LOCAL NEWS.

The Eighth Dam.—A correspondent from St. Joseph, Apache County, Arizona, writes on the 25th inst., that the people there had started to put their eighth dam in the Little Colorado River, with the hope that it would stop the water from coming down the river, and the expectation that it would go out. The weather was very cold, with more moisture than last winter.

THIRTY HOURS WITHOUT FOOD OR SLEEP.

A telegram from Rancho via Orderville, received on Thursday by Apostle Erastus Snow, in this city, brought briefly the news of a painful experience by Brother E. D. Woolley, of Upper Kanab, a son of the late Bishop E. J. Phelps, of this city. It seems that he left Salt Lake for home a week ago last Monday. He expressed the fear, at that time, though the weather was fine, of meeting some difficulty on account of snow, on the divide at the head waters of the Sevier, between Garfield and Kane Counties. He reached Hillsdale all right, but when next heard from, by the telegram above mentioned, it was to the effect that he had been thirty hours without food or sleep, and was found in an almost insensible condition and nearly dead from cold, hunger and exhaustion.
 He was taken to the Rancho five miles from his place and fifteen miles from the divide, but he had recovered sufficiently to attempt the rest of the journey home on snow-shoes in company with his companions. There were ten feet of snow on the divide at the time he reached there. Further details are wanting.
 It is stated that he was in type we learned that Brother Woolley went from here to Utah by rail, and then took his team from that point to Hillsdale, where it is supposed he left his team and attempted to cross the divide on snow-shoes, owing to the great depth of the snow. The snow was on foot deep at Rancho, causing heavy losses in stock. Bro. Woolley reached there on the night of the 20th inst., having laid out one night in the snow.

Arrested for Threatening.—A telegram from Provo received at 11 a. m. states that Dr. Husted, a quack physician, was arrested this morning for threatening the life of John C. Graham, Esq., editor of the Territorial Enquirer.

The cause of the trouble, as learned from a reliable source, is briefly as follows: Dr. Husted, at the time of the "Solar Spectrum" in the Fifteenth Ward assembly hall to-night, under the auspices of the Y. M. M. I. A.

Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, and all Throat and Lung troubles are warranted to cure. Trial bottle free at Z. C. M. I. Drug Store. Large size $1.00.

A MAGIC POWER.

A Secret Agent at Work.
 We were surprised the other day to learn that certain individuals in this city, who had for many years yielded to what was apparently an inevitable fate, had been cured of their terrible condition of semi-stupidity, into asserting their right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." These parties had been bound by an influence as powerful as it was incomprehensible. They knew not the cause, yet they were victims to the result. They were enchained, but they could not discern by what means they had been manacled. They had long sought deliverance in vain. Their appeals to science and the power of the courts in books were equally unavailing. At last, relief came! It was not through an act of the President, or of Congress, for their trouble was not of a political character. Neither did the Government Messengers relieve them, for any action of the new Legislature, for it was out of their power, and foreign to the cause. They were suddenly and effectually released from the bondage they suffered, and placed on the pedestal of human happiness. "What was their trouble?" is what our readers will ask. They had been seized by a universal enemy—rheumatism. They had not walked or even moved without pain for years, and of the numerous recommendations of friends "who had been there," they tried and failed. They were at last cured, and they were cured by a magic power. They were cured by the cause of their trouble, liberated from the bondage they suffered, and placed on the pedestal of human happiness. A MAGIC POWER.

A Secret Agent at Work.
 We were surprised the other day to learn that certain individuals in this city, who had for many years yielded to what was apparently an inevitable fate, had been cured of their terrible condition of semi-stupidity, into asserting their right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." These parties had been bound by an influence as powerful as it was incomprehensible. They knew not the cause, yet they were victims to the result. They were enchained, but they could not discern by what means they had been manacled. They had long sought deliverance in vain. Their appeals to science and the power of the courts in books were equally unavailing. At last, relief came! It was not through an act of the President, or of Congress, for their trouble was not of a political character. Neither did the Government Messengers relieve them, for any action of the new Legislature, for it was out of their power, and foreign to the cause. They were suddenly and effectually released from the bondage they suffered, and placed on the pedestal of human happiness. "What was their trouble?" is what our readers will ask. They had been seized by a universal enemy—rheumatism. They had not walked or even moved without pain for years, and of the numerous recommendations of friends "who had been there," they tried and failed. They were at last cured, and they were cured by a magic power. They were cured by the cause of their trouble, liberated from the bondage they suffered, and placed on the pedestal of human happiness.
