COFFIN. YOUNG MAN UNENGWINGLY AT-TENDS THE FUNERAL OF HIS AFFIANCED. A late special dispatch from Jeffer son, Ga, to the New York World, says

HIS SWEETHEART IN THE

Jasper Porter, who fives five miles from this city, had an engagement to spend last night at the residence of the parents of his afflanced, Miss Ward, living near Wainut Church, in Jackson County, and to escort her to church to-day. He left home yesterday afternoon to keep his appointment. In reaching Walput Church he found a largely attended funeral in progress, and entered the editice to attend the ceremonies. Not being well acquainted in the neighborhood, he did not ask who was dead; but when an opportu nity was given to take a last look at the deceased Porter fell in live with the rest. On reaching the coffin he saw in it the face of his sweetheart. He broke into loud lamentations, and would soon have been prostrated be-side the c. fin had he not been carried into the open air by some of the mourners. It is feared that Porter's grief will end in insanity.

The Famous Lorenzo Dow.

I do not suppose that there are a half dozen persons here who remem-ber Lorenzo Dow, the famous preachbox of Dr. Email's Magic Balm of Healing Ointment. It acts as a soothing lubricator, absorbs the tumors and allays the intense itching at once as nothing else will. No pile cure ever acquired so large a sale in so short a time. Sold at every drug store, or sent by mail. Address Zion's Co operative Mer cantile Institution, Sali Lake City.  Cleve land, Ohio, January 21, 1887-Send me five gross Email's Magic Palm soon as possible. This will make nearly one bundred and fifty dozen I have bought since July 15, 184, I now sell more of your Balm, or Ointment, at retail over my counter than of all other balms and ointments combined. It sells better than any medicine I have in my er, who often visited Richmond and vicinity about sixty years ago. Dow was a great character and always had large congregations. While in the midst of a sermon he would pause and say, "My brethren, I'll preach to you again one year from now at this very house," and he always kept his word, even though he had to waik fifty miles to do it.

By reason of his eccentricities he was frequently the subject of a take or was frequently the subject of a joke or anecdote. There is one which was credited to him over fifty years ago, but I think it was ill-timed, and was better than any medicine I have in my store.—S. P. Churchill, 30 Euclid avenue. d&w (1) not, judging from what I have gathered of the character of the man, altogether true. It was on the occasion of a visit ne paid to this vicinity not long before he passed to his reward. It will be remembered that the people had great faith in him and the illiterate had an idea that he could work miracles.

writers would say, Parson Dow

The Heart After Decapitation Dr. Charcot, the famous bypnotizer, has recently had a chance of examining after decapitation one of the four per cent of French murderers who get executed. Thanks to the assistance of the police, his examination commenced two seconds after the knife of the guillotine had fallen, and the head even then had ceased to give any sign of life, though muscular movement continued in the neighborhood of the jaw until the sixth second. But the beating of the heart caused by the influx of blood, actually continued for sixty seconds. The conhas recently had a chance of examin-One Door West of Old tinued for sixty seconds. The con-clusion finally arrived at was that the death of the guillotined man had not been caused by asphyxia. The violent irritation of the nerves of the neck, it was decided, had reacted upon the heart at death followed the shock.—

A PAPER PIANO .- A beautiful instru ment has lately been an object of great curlosity to the commissioners and musical savants of Paris. The entire case is made of compressed paper, to which is given a hard surface and cream-white brilliant polish. The legs and sides are ornamented with arabesque and floral designs.
