Memorial services will be held this evening, in the Jewish Temple by B. F.
Pexitto in honor of the late Grand President Leon N. Levy, of the l. O. B.
B., who died last week in New York. Rabbi Reynolds will speak.

These substitute letter carriers in this city have been appointed: Hugh Nation, Eugene B. Yeaman's Frank A. Olsen, David C. Stephenson, Samuel S. Lawson, Albert Rieben and George A. They will receive regular appointments in time.

The Philharmonic Guaranteeing as-sociation decided last night, to secure Madame Blauvelt for a concert in this city about March 1, in the First Congregational church. It was also thought that Harold Bauer could be brought here about the middle of March, and Madame Schuman Heinek the latter part of April.

The establishment of the Mexican who sells hot tomales at the corner of Second South and East Temple street nights, blew up last night, owing to a leaky gasoline burner, and scattered his wares all over the street. The urchins in the vicinity straightway appropriated the same to the dismay of El Senor Mejicano. By the time the portable stove had been restored to working order, not a tomale was to be found anywhere. No insurance.

A Florence, Colorado, dispatch to the Denver Post says: A telegram from Salt Lake City announces the marriage there this morning of Dr. J. B. Gordon and Mrs. Merta Sheridan. The cere mony took place at the Congregational church. Dr. Gordon was formerly a well-known dentist here, and his bride is the divorced wife of Dr. William Sheridan, Both were prominent in local social circles when they lived here.

J. Saunders Gordon, proprietor of the Schumann Concert company, was able to leave Hely Cross hospital yesterday for the first time in two weeks. The popular show man, shortly after his arrival in Salt Lake, went to his sick bed suffering from an abcess that formed in his left ear and a very painful siege was the result. The company has continued right along, however, and Mr. Gordan expects to be able to join them within a few days.

Four-year-old Thomas Peck of Bis Cottonwood, who it was feared had been kidnapped because of his disappearance from home, was found by a armer named Young, about a mile from the Peck household, and returned yes-terday about noon. The little fellow was wandering about as though in search of some place to lay his weary when Mr. Young saw him and took him in. Needless to say, there was joy in the Pock home when Tom-

ELECTRIC LIGHT BILLS. Manager Campbell Says Complaints

Are Not Altogether Justified.

As to the complaints about alleged unconscionable electric light bills for January, General Manager Campbell states that there is really no more complaint now than there usually is upon the presentation of bills in the winter time; also, that only about 10 per cent of patrons have complaints of any character to make, and of these complaints only a part are for alleged incorrect reading of meters.

The old meter, the ampere, has been slow in registering, but this slowness was in favor of the consumer rather than the company. Mr. Campbell illustrated this by actual experiment. He connected up an ampere meter and turned on a 16 candle power lamp. The registering arm of the meter remained stationary, and Mr. Campbell remarked that one lamp might have been burned right along and the cur-rent would never have been registered. Then another lamp was added, and an-other, and there was 62 candle power connected before the arm began to revolve. 'Thus it was shown that there was a probability of several lamps being burned without expense to the con-sumer. Mr. Campbell then explained that the new Watt meter was the standard meter adopted both in Europe and this country, and extended testing had shown conclusively that it was ab-solutely accurate and reliable, and did not "make mistakes in favor of the company" or in favor of the consumer. This new meter is replacing the old style as rapidly as possible. Attention was called particularly to the fact that consumers will leave a norch cellar light going all night and are then astonished at the size of their light bills. For instance a local physician burned his porch lamp at the ex-pense of a cent an hour all night long > size of his bill until conference with the officials of the company brought out just what the trouble was.

> Manager Campbell called attention also to the fact that the time of year for the heaviest complaints is when the October bills are paid. Consumers have become accustomed to using but little fuld in the summer months, particularly June, but when the evenings shorten up noticeably, as in October, people use more electricity and the sudden increase of their bills brings out prolonged remonstrance. People do not turn on their lights in June 2011 8:29 turn on their lights in June until 8:30 p. m., whereas in October they begin to a month, and that cost him just He felt grievously wronged at the

Mr. Campbell said that in cases there had been undoubtedly trouble with meters from some local disturbance, and in other cases there was trouble with the wires, and the regularity of the current. But the company maintains a corps of competent electrical engineers whose sole job it is to follow up complaints and search out the exact source or cause of trouble in every case. And these engineers were pravided with the most improved apparatus with which to do their work.

FRED GODDARD KILLED IN MEXICO.

Salt Lake Man Shot While Superintending a Valuable Mine.

WAS IT MURDER OR ACCIDENT?

Mere Announcement of His Death Came in a Telegram to His Brother Leslie.

The friends and relatives of Fred Goddard, who was shot and killed in Sonora county, Mexico, last Wednesday, are anxiously awaiting particulars of the shooting, having no knowledge as yet whether it was accidental or murderous.

Leslie L. Goddard, the real estate dealer, a brother of the young man, received merely the announcement that he was shot and killed while at the mine which he had been superintending. This mine is said to be rich in minerals and it is possible that the young official met his death while trying to prevent natives from stealing ore. This is the fear entertained by his people.

Fred P. Goddard, the victim, was for seven years a resident of Salt Lake. He was in the office of Supt. Welby of the Rio Grande Western until the time of that official's resignation, when Mr. Goddard resigned and took the management of the Brunswick Bowling alleys. He was the best bowler in the state and did much for the sport here. When there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by

Amusements

With its broken hearts and joys, its smiles and tears, its snowstorm and its supper-table, " 'Way Down East" came back to us last night and was received with accustomed cordiality.

"Father!" cried the trate son, as of old, "If Anna is driven out of that door tonight, your son goes also!" Anna was driven. The son went. The snow descended upon them as formerly.

Then they cheered. The upstairs part of the house was packed to smotheration and perhaps 200 more than could possibly be accommodated applied for admission there. Down stairs there were a few empty seats. It was the old 'Way Down East" audience. The company this year is altogether adequate, without containing the names of Phoebe Davies, Sarah Stevens, Robert Fischer and so on. The Anna of Miss Ruby Bridges is thoroughly satisfactory and her opposite, Mr. Drew, as David, gave a careful, intelligent performance, Mr. Heron played upon the audience's risibilities at will as Hi Holler, though he lacks the inimitable laugh of his predecessor, Mr. Brennan. The Sanderson was William Lamp, who gave the character sufficient force to make him most heartly despised. The Squire Bartlett of Mr. Riegel was well done and Mrs. Hyams handled the aged splendid, while the ingenue and the pro-fessor were in the good hands of Madge Douglas and H. H. Forsman.

"'Way Down East" will be repeated tonight, and tomorrow afternoon and night. The matinee is almost sold out.

The bill at the Grand theater for the first half of next week will be "Two Married Women." Tickets are now on sale at the box office.

PUPS GOT ACQUAINTED.

And Then the White was Absorbed by The Brindle from Salt Lake

Isn't it a shame? T. S. Williams this morning sent a fine white buildog from North Salt Lake to his son-in-law, J. W. Jackson of this city. On the same train County Treasurer H. C. Gorton brought up from Salt Lake a rare brindle buil pup. Through some error in judgment on the part of the baggage man, the pups were allowed to become acquainted and the result is that Mr. Williams is today looking for another dog for Mr. Jackson-Pocatello Tribune.

THE SIZE OF NOAH'S ARK.

Within the last 10 years the general limensions of the ark have been closely followed by cargo steamship builders for deep sea and the American Great Lakes service. According to the Bible the ark was 480 feet long, 80 feet wide and 48 feet deep. Her tonnage was 11,-413, and she had enough room for pairs of all the distinct species of animals that are classed by Buffon-244-and she could have accommodated 1,000 persons, and then have plenty of room for the storage of supplies. In the seventeenth century Jeter Jansen, a Hollander, built vessel of the exact proportions of the ark, and she was successful, as the records of the times show, in making mon-ey for her owners. Noah, the "Father of Navai Architecture," is held in profound respect by naval architects of to-day, who know how immeasurably the Phoenicians, Greeks and Romans and all all other shipbuilders fell short of the excellences of the type of the ark as a commodious, safe and economical vessel.-Syren and Shipping.

A RIBBON OF DIAMONDS.

For the Duchess of Westminster a London jeweler has produced a costly ornament in diamonds. It may be used as a necklace, a hair ornament or a corsage decoration. It is a flexible ribbon of diamonds and cost $100,000. The ribbon is formed on a foundation of platinum hinges. The ends are fringes of small stones. The ribbon may be tled in a bowknot to be fastened to the gown. Another way the duchess wears the jewel is to have it intwined in her golden brown tresses. The diamond band, which is a foot long and two inches wide, admits of many possibilities as a hair ornament. Again, the duchess may wear it tied about her neck. London society wonders why the duchess wants an ornament of this sort. She has enough handsome necklaces to fit out a half dozen women, and her tlaras and demicrowns number five. The Westminster emeralds are wonders.
