

AWAKENED TO FIND LOVE'S DREAM GONE

Marital Mistakes Rectified by Judge Morse at Friday
Matinee.

AFFINITIES WRECK HOMES.

Successful Helmsmen Relate Their
Woes and Seek Bliss of Their Days of Singleness.

Among the divorces granted by Judge Morse at the weekly matinee Friday was one to Albert L. Baker against his wife, Mary B. Baker, in which the wife is charged with desertion. During the trial of the testimony of Baker, tears streamed down his cheeks while he told of the faithfulness of his wife, who ran away with another man in July of this year. They were married in Ogden on Aug. 12, 1905, and have two children. All went well with them until April of last year, when the husband discovered that his wife had several times clandestinely met another man, and she then confessed to her husband that she loved the other man, but it did no good, and on her return in July of the present year the woman fled with the "affinity" and wrote her husband that she would not come back and told him to keep the children. Two witnesses from Ogden testified to the actions of the woman, and Judge Morse granted the divorce, together with the custody of the children, to the husband.

Belle Leach showed to the court that Charles W. Leach had deserted and failed to support her, but on account of the time for entering default not having expired she was not given a divorce. The case was continued until such time as default could be shown. The same condition was found to exist in the case of John M. Carson, whose wife, Annie Carson, left him in October, 1908. She told him she was going to St. Louis, but the next time he heard from her she was in Alaska, and refused to return to him. The case was continued until such time as default had expired.

Thymus Caboon, a bartender, attempted to convince the court that he could not pay his wife temporary alimony, because he needed the money to pay his debt in the bartenders' union, and to secure a modification of the order requiring him from disposing of certain resources in order to enable him to do so. The effort was fruitless, however, and Caboon was ordered to continue paying his wife, Sarah Caboon, $100 a month out of a legacy left him by a relative, and which is controlled by the restraining order, as well as to continue paying the rent money to his wife.

In the further hearing in the divorce case between Katherine Hoagan and Frank Hoagan, Judge Morse listened to a lot of testimony concerning life in a cheap boardinghouse. The testimony was given by the wife, who is a mother of three children, and who, she testified, should be placed in St. Mary's academy in this city or be allowed to remain with her mother at the hotel which she keeps in Garfield. The hearing was continued until next Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

A decree was also granted to W. J. Atkinson, who charged his wife, Mary Atkinson, with deserting him soon after arriving in Salt Lake. They were married in Scotland on March 28, 1901, and after coming to this country, resided at various places, including Cleveland, Ohio, for a time. On deciding to move to Salt Lake, Atkinson went to the depot to ship some things at home, and that was the last the husband ever saw of her, according to his testimony in the divorce court. Anna M. Cook told the court her husband, David J. Cook, deserted her on their wedding day. An interlocutory decree was given the plaintiff, with the custody of the child. The Cooks were married in Salt Lake City, Aug. 28, 1901.

The same plea was entered in the case of Helen Dix against Charles Dix. They were married in Salt Lake on July 1, 1906, and the next day Charles went away, never to return. The divorce was granted.

In Preston Stephens charged her husband, Lawrence Stephens, with desertion five months after their marriage, which took place in Greeley, Colo., March 23, 1907. He left her in August of the same year, without just cause or provocation, and Mrs. Stephens wants a divorce. The divorce was granted.

Soon after the opening of the Medical exhibition yesterday the Horticultural hall, Westminster, a large glass bottle which had been betraying symptoms of uneasiness exploded and scattered its contents, a creamy foam, over the feet of the staff of Messrs. H. H. Orr and Co., says the London Daily Mail.

Originally the bottle contained milk.

BLOOD WAS THIN AFTER AN ATTACK OF THE GRIP

Tonic Treatment Is Necessary
After the Acute Stage of the Disease Is Past Before the Health Can Be Fully Restored.

A single attack of the grip may mean a lifetime of misery if proper precautions are not taken to restore the blood and drive out the lingering poisons that cause the so-called "after-effects" of the disease.

The grip leaves behind it weakened vital powers, thin blood, impaired digestion and over-sensitive nerves—a condition that makes the system an easy prey to pneumonia, bronchitis, rheumatism, nervous prostration, and even consumption.

Mrs. John Jorissen, of North St. Paul, Minn., advises sufferers from the after-effects of the grip to build up their blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In her case the pills gave her lasting benefit. She says:

"Some years ago I had a hard attack of the grip and I was in poor health for a long time. My blood was thin and poor and I was as white as a sheet. My appetite was entirely gone and my stomach was out of order. I had severe dizzy spells in the morning, which so upset me that I could only drag myself around for the rest of the day. I could not get much rest and would be as tired in the morning as when I went to bed. I was not able to walk up a flight of stairs without dropping from exhaustion."

"I was treated by two doctors without gaining any relief. They said I was all run down and was suffering from a lack of blood. I found no relief until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In a few weeks I could see great improvement and took the pills until entirely cured. I have not been sick since and shall never fail to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have also cured such diseases as anemia, rheumatism, nervous debility, neuralgia and St. Vitus' dance. They are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Just milk and a few million typhoid bacilli which lived and grew happily together in this culture-medium. Then, for demonstration purposes, a horde of 10,000,000 hungry monsters (known as the bacilli of Masson) were introduced into the culture medium, and remorseless war was waged in a moment.

A storm in a teacup was nothing to the battle in the bottle. The milk grew lurid with the bodies of the slain, and the Masson bacilli multiplied and devoured their victims. When a Masson bacillus had filled himself to bursting point—he burst, and each of his 800,000,000,000,000 fragments became a hungry young Masson bacillus, which fought and ate in turn. Finally the milk foamed up with the rapidly multiplying generations of Massonites and the bottle exploded.

The demonstration arose out of Professor Metchnikoff's claim that the bacilli of lactic acid (the Masson bacilli) destroy the typhoid bacilli, thus rendering them incapable of reproducing. The Masson bacilli, he holds, by rendering the typhoid bacilli incapable of reproducing, thus destroy them. The demonstration was made in a test tube, where the typhoid bacilli live largely on sour milk, which contains a large number of Masson bacilli.

Masson bacilli are now presented in a novel form—that of chocolate cream, each containing 10,000,000 bacilli, and it was one of these chocolate cream tablets which caused such havoc among the innocent typhoid microbes in the bottle.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Veda Beebe is guest of honor at a luncheon this afternoon given by Miss Norma and Miss Beulah Woodruff. The table being effectively decorated and a number of the friends of the bride-elect being present.

Mrs. W. H. Alexander is hostess this afternoon at a bridge at the Country club, the decorations being in the prevailing autumn tints and a number of friends assisting.

Mrs. Howard Garrett entertains her card club this afternoon.

Mrs. S. O. Neiden is hostess this afternoon at an informal card party.

Mrs. James E. Jennings was hostess yesterday at a bridge tea, the decorations being in yellow nasturtiums and blue tables played. Prizes went to Mrs. M. J. Bidwell, Mrs. T. R. Woodbridge, Mrs. W. D. Danaher, Mrs. Frank W. Jennings, Mrs. D. C. Roberts, Mrs. Robert Glendonning and Mr. James Hoagie. Those assisting were Mrs. George T. Badger and Mrs. W. W. Ritter.

Mrs. John Cutler entertained at a luncheon yesterday in honor of her guest, Mrs. William Taylor.

Mrs. James Dinwoody was hostess at a luncheon on Tuesday given for Mrs. C. E. Dinwoody who has been spending the past three weeks here visiting with relatives. The decorations were in dahlias, and covers were laid for a dozen guests.

Yesterday Mrs. C. E. Dinwoody was guest of honor at a dinner party given by Mrs. J. G. Dinwoody. The table was having a beautiful cloth of hedges and a centerpiece of pink and white cosmos. Covers were laid for eight.

One of the prettiest affairs given in honor of Miss Veda Beebe was that at which Mrs. J. G. Dinwoody was hostess yesterday. It was a "heart" party, and hearts in various shades were used throughout the rooms. The parlors and dining room were decorated with hearts and strings of red hearts twisted about the chandeliers. Pink and white cosmos were used in the other rooms. The card game was "hearts," and prizes were won by Mrs. Charles Quigley, Miss Emma Quigley, Mrs. Carl Williams and Miss Veda Beebe. Miss Beebe was also awarded a guest prize. Miss Yate was assisted in serving by Miss Margaret Harris and Miss Merle Lynch.

Another pretty affair in honor of a bride-elect was the shower party given last night by the Misses Eunice Golding, Edith Denne and Margaret Amott. The rooms being beautifully decorated in autumn leaves and chrysanthemums, yellow being used in the parlor and pink in the dining room. The table had a Cluny lace spread over pink silk and a centerpiece of the pink chrysanthemums. About 25 guests were present and the hostesses were assisted by Miss Myrtle Jack and Miss Emma Golding, while Miss Mina Jack presided at the punch bowl.

One of the social events of this week was a birthday surprise party, given last Tuesday by the Seventeenth ward Relief society, in honor of their president, Eunice Jacobs. A program being rendered. The Misses Beulah Smith and Vera Jacobs sang solos. Annie Trebbel read a poem arranged for the occasion and short speeches were made by Mrs. Batsheba Smith, Mrs. Charles Williams, Misses Beulah Hawthorn, Julia How, Abbie Cowley, Annetta Lamm, Nettie McAllister, Anna Bradford and Rachel Folland. Counselor Johna Broberg presented the president with a handsome purse, as a token of love and esteem from the members of the society. The afternoon was socially spent and refreshments were served.

Mrs. R. W. Madsen entertained at 200 Wednesday afternoon about 40 guests being present. The rooms were decorated in autumn leaves and white asters. Prizes were won by Mrs. Van D. Spaulding and Mrs. James Ingelbrecht.

Mrs. R. W. Madsen will entertain the members of her card club Friday evening at her home.

The James C. Rice Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R. entertained in honor of Comrades and their wives, the Knights of Columbus hall, last Monday evening. It was one of the most successful socials given this season. About 100 guests being present. The evening program was rendered, followed by light refreshments. Open address by the president, Mrs. F. J. Lyon, solo, Beautiful Star, Miss Bongt. Address, solo-prisoners of war, Thomas Longhry, recitation "Wounded," Mrs. Laura Woodruff, solo, violin and piano, Darrell and Gladys Lyon, address, The G. A. R. Ladies, Col. M. M. Keigher, duet, piano, Miss Bongt and Miss Conley, recitation, "The Race," Miss Anna McDonald, biographical sketch of the life of Gen. James C. Rice.

Mrs. Preston G. Hampton will entertain at a Halloween party next Tuesday night in honor of her daughter, Mrs. D. W. Hamilton, and Gen. Hamilton of San Francisco, also her niece, Miss Ethel Plant of Sacramento.

Mrs. D. W. Hamilton will leave next Thursday to spend the winter in Los Angeles. Miss Plant remaining in Salt Lake till after the holidays.
