A number of refugees at Friar's Point said that the whole country back of that place is submerged, and many of the inhabitants, stall living in up-per story or roots of their houses, not being able to get away, most of them are people condemned by report of things that cannot be proven, when all the machinery of the courts are in the control of their accusers? in the control of their accusers?

in the control of their accusers? The enforcement of the law as in other places, is just exactly what the anti-"Mormon" howlers do not desire. And all their efforts have been directed towards procuring ex-traordinary and anti-republican measures totally differing from any other mode of procedure. The proof of this is to be found in the stump of this is to be found in the stump of this is to be found in the stump speeches and rabid resolutions made shelter and many of them without at public meetings, and in every food.
