chandaliers and picures, and American beauty roses and arnations were everywhere arranged rith artistic skill. 'In the parlor a solid curtain of marguerites and ferns cov-ered the northeast corner and branches of plumosa bended above with pretty plume effect. Between the parlor and lining room hung a basket of carations ,and the mantel was a bank want the very best, those that ferns and white roses.
